MERRY SPARK WINS BIG RACE AT NAKURU

Outstanding performance

AFTER a lapse of nine months, racing was resumed at Nakuru on Saturday when a fair crowd had some most interesting events, although the usual large African "gala" was absent. The going was firm but not hard and the course looking green and fresh while fields were extremely good. The entire entry (excepting in the last race) was in 1700 ft. Turfway...

magic?

Yes, definitely, for Ruby Kim Evans is the daughter of the late Evans of London, a member of the Magic Circle, which no doubt explains all the funny things that happen in her home.
Ruby Kim was brought up on Cow & Gate—no there is no magic about her fine, healthy appearance and steady nerves.

The Mainly-For-Women Page Takes a Look At a Man's Pastime

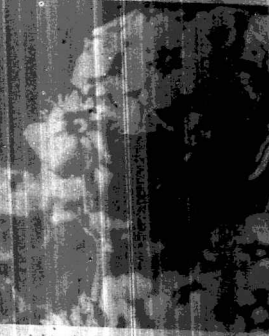

THE CAMERA HOBBY GETS A GRIP FOR LIFE

EVERY other person owns a camera. Most get results of it, but few know much about photography, much less about such technicalities as developing and enlarging. That is why I am writing about it. Col. H. E. Pender-Pleming, known to his friends as the "Irish Colonel"—possibly because he can't resist a good butterfly fly-knife now and takes inquisitive pictures. The walk of his house bear witness to this, and the etchings he can produce have a genuine fascination!

Col. Pleming has three pictures in life. In order of preference they are, first, walking in his elaborate, dark-stained second playing field, and third, making the most of it. We were sitting in his dining room one afternoon last week. It was very hot because it is a very hot country. When Col. Pleming moved to his room for his requirements, he fully equipped in his black cloth. There is no doubt that he is a man of his own mind. With his own hands through the stock solution, he is able to get the best results. He is a man of his own mind, and he is a man of his own mind.

Save and sweat!
The only reason for recording these difficulties is to show that there is all the difference between the essential photographic who has to do it and the one who does it. Down sweat and down sweat. The equipment is not on a camera. When Col. Pleming has a camera, he is a man of his own mind.

Col. Pleming took me to the processing and the relevant equipment was obtained—another complete lot for a picture. "Now and again I would develop a roll of film with my small camera. There are things I had to deal with, but they were not so bad as I thought. He said that the best way to get the most of it is to get the most of it. He said that the best way to get the most of it is to get the most of it.

A photograph will appreciate the patient needed to take this picture of an African butterfly found in a garden.

Col. Pleming has a butterfly in his garden.

Call for U.S. to ease trade restrictions

IN AN address report, published today, the International Monetary Fund says that international modifications in the policy of trade restrictions would be beneficial to the economic development of America's surplus-producing countries.

The report, which is the first of a series of reports on the subject, is based on a study of the trade restrictions of the United States and other leading nations.

The report states that the United States has the highest trade restrictions in the world, and that these restrictions are a major cause of unemployment and economic depression in the United States and other surplus-producing countries.

The report calls for a reduction in trade restrictions, and for the establishment of a system of international trade agreements which would provide for the free flow of goods and services between all nations.

CLOSER CONTROL OF NAIROBI AFRICANS

Government plans warden posts LAND UNIT POLICY

PLANS for the closer administration of Nairobi's African population, deemed to improve law and order in the city, are being considered by the Government.

Government officials, including representatives of the Nairobi City Council's African Affairs Department, are expected to meet in Nairobi to discuss the proposed scheme.

The plan envisages splitting up of the city into a number of villages, each of which would have a warden post. The warden posts would be manned by African wardens, who would be responsible for the control and supervision of the African population in their respective areas.

It is also proposed to reserve a zone of land for the use of Africans, who would be allowed to cultivate and build on this land. This land would be divided into small units, each of which would be allocated to an African family.

