K.A.R. TROOPS TO FIGHT IN MALAYA

Likely to go early next year

KENYA AND NYASALAND BATTALIONS ARE INVOLVED

Two Infantry battalions of the King's African Rifles—the 1st Nyasaland and 2nd Kenya—are to be sent from East and Central Africa to assist forces in the Far East in the suppression of Communist activities in Malaya.

The battalions will be equipped in the Far East in the usual manner. The 1st Nyasaland will be sent to Malaya under the command of Field-Marshal Sir Philip Mitchell, who will be in command of the force until the arrival of the 2nd Kenya. The 2nd Kenya will be sent to Malaya under the command of Major-General Sir Philip Mitchell. The battalions will be sent to Malaya in the next few months and will be engaged in operations against the Communist forces in Malaya.

'GOOD LUCK' MESSAGES TO TROOPS

Governors express their pleasure

SIR PHILIP MITCHELL, Governor of Kenya, and Sir Geoffrey Callaghan, Governor of Nyasaland, have each sent messages to the K.A.R. battalions of Nyasaland in the 3rd, 4th and 2nd and Sir Geoffrey to the 2nd and 3rd battalions of the 2nd Kenya and the 1st Nyasaland battalions of Malaya.

The messages expressed the pleasure of the Governors that the troops were being sent to Malaya to fight against the Communist forces. Sir Philip Mitchell said that the troops were being sent to Malaya to fight against the Communist forces and that the troops were being sent to Malaya to fight against the Communist forces.

East African Standard. FRIDAY, JULY 13, 1951.

Tribute to the K.A.R. Two battalions of the King's African Rifles, the 1st (Nyasa) and the 3rd (Kenya) battalions, were presented today by the Officers yesterday that they are to leave for Germany in January next year for a term of duty on active service.

Both battalions have fine records in the King's service, and their selection is a distinction which the units themselves and all who have served with them and know them will appreciate. They were both overseas with the East African troops in the recent campaign in East Africa, and their selection is a sound contribution to the reputation of the King's African Rifles.

The presence of these troops for this task is also a compliment to Colonial Forces as a whole, which have been the backbone of the Colonial Empire as a timely as well as a valued reinforcement in the Colonies in a task which has a common interest for all. It is a tribute of today the menace which Communism has extended to the whole world, and the liberty of peace-loving people everywhere is being threatened. Africa is a challenge to all the loyal subjects of His Majesty the King, and it is to the officers and men of the Territorial Force, who have served with Communism is one, there fore that these young countries will accept with pride.

The essential unity of the Commonwealth is a factor in this long-drawn-out struggle for an enduring peace in Africa. British demands of Colombo Plan

By A. M. SPEY
THE British response to the demand for expert to assist the countries of South-East Asia under the technical co-operation scheme and for training facilities for men from Colombo Plan countries has been greater than had been hoped either through the good will of all bodies, official and unofficial, approached by the British Government.

Since there has for some time been a very heavy demand for technical assistance from the specialised agencies of the United Nations and for providing domestic training facilities, the British Government has been unable to meet further requests for technical assistance from the Technical Co-operation Bureau.

But it has been found that technical assistance has been given through the medium of the Colombo Plan. This has been done in a number of ways, including the provision of training facilities and expert assistance to various countries. It has also been found that the Colombo Plan has been a very effective medium for providing technical assistance to the countries of South-East Asia.

Training facilities
The National Civil Aviation Training Centre, which has been set up in London, has been providing training facilities for men from the Colombo Plan countries. This has been done in a number of ways, including the provision of training facilities and expert assistance to various countries.

LANCASHIRE—THE CONFIDENT TEAM

Last year they shared the Championship. This year they aim to make it a one-County affair. And this they may do, says ARCHIE QUICK

LANCASHIRE cricketers are nothing if not confident. They have no doubts that this summer they will go one better than last year when they only shared the County Championship with Surrey. They have every good reason for their confidence. Washbrook, Hill, Edrich, Paine, Wootton and Greaves can all make runs. Edrich, Paine, Wootton and Greaves are all batsmen. Washbrook and Edrich—with Australian touring batsman Berry in company—their best attack any County has had since the war.

PROTEST MADE TO GOVERNOR
Against nomination of Tanganyika M.L.C.

ON Monday last week we published an article on the nomination of Mr. R. W. R. Miller as a Member of the Legislative Council for Tanganyika... The Governor, Sir Robert Gordon Gwyer, has received a protest from the Tanganyika M.L.C.s...

