GERMANY'S READINESS TO JOIN IN DISCUSSIONS

Sir John Simon to Visit Berlin

AUSTRIAN MINISTERS IN PARIS AND LONDON

It had been decided that Sir John Simon will visit Berlin early in March for the purpose of discussing with the German Government the question of international co-operation in securing the pacification of Europe.

The outlook is very hopeful as a result of Germany's attitude in the problem, and her expressed readiness to discuss all matters arising out of the recent Anglo-French agreement.

It has also been suggested that Sir John Simon should extend his journey to Moscow and Warsaw, as it is considered that such a visit would advance the cause of a general European settlement.

Negotiations to Cover Wide Field

There have been no incidents so far.

Germany's New Attitude
London, February 22. Anglo-German conversations in the recent Anglo-French conference are now virtually complete. A preliminary discussion of questions in Berlin, viz. Berlin's Diplomatic Co-operation has concluded. It is believed that such conversations should be confined to the future, but should embrace the whole field covered by the communications from Berlin directly to Paris.

It has not yet been settled whether the conversations will be held in London, or by Sir John Simon's visit to Berlin, or by Sir John Simon's visit to Berlin, or by Sir John Simon's visit to Berlin.

The question of the Eastern Front, which appears to be one of the greatest difficulties in the way of agreement, has not yet been fully considered in London, but it is recognized that the existing state of non-aggression points will possibly form the basis of future negotiations.

BUT NO POOLING OF FINANCIAL RESOURCES

Secretary of State's View

EXECUTIVE AUTHORITY BY GOVERNORS' CONFERENCE NOT ADVISABLE

Any practicable proposals for the administration of the three East African territories, to better economic advantage, will receive the sympathetic consideration of the Secretary of State and the Governors concerned, according to a statement in the House of Commons by Sir Philip Cunliffe-Lister.

He saw no prospect, however, of deriving any advantage from the pooling of financial resources. The actual problem was how to secure the maximum amount of co-operation.

The Secretary of State also stated that although the Governors' Conference served a very useful purpose, it would be neither advisable nor practicable to give it executive authority.

Matter Continually Under Review

Board advised members of what was being done in the direction of the Governors' Conference.

The East African Governors' Conference serves a very useful purpose, but experience on the part of the present conference may lead to the conclusion that it is not advisable to give it executive authority.

Native Land Rights
Referring to Major T. Miller (Capt. S. R.), Sir P. Cunliffe-Lister stated that it was the maximum co-operative policy of occupation in the European territories, which was being pursued by the Secretary of State.

An Advance Towards Peace

Sir John Simon towards the middle of next week. Whether the Secretary will be accompanied by Mr. Anthony D. Newton, First Secretary, has not yet been decided, and much may depend upon whether the visit to Berlin is followed by a visit to Moscow, the question of which, however, is still under consideration.

MEETING OF PRINCES DEMANDS VITAL CHANGES

OBJECTIONS SET OUT IN MESSAGE TO THE VICEROY

The controversial India Bill has met with another setback as the result of a resolution following a meeting of Indian Princes and their Ministers in Bombay.

In a statement to the House of Commons on the position arising out of the resolution passed by a meeting of the Indian Princes and their Ministers in Bombay on Monday, the Secretary of State for India said there was no disagreement regarding the principle of Federation.

Mr. Churchill, whose motion for the adjournment of the House was heavily defeated, contended, however, that the Princes' attitude was consistent with a definite rejection of Federation.

Alleged Discovery of Pygmy Remains

Newspaper Report

ORIGINATED BY LOCAL SUBMITTIONS
[UNPROVED NEWS'S AGENCY.]
Bombay, Feb. 20.
Several remains of a human race of 45 inches tall have been discovered at Vadnagar in the Baruch district, including a 15 inch pygmy, an 18 inch Government Indian, a 25 inch walking stick. The smallest pygmy skeletons are in Central India, and are four to five feet in height, but it is noteworthy that Hoaxes are reported to pygmies of 13 inches.