TWO AFRICANS KILLED IN NYUSALAND TROUBLE SPOT

TWO African youths were killed in a shooting incident in the Nyusaland district, near the border with the Kenya Territory, on September 10.

The incident occurred in the early hours of the morning, when a group of about 20 Africans were gathered in a clearing. One of the youths, who was armed with a rifle, fired a shot which struck another youth in the chest.

The victim died shortly afterwards. The shooter was also wounded and was taken to a hospital in Nairobi, where he is recovering.

The police are investigating the incident and are expected to report on the results of their inquiries in the next few days.

CRISIS CONTACT WITH FRANCE

The Government has received a message from the French Government, which has been interpreted as a warning of a possible crisis in the Congo.

The message, which was received in Nairobi on September 10, stated that the French Government was concerned about the situation in the Congo and was prepared to take any necessary steps to maintain order and stability in the region.

The Government in Nairobi is expected to reply to the message in the next few days.

CRISIS FOR AFRICA

The African States are expected to meet in Addis Ababa in the next few days to discuss the situation in the Congo and to coordinate their response to the French Government's message.

The meeting is expected to be held in the presence of representatives of the United Nations and other international organizations.

Shipments to Uruguay banned

A EUROPEAN syndicate dealing in supplies of coffee is believed to be involved in a large quantity of coffee which was shipped to Uruguay in the last few months.

The syndicate, which is based in Europe, is alleged to have arranged for the shipment of coffee to Uruguay through a series of intermediaries. The coffee was shipped in large quantities, and the syndicate is believed to have made a profit from the deal.

The Government in Nairobi is expected to investigate the deal and to take any necessary steps to prevent such deals in the future.

GANG SURPRISED: ABOUT TO SET FIRE TO HOUSE

Returning owner fired at

A GANG of about 100 men was surprised on the morning of September 10 when they returned to their house in the city of Nairobi.

The gang, which was led by a man known as 'Big Boy', had been in the city for some time. They had been seen in various parts of the city, and had been causing trouble for the police.

When the gang returned to their house, they were surprised to find that the house was empty. They were about to set fire to the house when they were fired at by the police.

The police are investigating the incident and are expected to report on the results of their inquiries in the next few days.

ECONOMIC UNITY SOUGHT IN EAST AFRICA

Governments will be urged to transfer certain powers

The three African Governments are to be urged to transfer certain powers to the Commission of the Government of East Africa, according to a report by the United Nations Secretary-General. The report, which is the first of a series of reports to be issued by the Secretary-General, is based on a study of the economic situation in East Africa.

The report states that the three Governments should be urged to transfer to the Commission certain powers which are essential for the economic development of the region. These powers include the right to issue currency, to regulate the exchange rate, to control the foreign exchange, and to regulate the trade in certain commodities.

The report also states that the three Governments should be urged to transfer to the Commission certain powers which are essential for the economic development of the region. These powers include the right to issue currency, to regulate the exchange rate, to control the foreign exchange, and to regulate the trade in certain commodities.

Exchanges in Nairobi and Mombasa

Exchange rates in Nairobi and Mombasa have shown a steady decline since the beginning of the year. This is due to a number of factors, including the depreciation of the local currencies and the increase in the price of foreign exchange.

The Nairobi exchange rate has fallen from 100 shillings to 85 shillings, while the Mombasa rate has fallen from 100 shillings to 75 shillings. This has had a significant impact on the local economy, as it has made it more difficult for businesses to import raw materials and other essential goods.

Holiday visa

The Government has announced that it will issue holiday visas to tourists from the United Kingdom and the United States. These visas will be valid for a period of 90 days and will allow tourists to enter the country for a holiday.

The Government has also announced that it will issue visas to tourists from other countries, including Canada, Australia, and New Zealand. These visas will be valid for a period of 90 days and will allow tourists to enter the country for a holiday.

Remove embargo

The Government has announced that it will remove the embargo on the import of certain commodities from the United Kingdom and the United States. This will allow businesses to import these commodities more easily and at a lower cost.