The reason

While we appreciate Mr. Miller's energy and experience, the members of the Tanganyika M.L.C. do not consider that he is the best person to represent Tanganyika in the Legislative Council... The reasons for this are as follows...

Home headache

4. Personality and Prejudice

As we have seen, the battle in North Nyanza in the future is going to be waged between the forces of prejudice and the enlightening sweep of 'massed' institutions. It is in fact almost straight fight between personality and prejudice—personality expressed through ideas which belong to progressive institutions, prejudice expressed through the traditional powers of an out-caste society, which is related to the Maragoli (Sungus) part of the district. The 'problem' is acute. They are desperate in many ways because an improvement in land and beast—the fruit of prejudice—has been an over-enthusiastic and has been hampered and 'wounded' by the traditional mind, which is still so deeply rooted.

Soil devastation
It is alarming that even after the aid of a splendid money (Kiliani) has been made available to the 'problem' of soil devastation, the 'problem' of soil devastation is still a serious one. Our Sharp Philosopher talks about

"A Stitch in Time..."

You should not think that one little stitch is no big deal. If you don't mend your coat when you have a hole in it, it will get bigger and bigger. It is the same with your teeth. If you don't brush them regularly, they will get decayed and you will have to pay a lot of money to have them fixed.

The inventor of this toothbrush, now known as the "Stitch" toothbrush, has a simple solution to this problem. It is a toothbrush that has a small hole in it, and you can see the hole in it. This hole is the same size as the hole in your coat, and it is the same size as the hole in your teeth. It is the same size as the hole in your coat, and it is the same size as the hole in your teeth.

The African and the Land

To the Editor "A Standard"
I read in your issue of 20th June 1951, the article "The African and the Land" which is a very good one. It is a pity that the author has not mentioned the fact that the land is not only the source of food and shelter, but also the source of the raw materials for the industrial revolution. It is the land that has made the industrial revolution possible, and it is the land that will make the African revolution possible.

Excuse me if I call it Urdu.

Excuse me if I call it Urdu. For some time I have been reading the average educated Gujarati (and I think I am not alone) who is lowered by its translation slip (Gujarati). There should be a lull in the progress of the Urdu and other languages. The Urdu and other languages should be given a lull in the progress of the Urdu and other languages. The Urdu and other languages should be given a lull in the progress of the Urdu and other languages.

THE BRITISH COLONIES

What is the future of the British colonial territories? What problems are being encountered in the progressive advance towards self-government within the Commonwealth? By what methods are colonial industry and agriculture being expanded? Are educational needs in the colonies being met? In what way are colonial problems today bound up with world problems?

These are questions of the greatest importance to every responsible person in the British colonies. They underline the urgent and important discussion of every aspect of colonial affairs to be found in The Times Review of the British Colonies.

This is published by The Times, the foremost newspaper in the world, and appears four times a year in March, June, September and December.

The current issues contain the fullest commentary on colonial affairs and produces an important series of articles on the progress of the colonies with a special article on the rubber. Among the subjects of other articles by Special Correspondents of The Times and recognised authorities on colonial territories are:

- Atomic Bomb Service
- Colonial Trade
- The Common Development Commission
- Joint-Territorial Councils of Africa
- Colonial Land's Policy
- Production of Colonial Countries
- Progress of the Colonies
- The Mining Industries in Southern Africa
- The Future of the Colonies
- The Rubber Industry in Africa
- The Colonies and the World Economy

Rhodesia's role in Middle East Defence

Impressions after nine-week safari

SOUTHERN RHODESIA was satisfied with the results of the recent Commonwealth Conference of Defence Ministers in London which was concerned mainly with the Defence of the Middle East.

It was expressed by Mr. R. F. Whitford, Minister of Finance, who represented the Government at the conference.

"We were glad to trouble about our defence in the Middle East," he said, "and to have a proper view of the situation there."

In the present situation that we are in, it is not surprising that we are able to do so. We have a small European population, and there is a desperate shortage of labour in Southern Rhodesia.

Mr. Whitford said that he wanted to make some contribution to the Commonwealth Conference, and that he was sending a small unit to Malaya, which is operational in the Malay Peninsula.

In addition, Southern Rhodesia was stepping up its defence preparations. They were forming a new Regiment, equipped with modern weapons, which would be available for service anywhere.

Mr. Whitford said that he had given assurances that in the event of serious trouble occurring, his contributions would be as great as those of the other members of the Commonwealth.

"We are glad to see that Southern Rhodesia has a small but efficient force," he said, "and that they are doing their best to do so."

