British Claim Big Victory in the South

PLAINS RETREATING AFTER DESPERATE RESISTANCE

Gallant Cavalry Charge

MOWED DOWN BY MACHINE GUN FIRE FROM TANKS

British claim an important victory on the southern front, overcoming desperate resistance and making a substantial advance.

The nature of the action was a charge by Abyssinian cavalry, which returned to the attack although decimated by machine gun fire from tanks.

Some statement on the reported bombing of an ambulance near Dessie declares that it was its own fault if an ambulance suffered as it should not have been stationed among fighting troops.

Africa as New Home for Exiles?

PROPOSED ESTABLISHMENT OF SETTLEMENT COMPANY

Austrian Visitor's Scheme

INTRODUCTION OF PEOPLE DISSATISFIED WITH CONDITIONS IN EUROPE

...ative comment on the European situation, on the position of emigration by European peoples to East Africa, and on the high quality of justice as practiced in British colonies, was by Dr. Emil von Hoffmann, I.L.D., Vice-President of the Austrian branch of the International Law Association, in the course of an interview with a representative of the "East African Standard."

Hoffmann, who is a well-known legal authority in Austria, is on his way to South Africa and left by rail yesterday afternoon for Mombasa. On his way to Kenya he had come via Harar, where he proceeded on a tour of crossing Lake Victoria to Kisumu en route to Nairobi.

He hopes to establish in Central Europe an information organization about East Africa—a body which would distribute data concerning the conditions and possibilities of settlement and investment in the East African territories.

He is also considering the possibility of the establishment of a settlement company in East Africa to facilitate the emigration from Europe to these territories of suitable persons who are dissatisfied with the instability of conditions in Europe and are seeking new spheres for their activity. This is his first visit to East Africa, and he expressed the hope that he would have a more definite view on fixed views regarding the territories.

"These Wonderful Countries"

"I am very delighted with the conditions here, stable and the country does not work with any depression and unemployment and that they are afraid that foreigners may come and they despair that they do not take away the inhabitants from the country as they do in other countries."

"I wish to leave Germany because I think that many people, cultured and economically, who cannot find employment here would be very glad to settle here. They would be glad to see the children and grandchildren of their education and to see the conditions in Germany compared to great many of its most vices. I believe that there is a place for their energies here only Jews, but all other people are welcome."

"I am sure that they cannot give up their homes in Germany, but they are all willing to try their energies and capabilities to do so in whatever way they find, and would be content with comparatively small conditions provided they earned a decent and fair living for themselves. Among them are very many scientists, engineers, artists, and writers, who would be glad to try their hands at any of the things which they had and the things which they have learned."

"I have travelled over almost the whole world and am in a position to state that such a demand for suitable persons normally exists in any British colony. I am sure that the best of our people, who are in a position to do so, will be glad to go to any of our colonies where they can find a better life than they can find in their own countries. I am sure that they will be glad to go to any of our colonies where they can find a better life than they can find in their own countries. I am sure that they will be glad to go to any of our colonies where they can find a better life than they can find in their own countries."

Business in Maize Quiet

The following is the weekly cereal market report, dated Jan. 10, issued by the Kenya Farmers' Association (Co-operative) Ltd.:

Maize

Values show little or no change. Business has been quiet and confined to the Argentine quality. Shippers continue to offer maize freely and at the present rate of exchange there is likely to be a considerable carry-over into the next crop. The crop prospects in the Argentine continue bright. There have been no reports from South Africa although reports of further rains have come to hand. Values of white maize are mostly slightly unchanged. Plate maize at north 10/3 and East African 10/9.

Remarkable Sight in Libyan Desert

DUNES 250 FT. HIGH

STANDARD CORRESPONDENT

London, January 8. (By Air Mail.) Mr. W. B. Kennedy Shaw, three other men and a woman explored the Southern Libyan Desert last January. Telling the Royal Geographical Society of their discoveries, Mr. Kennedy Shaw said that every expedition to the Libyan Desert returned with evidence of human habitation in early times. "A number of their party found a excellent series of rock paintings in some caves or shelters. The paintings, which were painted in red, white and black, and a number of animals, the cattle seemed to be of the great oxen of old kingdom times in Egypt (5,000 to 4,000 B.C.) and their habits showed they were domesticated.

An Ancient Cemetery

One of the most interesting natural features of the southern desert was the discovery of a cemetery of the prehistoric period. It was situated on a hillside overlooking the sea. The graves were of various shapes and sizes, and some of them were found to contain the remains of human beings.

