WORLD SHOCKED BY THE DEATH TO THE KING

General Thankfulness at His Escape

ARRESTED MAN SAYS HE WANTED TO MAKE A PROTEST

The Loaded Revolver

TERRIBLE TRAGEDY AVERTED BY A WOMAN'S PROMPTITUDE

The whole world has been shocked by what is regarded as an attempt on the life of King Edward following His Majesty's presentation of Colours to the Brigade of Guards on Thursday and messages from all parts have been received expressing thankfulness at the King's escape.

The man arrested in connection with the affair is described as an Irishman who has lived many years in Glasgow.

At the Police Court, a solicitor on behalf of the accused said the latter had not had any intention of assassinating the King and the accused man himself had previously declared that what he had done was as a protest.

It is believed that the prompt action of a woman in the crowd averted what might have been a terrible tragedy.

The King himself appears to have been little distressed by the incident. Apart from weeping normally at the commotion he continued his usual programme of business and played golf later in the day.

He was George Adams, who, according to the witness, was in the crowd when the King was shot. Adams, who was in the crowd when the King was shot, was in the crowd when the King was shot. Adams, who was in the crowd when the King was shot, was in the crowd when the King was shot.

The monthly general meeting of the Uganda Chamber of Commerce and P.M.C. was held last Thursday, Mr. H. B. Fraser, President being in the Chair. The report of the joint sub-committee of the Uganda and Eastern Province Chambers appointed to investigate ways and means whereby the two bodies could cooperate more closely was considered and it was agreed to distribute copies among all members for discussion at the next monthly meeting.

As regards passenger facilities on the Bulimba-Mandi Section of the Railway the District Traffic Superintendent wrote that at the time of completion of construction the position was somewhat exceptional owing to the very large increase in the numbers of passengers transported in May. However the service was now normal and had been very appreciably strengthened; further vehicles should be in service before the end of the year.

The question of the revision of rates on motor cars, to which the Chamber has often referred, was being dropped by the Railway for the time being.

The Chairman summarized the views which the Committee had had from the Hon. the Postmaster General, Mr. G. B. Heblon. The Chairman said that Mr. Heblon had only been in East Africa for a very short time and he did not make definite statements about the interest of office matters but the report had been an extremely pleasant and satisfactory one.

New Telephone System

Regarding telephones, the P.M.C. had agreed that the system was in a satisfactory state and that the switchboard was old and had served its life. A new and more up-to-date system should be installed. He was not certain yet whether the automatic system would be the most desirable but thought that consideration should

Effect Last Year of War

SETTLEMENT PROBLEMS

Report of E. A. London
Office Rail Section

In his annual report for the week last year the Kenya and Uganda Railways and Harbours Commission of H. M. Eastern African Dependencies, Trade and Information Office in London, Mr. W. McHardy, who is in charge of the section, states that generally the work during the year was not marked by any special feature.

While the number of visitors from East Africa showed some falling off, there was nothing to indicate any lessening of interest in the territories—interest which he felt would double itself in the next few months when general conditions returned to greater stability. In this connection he records that the year was a disappointing one for world travel.

Fewer Trips Abroad

"The disturbed political and economic conditions of the world have continued to have a restricting effect both on the leisure and business of those who in normal times would go on extensive trips abroad."

He states "The war between Italy and Abyssinia which broke out in the time when winter leaves in East Africa should have been beginning had a very definite tendency to make prospective travellers, and a number who had made preliminary arrangements, delayed later than they had hoped."

"Fear of trouble in the Mediterranean and in Asia, based on the exaggerated reports of danger in the area of hostilities, that there was any likelihood of repercussions among the native tribes seems to have been the main factor in causing an impression of danger which was difficult to dispel."

"The above conditions affected travel generally to the Middle East, Egypt, and the East, and the general falling off in overseas traffic, which cannot be expected to recover until more settled conditions return. Slightly more confidence returned, evident towards the end of the year, and an improvement in the number of travel enquiries was noticeable in December."