Dubieties in London
London, Feb. 23.
Anthropologists experts in London are so strongly inclined to believe that the fossil remains discovered at Vadnagar are those of a human race only 13 inches tall.

The House of Commons rejected Mr. Churchill's motion for the adjournment by 263 votes to 89 and resumed the Committee stage of the Bill.

Fears Must Be Removed
[BY WIRELESS.]
"The Times," referring to the question to-day, considers that the apprehensions of the Princes, wherever they prove to be well-founded, must be removed and their views as to the redrafting of certain passages in the Bill must be carefully studied before it takes final shape.

It is however, quite unnecessary, says The Times, for observations will make any fundamental change in the structure and intention of the Bill. The rejection of the Bill in the House of Commons is a definite repudiation of the Princes' and the Government's.

SEQUEL TO RECENT FLYING BOAT DISASTER

Dead Officers' Fiances

[REUTERS NEWS'S AGENCY.]
Bombay, February 21.
There has been a terrible sequel to the R.A.F. flying boat disaster a week ago when two officers and eight men were killed as a result of the machine crashing into the side of a mountain at Mentana.

Two sisters, Elizabeth and Jane Dubois, who were engaged to the two officers concerned, the former to Flight Lieutenant Beatty and her sister to Flying Officer Forbes, son of Dr. Forbes of Eldorado, chartered an aeroplane from the Hillman Line, ostensibly for a journey to Paris.

While the machine was flying over Umanisner, Essex, the two girls, holding hands, fell from the machine. The bodies terribly mutilated were found in a field near the town, having apparently fallen from a height of about 1,500 feet.

PILOT'S DISCOVERY
The pilot who was on route from Abridge, Essex, did not realize that anything untoward had happened until, when crossing the Channel, he noticed that the door of the plane was open and then discovered that his passengers were missing. He immediately turned back.

The victims of the tragedy were the daughters of Mr. Coert Dubois, the vice-consul of the States-General at Naples. Letters addressed to their parents were found on the bodies.

In arguing that there should be a substantial reduction the memorandum stated that the comparatively few people who were not saving rent paid in from private incomes or unexpected capital.

Reconstruction in the Belgian Congo

Administrative Changes and Plans for Economy

Problems of 1934

Small Settlers Discouraged: The "Company" Development Alternative

The Belgian Congo is going through many of the same stages as re-adjustment, which other Central African Territories have passed.

In 1934 the Administration planned economy with improvement of efficiency. In the same year the Government carried further the policy of increased agricultural production by Africans.

The Congo still faces problems. One of these is the re-assertion of the rights of Leopold Men. Another is the definition of the privileges of the Press. A third is the Administration of Justice by the natives. A fourth problem is the issue of taxation.

Rounding up the "Leopard Men"

"East African Standard" Congo Correspondent

East Africans may be interested in a brief review of conditions in the Belgian Congo during the past year. The general situation in regard to agriculture and finance, and the present economic conditions, is shown very little during 1934. There is a general feeling of depression with a large number of people, after suffering from unemployment, have been compelled to accept a much lower standard of living than in 1933.

New Governor General

There has been several recent changes in the personnel of the Administration during the past year. The present Governor General, M. Tison, is a steady, moderate man, who has been in charge of the Congo since 1931. He is a Frenchman, and has a long experience in the Congo. He is a steady, moderate man, who has been in charge of the Congo since 1931.

AMATEUR BOXING IN EAST AFRICA

Association's Progress in 1934

DATE OF THE 1935 CHAMPIONSHIPS

The year 1934 proved a most successful one for the Amateur Boxing Association of East Africa. Not only was this the case from the financial point of view, but also from the standard of the boxing. A profit was shown on the championship meeting—the first since 1909.

These facts came to light at the annual general meeting of the governing body of the game, the New Stanley Hotel on Monday evening. In the absence of the president, Commander A. Ferguson, the chair was occupied by Mr. J. Larkin, in submitting his annual report for the year the Hon. Secretary, Mr. G. B. Harvey, expressed the Council's regret at the passing of the late Mr. E. F. Mayor. Always an enthusiast of the game, he was one of the originators of the body in Kenya.