In order to support settlements in the desert it was necessary to grow crops of pasture along the Wadi. Whether these people drew the water from the sea or from the Wadi is not known. It is probable that they were engaged in agriculture, pasturing cattle, and making good pottery with various designs and having their food in a central position.

Changing as the Ocean.

"The great dry sea of sand is not changing as the ocean," said Mr. Kennedy Shaw. "On a day they can be in the desert."

TRAGEDY AT A LONELY FARM

Farmer Shot by an Unknown Intruder

A MYSTERY

STANDARD CORRESPONDENT

London, Jan. 8. (By Air Mail.) William Young, a farmer, of Wickhampton, Dorset, was shot dead by an intruder at the farm early last Saturday morning. The intruder also fired at Mrs. Young but missed her, and then made good his escape. It appears that Mr. Young, an honest nose-down, was out on his way to investigate. As he opened the bedroom door two shots rang out and he fell. He hurried to the top of the hill, and was followed by the intruder to the kitchen when the third shot was fired. The intruder then fled in the night of the house and hid in her night clothes, "wrest half a mile to the post office at Safford" to give the alarm.

Experts Called

Three experts were to see the scene after the report to the Glasgow police. They were Prof. Allison, the pathologist, Inspector Martin, and Mr. Martin took part in the examination of the body. The experts are to examine the body and the scene of the crime. It is believed that the intruder was a stranger to the farm.

BOXING CHAMPIONS DESACRE

Echo of Borg-Stevens Fight. £1,000 OFFERED FOR RETURN CONTY.

Was there ever a championship fight more principal and messengers agreed after the decision of the referee, both against the controversy waged around the contest for the Empire lightweight championship between 'Kid' Borg, the British title-holder, and Luigi Stocco, the South African champion. Stocco outpointed Borg over the twelve rounds. Both men were in very good form, and Stocco was especially capable of landing a real Stocco knock-out.

I thought I had won clearly. It came at a stroke and I was surprised when the referee raised Stocco's hand as the victor. It was a wonderful fight, and I thoroughly enjoyed it.

'Kid' Borg's manager, Mr. Lawrence, expressed the hope that they had had a 'raw deal' as he termed it, but he added: 'I am prepared to back Borg for £1,000, for a return contest. It should be a great fight, and I should like to see it in England.'

Mr. Lawrence had a protest to the British Boxing Board of Control not only against the decision, but also against the procedure of the promoters of a fight appointing the referee.

Ringside Official Agrees. Most of the ringside critics agree with the verdict of the judges, as they are the only ones who saw the fight from the ringside.

The Waindara group, Johannesburg, bought a record crowd for the 'wring-out' of the fight, the prize money being some £8,000 to the victor.

The morning and evening newspaper editors deplore the verdict, stating that it is 'impossible to recall a worse decision.'

GOLF NEWS AND NOTES

Departure of 'Freddie' Knightley. TO-DAY'S 'AT HOME' AT MUTHAIGA.

I have never seen Muthaiga looking better, and playing better, than it did last week-end, on the occasion of the Nairobi District Foreword, which was an exceptional success.

The following tables show the position in the native soccer league up to date. At a meeting of the Football Council it was decided that the Nairobi club captain take part in any further matches in the Police Shield competition, and that all matches played by that team shall be deleted from the league table. This decision was arrived at in consequence of the fulfillment of matches by the Nairobi team.

MUTHAIGA CRICKET XI. Muthaiga will field the following XI against the 'Bells' C.C. on Saturday, at 2.15 p.m.

On Theirs' Matches. On the Saturday there were two matches which were in the nature of 'friendly' competitions and they were between Nairobi 2 and Nairobi 5, and Muthaiga 2 and Muthaiga 5. Nairobi 2, the ultimate winners, did not play.

Today also will be the presentation to Captain 'Jimmy' Clark, who has worked for the many years alongside of all in the past interests of golf in Kenya. The great value that go with this presentation are not solely from the Muthaiga Club, but I assure from all the golfing world of Kenya.

Royal Nairobi's Fine Year. Tomorrow at the Royal Nairobi Golf Club, there will be staged the last match of the present Muthaiga are outstays to the Hill course. On looking over the side-jug, I think the public club will be a better place here.

As Old Friend Departs. No 'Freddie' Knightley departs, and Kenya, and especially Nairobi, will be a poorer place. I see that 'our distinguished' friend, who is a very skilled player, he should have been kept in the side-jug up to I did in those times.