Hunting Safaris

"The same remarks apply to big game hunting, for which there have been very few enquiries. While interest in sports and photography will naturally be present in the minds of practically all visitors to East Africa,

He agreed that postage rates were high but the adjustment of these was entirely a matter for the Government concerned. He also stated that the charge of 1/30 for a telegram to Tanganyika was an unusually low rate for that country. As regards Central Post Office and the cement complaint of Messrs. Heblon, he said that the P.M.C. had agreed to a remodelling of this office which would make it more convenient for the post office staff.

Although the Committee was not favourably impressed with the interview and felt that at least, something would be done to meet the grievances that had been put forward by the Chamber time and time again without any result.

A member raised the question of the similarity between the 11-station and the 12-station system which causes confusion especially with tourists, and it was agreed to look into the question of this to the P. M. C. in view of the impending King Edward VIII issue.

For COLDS of All the Family

this modern external treatment is best

Mothers prefer Vicks VapoRub for children's colds, because it avoids the constant "dozing" so disturbing to delicate little stomachs.

Other members of the family, too, prefer Vicks for their own colds, because it is so convenient, and so quick in bringing relief. You just rub it on the throat and chest.

This method of treating colds originated with Vicks. Today, the whole trend of modern medical practice is away from needless "dozing."

TRIBUTE TO ADMIRABLE WORK OF EUROPEAN SETTLERS

The debate on the Colonial Office vote of £112,430 was initiated in the House of Commons on July 9 by Mr. J. E. S. B. R. ...

The House of Commons and the Colonial Office, he said, looked to the Secretary of State for the Colonies, Mr. Ormsby-Gore, to propose and constructive policy to the Colonial Office.

The Mandates Question

"Who would be the effect of the Mandate Commission?" Mr. Ormsby-Gore asked. He said that it would be his object to see that the Commission should be a body of European and African members.

Native Land Claims

Another important matter raised in the progress of the debate was the question of native land claims. Mr. Ormsby-Gore said that the Government was anxious to see that the Commission should be a body of European and African members.

Dual Policy

Lord Francis Boscawen, to whom the debate was transferred, said that the Government was anxious to see that the Commission should be a body of European and African members.

The Matinee will now be held in the Theatre at 2 o'clock and the charges will be children 5s. 6d. and adults 10s. 6d.

Problem of British Attitude

What should be said to them? The following interesting letter appears in "The Times":

The position in Western Africa is more and more difficult. It is not a question of the British attitude towards the natives, but of the attitude towards the rebels.

An Honest Reply

The honest reply would seem to be as follows:

Mr. Robinson's speech on the 11th of July is a very good one. It is a pity that it was not more widely known.

Government's Intention

Mr. Robinson asked if it was the intention of Government to build a hospital at Thika.

Defence of Kenya

THE NEW SCHEME

To the Editor, "E.A. Standard," Sir—The scheme of defence put forward by a Committee of which I myself may be reckoned a member is it possible?

Of the fundamental principle stated in your leader to-day the first of a personal responsibility to every citizen to the defence of the strategic position of Kenya as it has been defined in the present scheme, places a clear responsibility upon the European community to organise its own defence against possible aggression.

In the first place does the phrase "moral duties" refer to the obligation of citizenship of the lands of the British Empire, or to the moral duties of the "moral agents" who are sent to "supervise" the natives? This is a question which is not clearly defined in the Imperial Charter.

Take now the question of organisation. The Committee desires to apply that to the great bulk of the male European community. Who is to be responsible for the first impact of aggression. Is there some power constituted to carry the Empire Government under the leadership of the British Empire, or is it to be the responsibility of the individual European male? Surely the responsibility of the European male power is the primary factor in the situation.

It is possible to regard the proposal of the Committee as an extension of the defence of the physical territory of the British Empire, and against the overwhelming aggression which it anticipates and to which it is not prepared to meet. It is not clear to my satisfaction that the proposal should be increased to the extent of including the "moral" duties of the European male power in the taking of another step which permit us to launch that in these days of modern warfare, the universal and permanent peace that we are seeking, the idea of a "moral" step, to be included into our scheme.

Progress with Munitions
RECRUITING FOR TERRITORIAL FORCE COULD BE BETTER

In the course of a debate on defence in the House of Commons on Monday evening Sir Thomas Inskip described the development of the Air Force as simply amazing and said that machines were being produced more for regular service which a few years ago would have been taken competitors for the Schneider Cup.

