DEVELOPMENT OF EASTERN AFRICA

Encouraging private enterprise

SIR EDWARD TWINING ADDRESSES CHAMBERS OF COMMERCE

Speaking at a meeting at the annual session of the Association of Chambers of Commerce and Industry of Eastern Africa yesterday Sir Edward Twining, the Governor of Tanganyika, said that he was glad to hear that the Chambers of Commerce of Uganda had decided to rejoin the Association after an absence of 31 years.

It was essential, with the economic and commercial development which was going on in all three Territories, that they should act together as much as possible in order to solve African rather than on a territorial basis.

The Governor said that he had had much to do with the development of the Territories, but he had been struck by how much of the activities were carried out by private enterprise.

He said that the three Governments would progressively consider any representation made to them to attain uniformity in law and policy which affected East African development.

He said that when he arrived in Tanganyika in Africa, he was struck by the fact that there was a great deal of private enterprise in the form of commercial development which was being carried out by individuals and companies.

SIR EDWARD TWINING ADDRESSES
CHAMBERS OF COMMERCE

Speaking at a luncheon session of the Association of Chambers of Commerce and Industry of Eastern Africa yesterday Sir Edward Twining, the Governor of Tanganyika, said that he was glad to learn that the Chambers of Commerce of Tanganyika had decided to rejoin the Association after an absence of 15 years.

It was essential, with the economic and commercial development which was going on in all three Territories, that they should get together as much as possible and deal with problems in East Africa rather than on a territorial basis.

The Governor said he had read with much interest the proceedings of the conference proposed to be held in Dar es Salaam and had been struck by how much of the activities were common to the three territories.

Aid to examining economic facts

MR. RUDOLF ANDERSON, President of the Associated Chambers of Commerce and Industry of Eastern Africa, said yesterday that, after a week's sitting, 22 years, the Uganda Chamber and the Eastern Province Chamber had applied for membership.

The standing committee had accepted their applications. As a result, the Association would now include the Uganda Chamber and the Eastern Province Chamber in its membership.

"As a result," he said, "the Association will now be able to provide a more complete picture of the economic and industrial development of the East African territories."

He said that the Association would now be able to provide a more complete picture of the economic and industrial development of the East African territories.

SUPREME COURT FINDS
COFFEE RULE INVALID

African grower wins appeal

THE Chief Justice, Sir Hector Hogg, and Mr. Justice Bourke, in the judgment of the Supreme Court in Nairobi today, have found the Coffee Control Order (No. 1) of 1944, which gave the Government the right to fix the price of coffee, invalid.

The court found that the Coffee Control Order was invalid because it was not supported by the necessary legislative authority.

The court also found that the Government's actions in enforcing the Coffee Control Order were illegal.

The court's decision is a significant victory for African coffee growers, who have long been protesting against the government's price controls.

AIR AND LAND EXERCISES

Allied manoeuvres in West Europe

ALLIED armoured infantry and driven 60 to 70 miles east from the Rhine when the French First Army, in a series of manoeuvres, "Operation Jaguar," drove to a close, French and American formations of the British Expeditionary Force in a nation force, reached their final objectives in the wind-up of the manoeuvre exercise which began with assault crossings of the Rhine on Friday.

General Alexander Vandenberg (France), commander of the Combined Forces, linked his forces on an 80-mile front with the British First Army.

The British First Army, under the command of General Montgomery, was also involved in the manoeuvres.

HIGH COMMISSION ESTIMATES

 FINANCE MEMBER GIVES REASONS FOR INCREASED EXPENDITURE

The increased expenditure required for the non-constituted services of the East African High Commission last year was estimated at £200,000, said Mr. C. M. Musy, Finance Member of the Central Legislative Assembly in Nairobi yesterday.

Opening the Budget debate, which will be resumed today, he said that the increased expenditure of £200,000—of which £150,000 was approved supplementary expenditure—was a "quite abnormal" figure. The real nature of the increase was explained.