The commodities in question include certain types of machinery, raw materials, and other essential goods. The Government has announced that it will remove the embargo on these commodities from the United Kingdom and the United States.

Three species

Three new species of birds have been discovered in the forests of East Africa. These species are the East African Woodpecker, the East African Kingfisher, and the East African Parrot.

The East African Woodpecker is a small bird with a black and white pattern on its back. The East African Kingfisher is a larger bird with a blue and white pattern on its back. The East African Parrot is a colorful bird with a red, blue, and yellow pattern on its back.

Stock Exchange

The Nairobi Stock Exchange has reported a decline in trading volume since the beginning of the year. This is due to a number of factors, including the depreciation of the local currencies and the increase in the price of foreign exchange.

The exchange rate has fallen from 100 shillings to 85 shillings, which has made it more difficult for investors to buy and sell shares. This has led to a decline in trading volume and a fall in the price of shares.

EUROPEAN STOREMAN SENT FOR TRIAL

To face charges about ammunition

PAUL TYNELLE SMITH, a former Kenya Police Officer, is to be sent to court to face charges of supplying ammunition to the Mau Mau rebels. The charges are part of a larger case against several other individuals who are accused of supplying the rebels with weapons and supplies.

Mr. Smith is accused of supplying the rebels with ammunition and other supplies. He is also accused of providing the rebels with information about the activities of the British authorities. The charges are part of a larger case against several other individuals who are accused of supplying the rebels with weapons and supplies.

Two men fined for losing guns

Two men have been fined for losing their guns. The men were found to be in possession of the guns and were charged with the offence. The court has sentenced them to a fine of 100 shillings each.

NAKURU COUNCIL PLAN FOR COTTAGE SYSTEM

To replace squatter labour

The Nakuru Council has approved a plan to introduce a cottage system of housing for the town's labour force. The plan is designed to replace the current system of squatter labour, which is characterized by overcrowded and unsanitary conditions.

The cottage system will involve the construction of small, self-contained cottages for the town's labour force. These cottages will be built on the outskirts of the town and will be owned by the labourers. The plan is designed to provide the labourers with a more comfortable and hygienic living environment.

Farmers' field day on medal estate

A field day was held on the Medal Estate to showcase the latest agricultural techniques and equipment. The day was attended by a large number of farmers and was a great success.

The field day featured a variety of demonstrations, including the use of new types of ploughs, tractors, and other agricultural machinery. The farmers were also given the opportunity to ask questions and to receive advice from the experts.

LEADING AFRICAN FARMERS

The leading African farmers in East Africa are those who have adopted modern agricultural techniques and equipment. These farmers are able to produce higher yields and to manage their farms more efficiently.

THE ODYSSEY OF AN ANIMAL COLLECTOR

London, Dec. 22.—The story of the life of a collector of animals is a story of adventure, of hardship, of sacrifice, and of a love for the wild life of the world. It is a story that has fascinated the imagination of men for centuries, and it is a story that is still being written today.

The collector of animals is a man who has a deep love for the wild life of the world. He is a man who is willing to go to the ends of the earth to find the animals that he loves. He is a man who is willing to live in the most primitive conditions, and who is willing to die for the sake of his animals.

CONTRACT BRIDGE NOTES

Response to light opening bids

Continuing the subject of light opening bids, it is necessary to consider the response to such bids. The most common response to a light opening bid is a raise to the next level. This is usually done with a hand that has a good fit with the opener's suit and a few extra points.

Another common response is a bid in a new suit. This is usually done with a hand that has a good fit with the opener's suit and a few extra points. This bid is usually made with a hand that has a good fit with the opener's suit and a few extra points.

The response to a light opening bid is a matter of judgment. The responder should consider the strength of his hand, the fit with the opener's suit, and the overall situation of the auction.

It is important to remember that a light opening bid is usually made with a hand that has a good fit with the opener's suit and a few extra points. The responder should consider the strength of his hand, the fit with the opener's suit, and the overall situation of the auction.