Reviewing the past year he said that the championships had not been held for two years owing to lack of entries, but in 1934 the Council had staged a very successful promotion in the Municipal Market. It was also notable as the first occasion on which they had not shown a deficit. They hoped to be able to do this in future. It was also noted in the schools would be encouraged to the fullest extent in the year of holding School championships under the auspices of the A. B. A. of E. A.

Two tournaments had been staged during the year in Nairobi, one against the Navy, which Kenya had more than held its own. A satisfactory financial statement was submitted by the Hon. Treasurer, Mr. S. Ellis, and minutes were adopted unanimously.

The following officers were appointed for 1935: President—Commander A. Ferguson; Vice-President—Mr. J. Larkin; Honorary Treasurer—Mr. S. Ellis; Honorary Secretary—Mr. G. B. Harvey; Hon. Auditors—Messrs. Gill and Johnson.

It was decided that the 1935 championships should be held on the first Saturday in December.

Kenya Colours

The question of Kenya Colours was raised for discussion. It was agreed that boxes representing the Colony against the Navy should wear a distinctive emblem in the ring. It was proposed that the colours in the form of a shield should be awarded to boxes who won a championship of the Colony. Both proposals were given to the Council and it was left to the Council to decide what the colours should be, and how they should be worn.

The question of a school championship was also mooted, and it was proposed that it should be a district or county meeting. Council to go into it.

Frocks for Debutantes Then and Now

Black Till The Vogue In London

IT IS amusing to look back and remember that a girl's coming-out frock need to be the simplest thing in the dressing world. A dainty little bodice, not too show-stopping, was allied to a very plain skirt, a child-like-looking one with butterfly bows was sometimes added, and, as very few maquettes existed to see their young daughters with arms tightly held, little-bow bows were put to cover the shoulders for a few inches. There was tremendous distinction in trimming, and the utmost care was taken that nothing in the least likely to be considered garish was allowed; while for a long time not even the plainest of pastel colours were substituted for white, and any material more elaborate than very soft silk or crepe de chine was regarded as unsuitable. How the Victorian generation would explain in horror if they could see any of the sophisticated frocks which are in vogue for preparation just now for debutantes. It would be according to their standards on being told that the dressmaker of today insists upon seeing a girl and putting her through her paces, before she decides what to be before the world. Their having formed his own opinion about her good points and her faults, what he will do about the long coat, whether her walk, her deportment and her look are such as to inspire him with any notion that she is worthy of a gown, and what a style will be selected for her. The matter is laid in the hands of the dressmaker, and there is no question which will be put to him.

If he is to be in a maid, of course that the delineation of today's girl who will not tolerate twenty years ago are two entirely different people in the matter of education. The dress of the present-day "maid" is an extraordinary affair in its material, trimmings and style and is less whimsical for her. The matter is laid in the hands of the dressmaker, and there is no question which will be put to him. A great many of the dance frocks for girls which are being shown just now are of tulle, the so-called silk stuff that makes such exquisite evening dresses. A white one which is a great favourite is made of a small modelled bodice, a beautiful long skirt with a very ruffled waist and the neck, where the fullness was of smoking, and a little shoulder bertha which fitted tightly and was tied in a bow in front—rather like the little present-day one which is not in vogue. It will be interesting to see what extent women consent to follow the Regency dress to the figures in our own collection. The high waist and the slimness of the skirt are so far, the off-the-shoulder frock and the wide collar, and a little collarage will be needed to accompany these at an ordinary social function.