At the meeting of the Football Council it was decided that the Nairobi club captain take part in any further matches in the Police Shield competition, and that all matches played by that team shall be deleted from the league table.

Rain Stops Play in Late Afternoon. Wind Prove a Troublesome Factor.

The second official test match between the M.C.C. and New Zealand opened here today. New Zealand, on their first test, lost two hours' delay (because of play was the rain caused its stoppage, no further play was possible, the batsmen then being 170 for the loss of seven wickets).

King's Illness Causes Widespread Anxiety

QUIETING SIGNS OF CARDIAC WEAKNESS

Heart Specialist Called

CONCERN INCREASED BY SATURDAY'S BULLETINS

Deep concern has been caused in Britain and throughout the British Empire by the news that His Majesty the King is suffering from bronchial catarrh which is accompanied by disquieting signs of cardiac weakness.

His Majesty slept quietly throughout Friday night but it was announced on Saturday morning that there was no change in his condition and that there was still cause for anxiety. Oxygen was administered during the night.

It was stated officially on Saturday evening that there had been no change in the King's condition since the afternoon, when a bulletin was issued stating that His Majesty had had some hours of restless sleep, but that the cardiac weakness and embarrassment of circulation were slightly increased.

Bronchial Catarrh

It is understood in Court circles that the King's illness is not only the result of a sudden cold, but that he is suffering from bronchial catarrh. Signs of cardiac weakness have appeared which must be regarded with some concern.

A FEW DAYS AFTER CELEBRATING HIS 70th BIRTHDAY

World Famous Writer

JOURNALIST WHO ROSE TO FRONT LITERARY RANK

Mr. Kipling shortly after his seventieth birthday suddenly became ill and on Monday underwent an operation for a perforated gastric ulcer. His condition was critical but gave ground for some hope.

On Friday morning, he sank into a coma and died at 12-36 on a Saturday morning. His wife and daughter were at his bedside.

He remains will be cremated. The time and place of the cremation will be announced later.

Flying Very Low

"Shortly after the plane had started on its return journey it returned towards the Kilimanjaro place, possibly because the pilot anticipated having to make a forced landing... There is a conflict of evidence as to whether there were signs of engine trouble before the machine began to make steep turns...

The Finding

The following is the Magistrate's finding: "I find that the death of Flying Officer Bryant was clearly due to injuries received when the plane in which they were flying crashed on December 29... The plane was taken up by Flying Officer Francis, with Corporal Bryant as passenger, about 2.45 p.m. from Nairobi...

Strapped In

"The pilot and passenger were both strapped in and it must have been impossible for them to think of jumping out and using their parachutes in the circumstances, owing to the low height of the machine when they realised that a crash or a forced land was inevitable... I should like to express my sympathy with the relatives of the deceased... Mr. D. (Hans), should describe to the jury the letter from the Indian Merchants' Chamber...

Union of Churches in East Africa

EFFECTIVE WORK BEING DONE BY COMMITTEE

Busy with Scheme

BASED ON MAIN LINES OF THAT ADOPTED IN SOUTHERN INDIA

Quietly but it is believed, effectively work is continuing with a view to bringing about Church-Union in East Africa.

For over three years a Continuation Committee representative of the three participating Churches has been considering the practical problem of union and since July, 1933 when the Committee issued a Draft Basis of Union thought has been directed to the manner of its implementing.

Problems and Prospects

(From a correspondent)

Their character from Union negotiations. The initial members of various Churches among their members and their respective representatives as Churches. They are in effect building new Churches in various parts of the Colony. The Draft Basis of Union has not been considered officially by any Church Council here as it was felt that they should have the Scheme before them in an actual form. At the same time the Basis contains the essentials on which Union may be negotiated and is worthy of further discussion.

Main Lines of Union

The main lines of the Union follow the non-denominational, the Methodist, the Wesleyan and the Methodist Churches. One of the difficulties in the way of a comprehensive Union is that the various inter-denominational missionary societies are precluded by their charters from joining the Union.

agreed on the statement of the Faith contained in the Bible and the Apostles and Nicene Creeds. They all accept the two Sacraments of Baptism and Holy Communion. They wish to recognize the historic episcopate as a condition of the unification of the ministry in the United Church and to make episcopal ordination the sole of the Church while admitting all members of the existing Churches as ministers of the United Church after a period of thirty years after the dissolution of the United Church.