The Chancellor and Germany

(Special and British Official Wireless Press)

The Minister for the Colonies, Sir Thomas Inskip, said in the House of Commons that the Government's policy towards Germany was to encourage the progress of disarmament.

Regarding munitions supplies, the Minister said that the Government had no intention of making any concession in the production of munitions.

The Minister announced that the Government had decided to transfer the Royal Ordnance Factory from Woolwich to various places throughout the Kingdom.

Turning to the Air Force, the Minister said it was a new and unknown factor in a future war.

In just the same way, it is not only the engine of the Plymouth that has brought it to the front of the front rank in such a short space of time and when faced with well-entrenched competitors. ATTITUDE OF CATHOLIC CHURCH

To the Editor of "E.A. Standard," Sir.—From enclosed copy of letter to Chairman of British Mandates Commission, The Rt. Hon. Sir G. Salomon, you will see that a grave mistake has been made by someone in this office in placing the copy of the letter on the Mandates Commission.

The Memorandum of this Commission was sent to you apparently for publication and this alleged opinion of the Catholic Mission was shown up in a most disgraceful manner.

The Memorandum is entirely correct and its publication is almost sure to do great damage in providing professional indication in this country and possibly elsewhere.

JOSEPH BYRNE, C.S.P. Your Ablest of Kilmarnock, July 21, 1930.

speak for thousands of thousands of Natives residing in the Mission. Thus, Missionary for the Mandates, including the various Missions are continuously reported to any consideration of the transfer of the Mandates and the meeting of German consuls which they visit with honor.

At a recent meeting of the Rt. Hon. Sir G. Salomon at which Dr. Boshoff and Head of Mission were present, resolution was passed unanimously in this effect and serious representations have been made to the Mandates Commission.

The political nature and importance of this Commission, of their Memorandum and of this article are visible to everybody.

The aim which the Memorandum exclusively seeks here and in Europe, is obvious. It is not to produce anything but to spread the actual, the thought or the intention of the writers of it.

Most of the persons under the Catholic Mission's strictly confidential mission to each other, and to inform the Commission of the fact that the intention given in the Memorandum is not the intention of the Bishops in the Meeting of the Bishops in Paris on 12th February 1930, is entirely incorrect.

The instructions issued by the Holy See in connection with the Mission of the Holy See, January 1930, summarises the solemn orders of Benedict XV contained in His Encyclical "Maximum Illud" of 20th November 1919.

In the strongest terms Missionaries are ordered to abstain from all interference in political affairs and to endeavor at all times that they, as ministers of Christ, should be the religious and moral training of humanity.

Britain and the Mandates Question

CANNOT IGNORE VIEWS OF INHABITANTS

Matter of Principle

A SINGLE AND INDIVISIBLE ISSUE. SAYS MR. SANDYS

In a review of the work of the Mandates Committee in the House of Commons, the Secretary, Mr. Duncan Sandys M.P., told the Joint East African Board that the only thing the British Government could not ignore was a strong and clear expression of opinion by the inhabitants of the territories involved.

Early Decision Expected

Mr. Sandys said he thought the matter would be decided one way or another in the course of the next four or five months. He stated that after dropping a torpedo during exercises he fell himself being moved bodily towards the ship and landed on the sea.

Empire Would Back Kenya Settlers

AGAINST DRASTIC OR UNFAIR IMPERIAL POLICY

Earl Winterton's View

PLEADS IN HOUSE OF COMMONS FOR BETTER UNDERSTANDING OF OWN RACE

When Labour and Liberal speakers who took part in the African to be acceptance of the principle that Native rights should have priority; Earl Winterton, in a vigorous defence of European settlement preferred to see more emphasis on the rights of the British subject or on the rights of the African as an equal basis.

He declared that the threats made by Liberal and Labour politicians left the Kenya settlers and land made for bitterness and ill feeling which pervaded throughout the Empire, causing people to ask "What does the British Parliament know about the overseas possessions?"

He said that the Liberal and Labour politicians had left the Kenya settlers and land made for bitterness and ill feeling which pervaded throughout the Empire, causing people to ask "What does the British Parliament know about the overseas possessions?"

