England lose wickets quickly in Test match

ENGLAND were the ones who bled first when the first Test match of the present M.C.C. tour of India opened at New Delhi, yesterday.

They added a wicket, however, from Lennon's second run-out on the first day, but lost three more on the second day, and were reduced to 100 men on the third day.

Dangerous bowler

Shinde was always the great danger to the English batsmen, and he was again in evidence when he bowled for the first time in the second Test match at New Delhi, yesterday.

EMPIRE
The Voice of Tanganyika

In a letter in these columns last Saturday, the Tanganyika European Council has asked the Government of the Territory whether it would make a clear distinction between the members of the Legislature who signed the recently published Report of the Committee on Constitutional Development. It is a fair and reasonable request because there is undoubtedly much room for improvement in the political and social conditions of Tanganyika, and it is particularly in the United Kingdom and United States of America, for consideration.

The Secretary of State for the Colonies, who has been to give personal and official approval to the contents of the Report, even before the public had seen them, had every opportunity of discussing them with his advisers in the Government. It is therefore in the interests of the three countries, and of the welfare of the people of Tanganyika, that a clear distinction should be made between the members of the Legislature who signed the document so often elected by their constituents, and those who had no specific public mandate to make a statement in this respect, particularly in the case of the Government members of the Legislature.

It has been argued as a result of the letter that it would be in the interests of the Government to make a statement in the House of Representatives to the effect that the Government members of the Legislature are not responsible for the contents of the Report. This is a reasonable suggestion, but it is not in the interests of the Government to make such a statement, because it would be a statement of fact, and it would be a statement of fact that the Government members of the Legislature are not responsible for the contents of the Report.

It is a reasonable suggestion, but it is not in the interests of the Government to make such a statement, because it would be a statement of fact, and it would be a statement of fact that the Government members of the Legislature are not responsible for the contents of the Report.

The 'old-time' touch returns and Arsenal top the table

Division II on a goal-scoring spree

A REVERSAL, the most successful club in British football for the last 10 years, passed into the leadership of Division I of the Football League on Saturday by winning at Middlesex and taking the previous leaders, Bolton, were losing at home to Division II on a goal-scoring spree. Arsenal's win at White House, London, was the first since they were relegated to the second division in 1947. They scored four goals in the match, while Bolton lost to Charlton Athletic at the same time.

Division II also had a busy day, with several matches resulting in high-scoring games. Arsenal's victory at White House was the highlight of the day, as they defeated Bolton 4-1. This result moved Arsenal to the top of the table, ahead of Charlton Athletic and Tottenham Hotspur.

The match at White House was a classic example of Arsenal's 'old-time' touch, with several goals scored in the first half. The team's attacking play was superb, and they were able to break down Bolton's defence with ease.

Bolton, who were the previous leaders, were in a poor mood after their defeat at home to Charlton Athletic. They were unable to score in the match, and their defeat was a blow to their confidence.

The Football League Division I table after Saturday's matches is as follows:

1. Arsenal	10
2. Charlton Athletic	9
3. Tottenham Hotspur	8
4. Bolton	7
5. Manchester City	6
6. Liverpool	5
7. Newcastle United	4
8. Everton	3

UNITED NATIONS GENERAL ASSEMBLY MAY BE TAME AFFAIR

Likely to avoid new test of strength

By SEBASTIAN HAFNER
London
THE next annual meeting of the General Assembly of the United Nations opens in Paris today. Two weeks hence will be the annual session of the Security Council. The United Nations is expected to be a tame affair, a meeting of the minds of the Latin-American delegates on having a position in Paris instead of more controversy. The delay to the resolution of the Security Council, to be held in New York, which was well thought out in New York.

And this relaxation in form is understandable for several reasons, not only the expense and the delay, but the awkwardness of establishing the Security Council in Paris. The Security Council is expected to be a tame affair, a meeting of the minds of the Latin-American delegates on having a position in Paris instead of more controversy. The delay to the resolution of the Security Council, to be held in New York, which was well thought out in New York.

Hardy perennials

A year ago, the United Nations was a tame affair, a meeting of the minds of the Latin-American delegates on having a position in Paris instead of more controversy. The delay to the resolution of the Security Council, to be held in New York, which was well thought out in New York.

Proud account
On the other hand, the economic and industrial assistance programme of the U.N. has prospered during the last year. The U.N. has prospered during the last year. The U.N. has prospered during the last year.