He disclosed that the increase was needed mainly to finance the additional campaign and the cost of providing services for the East African territories.

The total contribution from the territories for the year ended 31st December 1950 was £1,000,000, which was £100,000 more than the previous year. This was due to the fact that the territories had to contribute towards the cost of the East African High Commission, which was £100,000 more than the previous year.

Mr. Musy said that the territories had also to contribute towards the cost of the East African High Commission, which was £100,000 more than the previous year.

THE GOOD NEWS

So, you have a story to tell about something or other. Then put it on paper—it looks better. It is that much more convincing. When properly laid out, clearly styled and made easy to read, your message "gets across." The M2 Rex Rotary Dupli-Print will record your message clearly, consistently well, without fuss or bother and cost you about half as much as you are used to paying. If your story is worth telling it's certainly worth telling well. The power of the Press is the power of the written word—the indelible message—the truth revealed. A good problem makes a good story. Every business establishment has a story to tell—every club society has too. The local Associations of this, that and the other must also tell a story. Since it must be told—told it well—told it on paper distinctly, neatly and attractively. Tell it with M2 ROTARY DUPLI-PRINT. A reasonable initial outlay (nothing cheap, mind you) and low running cost will soon pay for itself. It is economical with the M2 Rotary Dupli-Print.

Difficulties facing British exporters

Mr. J. P. WATKINS, a highly qualified expert on the subject of foreign trade, has recently returned from the course of a ten-month tour which covered Australia, New Zealand, Ceylon, South Africa and the Dominion as well as the Republic of South Africa. Mr. WATKINS has returned to Britain with the conviction that, as an expert on foreign trade, Britain must expect to take a backward step. He laments this prospect on the effects which the introduction of the new tariff system will have on the export of British goods to the various countries which have introduced such a system. He points out that the introduction of such a system will have the effect of increasing the cost of British goods to a considerable extent, and that this will have the effect of reducing the volume of British exports to a considerable extent. He also points out that the introduction of such a system will have the effect of increasing the cost of British goods to a considerable extent, and that this will have the effect of reducing the volume of British exports to a considerable extent.

Half the price

The price of whisky is expected to fall to half the present price, according to a report from a leading whisky manufacturer. The manufacturer claims that the price of whisky will fall to half the present price because of the introduction of a new tariff system. He claims that the new tariff system will reduce the cost of whisky to a considerable extent, and that this will have the effect of reducing the price of whisky to a considerable extent. He also claims that the new tariff system will have the effect of increasing the volume of whisky exports to a considerable extent.

Complex problem

It is a complex problem which is facing the British Government, according to a report from a leading expert on the subject of foreign trade. The expert claims that the British Government is facing a complex problem because of the introduction of a new tariff system. He claims that the new tariff system will have the effect of increasing the cost of British goods to a considerable extent, and that this will have the effect of reducing the volume of British exports to a considerable extent. He also claims that the new tariff system will have the effect of increasing the cost of British goods to a considerable extent, and that this will have the effect of reducing the volume of British exports to a considerable extent.

£450 theft at Nairobi

A theft of £450 worth of goods has been reported from Nairobi, according to a report from a leading expert on the subject of foreign trade. The expert claims that the theft was carried out by a group of thieves who were working in the city of Nairobi. He claims that the thieves stole a large quantity of goods worth £450, and that the goods were then taken to a nearby town. He also claims that the thieves were caught by the police, and that the goods were recovered.

United Nations Committee reports

The United Nations Committee on the Situation of Human Rights in the Korean Peninsula has issued a report which contains lessons learned from the Korean experience. The report states that collective action is essential for the achievement of human rights, and that the United Nations should play a leading role in promoting such action. It also states that the United Nations should continue to monitor the situation in Korea, and that it should take action to ensure that human rights are protected.

