HIGHER RAILWAY CHARGES FORECAST

Reserve funds to defer increase

The Kenya Railways Administration has forecast a 10 per cent increase in railway charges for 1956. The increase is expected to be deferred until 1957 because of the large reserve funds accumulated during the past few years.

The forecast is based on the fact that the railway has accumulated a reserve fund of £1,500,000 over the past three years. This reserve fund is expected to be used to meet the increased charges for 1956.

The railway has also accumulated a reserve fund of £1,000,000 for the purchase of new rolling stock. This reserve fund is also expected to be used to meet the increased charges for 1956.

WATER OF EMERGENCY

The Kenya Railways Administration has announced that it will be providing water of emergency for the public in the event of a shortage of water in Nairobi.

The water will be provided from the railway's water supply system. The railway has a large water supply system which is used for the operation of the railway.

The water will be provided free of charge to the public in the event of a shortage of water in Nairobi.

25,000,000 SPENDING RECOMMENDED

The Kenya Railways Administration has recommended that the Government should spend £25,000,000 on the railway for the next five years.

The spending is expected to be used for the purchase of new rolling stock, the construction of new lines, and the improvement of existing lines.

FINANCE AND COMMERCE

Convertibility plans are proceeding

The most serious obstacle to the conversion of the dollar into gold is the unwillingness of the public to hold gold in the form of coins or bullion. The Federal Reserve Board is now studying the possibility of issuing gold certificates which would be convertible into gold on demand. This plan is being considered as a means of increasing the gold content of the currency without requiring the public to hold gold in its own hands.

BANK RATE CUT SENDS GILT-EDGED UP

Demand for 'Shorts' encouraged

While City expects no immediate effect from the rate cut, it is likely to encourage a demand for 'shorts' in the market. The rate cut is expected to lead to a rise in the price of government securities, which will in turn lead to a rise in the price of 'shorts' in the market.

COMMODITY PRICES

Commodity prices are generally higher than last week. The price of wheat is up 1/2 cent, and the price of corn is up 1/4 cent. The price of cotton is up 1/4 cent, and the price of sugar is up 1/4 cent. The price of rice is up 1/4 cent, and the price of flour is up 1/4 cent.

Truck owners report increase in profits...

Truck owners report an increase in profits due to higher prices for commodities. The increase is attributed to the fact that the price of many commodities has risen since last year. This has led to a corresponding increase in the price of goods transported by trucks, which has resulted in higher profits for truck owners.

Nyasaland may have more disturbances, says Deputy C-in-C

SAYING the probability of the present disturbances in Nyasaland will be a fairly general start to the country for the next few months, the Deputy Chief of Staff, General Sir Alexander Chalmers, said today.

General Chalmers, who is acting as the British High Commissioner in Nyasaland, said that the disturbances in Nyasaland were a result of the economic conditions in the country, and that they were likely to continue for some time.

He said that the British Government was doing its best to deal with the situation, but that it was likely to be some time before the disturbances were completely over.

Goal for Kenya's progress

KENYA has set a goal of becoming a self-sufficient country by 1960, the date of its independence from British rule. The Kenya Government has announced that it will spend the next five years on a program of development which will include the construction of roads, bridges, and other infrastructure. The government also plans to establish a central bank and to issue its own currency. The goal is to create a modern, industrialized country that can support a growing population and provide a high standard of living for its people.

AGRICULTURAL CENSUS PLAN TO ALLOCATE MONEY FOR ROAD WORKS

AGRICULTURE is the backbone of the New Zealand economy, and the government is planning to allocate a significant amount of money to road works in the coming year. The plan is based on an agricultural census that will provide detailed information about the farming industry. This information will be used to determine the most effective ways to improve road infrastructure, which is essential for the transport of agricultural products. The government estimates that the total cost of the road works program will be approximately $10 million. This funding will be distributed across various regions, with a focus on areas that have the highest agricultural output. The program is expected to create thousands of jobs and to significantly reduce the time and cost of transporting goods to market.

Maccabiah Games start in Tel Aviv

THE fourth Maccabiah Jewish Olympic games were inaugurated at the Ramat Gan Stadium in Tel Aviv on Sunday, where about 50,000 spectators cheered contingents from the far-flung sporting world.

As the ceremonial parade past the tribunes, it was greeted by a cheering throng of spectators from the United States, through the eyes of American, the light blue of Great Britain, the green of South Africa, and the red of Denmark, to cite a few of the more prominent.

A 21-foot salute and the raising of flags preceded the starting of the games, presided over by President Yehoshua Ben-Zur.

Canada Wheat Board reduces prices of its top grade by 3 1/2 cents

The Canadian Wheat Board has announced that it will reduce the price of its top grade wheat by 3 1/2 cents per bushel. This decision was made after a long period of negotiations with the United States government, which had been demanding a reduction in the price of Canadian wheat. The board's decision is expected to result in a significant increase in the volume of wheat exports to the United States.

The board's decision is expected to result in a significant increase in the volume of wheat exports to the United States. This is because the United States government has been demanding a reduction in the price of Canadian wheat, and the board's decision to reduce its price by 3 1/2 cents per bushel is expected to make Canadian wheat more competitive in the U.S. market.

Imports varied

The United States government has reported that imports of goods from foreign countries have varied significantly over the past few months. This is due to a combination of factors, including changes in demand for various goods and fluctuations in exchange rates. The government's report indicates that imports of raw materials and machinery have increased, while imports of consumer goods have decreased.

BEYOND GLAMOUR FOR YOUR CLOSET

The fashion of London and Paris is being copied in many ways. The styles are changing rapidly, and it is difficult to keep up with the latest trends. However, there are some timeless pieces that are worth investing in. These pieces are classic and elegant, and they will never go out of style. They are the perfect addition to any wardrobe.

IT MAY HELP YOU

When it comes to health and well-being, there are many things that can help you. One of the most important things is to eat a healthy diet. This means eating plenty of fruits and vegetables, and avoiding processed foods. Exercise is also important, as it helps to keep your body in good shape. Finally, getting enough sleep is crucial for your overall health.

RACE FASHION

The fashion industry is constantly evolving, and it is interesting to see how different cultures influence each other. Race fashion is a term used to describe the fusion of different styles and traditions. This can be seen in the way that designers incorporate elements from different cultures into their collections. It is a reflection of our increasingly global world.

Scientists reveal research aims

Scientists are working to build a new kind of "artificial" shark, one that can be used for research and for the protection of the oceans.

The new shark is being built by a team of scientists from the University of California at San Diego. The shark is being built from a shark's skeleton and is being used to study the shark's behavior and its ability to attack its prey.