Membership
From the laymen's point of view the Scheme was probably those viewed with scepticism to membership and to communion. From the inception of the Union all members of the existing Churches will be accepted as members of the Church and will be able to receive communion by an appropriate form of the United Church. All ministers of the existing Churches will be able to preach and to administer the Sacrament in any church where they are invited to do so.

Practical Steps
Much might be said of the practical steps which the Church in Kenya have taken in the past few years to improve and foster the spirit of the proposed Scheme. There have been joint services and musicals, exchange of people has been frequent. United Services have been held at the one of 13, when he made his first public appearance, his point was that of a whole and brotherly unity. This was in a Letter to the Hon. Mr. Justice Hagan at 4 years ago.

SOTIK TO HAVE A HARD ROAD

Lumwa, and with such high charges, and depressed markets, farmers cannot afford to grow other crops. With a good all-weather road this rate will be more than halved, and farming will go ahead in what is one of the most fertile districts in Kenya. There will also be a consequent rise in land values.

Colonel Griffiths of the K.F.A. visited the district in September and promised that he would do his best to help market the produce, and we shall look forward to the time when the K.F.A. has a store and depots in the district.

The Township problem is still unsettled. The difficulty in Sotik has been to find a site that was both suitable and central. The district consists of a long line of farms, one deep, another in a buffer-stripe between the Lumwa, Kisii, and Masai tribes.

Both the Government and the settlers, backed by the Carter Commission, favour a township which is in the Lumwa Reserve, at the most central site, at the Post Office and the Police Station are already there, but in spite of offering Sotik Post and an acreage of the Chepalunga Forest in exchange for 640 acres at Chomolai, the Lumwa Native Council persist in refusing. This means of mind is difficult to understand, for it is obvious that a Township at Chomolai would be to their advantage.

Mr. Wolfe and Mr. Macdonald are at present in the district, and took the opportunity to meet some of the Sotik farmers at the Club on Thursday January 10. Mr. Macdonald gave a resume of the work done at the Government experimental plots. In regard to the control of C.B.D. nothing definite has yet been evolved, though the Servant method of Bordeaux Mixture spraying has to a certain extent shown beneficial results. The Department is concentrating on the production of a resistant type of coffee, but it will be years before definite results can be hoped for.

Mr. W. G. Dawson showed some hand pumps used for the new dusting method of Anthonia control which he has evaluated. These he has ingeniously converted from the ordinary Phipps type. Coffee growers over the Colony should be very grateful to Mr. Dawson, for his discovery will mean that the cost of controlling Anthonia will be more than halved.

LADIES' ANNUAL TROPHY AT MUTHAIGA

19th Mrs. Suffield Wins on the 19th CALEDONIAN SOCIETY'S COMPETITION

For the second year in succession Mrs. Suffield has won the ladies' annual trophy at Muthaiga Golf Club. In the final on Sunday she met Miss Gilbert, who took the 19th after a very keen match.

The golf was very good throughout the afternoon. Both were out in 60 and home in 108. Miss Gilbert had a lead of one on the 19th, but it had lengthened to two at the 19th, and this Miss Gilbert maintained until the 19th, which she lost. The 17th also went to Mrs. Suffield to make them all square. At the last hole Mrs. Suffield had a putt of about two feet for the hole and she missed, but missed it, and they had to go to the 19th, which Mrs. Suffield won in 4.

Kenya Golfing Society at KERicho. The Kenya Golfing Society visited Kericho over the week-end and were well looked after by M. P. Horn, who visited with Mrs. Suffield to make them all square. At the last hole Mrs. Suffield had a putt of about two feet for the hole and she missed, but missed it, and they had to go to the 19th, which Mrs. Suffield won in 4.

Review by "The Times":
"While Man's Country" is an interesting and remarkable book. It has a really no subject, as the author, Lord Delamere and the Making of Kenya," explains. In part it is the biography of an exceptional man, in part it is the story of the gallant and cheerful British settler. Mr. Huxley was right to combine the two, since they were for more than thirty years so closely interwoven that to write about the one would be almost to write about the other. We have waited a long time for a book of this sort.

THE LEAGUE'S WAR ON INSECTS

Manoeuvre of the Mosquito and Tsetse Fly

WORK IN AFRICA

British doctors from all parts of Empire have been meeting at the Hotel de Bygone and Tropical Medicine in London to discuss the League's work in Africa. They have the full approval of the League's Health Section, which played a leading part in arranging the conference, and has sent its own representative to follow the discussion, with an article issued by the Press Department of the League of Nations.