REARMAMENT OF JAPAN

Militarists becoming more active

By FRANK ROBERTSON
London
PEARS of a resurgence of ultra-nationalist and militarist ideas have been assailed among many Japanese by the recent visit of the Emperor to the Peace Treaty of the security pact with the United States. In the past, the Emperor's visits to the front lines have been regarded as a sign of military activity.

Balance of power

TWO COMMONWEALTH CONFERENCES EXPECTED EARLY NEXT YEAR

THE Conservative Government is considering convening two important Commonwealth Ministerial conferences next year. One is understood to be a meeting of Finance Ministers to discuss the sterling area's critical financial situation. The other is a Ministerial conference of the Commonwealth, including members of the Colonial Tans to review the progress and prospects of the £100-million scheme.

THE second-in-command of the Commonwealth countries is expected to be invited to London to preside for the suggested ministerial talks, but this morning has been postponed.

The quest for oil in Kenya

FIRST STAGE NEARS ITS END

The first stage in the quest for oil in Kenya has been completed by the Colony's Member of Parliament, Mr. J. M. Njiru, who has been asked to report on the progress of the search for oil in Kenya. On October 28, 1953, he presented his report to the Legislative Council. Mr. Njiru's report was a comprehensive one, covering the progress of the search for oil in Kenya since the first stage was completed in 1951. He stated that the search for oil in Kenya is a long and arduous task, and that it is essential that the Government should continue to support the search for oil in Kenya. He also stated that the search for oil in Kenya is a task which requires the co-operation of the people of Kenya, and that it is essential that the Government should continue to support the search for oil in Kenya.

DIFFICULTIES FACING THE RUBBER AND TIN INDUSTRIES

ALTHOUGH the general outlook for the tin industry is bright, the tin industry is facing a number of difficulties which are likely to hamper its expansion in the near future. These difficulties are:

1. Overproduction: The tin industry has been producing more tin than the world market can absorb. This has led to a fall in tin prices and a loss of interest in tin. 2. Competition: The tin industry is facing stiff competition from other metals, particularly copper and lead. 3. Transportation: The tin industry is facing difficulties in transporting tin from the mines to the market. 4. Government Policies: The tin industry is facing difficulties due to government policies which restrict the export of tin.

5. Unsettled Producers: The tin industry is facing difficulties due to the unsettled nature of the tin producers. 6. Unsettled Consumers: The tin industry is facing difficulties due to the unsettled nature of the tin consumers.

7. Unsettled Producers: The tin industry is facing difficulties due to the unsettled nature of the tin producers. 8. Unsettled Consumers: The tin industry is facing difficulties due to the unsettled nature of the tin consumers.

Opposition to export tax on sisal

STATEMENT BY GROWERS

Memorandum below was prepared at a meeting of the sisal growers of the United Kingdom and was presented to the House of Commons on 16th December 1931. It was published in the House of Commons on 17th December 1931.

The following is a summary of the main points of the memorandum:

It is stated that the sisal export tax was introduced by the Government in 1929, and that it has since been increased several times. It is pointed out that the tax is a heavy burden on the growers, and that it has caused a decline in the production of sisal in the United Kingdom.

The memorandum states that the Government has failed to take any steps to reduce the tax, and that it is now proposed to increase it further. It is urged that the Government should consider the interests of the sisal growers, and should take steps to reduce the tax to a reasonable level.

London sees film of Africa

There has been little satisfaction in the fact that the film is not being shown in the United Kingdom. It is pointed out that the film is a masterpiece of cinematography, and that it is well worth seeing. It is hoped that the film will be shown in the United Kingdom in the near future.

Mr. A. H. Hume, Secretary of State for the Colonies, speaking at the House of Commons on 17th December 1931.

THE FINANCIAL CRISIS FACING BRITAIN

Much depends on Mr. Butler

THE most serious point of political interest in Britain is Mr. R. A. Butler's first speech as Chancellor of the Exchequer. Very few people in Britain have even the remotest idea of the nature of the financial crisis which confronts the country.

It is unlikely to be worse than 1947, but it is not likely to be better. It is a crisis which will be felt through 1952, and it is not likely to be solved by the end of the year.

Mr. Butler's speech will be a test of his ability to handle the crisis. It is a crisis which will be felt through 1952, and it is not likely to be solved by the end of the year.

DRASTIC CUTS IN BRITISH IMPORTS

Statement by Chancellor SAYING THE NATION FROM BOOMING IDLE, BANKRUPT

By a statement of the Chancellor of the Exchequer, Mr. Aneurin Bevan, it was announced today that the Government had decided to reduce sharply the value of imports from the United Kingdom. The statement was made in the House of Commons after the Chancellor had given a statement on the state of the nation.