AT a corner table in Entebbe's Lake Victoria Hotel on Tuesday morning was Humphrey Bogart—drinking beer from a pint mug—and beside him was Katherine Hepburn—busily sewing.

With two stars of the film African Stars was Mr. Bogart's wife, Laurin Bozell, and the director of the film, Mr. John Huston.

Others in the hotel lobby, African members which the film unit had brought with them, were wearing a lawn garden suit and a dark hat, and a European member was wearing a white shirt and a dark hat.

When Mr. Huston arrived at the hotel, he was met by Mr. Bogart and Mrs. A. J. Hepburn. They were in the hotel lobby, and Mr. Bogart was wearing a white shirt and a dark hat.

Mr. Bogart, who is a well-known actor, was wearing a white shirt and a dark hat. He was sitting at a table with Mrs. A. J. Hepburn, who is a well-known actress. They were both wearing dark hats.

AGE OR YOUTH IN LAWN TENNIS?

Extremes meet at the Wimbledon courts

by A. J. MOTTAM

Britain's Wimbledon champion Les Borois of France and America's youthful Hamilton Richardson, two extremes of tennis, meet at this year's Wimbledon.

It is now 35 years that John Hays, known as British tennis, has been playing in the Wimbledon tennis courts. It is a great feat, but the change over from a wooden racket to a metal one is a great feat in itself.

But tennis in this country is a game of the young men. The Wimbledon tennis courts are the only place in the world where it is possible to play tennis in the open air. This is because the Wimbledon tennis courts are the only ones in the world where it is possible to play tennis in the open air.

The Wimbledon tennis courts are the only ones in the world where it is possible to play tennis in the open air. This is because the Wimbledon tennis courts are the only ones in the world where it is possible to play tennis in the open air.

EAST AFRICAN DEVELOPMENT NAIROBI TALKS ON AFRICAN DEFENCE

Planning Committee proposed ONE OF MAIN ISSUES BEFORE ARUSHA CONFERENCE

GAMBLING in the Church in Kenya will be the subject of a meeting of the Nairobi Planning Committee for development in the three territories. The meeting is to be held at Arusha for the first time on October 1 and 2. The Nairobi delegation will include Mr. D. O. Egan, President of the local Conference, Mr. A. Tyson...

in a discussion state of uncertainty. Another item draws attention to the importance of "service" and the Uganda, East African Ports and Telegraphs Department to review its installation, maintenance and staff policy. Geneva also expressed at the state of goods delivered to and from centres served by the road services of the East African Railway Corporation. It also drew attention to the importance of heavy motor vehicle, particularly in the north and south, of a wide range of bagged export goods and to the importance of the Highlands of Tanganyika.

KENYA CHURCH LEADERS CONDEMN GAMBLING

Help sought to combat 'evil'

GAMBLING is all its forms, with particular reference to sheep-gambling and lotteries, is condemned by the Church leaders in Kenya. This week they signed the Kenya Statement on Gambling. The signatories, headed by the Bishop of Mombasa, the Right Rev. F. Crabbe, claim that within recent years there has been a great increase in sheep-gambling and lotteries in the Colony and that it has been extended to all races.

The statement says that sheep-gambling is an "evil" which has become a serious and widespread social problem. It is a form of gambling which is particularly harmful to the poor and to the young. The statement calls for a concerted effort to combat this evil and for the Government to take steps to restrict its activities. It also calls for the Churches to help in this effort by providing a moral and social education for their members.

Churches' attitude - The attitude of the Churches towards gambling is one of strong opposition. They believe that gambling is a sin and that it leads to poverty and social decay. They therefore urge their members to abstain from gambling and to support the Government's efforts to control it.

The Bishop of Mombasa, the Right Rev. F. Crabbe, has been particularly vocal in his condemnation of gambling. He has called for a national conference on gambling and has urged the Government to take decisive action. He also called for the Churches to work together to combat this evil. The statement is a significant expression of the Church's opposition to gambling and its call for social reform.

The Kenya Statement on Gambling is a landmark document for the Churches in Kenya. It is a clear and strong statement of their opposition to gambling and their commitment to social justice. It is a call to action for all Kenyans and a challenge to the Government to take steps to restrict gambling and to provide social services for the poor.

LONDON HEARS REPORT ON EAST AFRICAN COTTON

Reference to breeding work at Kisumu

At the annual general meeting in London of the Empire Cotton Growers Corporation, the report for the year which ended in March 1951 was presented. It dealt with East African cotton and referred to the fact that new cotton breeding work is being undertaken in Kisumu by Mr. M. S. Hastie, Director of the Cotton Research Station, Nyasaland.