This is the children's day. At five o'clock this afternoon the Nairobi Rotary Club are holding a matinee in the Capitol Theatre, Nairobi, and the greater number of people who attend the better for this year's Seaside Holiday Fund. The charges are Adults 2/- and children 1/-.

The members of the Rotary Club have themselves set a marvellous example. They have bought 500 tickets and handed them to the children of the Seaside Holiday Fund.

But, of course, there is plenty of room and the East African Standard would like to see Capital get working hard for the Seaside Holiday Fund.

The past season was well selected by the management of the theatre and there are some thrilling stories to be seen, with an exciting race, a real show and really marvellous dress acts.

At 7.15 the play had a splendid start. There were two fine acts, one by the famous ... and another by the famous ...

The play was a real success. The management of the theatre had done well to select such a fine play. The audience was very large and the play was well received.

Ding Dong Struggle Continues in Spain

Largest Battle of the War Beginning Near Madrid?

Loyal Warships Sunk. Rebel Planes Take Refuge Over Rock of Gibraltar.

It is well impossible to say, owing to the conflicting nature of the reports, which is likely to triumph in the civil war now raging in Spain.

Reports from Madrid are said to have made contact forty miles from Madrid and the main battle of the struggle is thought to be imminent.

The rebels claim to have sunk three Loyal warships which were engaged in bombarding Cadiz. Strapped from Madrid by Spanish Government warships at aircraft near Gibraltar fell into the town, but no one was hurt.

A vivid account of the sack of Barcelona is given by Mestor's correspondent who speaks of the intensity of head-to-head fighting in the streets and the big cavalry fight.

There have been several instances of attacks, probably by means, on British shipping and yesterday a British warship opened fire on a Spanish plane on a warning.

"INADEQUATE" PREPARATIONS FOR RAINY SEASON REPORTED

The Italians are finding many difficulties in the occupation of Addis Ababa, according to reports which have appeared recently in the London press.

The "News Chronicle" claims from official authority for its statement, published on July 16 a report that the line had been cut in four places and that no supply train had been able to get through for about ten days.

The "Morning Post" states that Italian preparations for the rains appear to have been carried out very inadequately since the departure of Marshal Badoglio and most of the roads are impassable to motor vehicles.

The "Puffinberger" of the country is much more difficult than was expected and Abyssinian raiders have even come close enough to Addis Ababa to fire into the town.

HAD NEURITIS IN HIS HIPS

Whenever There Was a Change of Weather

Kroschken Proved an Effective Remedy

"About three years ago," writes a satisfied customer, "I was in a state of neuritis in my hips. I was unable to walk for long distances. I used to have to use crutches. I tried many different remedies, but nothing helped. I then read in the East African Standard that Kroschken was a good remedy for neuritis. I bought a bottle of Kroschken and took it as directed. In a few days I was able to walk without crutches. I continued to take it for a few more days and my hips were completely cured. I can now walk for long distances without any trouble. I am very grateful to Kroschken for what it has done for me. I have recommended it to all my friends who have been suffering from neuritis. It is a most effective remedy and I can recommend it to all who are suffering from this ailment."

One of the most effective of all other medicines which induce the health of the system is Kroschken. It is a most effective remedy for neuritis and for all other ailments of the system. It is a most effective remedy for neuritis and for all other ailments of the system. It is a most effective remedy for neuritis and for all other ailments of the system.

KENYA DEFENCE AIR UNIT

To the Editor, "E.A. Standard," Sir—Your Editorial in today's issue of the 29th August, regarding the proposed formation of a Kenya Defence Air Unit, is most interesting. It is a pity that you have not mentioned the fact that the Government has already formed a Kenya Defence Air Unit. This unit is composed of a number of officers and men who are trained in the use of aircraft. It is a most effective unit and it is a great credit to the Government that it has formed such a unit. I am sure that it will be of great use to the Government in the future.

The Future of the Pig Industry

Many of those with the greatest knowledge of the pig industry in this country are of the opinion that the pig industry is destined to be a permanent and important part of the national economy...

Breeding and Developing Better Dairy Cattle

(By Mark H. Keeney, in the "South African Farmer.")

The breeding and development of one dairy cow in both an early and a late season is a task of no small magnitude. No breeder can afford to neglect any one of the many factors which enter into the production of a high quality cow...