Lady Brancier Relates Her Experiences

FIRST hand experiences are worth a dozen written revelations. At morning tea in the New Statler Hotel on Friday the 21st, Lady Brancier, who arrived by Imperial Airways from Egypt last week, told us of her experiences by land and sea in a way that made the journey full of interest for the voyager of 25 years, and my first experience of a long plane journey. I was very glad to find the look of the Kenya Highlands after the heat of Khartoum and Juba, and packing flowers in my own garden with a makeshift to keep of the run during the two days' wet weather we had this week, made Nairobi seem very much like home. I was particularly interested during the journey in the tropical vegetation, the forest on the slopes of Mount Kenya, and the beautiful views in Malindi, Suifuku, about 40 miles from Taveta, and the very first of garden. For the journey by plane from Cairo, Lady Brancier had been feeling hot, and she found it less trying than travelling by train. "We had nearly one of the country without realising the least about the height of the coast." I consider that a journey by air is a large and comfortable plane in a good car for instance, "but it is not so comfortable as a train."

Reservation of Kenya Highlands for Europeans

QUESTIONS IN PARLIAMENT ON CARTER REPORT

Secretary of State Explains

DENIAL THAT SECRET INSTRUCTIONS WERE ISSUED TO COMMISSION

The reservation of certain areas in the Highlands of Kenya arising out of the report of the Morris Carter Land Commission, was the subject of a series of questions in the House of Commons recently. The questions arose out of one of the terms of reference regarding the definition of the area.

It was alleged by questioners that the Secretary of State had issued certain secret instructions to the Commission, which were not mentioned in the report nor communicated to the House.

Sir Philip Cunliffe-Lister strenuously denied the allegation and explained that he was simply requested to give a definition of what was meant by the particular term of reference. The definition given by him was that which had been in force for the last 30 years.

Alleged Alteration of Position

London, 23rd. (Special Correspondent.)—The Secretary of State for the Colonies, Mr. H. H. Kitchener, has published a long letter in the "Morning Post" regarding the report of the Morris Carter Land Commission on the Highlands of Kenya.

The sixth term of reference to the Commission was to define the area to be reserved in the Highlands. The Secretary of State explained that the Commission had been asked to define the area in the same way as it had been defined in the past.

A Difficulty

In December, 1921, the Secretary of State informed us that the Commission had reported that the area to be reserved in the Highlands was the same as it had been in the past. The Secretary of State explained that the Commission had been asked to define the area in the same way as it had been defined in the past.

ANIMAL HUSBANDRY IN THE TRANS-ALPINA

There are times when it is not easy to think of a suitable subject for the article which appears each week in the "Agricultural Section" of the "East African Standard".

Mr. Burton then proceeded to deal with a number of matters which were of great importance to the farming community. He pointed out that the Commission had been asked to define the area in the same way as it has been defined in the past. He also mentioned that the Commission had been asked to define the area in the same way as it has been defined in the past.

THE MERIT OF HUBAM CLOVER

A Fodder Crop Rich in Protein

SUITABLE TO VARIED SOIL AND CLIMATIC CONDITIONS.

(By H. S. Ball, Dip. Agric. (Cantab.) A.I.C.T.A. (Trin.) Agricultural Officer, Nyeri.)

Although Hubam Clover (scientific name: Trifolium repens) is a well known and very large sized clover, its value as a fodder crop is not generally appreciated. This clover is a hardy perennial which is well adapted to a wide range of soils and climates. It is particularly valuable as a winter fodder crop, and its high protein content makes it a most desirable feed for stock.

It is found to show in this article that it is only in both those countries mentioned, but that in actual fact the crop is exceedingly useful for the preparation of green manure. The clover is a hardy perennial which is well adapted to a wide range of soils and climates. It is particularly valuable as a winter fodder crop, and its high protein content makes it a most desirable feed for stock.

The Value of Organic Manure

VITAMIN CONTENT OF CROPS ROLE OF LEGUMINOUS CROPS

In the monthly letter of the Imperial Bureau of Soil Science there is a report by H. H. Wood on the Relationship of Organic Matter and Vitamins, delivered by Mr. J. D. Ansted before the Planters' Group of the Royal Entomological Society.

The report of the lecture—and of the ensuing discussion—was prepared by H. H. Wood for the Entomological Department of the Royal Entomological Society. The question of the relative merits of organic and inorganic manures is one which has long interested those who are concerned with crop quality rather than quantity.