Though millions of mosquitoes may result from the national campaign of the League of Nations, which is being planned, an order on the part of public opinion is anticipated. For the tsetse fly will be a pest which is rightly regarded by the medical profession as a menace of mankind. For years, however, the League of Nations has been ordered by experts regarding the way in which the League's work and spreads disease. Public health authorities have carried people to keep all covered. That the main problem is with the tsetse fly, which has great health that the fly population must be reduced by drastic means.

Those who have followed the previous activities of the League of Nations will not be surprised at this latest development. In the past, other insects have been put on the League's "black list."

Malaria Campaign

There is a campaign, the mosquito, Lord Delamere, in the one of his amazing satirical plays, depicts the mosquito with the words "the friend of man." At least in the play the mosquito is portrayed as a creature that is good for man who provides him with such excellent breakfast. In the case of the tsetse fly, must be to all on one side. If it were not for the tsetse fly, the tsetse fly would be a pest which is rightly regarded by the medical profession as a menace of mankind. ASTON VILLA RE-ENTER TRANSFER MARKET. Two Internationals Bought. INTERESTING FIGURES IN CHAMPIONSHIP FIGHT.

While all interests and purposes of championship rest in the hands of Sunderland, the same cannot be said of the relegation fight. Five points separate the bottom ten teams, although Villa are the worst situated of the lot. In the closing weeks of last year the Villa spent nearly £300,000 on buying new players. Now they have maintained the transfer market as buyers, and their latest purchases are English, international inside right, and Phillips, Walsby-into international outside right.

There is no parallel to this outlay although during Walter E. Woolf's Arsenal spent about £200,000 for the Dutch international, the manager Huddersfield, when, like the Villa, they were threatened with relegation to the Second Division bought new men at a cost of about £100,000. If, they have to go down into the Third, they are leaving no stone unturned which will bring them into "safety street".

The position at the head of the First Division is a matter of some respect. Only two teams have scored full or nine runs in the County and only two have scored more than the Villa, first established at the bottom of the table. On the other hand only four sides have conceded less goals than Huddersfield. Villa have conceded more than Derby, but Derby's defence does not stop up so well as Derby, Arsenal, Liverpool, or Leeds United, all of whom have fewer goals in the against column than the Rover side.

The position at the head of the Second Division is somewhat clear as in the senior ranks. In the lower end of the table, there are five teams in the running, with four others close on the heels of the five existing for that fatal slip which will bring them down to the second grade. In the bottom, there will be a big improvement if they are to be given relegation. The number of a one game out of their last six encounters, an uninspiring record.

In both sections of the Third Division the position at the head of the table is very interesting. Reading have taken rights back since the Christmas time, and from top they have crept to fifth. Luton and Queens' share the leadership in the southern section, with Queens' Park Rangers sitting close at hand to take advantage of any slip on the part of either. Chesterfield and Portsmouth Rangers are running neck and neck on the northern section, but the Rovers have a game in hand. In the north, Albion have fallen on poor times, as of their last seven games they have won one, lost one and drawn five. They have a lead of one point from Celtic, and two from Rangers, but the Glasgow pair have each a couple of matches in hand. Next in the table are three sides, one eight out of the running.

Table with columns for League, Division, Club, Goals For, Goals Against, Points. Includes sections for Southern League (Division II) and Northern League (Division II).

GYMHANA'S NARROW WIN AT MACHAKOS. Fine Opening Stand at Service Ground. BY CHALMERS AND DAVIDSON.

Gymhana journeyed to Machakos on Sunday when they had a keen and close match against the local club. The visitors won by 19 runs. N. T. Ryan (Trent) (Gymhana) was the outstanding batsman of the day. The former was the scorer for the side, while Wolf headed the Machakos side. Wolf headed with 100 and was the only player having scored 78 out of 117. Ryan was at the wicket throughout over 100 runs were scored.

DEATH OF HIS MAJESTY THE KING

Peaceful Midnight End of a Beloved Monarch

PRINCE'S TRAINING FOR GREAT RESPONSIBILITIES

EMPIRE'S AMBASSADOR

Recollections of Two Tours in East Africa

THE QUEEN'S GRIEF

Great Public Demonstrations of Sorrow

HIS MAJESTY KING GEORGE V. DIED AT SANDRINGHAM AT 11:55 G.M.T. ON MONDAY NIGHT.