It is in the selection of the sire that the breeder has the greatest opportunity to improve the quality of his herd. The sire should be selected on the basis of his own performance and his ability to transmit his qualities to his offspring...

THE PRODUCTION OF HIGH-GRADE PIGS

Type has the Greatest Influence on Carcass Quality

(By V. C. Fiskwick, P.A.S.I., N.Z.A., N.D.D., of the Pig Industry Research Station, in the Journal of the American.)

It is well known from Table II that the effect of limiting the extent of the pigs in Group 2 was to produce a carcass of a higher quality than that of Group 1...

Each pig was weighing 43 lb. at the time of slaughter. The carcass was weighed and the percentage of fat was determined. The results are given in Table III...

Table III - Carcass Quality. Columns: Group, Carcass Weight, Fat Percentage, etc.

It was difficult to make a reliable comparison between the two groups because the pigs were selected at random from the two groups...

Don't Let Your Best Pig Lose Its Milk

The large breeder who keeps his best pig in the best condition is the one who is most likely to produce a high quality pig. The pig should be selected on the basis of its own performance and its ability to transmit its qualities to its offspring...

Only Healthy Cows are Profitable

The three main conditions which are necessary for a cow to be profitable are health, fertility and milk production. The cow should be selected on the basis of its own performance and its ability to transmit its qualities to its offspring...

Contagious abortion is widespread

Contagious abortion is a widespread disease of cattle and sheep. It is caused by a virus which is highly infectious and can be transmitted from one animal to another...

Maternity (for the most part) is hereditary

Maternity is a hereditary trait which is determined by the genes of the dam. The dam should be selected on the basis of her own performance and her ability to transmit her qualities to her offspring...

Selection of Females

The basis of female selection should first and foremost be upon production ability accompanied by good milk type. The dam should be selected on the basis of her own performance and her ability to transmit her qualities to her offspring...

Continuation and maintenance records of production are essential

Continuation and maintenance records of production are essential for the breeder. These records should be kept on a regular basis and should be used to guide the selection of the next generation...

Feeding and Management

No matter how well bred and how well selected a cow may be, it is of no use unless she is properly fed and managed. The breeder should pay attention to the feeding and management of his cows...

into a heavy, small error, which, however, affects the comparative loss to the same extent. The figures are summarized in Table IV.

Table IV: Live Weight Consumed per 100 lb. Gross Increase. Columns for Group 1 and Group 2, rows for Type 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7. Values range from 408 to 600.

The figures show that there was a significant difference in the amount of meat consumed by the pigs of the group unit in the course of weight gain.

It has been commonly accepted that the pig that has the largest crop should consequently grow the fastest, give the best carcass and feed conversion.

CIVIL WAR IN SPAIN

Rebels Gaining the Upper Hand?

CLAIM TO BE IN CONTROL OF SEVEN PROVINCES

Situation Extremely Obscure

BRITISH WARSHIPS STANDING BY

(Cable and British Official Wireless Press)

There have been serious disturbances in Spain and Spanish Morocco during the week-end, but owing to censorship and the contradictory nature of such reports as are available it is not yet clear to the outside world exactly what has happened.

It is believed, however, that the trouble started with a revolt by the Foreign Legion in Morocco and that almost at the same time disorder on a large scale broke out in various parts of Spain.

Despite rigorous censorship and the severance of telephone communication it appears that civil war is raging over a wide area in Spain.

Most of the reports come from the Southern part of the country, and it is stated that Malaga is in flames, and heavy fighting has occurred at Linares, near Gibraltar.

The leader of the rebellion, General Franco is reported to have landed at Cadix with troops from the Foreign Legion in Morocco and to have declared his confidence in the early success of his movement which is stated to aim at the restoration of the Monarchy.

Telephone communication between London and Madrid has been restored and the Spanish Ambassador was told by his Foreign Office that the Government dominated the situation throughout the country although it was admitted that fighting was continuing in some of the big cities.

Despite earlier Government assurances that the rebellion had been quelled, there is much reason to believe that in fact the Rebels are making considerable headway in the Provinces.

On Tuesday evening the insurgents captured the important town of San Sebastian and are now reported to be marching on Bilbao. They are stated to be in control of seven provinces.