Mr. Ansted stated that the value of fertilizers had hitherto been judged in terms of their effect on yield. An inbred manure should, however, promote disease resistance in the plant, and should maintain "quality" in the crop. Quality is judged not only in terms of the nutritive value, expressed not in calories but in terms of the content of vitamins. The lecturer did not deprecate the use of artificial in conjunction with natural, but he claimed that only the latter could ensure a crop of high vitamin content.

As a consequence, it is suggested—although this is assumed to be a matter of opinion—that the use of artificial in conjunction with natural is a mistake. The lecturer did not deprecate the use of artificial in conjunction with natural, but he claimed that only the latter could ensure a crop of high vitamin content.

THE BUTTER MARKET

A Survey of the Past Year

IMPORTS INTO THE UNITED KINGDOM

CONSUMPTION STEADILY INCREASING

(The following survey of the Butter Market during 1934 is taken from "Weekly Dairy Produce Notes" issued by the Imperial Economic Committee.)

The following market report dated February 26th has been received from Messrs. Dalrymple & Co., Ltd.

The market remains quiet and very little business is being done. Prices are practically unchanged since the end of 1934, when they were at a peak of 21/6 per cwt. for No. 2, and 21/0 for No. 1.

The year 1934 was marked by a dry summer in Europe, which led to a shortage of butter in the main exporting countries in the North, while the reduced output of fodder was offset to a considerable extent by milk production in early winter.

The market was again weaker and prices substantially 1/2d. to 1/4d. lower than in 1934. The market was again weaker and prices substantially 1/2d. to 1/4d. lower than in 1934.

PROBLEMS OF PIG FEEDING

Proteins and Minerals Essential

THE DEFICIENCIES OF CEREAL FOODS.

(The following article by Mr. A. H. Blissett of The Duthie Experiment Stock Farm, Aberdeen, appeared in a recent issue of "The Farmer's Weekly," England.)

Feeding trials to simplify itself if we get the correct ration, but the number of experiments concerning this subject which many pig producers are conducting for the ideal ration... Unfortunately, there is no simple method which will satisfy everybody. The prices of foods vary, and it is likely by the producer having some knowledge of the nutritional requirements of the pig and the value of various classes of foods to supply these requirements that he will be able to make the best use of the foods at his disposal.

Other animal protein foods supplying both protein and minerals are meat and bone meal and meat meal. Meat and bone meal may be used to replace the whole of the fish meal, and may be equally efficient. It is, however, not so readily available, and is not so cheap in large quantities as is fish meal. It is a small sample on a few pigs first.

Of the foods supplying protein the only ones of animal origin, but the majority are from vegetable sources. Among the former, the most meat and blood meal and the most commonly used of the latter are soy-bean meal and groundnut meal. With all rations containing these the greatest deficiency is protein. With the addition of a simple mineral supplement consisting of the following ingredients: 1 lb. of sulphur per cwt. of the usual ration is essential.

Blood Meal

Pork manure is a superior source of protein to bone meal and meat meal, therefore, be used in proportion to these. Blood meal is also very rich in protein. It is made by the incineration of the blood of various animals. The protein varies from 7 per cent to the crude origin. One of the best sources of iron is the full use of iron in the ration. The full use of iron in the ration is essential.

The Balanced Ration

Protein, minerals and vitamins are therefore essential parts of the ration of any animal and the correct proportions may be deduced from the above. It does not always make up the deficiency of some of the minerals of which there may have to be supplied sparingly. It is essential to provide the minerals and vitamins from the sources from which they are obtained. The requirements of the pig differ from those of other animals. The pig is particularly sensitive to the lack of iron in the ration. The pig is particularly sensitive to the lack of iron in the ration. The pig is particularly sensitive to the lack of iron in the ration.

Recommended Rations

Recommended rations have been given good results in the majority of cases. It is essential to provide the minerals and vitamins from the sources from which they are obtained. The requirements of the pig differ from those of other animals. The pig is particularly sensitive to the lack of iron in the ration. The Butter Market with a reliable commercial estimate of 175,000 tons in 1935, or a decline of 10 per cent on the 1934 figure. On this basis, consumption in 1936 is estimated at 170,000 tons, against 184,000 tons in 1935.