The official bulletin announcing the end was as follows:—
"The death of His Majesty the King came peacefully at 11:55 in the presence of the Queen, the Prince of Wales, the Duke of York, the Princess Royal and the Duke and Duchess of Kent."

The bulletin was signed by Sir F. Wilson, Sir S. Bennett and Lord Dawson of Penn.

Earlier messages of increasing gravity despatched by Reuters from London traced the sequence of events up to the death of the King.

An urgent bulletin issued at 8:30 on Monday evening stated that the condition of His Majesty showed diminishing strength.

All hope was abandoned when the following bulletin, signed by the three doctors, was issued at 9:25:—

"The King's life is moving peacefully towards its close."

The touching scenes which were witnessed towards the end and after the announcement of the King's death are described below. The Queen broke down at the bedside of the dead monarch.

It was now disclosed that the late King had a seizure ten days ago.

Worldwide Tributes

News of the King's decease was followed by the 1,200 bulletins, but a slight lull was still maintained by the public that the King might still regain the ground lost as when was regarded as a critical stage.

At that juncture it was estimated that the Queen would not survive for a short period, and the Queen's death was expected to follow within a few days.

Wiping Woe

The news was telegraphed to the Empire and also to members of the Royal Family including Queen Mary of Norway.

A SAD YIELD

Touching scenes were witnessed at the Jubilee Hall at Sandringham when the late King's body was laid out in state. The Queen's Special Correspondent.

was the whistling of the wind off the trees, and the howling of the village wind-whirl. Only a few dazed eyes were seen in the distance. Yet most seemed glad that the end was so quiet. The King himself would not desire anything better than to die as he died.

The Queen's death was expected to follow within a few days. The Queen's death was expected to follow within a few days.

After leaving for a period at D.A.M.G. he enjoyed brief leave at home during which he took his first lesson in the study of the law, and then served for a short time in the field with the Egyptian Expeditionary Force on the banks of the Nile.

By Italy

In 1911 he went to the Italian front where his popularity among the Italian troops was no less than that in France.

Speaking of the training, Lord Hailey in 1919 after his experience was, over the Prince said: "The period of my training was in those four years I spent with him. When I think of the great and heavy responsibilities which that may fall to my lot I feel that the experience gained will be of the greatest value to me."

The Prince always declared that on the field of battle he had found his greatest teacher.

Momentous Period in British History

PROBLEMS AND PROGRESS IN A QUARTER CENTURY

The King's Personality

GEORGE V'S UNSWERVING DEVOTION TO SERVICE OF HIS PEOPLE

The death of the King has ended one of the most important reigns in British history.

In the following sketch an attempt has been made to give the highlights in the King's life as ruler of a great Empire, and to indicate something of the heavy task which George V was called upon to discharge.

Scrupulous Regard for Constitution

His Most Excellent Majesty George the Fifth, by the Grace of Great Britain, Ireland and of the British Dominions Beyond the Seas, King, Defender of the Faith, Emperor of India, was born at Marlborough House, London, on June 3, 1863, the second son of King Edward VII and Queen Alexandra.

The Accession

The Duke was created Prince of Wales in November 1901.

The Delhi Durbar

In December of the same year, Their Majesty visited India and other parts of the most magnificent empire ever known to modern times.

The Naval Career

"It was at the close of this long and illustrious career, when Prince George assumed the rank of First Sea Lord, that he was appointed to the command of the British fleet in the Mediterranean."

The Family

Their Majesty's first child, the Prince of Wales, was born on June 20, 1901, the Duke of York on December 14, 1902, Prince Mary, the Princess Royal, on April 15, 1907, the Duke of Gloucester on March 15, 1905, Prince George on December 20, 1902, and Prince John on July 12, 1905.

Personal Characteristics

His Majesty had sympathy for his subjects during the most trying years of his reign, from 1914 to 1918, when he was one of the hardest workers in the Empire and his his personal interest did what was humanly possible to alleviate the distress of his subjects.

The Domestic Circle

It was no easy task to follow in the footsteps of a great and a great Emperor but during his reign King George never lost sight of the duties of his office towards the Empire and the People.

affairs, fostered progress by his habit of frequently holding on the Continent where he gave his certain, unhesitating assistance on policy.

He realized the need for gradualism in imperial affairs and in 1910 his "Wells of England" speech which has become historic, conveyed to the minds of the British people something of the progress which was being made in their overseas possessions and more important, that a period was approaching when imperial development would place new responsibilities upon the nation in the direction of solving the difficult problems presented by the rapidly growing emigration beyond the shores of the old country.