British warships have been evacuating British nationals from port towns and others who were on holiday in Northern Spain have crossed over into France. The United States Government is also taking action for the safety of its citizens in Spain.

Rebels Gain Control
 A grave situation in Spain is indicated by the fact that communication with Madrid is cut and the rebel forces are reported to have captured Paris news from Spain state that there have been indications that the rebels are in control of Malaga. The number of victims is unknown. The Spanish authorities are reported to be allowing telephone calls from there to Spain and four wounded, but later it was stated that all was quiet.

No News
 A later message says the gravity of events in Spain is as

Morocco claim that the rebels have been defeated. No further reports are reported to have been killed at Melilla on the North African coast. Spanish residents tried to resist the insurgents by declaring a general strike.

There have been three deaths as a result of disturbances at Tetuan, the capital of Spanish Morocco, where the rebels are said to have taken the High Commissioner's office.

 It is reported from Oporto that troops have been confined to barracks throughout Spain. There have been disturbances at Burgos the ancient capital of Old Castile and Pampeluna a fortified city of Northern Spain.

Paris, Later
 While an official wireless message from Madrid announced that a regiment of cavalry rebelled against the Government, the revolutionary movement, the appeal broadcast from Madrid by the "Radio Libertad" called for the workers to declare a general strike. The Government declared a state of siege, indicating the seriousness of the situation in addition to Gerona.

The Spanish Government in London is reported to be in a state of confusion. It is believed that the Government is in a state of confusion. It is believed that the Government is in a state of confusion.

Delayed Transmission
 Madrid, July 19.
 A mutiny is reported to have broken out in the Foreign Legion in Morocco. Some of the rebels are understood to have been ordered to march on Madrid.

Towns Bombed
 A Paris message says that according to an official Spanish broadcast the army and aereal are reported to be in control of Malaga and Tetan.

Confidence Reports
 A Madrid wireless report, however, states that the Spanish Government is in a state of confusion. It is believed that the Government is in a state of confusion.

"Rebels Squashed"
 Thanks to means taken by the authorities, a serious situation of aggression against the Republic in the Basque provinces has been squashed, says an official statement issued in Madrid on Saturday night. The statement adds that Spain is absolutely normal, and that several generals, who are alleged to have been concerned in the rising, have been arrested.

It is also stated that the police have seized a foreign aeroplane which was reported to have been used to carry riot-leaders of the Air Force to Spanish Morocco.

TERRIBLE TRAGEDY AVERTED BY A WOMAN'S PROMPTITUDE

What world has been shocked by what is regarded as an attempt on the life of King Edward following His Majesty's presentation of Colours to the Brigade of Guards on Thursday and messages from all parts have been received expressing thankfulness at the King's escape.

The man arrested in connection with the affair is described as an Irishman who has lived many years in Glasgow.

The Police Court, a witness on behalf of the accused said the latter had not had any intention of assassinating the King and the accused man himself had previously declared that what he had done was as a protest.

It is believed that the prompt action of a woman in the crowd averted what might have been a terrible tragedy.

The King himself appears to have been little disturbed by the incident. Apart from seeming startled at the moment he continued his normal programme of business and played golf later in the day.

Britain Going Ahead With Defence Plans

AMAZING DEVELOPMENT OF THE AIR FORCE

Progress with Munitions

RECRUITING FOR TERRITORIAL FORCE COULD BE BETTER

In the course of a debate on defence in the House of Commons on Monday evening Sir Thomas Inskip described the development of the Air Force as simply amazing and said that machines were being produced now for regular service which a few years ago would have been serious competitors for the Schneider Cup.

The organisation of munition supplies is proceeding satisfactorily, the Naval position gives no cause for anxiety, but the Minister suggested that the recruitment for the Territorial Force was not all that could be desired.

Mr. Winston Churchill was critical of the character of the new post of Defence Minister whose powers, he said, were so restricted that no-one could regard the experiment as satisfactory.

The Government has decided to transfer the Royal Ordnance Factories from twelve various places throughout the Kingdom.