Immediate steps

Mr. Bevan said that the rate of inflation had risen to a level which was not only a serious threat to the stability of the pound but also a danger to the health of the nation. He said that the Government had decided to take immediate steps to reduce the rate of inflation.

Allegiance in S. Rhodesia

A Bill to restrict the industry of the South African Republic in Rhodesia has been introduced in the House of Representatives. The Bill is intended to restrict the industry of the South African Republic in Rhodesia.

Mr. Havenga going to London

Mr. Havenga, the South African Minister of Education, is expected to visit London in the near future. He is expected to discuss the education system in South Africa with the British Government.

Count the Firestones anywhere

COMMENT ON THE TORY PROPOSALS

'They may not be severe enough'

COMMENTING ON THE Government's plans to reduce the value of imports from the United Kingdom

It is generally expected that the Government's proposals to reduce the value of imports from the United Kingdom will be severe enough to bring about a significant reduction in the rate of inflation. However, some critics believe that the proposals are not severe enough.

'Good beginning'

The 'Good beginning' has been made by the Government's decision to reduce the value of imports from the United Kingdom. This is seen as a positive step towards reducing inflation.

Pro-Mosaddeq

Pro-Mosaddeq sentiment is strong in the Middle East, particularly in Iran. This is due to the perceived success of Mosaddeq's policies in Iran.

Incapable rulers

The incapability of rulers in various countries is a major concern. This is particularly true in the Middle East, where the lack of effective leadership is a significant problem.

Easier to get import licences

It is easier to get import licences in some countries than in others. This is due to differences in the regulatory systems of different countries.

Royal tour continues

The Royal tour continues as the Queen and Prince Philip visit various parts of the Commonwealth. The tour is seen as a symbol of unity and cooperation.

Cutting down

There is a cutting down in various areas, including the number of people in certain professions. This is due to changes in the economy and the labor market.

The Nile River basin in East Africa, showing the Nile River, Lake Victoria, and the surrounding regions of North and South Africa.

CABLE ASKS DR. MOSSADEQ TO RETURN HOME

A cable from the British Government asks Dr. Mosaddeq to return home. The cable expresses the British Government's desire for a peaceful resolution of the Iranian situation.

Dearer aviation spirit in Kenya

The price of aviation spirit in Kenya has risen significantly. This is due to a combination of factors, including a shortage of supply and an increase in demand.

Air attack on terrorists

An air attack was launched against terrorists in the region. The attack was successful in destroying several hideouts and killing several terrorists.

THREE-POWER PLAN FOR PEACE

Mr. Acheson emphasises urgency

Mr. Acheson, the American Secretary of State, has emphasized the urgency of the three-power plan for peace in the Korean peninsula. He stated that the plan was essential for the stability of the region.

Declaration

A declaration was made regarding the situation in the Middle East. The declaration emphasized the need for a peaceful resolution of the conflict.

Ham shortage in Nairobi

There is a shortage of ham in Nairobi. This is due to a combination of factors, including a shortage of supply and an increase in demand.

Seasonal

The seasonal nature of certain industries is a major concern. This is particularly true in the agricultural sector, where the weather can have a significant impact on production.

Begin now

The Government has decided to begin certain measures now. This is seen as a necessary step towards addressing the current economic situation.

Criteria

The criteria for certain measures have been established. These criteria will be used to evaluate the effectiveness of the measures.

Moshi evolution of criticism

The evolution of criticism in Moshi is a significant development. This is due to the growing awareness of the local population and their demands for reform.

Portugal ravaged by storms

Portugal has been ravaged by severe storms. The storms have caused significant damage to the country's infrastructure and economy.

RUSSIANS STUDY NEW ARMS PLAN

Chief delegates speak in Paris

The Russian chief delegates have spoken in Paris regarding the new arms plan. They stated that the plan was essential for the security of the Soviet Union.

First woman

A first woman has been appointed to a high-ranking position. This is a significant milestone for women in the field.

Ham shortage in Nairobi

There is a shortage of ham in Nairobi. This is due to a combination of factors, including a shortage of supply and an increase in demand.

Peace award criticised

The peace award has been criticized. Critics argue that the award was given to the wrong person and that it did not recognize the true heroes of the peace movement.

"I enjoy them best of all!"

"I enjoy them best of all!" is a popular slogan. It is used to promote a certain product or service.

Nothing equals a du Maurier!

Nothing equals a du Maurier! is a slogan for du Maurier cigarettes. It is used to promote the quality and taste of the cigarettes.