The Price Level

The increased supplies have been followed by a decline in butter prices which have fallen more than 20 per cent since the beginning of the year. The decline is due to the fact that the market is now flooded with supplies.

East Africa Gold Mining

A LETTER FROM LONDON

Rostrerman

UNABLE TO ESTIMATE ORE RESERVE

The present rainy weather in East Africa is really making it impossible for the local authorities in Tanganyika, and on the east coast areas, to estimate the heavy rains. The heavy rains on the Serengeti Plains and the surrounding areas, Nairobi and Lamoni. It is they dry right through. The heavy rains have been from the Cape to the east coast. The following summary of the prospects and the aspects of the gold mining in East Africa:

1. Acquisition of the Rostrerman System shows covering 250 acres situated three miles north-west of Kahangwa, Kenya Colony, and in addition contains prospecting license over 4,000 acres in his possession.

2. The Rostrerman mine was originally worked by the Rostrerman Mining Syndicate which worked the mine from 1904 to the acquisition of the Rostrerman mine on April 19, 1938. After the acquisition of the mine on April 19, 1938, the Rostrerman Syndicate received £12,000 in cash, as part payment.

3. The criterion of three acres per acre is being followed. The best has been worked, and some 250 acres are being worked. It is expected that gold will be returned, and values will be high. It is estimated that a new hole to several acres will be required. It is estimated that a new hole to several acres will be required. "INEFFECTIVE DEFENCE MEANS NOT ONLY WASTE BUT DEFEAT"

The National Government of Great Britain has decided that the time has arrived when the fighting Services must be modernised and strengthened.

In a White Paper explaining policy attention is drawn to the re-armament of Germany and increased armaments of other countries including Japan, Russia and America.

"World events," says the White Paper which is signed by the Prime Minister, "have shown that we are approaching a point when we do not possess the necessary means to defend ourself against an aggressor."

£4,000,000 More for Army

(London, Feb. 28, 1935)

The Civil and Military Estimates of national expenditure for the coming financial year have been laid and total £480,000,000. This amount exceeds the 1934 estimate by the extraordinary £2,800,000.

A forecast of the Air estimate which is being made next week indicates an increase of four and a half million pounds. The Government anticipates in the 1935-36 financial year an increase in connection with which the Corporation of the City of London today voted £10,000 to be laid to the credit of the Corporation which this Majesties will be present.

Lord Halifax

Can not be postponed 4. "Additional expenditure on armaments for the three Defence Services can no longer safely be postponed" is the concluding sentence of the White Paper issued today by the Prime Minister, Mr. MacDonald, setting forth the National Government's policy in the face of defence and armaments for national reorganisation. "The White Paper has been presented to the House of Commons on March 11 the vote for the Defence Services."

After laying down the principle that the establishment of a permanent body as the principal agent of British foreign policy the White Paper reviews international affairs made in recent years, attacks the "old world order," the statement concludes, "have shown that we are approaching a point when we do not possess the necessary means to defend ourself against an aggressor."

The Navy

Referring to the Navy, the White Paper declares that the cost of Britain's battleships remains in conformity to contemporary nations up to an early date. The Fleet is being re-organised to meet the increased tonnage of the forthcoming Naval Conference, to be held in London in 1936. It is stated that the maximum number of such type of ships scheduled for the year ending March 31, 1936, is 12. new matters requiring particular attention. The Navy is the most difficult to modernise, and the cost of doing so is the most expensive. Mr. Menon Attacks Zanzibar Legislation

GLOVE GROWERS' ASSOCIATION MENACE TO INDIANS

A Favoured Monopoly

REPORT BY REPRESENTATIVE OF THE GOVERNMENT OF INDIA

Mr. K. P. S. Menon, representative of the Government of India, whose report on the recent Zanzibar clove legislation is now available, condemns the proposed Glove Growers' Association as a Government monopoly armed with powers to drive Indians from the trade.

He urges the repeal of the Decree setting up the Association and of another Decree providing for the licensing and control of clove exporters.