During his reign the definition of the British Empire as a Commonwealth of politically free nations was accomplished while Britain herself developed more fully than ever possible, a quarter of a century ago the following of the

The King brought to the attention of his family life a strong tendency for domesticity and simplicity of taste to which he added an almost stoical nature and a great deal of real humanity.

As a Sportsman

The devotion of the Royal parents to each other which began with their early marriage continued during their life together. When His Majesty was borne from the year 1919 towards the end of 1919, suffering from injuries as a result of his having been thrown from his horse when it took fright at a great review of troops.

The King retired particularly heartily and completely into the life of his people on the field of review of troops. His Majesty was his constant attendant and her devotion was manifested during the King's serious illness some years ago.

A Divided Reign

His Majesty was in Toronto at a period of great difficulty following the death of King Edward VII. When he was marked by unbroken loyalty and completely into the life of his people on the field of review of troops.

democratic principle on which the public life of the nation is founded is to-day an example to a broad world.

The House of Windsor

One of the most striking constitutional changes was the Proclamation during the war of the Royal House of Windsor which severed connections between the British Throne and its continental antecedents.

Another change of importance occurred in 1917. A few months before the outbreak of war Parliament passed the House Bill. Although it was not until some years later when the nation had been freed from the world-wide struggle that the Prince was finally established with Ulster as one of the United Kingdom.

The following announcement was made in a special issue of the "Globe" (New York):

His Majesty expired at Sandringham House shortly before midnight yesterday, to the great affliction of the Royal Family and of all classes of Her Majesty's subjects.

Nairobi Grief-stricken by the Loss of the King

CESSATION OF BUSINESS AND OTHER ACTIVITIES

Special Services LOWERED FLAGS AND DRAPED SHOP WINDOWS

The news of the death of the King occasioned in Nairobi yesterday a profound sense of grief which found expression in the cessation of business and other activities and in a general atmosphere of sorrow and shock which was apparent everywhere in the town.

"Profound Sorrow"

Nairobi received the news of the death of His Majesty the King yesterday morning with a profound sense of grief at the passing of a monarch beloved by all his people throughout the whole of the British Empire and held in the highest possible esteem in all parts of the world. All flags were flown at half mast.

Although it had been generally felt since the news of his illness, however, serious on Saturday afternoon, the death of His Majesty's choice of a successor was remote, the shock of the sudden passing of the ruler right left Nairobi aghast.

Shops Closed

Many shop windows were draped to black, or contained garlands of His Majesty and Union Jacks, and women's fashions shied at display frocks suitable for mourning wear.

In consequence of this business concerns of the town were closed in the afternoon.

Kenya's Sorrow

The following announcement was made in a special issue of the "Globe" (New York): His Majesty expired at Sandringham House shortly before midnight yesterday, to the great affliction of the Royal Family and of all classes of Her Majesty's subjects.

Secretary to all Provincial Commissions in Kenya advised them officially of the death of the King, instructing them that flags should be flown at half mast daily until after the date of the funeral. Official arrangements were made yesterday for the closing of schools and Government offices required over the whole of the Dominion, men having had no instructions to the contrary. The King's death was announced to his people by the principals of the various schools.

Special Services

Special services of Holy Communion will be held at the Cathedral of the Highlands every morning at 7.30 by the minister of the week, and at 8.30 p.m. to-day there will be a short service of intercession. At all other services prayer for the new King, King George VI, will be said.

Condolence Condolences

The local Consul-General, headed by the doctor of the corps, Senior Honorary Corps of the Royal Army Medical Corps, and the Honorary Consul (General of Postgraduate), paid an official call at Government House yesterday.

Momentous Period in British History

Empire received important additions during the war and was tested and improved in many ways.

The greatest of these courses was the war and the defence of the Empire which have been revolutionised in recent years in the war attempts to give an example of means of creating a new Empire.

Since 1914 the highest peak of efficiency in its long history. Since then the Empire has been re-born in a new beginning of the re-establishment and modernisation of Britain's Empire.

The Empire and modernisation of the first development of Dominion units of the Empire. In the same period attention was given to the requirements of the Army and the Navy and the Empire was placed such an important part during the war years came into being shortly after His Majesty assumed the Throne.