The Chancellor and Germany

(Reuter and British Official)

LONDON, July 27.—The Minister for the Colonies, Sir Thomas Inskip, initiating the debate of defence in the House of Commons to-night, gave a review of his Department's efforts to accelerate the programme of rearmament.

Reference to the naval programme, he said that in the production, equipment and personnel, the reports were satisfactory and while maintenance and replacements had been proceeding in the normal manner, armaments and equipment on a large scale were constantly taking shape. He was not without anxiety in any quarter as to the Naval position.

Munitions

Regarding munitions supplies, Sir Thomas said that arrangements for the production and distribution of munitions were being accelerated and that the Government was doing its utmost to ensure that the production of munitions was not hindered by any shortage of raw materials.

Air Force

Turning to the Air Force, the Minister said it was a new and advanced force in a future war and its development in machines and equipment during the last three or four years was simply amazing. The best illustration was that machines were under production today for regular use in the Air Force which five years ago would have been serious competitors for the Schneider Cup.

The Army

Although the Army had started to lose the Air Force and the Navy, the Director-General of Munitions recently announced that it would take over a going concern. Regular sources of supply were being used in their normal capacity.

The Minister attacked Mr. A. V. Alexander's recent reference to the fact that the Government was rapidly heading for financial disaster. He said that the Government was supported by the League and collective security.

No Waste

The Chancellor of the Exchequer reported that the Government denied that any expenditure was being undertaken which was wasteful. He expressed the view that Sir Thomas Inskip had every reason to be satisfied by the progress achieved in the production of munitions.

Mr. Inskip's statement that it was necessary to spend directly and indirectly £100 million on the production of munitions, he said, was a reasonable estimate. He said that the Government was determined to ensure that the production of munitions was not hindered by any shortage of raw materials.

Debate on the Colonial Office Estimates

LIBERAL AND LABOUR CRITICISMS OF KENYA

Anxiety About Future of White Highlands

BRITAIN'S FUNCTION IS TRUSTESHIP

The debate on the Colonial Office vote of £112,450,000 was initiated in the House of Commons by Mr. J. A. E. de Rothschild, Liberal Member for the Isle of Ely, who moved that the vote be reduced to £100,000,000. He, explained, afforded an opportunity of discussion on all the important points of Colonial administration.

The House of Commons and the Colonies, he said, looked to the Secretary of State for the Colonies, Mr. Ormsby-Gore, for a progressive and constructive policy in Colonial affairs. He added that in opening the debate he would like to allude especially to the question of Kenya and to the land question in that Colony, which lately had excited so much controversy both in Britain and in Kenya.

The Labour Party's policy in relation to the problems of Kenya was reiterated by Mr. Morgan Jones, the Member for Caerphilly.

He emphasized that the Labour Party's critical attitude towards the Government arising out of the Mau Mau settlement, Labour had no objection to these settlers but did object to their claim that they had a prior right over that of the African.

Mr. Morgan Jones made it clear that any future Labour Government would not be bound by the action of the present Government arising out of the Mau Mau Report and he alleged that the Secretary of State, then Sir Philip Cunliffe-Lister, had instructed the Commission that no non-European might own an acre of land in the Highlands.

It is not as if we had a purely administrative government. Nor can I imagine that it is in his address, Mr. de Rothschild said that he, like most of all wished to dispose of the work of the Government in Kenya, but in the alternative of a land of black Africa, he said that he would have gone there with his wife and children, and that he would have been a great deal to benefit the Colony and for the advancement of the Empire.

Empire Would Back Kenya Settlers

AGAINST DRASTIC OR UNFAIR IMPERIAL POLICY

Earl Winterton's View

PLEADS IN HOUSE OF COMMONS FOR BETTER UNDERSTANDING OF OWN RACE

While Labour and Liberal speakers who took part in the Colonial Office debate considered the policy in Africa to be acceptance of the principle that the rights should have priority, Earl Winterton, in a vigorous defence of European settlement preferred to believe that all British subjects, of whatever colour or race were entitled to have their rights considered on an equal basis.

He declared that the threats made by Liberal and Labour politicians led the Kenya settlers could be made for interference and ill feeling which precluded thorough settlement. He said that the British Government should know about the overseas possessions.

Contending that no British Government could take drastic and unfair action against settlers in Kenya or elsewhere without breaking up the Empire, Earl Winterton argued that a method should be discovered of getting on with the settlers of our own race overseas.