Mr. Menon contends that Indians have made no attempt to 'go African' and Arab lands and says their loans to growers total Rs. 8,000,000, security for which is jeopardised.

He maintains that the basis of control of land alienation should be as between 'agriculturists' and 'non-agriculturists' and not, as proposed, on the principle of racial discrimination.

West Bromwich Albion and Burnley both won, the former by the only goal of the match, and the latter by the usual 1 to 0.

Closer Union of Uganda & Tanganyika

URGED BY M.P.S WHO VISITED THE TERRITORIES

The Mandate:

SHOULD BE ALTERED IF ITS TERMS PROVE AN IMPEDIMENT

The desirability of closer union between Uganda and Tanganyika is stressed by the delegation of Members of Parliament who visited the territories a few months ago, in the course of a report to the Empire Parliament Association.

The report adds that if the terms of the Tanganyika Mandate impeded closer union, they might be adapted in such a way as to remove that difficulty.

The delegation were very pleased with their visit to Uganda and formed the impression that it is a happy country

"A Happy Country"

By (M.P.S.)
I understand that the delegation of Members of Parliament who visited Uganda, Tanganyika and Zanzibar last year has returned to the Empire Parliament Association. It has not yet been announced, but presumably it was most interesting and profitable. I understand that it contains some interesting views, among which it is said are the following—

In Uganda, the Delegation found a difficult to explain, but apparently highly appreciative of the work of the administrators and of the future of the native is

A tribute was paid to the Chiefs and their assistants for their ability. They fully recognized the work done for the improvement of the territories by the British administration.

Administration of Justice

The Delegation stress in the opinion that the native problem was not a legal one, but a social one, and that the law should be adapted to the needs of the native population.

The Delegation also stressed the importance of the native courts, and that the law should be adapted to the needs of the native population.

Native Conditions

The Delegation stressed the importance of the native courts, and that the law should be adapted to the needs of the native population.

The first useful thing a politician can do on those days is to speak as little as possible, and if he feels compelled to write, to limit his efforts to his simple book 'The Moral of the Situation.'

KENNEL NOTES

Mrs. Collier, Obit. - To show correspondence in connection with "Blue Bird" should be addressed, I do not hold herself responsible for accuracy of statements or facts which are in the main, based on information supplied to me.

Before commencing on the matter which of my article I again beg my dog-owners to read. My loss was as nearly as possible a pure loss, as the whole was in my hands before the day after. I was out on the kitchen floor for the very first time. Only a day or two after receiving a copy of my article I had been hit by a lightning bolt which was as nearly as possible a pure loss. As soon as possible I started her with food of last winter, dividing the portions in three, putting some into the middle of the dog's head and the rest into a tin. She has recovered.

There are four penicillin bands to leave these regions and self-administering which to use when and how. I had not had any of these. I had only ready for me. I had not had any of these. ### THE CONTROL OF MASTITIS

Practical Measures - Although the only satisfactory method is to avoid mastitis in the first place, it is often difficult to do this. After this has been done both to the cow and to the milk.

THE MENACE OF SOIL EROSION

location, ploughing is frequently done up and down the slope, creating a deep gully. This is a common sight on the hillsides of the East African States. The gully, once formed, tends to be abandoned for miles and miles, and the soil is carried down to the sea.

It is a pity that no serious attempt is made to check the flow. There are three reasons for this. First, the cost of the work is too high. Second, the labor is too scarce. Third, the government has not the means to do so.

The Sols of Kenya - I have endeavored in the preceding paragraphs to give some idea of the soil erosion problem in various parts of the East African States. It is a serious one, and one which is increasing rapidly.

Manure Treatment - The problem of manure treatment in relation to soil fertility is one of the most important in the East African States. It is a problem which is being solved by the use of modern methods.

In Nyandarua various measures have been adopted for the control of soil erosion. These measures include the use of terraces, and the planting of trees.

Maintaining Soil Cover

In Great soils, the maintenance of soil cover is essential. This is because soil cover prevents the soil from being washed away.