Describing early work at the experimental station in the previous year, the report said that in 1950 the cotton crop in East Africa was the lowest since the war. The Uganda Agricultural Department, by forming an advisory committee, had arranged for cotton cropping followed by one year's under-irrigation, and the use of insecticides and fungicides to control the cotton borer and other pests.

The objective of the work was to produce a cotton variety which would be suitable for the East African climate and soil conditions, and which would be resistant to the cotton borer and other pests.

VISITORS from all the Commonwealth countries, America and Europe, travel and even Paris were at British Royal Agricultural Show held this year in Cambridge.

The winter in the Eastern Province was good, but not so good as last year. However, after the American winter, the cotton here is the best in the world. The cotton here is the best in the world. The cotton here is the best in the world.

Sports pavilion for Kisumu Indian children

Plans for the construction of a sports pavilion for the Indian children of Kisumu are well advanced. The project is being supported by the Government and the Indian community.

Water-logging

Early sowing of cotton has led to water-logging in the Eastern Province. The water-logging is causing damage to the cotton crops and is a serious problem for the farmers.

COFFEE PLANTERS WANT WATCH ON EXPENDITURE

Resolutions for the 1951 conference

COFFEE planters in the Kiambu districts want the setting up of a vigilance committee to keep watch over Government expenditure. At the 1951 Kenya Coffee Conference, which opens in the Victoria Memorial Hall, Nairobi, at 10 a.m. on Friday, July 27, they will propose that the conference should instruct the Coffee Board to approach the Member for Agriculture, the Executive Council and the Elected Members Organisation with a view to the appointment of a strong committee, composed of representatives of the coffee planters and the Government, for the purpose of inquiring into Government expenditure affecting all possible economies and providing all possible financial assistance.

Arrangements for Coffee Planters' Day

COFFEE Planters' Day has been arranged to take place at the Coffee Research Station, Kasarani Estate, Ruaha, on Thursday next. The programme of the day will include a lecture by Mr. J. M. Leakey on the subject of 'The Coffee Industry in Kenya' and a tour of the station.

Marketing of mhuhi

The coffee planters have a right to be concerned with the marketing of mhuhi, a traditional East African food. The marketing of mhuhi is a problem for the coffee planters and the Government.

Machinery exhibition

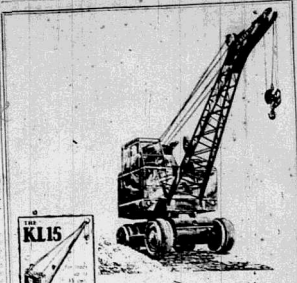

The Government is sponsoring a machinery exhibition in Nairobi. The exhibition will show the latest machinery available in Kenya and will be a valuable opportunity for the coffee planters to see the latest machinery.

'Real danger'

The Government is warning of a 'real danger' to the coffee industry. The danger is the result of the coffee planters' failure to take proper care of their coffee trees.

Nominations

Nominations for the Coffee Board are now being accepted. The board is responsible for the regulation of the coffee industry in Kenya.

TECHNICAL TRAINING OF AFRICANS

Tanganyika's plans for Ifunda centre

Technical training for Africans mentioned in the report of the Tanganyika Labour Department for 1950. During last year the temporary technical training centre at Mwanua, outside Dar es Salaam, was moved to the centre created by the Overseas Food Corporation at Ifunda, near Ifinga.

Part of the syllabus. Consideration was also given to the need for a syllabus of technical training to make it a permanent institution. A good deal of instruction will be required to make it a permanent institution. It is estimated that the training will require 1000 man-years of instruction.

Echoes of East Africa at Kew

On the day I visited the famous Gardens staffed by their yellow-frilled, multi-colored, tree-creeping, billion- and one-hundred-million-foot long, leafy, fern-like, and other tropical plants, I saw a group of about 200 people, many of them of African descent, gathered in the grounds. They were watching a performance of the 'East African' by the Kew Garden staff. The performance was a play about the life of a young man who had been brought to East Africa by a missionary. The play was very well received and the audience was very large.

CROSSING the Bailey Bridge at Charing Cross to the South Bank Festival your good view from the top of the steps of the Skylon, its steel ladder lay against the sky.

Below are the footpaths, grassy, and the view is very good. The bridge is a masterpiece of modern engineering. It was designed by a young man who had the idea of crossing the river by a bridge that was not only a work of art but also a place where people could enjoy the view.

The transfer of population is a case of course as the hills, but it is only in more recent times that it has acquired respectability and universal regard, and become such a commonplace of international relations that it would hardly be considered a modern idea and appear in a newspaper as if it were a new idea.