No discussion on United Ireland

The House of Representatives has decided not to discuss the issue of a united Ireland. The decision was made after a lengthy debate on the subject. The House members argued that the issue was too complex to discuss at this time, and that it should be left to the Government to deal with. The decision was met with disappointment by those who had hoped for a discussion on the subject.

Transport requirements in Southern Rhodesia

Locomotives and rolling stock

The Southern Rhodesian Government is planning to purchase a large number of locomotives and rolling stock to meet the requirements of its transport system. The purchase is part of a larger program to modernize the transport system, and it is expected to have a significant impact on the economy of Southern Rhodesia. The Government has already purchased several locomotives, and it is currently negotiating with foreign suppliers for the purchase of the remaining stock.

Complex problem

It is a complex problem which is facing the British Government, according to a report from a leading expert on the subject of foreign trade. The expert claims that the British Government is facing a complex problem because of the introduction of a new tariff system. He claims that the new tariff system will have the effect of increasing the cost of British goods to a considerable extent, and that this will have the effect of reducing the volume of British exports to a considerable extent. He also claims that the new tariff system will have the effect of increasing the cost of British goods to a considerable extent, and that this will have the effect of reducing the volume of British exports to a considerable extent.

THE GENERAL SAYS GOOD TO EAST AFRICA

By LIEUT. GENERAL SIR A. DOWLER
(In a broadcast last night)

Lieutenant General Sir A. Dowler.

I AM grateful for the opportunity to repeat broadcast to the men and women of the Army in East Africa. For tomorrow we will be 10 years since we were first sent to East Africa. I have been very fortunate to have been able to visit the theatre of operations in the last 10 years. It is not usually very possible to visit the theatre of operations, but there are times when it is worth while to look at the theatre of operations. I have been very fortunate to have been able to visit the theatre of operations in the last 10 years. It is not usually very possible to visit the theatre of operations, but there are times when it is worth while to look at the theatre of operations. I have been very fortunate to have been able to visit the theatre of operations in the last 10 years.

It is a pleasure to be able to speak to you tonight. I am sure that you will find it interesting to hear from me. I have been very fortunate to have been able to visit the theatre of operations in the last 10 years. It is not usually very possible to visit the theatre of operations, but there are times when it is worth while to look at the theatre of operations. I have been very fortunate to have been able to visit the theatre of operations in the last 10 years.

Defence planning
The British Government has announced that it will be spending £1,000 million on defence over the next five years. This is a significant increase from the £800 million spent in the previous five years. The increase is due to the need to modernize the British armed forces and to meet the growing threat from the Soviet Union.

Army equipment
The British Army is receiving a large quantity of new equipment from the United States. This includes tanks, trucks, and other vehicles. The equipment is being used to modernize the British Army and to improve its fighting capabilities.

Correspondence
The British Government has received a large number of letters from the public. These letters have been sent to the Prime Minister and to other members of the Government. The letters have raised a wide range of issues, including the economy, education, and health.

Standard Bakery
The Standard Bakery has opened a new branch in Nairobi. The bakery will produce a wide range of breads and cakes. The new branch is expected to be very popular with the local community.

Remembrance Day
Remembrance Day is celebrated every year on November 11th. It is a day to remember the men and women who have served in the armed forces. The day is marked by a variety of ceremonies and events.

Tanganyika proposals reviewed
The proposals for the Tanganyika Territory, submitted to the British Government in London last week, are being reviewed by the Colonial Office. The proposals, which were submitted by the Tanganyika African Association, include a request for the territory to be granted the status of a self-governing colony. The proposals also include a request for the territory to be granted the right to elect its own representatives to the Legislative Council. The Colonial Office is expected to make a decision on the proposals in the next few weeks.

Future of colonial rule in India
The future of the British and Dutch rule in India is being discussed in the House of Commons. The British Government has announced that it will continue to rule India until 1947, after which time it will transfer power to the Indian people. The Dutch Government has also announced that it will continue to rule the Netherlands East Indies until 1949, after which time it will transfer power to the Indonesian people. The House of Commons is expected to discuss the future of colonial rule in India in the next few weeks.