The Irish question since the promulgation since, however, after the War when self government was granted to Ulster and King and Queen visited Northern Ireland to open the first Parliament in that Kingdom which was the first in the South, but the interest was not confined to an appeal was made to him at the time to see the Dominion, Ministry longer added to Britain God, and though His Majesty's Imperialism was not to interfere with promises of the King, he made no secret of his desire to see that the Dominion of Ireland. He saved all Ireland to make effective and to "forgive and forget" and it is credited to his initiative that a movement was set on foot which ended in the Irish Treaty.

Rossian Development

It is not surprising that the Russian Revolution has been the leading factor in the development of Great Britain's Empire since the war. This was the result of the Russian Revolution and the Russian Revolution has been the leading factor in the development of Great Britain's Empire since the war.

British Willingness

It is not surprising that the Russian Revolution has been the leading factor in the development of Great Britain's Empire since the war. This was the result of the Russian Revolution and the Russian Revolution has been the leading factor in the development of Great Britain's Empire since the war.

Great Britain and the Empire

Great Britain and the Empire as a whole will stand better than any other nation in the world the shock of these violent experiences and His Majesty who was always well above of these world wide events appear no effect by example to lead his people in his position or to provide their welfare in times of difficulty when so many suffered from long periods of unemployment. It is worth recalling that when His Majesty came to the Throne in January, 1910, when the figures were so dark and gloomy, the Empire was despairing of success in developing economic relations with the Empire as a family peace. Canada indeed was prepared to be prepared to make a break with the British Empire in favour of closer relations with the United States, but even of patriotic sentiment arose across the country at the time, and as a consequence, there grew throughout the British Empire the recognition of the value of a common imperial economic policy which made Britain and the Empire as a whole a unit when we look back.

The Irish Question

The Parliament was convened with perhaps the greatest constitutional crisis in the reign of King George V.—the Irish question. The question was in many quarters that it was a preliminary to the major part of an Irish Home Bill and that the Irish Nationalist had been an influence behind the Parliament Bill controversy. The story actually began at a declaration in regard to the Virgin Mary and it was believed to be "disgrace to Roman Catholics as it described these beliefs as superstitions and idolatry. This story was taken on the King's suggestion because he was mindful of his serenity over the trial and he had proclaimed, on that to that distressed country that he was not to be sympathetically for Ireland and its people.

Messages to His People

The King's message also saw the remarkable development of the Empire which he had inherited as the life of nations and the progress of aviation on a revolutionary influence in human relations. The King's message was a full use of wireless to convey his annual messages of friendly encouragement to his people and so the body who heard them will forgive his Christian prayer in his prayer to his very dear people "on the occasion of the Jubilee, May, 1910 will always stand out in the history of the British Empire for its impressive manifestation in providing the remarkable success of the Empire which he had inherited by King George V. at a time when the whole of the rest of the world was in a state of political strife. Nothing more untimely the millions that were the world to rise in its own strength to demonstrate how self-reliance and confidence in which the Throne rested. It is not only a part of history but a part of the history of the Empire.

The King's Personality

The King's personality has been the leading factor in the development of Great Britain's Empire since the war. This was the result of the King's personality and the King's personality has been the leading factor in the development of Great Britain's Empire since the war.

THE INTEGRITY OF THE EMPIRE

Increasing Tendencies to Disintegration

APPEAL TO PATRIOTISM
[F. STANLEY] (Continued from p. 4)
London, Jan. 19.
(By Air Mail.)
To view of the situation in the Empire, one must look to the future of the Empire, not to the past. The future of the Empire is in the hands of the young men of the Empire, and it is their duty to see that the Empire is not disintegrated.

We note with little concern the increasing tendency towards Imperial disintegration towards the end of the century. The young men of the Empire are not patriotic enough to see that the Empire is not disintegrated. They are not patriotic enough to see that the Empire is not disintegrated. They are not patriotic enough to see that the Empire is not disintegrated.

It would not be fair to say that the young men of the Empire are not patriotic. They are not patriotic enough to see that the Empire is not disintegrated. OSTERS MILLIONS OF YEARS OLD

Found Below City of London

Last Remains of Bohemians

Two hundred Years Ago

Two hundred years ago the City of London had a million-year-old layer of oysters...

They are giant, live-long, and are certainly millions of years old.

Their discovery is mentioned by Mr. P. S. Saxe, a London engineer...

After crawling into the net the oysters were found to be in the bearing of artesian wells below the East End...

The motor-car also suffered considerable damage and the four occupants were injured.