German Territorial Claims

The first Conservative speaker in the House of Commons on the subject of the German territorial claims was Lord Curzon, who said that the British Government was not prepared to accept the German claims in the East African territories. PLANS FOR THE DEFENCE OF KENYA

Voluntary Regiment of Territorials

AND AUXILIARY FORCE ON COMPULSORY PRINCIPLE

Organising European Man Power

New defence plans for Kenya are proposed in the report of a Committee appointed by the Governor of the Colony in April.

Briefly the recommendations are:

1. Formation of a Kenya Regiment on a voluntary basis, consisting of to begin with, two companies with its own officers; and a Regimental Reserve.
2. A Kenya Auxiliary Force divided into two classes, one of men from 18 to 30; and the other man over thirty. The principle of compulsion is proposed for this Auxiliary Force, Class 1, men being permitted to attend an annual camp and Class 2 being compulsorily registered but not called upon to undergo regular training. The Force will be under District Commandants appointed by the Governor.
3. Establishment of School Cadet Corps on a voluntary basis beginning with the Prince of Wales' School.
4. The permanent staff of the Kenya Defence Forces to be drawn from the Brigade of Guards and not from the King's African Rifles.
5. Disbandment of the present Kenya Defence Force.
6. Bombas Coast Defence Unit to be composed entirely of regular soldiers.
7. The Commander of the Northern Brigade, K.A.R., to be O.C. all Kenya Defence Forces, with rank of Brigadier.

The Committee, appointed on April 4 to consider the Defence Forces of the Colony and particularly in connection with the report of the Hon. J. H. M. D. Hargrave of February 1952, has submitted a report consisting of Colonel J. A. Campbell, D.F.O., Commander, Northern Brigade, King's African Rifles (Chairman); the Hon. T. H. Bruce Schuster, General; Mr. E. W. Henson, C.M.G. O.B.E.; L. O. O'Connell, A. Dundas, Major, M.C., Commanding Officer, Nairobi Battalion, Kenya Defence Force; and Capt. T. V. Ward, President of the Kenya Rifle Association.

Having examined the explanatory memorandum published on January 12, 1952, in connection with the original Defence Force Bill which came to the Committee that the Kenya Defence Force was established for two main purposes—1. for defence against external aggression; and 2. The defence of life and property in the event of internal disturbance. The Committee is of opinion, however, that the parts which the European British soldiers of Kenya are called upon to play in relation to those aspects of defence are distinct and should be dealt with separately. The Committee does not reflect the decision. They are of opinion that it is not a desirable arrangement, a responsibility for the Kenya Defence Force, to be placed on the East African Campaign (1944-1948) that for reasons of expediency, knowledge of local conditions and the fact that the Kenya Defence Force troops were trained in the Kenya Defence Force then, the Kenya Defence Force should be established as a separate force, to be dealt with separately.

The Kenya Regiment

The Committee has recommended that a Kenya Regiment should be formed.

K.D.F. Defects
There are three defects in the present K.D.F. and the Committee has recommended that the present K.D.F. be reorganised on a compulsory principle.

Looking at the present Defence Force, however, from the point of view of external aggression, the Committee is of opinion that the present K.D.F. is not a satisfactory force for the purpose of external aggression.

The Two Forces
Turning to the Kenya Regiment (Territorial Force) which will be on a voluntary basis, the Committee recommends that it be drawn from men between the ages of 18 and 30 and that it be divided into two classes.

The Thomsen Plan
The Committee then turns to the Thomsen Plan, which is a proposal for the formation of a Kenya Regiment on a compulsory principle.

Internal Defence
We have seen several recommendations in this part of the problem before us and have arrived at the following conclusions:—(a) That the forces raised to suppress any form of disturbance in the Colony should be drawn from the King's African Rifles, Royal Air Force, or the Kenya Defence Force.

Force which will be established under the Defence Force Bill.

The Kenya Regiment
In addition to training a Kenya Regiment, the Committee recommends that a Regimental Reserve be formed.

The Committee also recommends that a Regimental Reserve be formed, consisting of men over 30 years of age, who will be trained on a compulsory principle.