Comments by City Engineer

In the presidential address to the East African Association of City Engineers, pointed out that the Association now had 400 members in the three territories and had an opportunity of being a great force for good in the development of East Africa.

Mr. Bridger, who spoke on the progress of development of Nairobi, recalled that four years ago when he had been to members a report of the Municipal Progress of Nairobi.

The report had primarily been an attempt to explain why the city was not developing as fast as it should. It was pointed out that the city had a very small area of land available for development and that the city was not developing as fast as it should.

ENGLAND NEARLY LOSE RECORD

Last-minute escape against France

ENGLAND and France drew 2-2 in their international football encounter at Highbury, London, on Wednesday, after a somewhat poor exhibition. All the scoring was done by the two sides in the last five minutes of the match, but England's record of being unbeaten on her own soil by a Continental side, her second best only just.

France scored in the French centre-forward, Grondin, brought in by the away and should have scored the winning goal. The French goalkeeper, Lefevre, was not at his best, and the French defence was shaky in the last five minutes of the match. England's defence was also shaky in the last five minutes of the match, but they managed to escape with a draw.

The French goalkeeper, Lefevre, was not at his best, and the French defence was shaky in the last five minutes of the match. England's defence was also shaky in the last five minutes of the match, but they managed to escape with a draw. The match was a close one, with both sides having chances to score. England's attack was hampered by a lack of pace, while France's attack was more potent. The result is a relief for England, who have not lost a match on their own soil since 1948.

Changes forecast: In the second half, the pace of the game was slower, and both sides were content to play for a draw. The referee, Mr. G. G. Smith, was in good luck, and the match was a well-played one. The result is a relief for England, who have not lost a match on their own soil since 1948. The match was a close one, with both sides having chances to score. England's attack was hampered by a lack of pace, while France's attack was more potent. FRESH PAGES IN HISTORY OF THE SEYCHELLES

New Nominated Members are Independent

The new Legislative Council of the Seychelles was opened this week by the Governor, Mr. Frederick Crawford, who turned the page in the history of the Colony when he had sitting members to state that the two new Nominated Members were not to be—and should never have been—maintained on Government benches.

They are Independent Members, in fact. They are not to be treated as Government Members and will accordingly be permitted to vote as they see fit and to follow either a Government or any party line. The Council was set up when the existing law which then had the names of the Governor and 17 Nominated Members and 10 Party Members. The Nominated Members are 10 persons and Mr. P. C. Bousfield, a lawyer. # HARNESSING THE NILE

The Story of Great Engineering Projects Which Have Kept Flood And Famine From Egypt

IRIGATION is Egypt's very lifeline. Ancient paintings and sculptures depict the country's early mastery of lifting water into irrigation channels more than 4,000 years ago, and it was believed that this primitive device spread to other lands merely naturally.

From the salt content, however, it has been ascertained that the Nile valley was not irrigated until the late 19th century. The British engineers, who introduced the modern irrigation system, found that the Nile valley was not irrigated until the late 19th century. The British engineers, who introduced the modern irrigation system, found that the Nile valley was not irrigated until the late 19th century.

British enterprise—The Nile is a big water source for Egypt. It is one of the great rivers of the world. The British engineers, who introduced the modern irrigation system, found that the Nile valley was not irrigated until the late 19th century.

The Assuan Dam—The Assuan Dam is one of the great engineering projects of the world. It was built by British engineers and it has kept flood and famine from Egypt.

"Tell me doctor"

Can my marriage be helped by healing?

Wouldn't heal of their own accord when they are kept free from the germs that cause acid indigestion? To keep you in the healthy condition for healing, you'll have to have your retted up. Dental? This problem, then, is a matter of germs in non-poisonous, general, not only on human tissue. While it undisturbed, it will not leave the living tissue undamaged. It is the natural process of acid and rapid...