FLEET STREET: the Home of Britain's Newspapers

THE 600 yards of thoroughfare which stretches from Temple Bar to Ludgate Circus and which has borne the name of Fleet Street for more than 700 years is unique.

It is the only street in any of the world's capital cities which is centrally devoted to the production of newspapers and magazines; and since the days of Henry VIII and the 17th century newspapers it has seen the rise of the British Press from the ancient and dignified Times, to the spokesmen of modern journalism, Lord Beaverbrook's Daily Express.

Between Temple Bar at the western end and Ludgate Circus, at the eastern end of Fleet Street, lies the office of most of the great daily and evening newspapers of the nation.

Among the offices below, the "Pope of Fleet Street" is the office of Henry Maitland and his 17th century newspapers it has seen the rise of the British Press from the ancient and dignified Times, to the spokesmen of modern journalism, Lord Beaverbrook's Daily Express.

ing newspapers. P. A. Reuters, the greatest news agency in the world, the picture agencies, the London offices of the provincial newspapers, vital linkages in the street view of British journalism, and behind Fleet Street, the heart of the London Press. Here are the great lions of London, the exclusive rights to call persons to the Bar.

It is a striking transition from the present to the past to take the few steps which carry one from the clamour of Fleet Street to the quiet tranquility of the Temple.

There is a striking transition from the present to the past to take the few steps which carry one from the clamour of Fleet Street to the quiet tranquility of the Temple.

Memories of the past

When you walk the paved street to railway station and round the clock, the distance back to the river is not far from the huge stream of cars which is a constant reminder of the past, the past of London's newspapers, and the past of London's newspapers, and the past of London's newspapers.

Even those to the street, every street, can evoke memories of the past. Above the street, the street, every street, can evoke memories of the past.

Sir James Barrie is known to have said that he was a happy man who had never written a paragraph about the Cheshire Cheese and considering the amount written about this hostel, the most famous in the world, it is quite likely his claim was just.

Newspaper photographers are the "eyes" of Fleet Street, always on the alert when something happens there. Here you see one of their busy hours. They are the "eyes" of Fleet Street, always on the alert when something happens there.

His job is making skeletons. A man in a crowd of people, looking towards the camera. The background shows a busy street scene.

THE THINGS THEY SAY...

being quotations from BBC talks

THE only thing that needs to be changed are the complete strangers and legends who walk the streets. Some of them are such pests.

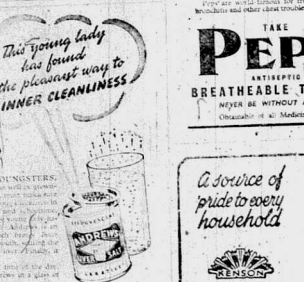

When we walk through the streets, we are often met by a crowd of people who are looking at us with interest. Some of them are such pests.

URANIUM

The Key to World Power

By K. FRANK FELDMAN

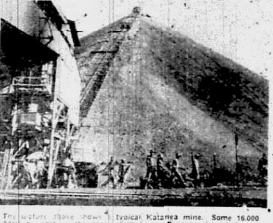

RELIABLE reports from behind Spain's security curtain indicate that Marshal Laventura Beria, director-general of Russia's atom project, has 1500 geologists at work exploring wide tracts of land for additional uranium deposits. The Soviet Government is apparently planning to exploit the African continent for additional uranium supplies. It is reported that the Soviet Government has already secured the services of the world's most experienced uranium geologists.

Though isolated by woodland scrub, Katanga, in the Belgian Congo, is one of the world's most important industrial areas. Vast quantities of copper, cobalt and zinc have been extracted from it over the past 40 years, and today its importance is even further enhanced by the large-scale mining of uranium—raw material for atom bombs.

About 14,000 tons of uranium are mined every year in the province of Katanga.

And there is every reason to believe that the Belgian Government has attracted a number of American engineers to the province to study and develop the uranium resources. When the first atom bomb was dropped over Japan in 1945, Russian atom scientists were in a panic to get their hands on the only available uranium deposits were lying in the Belgian Congo. At that time, the Belgian Government was in a state of confusion and the Belgian Government was unable to do anything to prevent the American scientists from getting their hands on the uranium resources. There are, of course, other rich uranium fields in the world, but the Belgian Congo is the only one which has been developed to a large extent.

Back in the pre-war era, uranium was used in the production of uranium salts for the dye industry. It was also used in the production of uranium salts for the dye industry. It was also used in the production of uranium salts for the dye industry.