ANGING IDEAS OF EMPIRE

By E. B. Timothy

THEY ARE HERBERT's book, Idea and Ideal of the British Empire first appeared in 1941. In a new edition, now on sale in paperback, Sir Ernest Barker has tried, so far as possible, to bring it up to date.

As a student of India, he has been witness of the lack of any British colonial policy since 1919. He writes that Sir Ernest Barker in necessary to bring the empire up to date.

He says that any one reading the book will be struck by the fact that the empire is no longer the "Empire" that it was in 1941. It is now a "Commonwealth of Nations" and has to be treated as such.

It is of importance to the current development of political theories about the role of the British Empire in the world.

It is also of importance to the current development of political theories about the role of the British Empire in the world.

The Seychelles needs more teachers

STANDARD CONSPIRACY

THE report for 1950 of the Department of Education has just been published by the Director, Mr. W. D. Gregg, and covers a wide field.

The Department was in a position to make a large part of the Colony's revenue, yet for more money could be produced than is available and progress is undoubtedly being made in the majority of schools in the yearly book.

Weak link

One of the weak links in still the supply of qualified teachers in the primary and secondary schools in the islands of the Seychelles and the Islands, both of which have worked as an important factor in the past 20 years. It has not, however, been possible to do a further limited college and three more months' vacation courses have been used as a substitute for teachers.

It is expected that the new building to accommodate the school, which has been already started and already been handed to Africa in the past few months, will be a good one.

The Council School will be meeting in a few days. Most of the teachers in the College, and plans for the buildings have now been completed.

TANGANYIKA PASSES WILSON REPORT

BILL

STANDARD CONSPIRACY

On the preparation of the 40,000 acres for immediate occupation, action has been set on foot for compensation. A sum of over £100 has been spent on the acquisition of land according to the recommendations of the Wilson Report.

"If they do not pass, the whole business, so to speak, of the Wilson Report will collapse and this ordinance seeks to provide legislation which enables this move to be made," concluded Mr. Vickers Harris.

'All satisfied'

Major S. R. G. Tait, supporting the Bill, said it had cost him more than £100 in car expenses alone in travelling round the island. Africans raised an objection. "Wherever they pointed a bit of land over here or a bit over there in all cases we have satisfied them," he declared. He regretted that it had been necessary to introduce the Bill.

Chief Kadaka also supported the Bill. One point he embodied, he said, because in one part of the territory certain sections of the community were properly trying to keep an historic agreement, while others were not.

"Let me make it quite clear. I am not trying to appease the European settlers of Kadaka. I have no doubt. I am trying to look at the thing from impartially and at what is best."

He said he was not apologetic about the rights or wrongs of the Wilson Report, but that he was sure it had been fought for by those concerned.

Sort of land

An area of 2,000 acres was set apart for the use of the Wilson Report. It is a sort of land which has been set apart for the use of the Wilson Report. It is a sort of land which has been set apart for the use of the Wilson Report.

Economic development in the backward areas

2. PRIVATE OR PUBLIC

THE question that can be various reports on economic development in the backward areas of the British Colonies is not that there is no scope for private investment but that private investment alone cannot and will not forthcoming enough to meet the necessary scale.

This fact was made plain in the report of the Committee on Economic Development in the Colonies, which was published last week. It is by means of the Committee's conclusions that we have to form our own views on the subject.

The Committee's conclusions are that the backward areas of the Colonies are in a state of economic stagnation. This is due to a number of factors, including the lack of capital, the lack of technical assistance, and the lack of a sound economic policy.

The Committee recommends that the Government should take steps to improve the economic situation of the backward areas. This includes the provision of capital, technical assistance, and a sound economic policy.

WHEN COWRIE SHELLS WERE CURRENCY

As time has passed, and shells, which were used for money, are no longer so, when shells and beads were used for money in East Africa.

WHEN John Ludwig Kraft made his courageous journey through East Africa, his porters carried with them thousands of strings of cowrie shells and colorful beads. The beads and shells were used as a unit of value. In the primitive days of his journey, Kraft used the shells and beads as a unit of value. In the primitive days of his journey, Kraft used the shells and beads as a unit of value.

Limitations

THESE were, however, limitations. They were not used as a unit of value in all parts of the country. In some parts, they were used as a unit of value, but in other parts, they were not used at all. The limitations were that they were not used as a unit of value in all parts of the country.

Blue for power

THEir most important trade in the past has been the not used as a unit of value. The trade has been in the past has been the not used as a unit of value. The trade has been in the past has been the not used as a unit of value.
