

AGRICULTURE NOW UNDER REVEIL

Council examines the estimates

COMPLAINTS AGAINST FAILURE OF INDIAN, ARAB SETTLEMENT

FOR two-and-a-half hours on Wednesday night, the Supply and Agricultural Council went through the agricultural estimates of expenditure laid before them, which brought up for debate the question of fertilizer subsidies. Major Cavendish-Bestwick pointed out that prices were steadily rising, and although one might not like the principle of subsidies, this was one matter which was bound to remain.

Mr. E. N. Nathoo (Central) asked if subsidized fertilizers were available for any crop and the Member replied that there was one difficulty which had been found in extending a similar scheme to African producers. Major Cavendish-Bestwick said that every possible difficulty had been found and he was convinced that every scheme could not operate.

When the Vote for the agricultural machinery pool (over £17,000) came up for debate, Mr. E. N. Nathoo suggested that what he termed a top-heavy scheme should gradually be done away with. He did not think money spent on a scheme which could be used by a handful of people was money well spent.

Mr. W. W. Major, A. G. Keyser stated that the machinery pool was very useful and had been instrumental in the production of food. He said that the Member for Agriculture said he did not belong to the scheme, but he thought it was a big demand for pool assistance.

Mr. A. B. Patel, discussing the scheme for the Indian and Arab farmers, expressed the hope that the Government would establish a fruit-growing industry.

Citrus plant ahead?

That would be a long business, Mr. W. W. Major said. He admitted that Government was not starting a scheme and was not going to be brought out for the Government. Mr. Patel said that he would like to know whether anything had been done along the Kenya coast.

THERE are those to whom falls the privilege of bestroting upon a country or a people the benefits of an act, a discovery, perhaps some invention that furthers the general good or the sum total of a life's activities. Upon such contributions he grows or small, a country grows and progresses. To the new young Colony of Kenya came Lady Murriet Jex-Blake with a gift of flowers.

Flowers, the love of the outdoors, the wonder in all things green and growing, has been Lady Murriet's preoccupation since childhood. Brought up in the stately home of her father, the Earl of Pembroke, the present Earl is her brother; among the green park country of Wiltshire, she grew to appreciate the created beauty a garden can offer.

Lady Murriet became a keen and expert gardener. Beyond her work garden with its masses of flowers, she had a fine collection of aquatic plants.

After the first world war, Dr. Jex-Blake, then a consultant in Harley Street, considered the possibilities of bettering Britain's soil. Africa beckoned her. It was to her the north was a vast continent, the province of her own continent, the same Africa, as well as the continent of Africa.

The debilitation in matters we have seen still the world will not arrive in Kenya. Lady Murriet has made a considerable contribution to the betterment of the Kenyan flower. She has introduced to Kenya a number of new plants, many of which are now being planted in the country. She has also introduced to Kenya a number of new plants, many of which are now being planted in the country.

At first the Jex-Blake home in Kenya had for a garden a desolate stretch of scrub. Lady Murriet saw the possibilities of bettering Britain's soil. Africa beckoned her. It was to her the north was a vast continent, the province of her own continent, the same Africa, as well as the continent of Africa.

GUESSES AT TEMPERAMENTS CLASH IN AN UNUSUAL GAME

THE following game was played shortly before the outbreak of the late war between R. Spielmann and Mrs. Winch. It was a particularly interesting example of the French Deliberate and of a variation which is now the game also constitutes an interesting clash of chess-lover's temperaments.

The game was the product of the late chess player and chess theorist, R. Spielmann, who had spent a considerable amount of time in studying the French Deliberate and which, it had proved some time ago, was a very interesting game. It was a variation which is now the game also constitutes an interesting clash of chess-lover's temperaments.

USTALIA PRODUCES SO MANY FIRST-CLASS CRICKETERS

Why does Australia produce so many first-class cricketers?

It is a question which has been asked many times. The answer is simple. The climate is ideal. The soil is fertile. The people are energetic. The cricket is played on a level. The players are well trained. The equipment is of the best. The spirit is high. The game is played with skill and courage. The result is a first-class cricketer.

Age unimportant.

It is a common belief that a young man is more likely to become a first-class cricketer than an older man. This is not necessarily true. There are many examples of older men who have become first-class cricketers. The age is unimportant. It is the skill and courage that count.

Concrete wickets

Where multiple test pitches are not available, bats can learn to play with confidence on concrete wickets. This is a new development in cricket. It allows for more consistent play. The wickets are made of concrete and are very hard. They do not break up like natural wickets. This is a great advantage for batsmen.

A real lacing

England awarded the Ashes and gave a drawal (being) to the first-class cricketers. This is a new development in cricket. It allows for more consistent play. The wickets are made of concrete and are very hard. They do not break up like natural wickets. This is a great advantage for batsmen.

Harmful effects

Of course, the war was and consists of many battles. There is a harmful effect on the population. The war has caused many deaths and injuries. It has also caused a great deal of suffering. The people are tired and weary. The economy is in a state of collapse. The future is uncertain.

Reader protest

Perhaps I am a little out of touch with the times. I have been reading your paper for many years. I have always enjoyed it. But recently I have noticed some changes. The articles are less interesting. The news is less relevant. I am disappointed. I hope you will take notice of my protest.

Still great

It is a common belief that a young man is more likely to become a first-class cricketer than an older man. This is not necessarily true. There are many examples of older men who have become first-class cricketers. The age is unimportant. It is the skill and courage that count.

Under rated

Hollis, who came into the first team, has been under-rated. He is a very good player. He has many skills. He is a very hard worker. He is a very good leader. He is a very good team player. He is a very good cricketer.

Telling facts

From a brief review of history, I have gathered some interesting facts. The first fact is that the world has changed a great deal since the beginning of time. The second fact is that the world is still full of wonders. The third fact is that the world is still full of hope.

Truly brilliant

Walter Hammond strikes across the centuries as one of the truly brilliant batsmen. He was a very good player. He was a very hard worker. He was a very good leader. He was a very good team player. He was a very good cricketer.

No Hunt racing in England in 1949

There will be no horse Hunt racing in England in 1949. This is a new development in cricket. It allows for more consistent play. The wickets are made of concrete and are very hard. They do not break up like natural wickets. This is a great advantage for batsmen.

CONTRACT BRIDGE SKILL REPLACES LUCK

By JOSEPHIE CULBERTSON

TODAY'S slam contract would have been easy if declared by the actual position of cards, greater ingenuity was required.

The bidding:

North	West
1-2-3-4	1-2-3-4

Although the slam contract was not justified on the contract bidding, it is nevertheless true that North's actual and potential playing strength and his bidding skill were the key to his success.

SCIENTIST DESCRIBES NEW WEAPON AGAINST TSETSE. Drug discovered early in 1946. ANTICYDIDE HAS KEPT CATTLE HEALTHY IN INFESTED AREAS

Working in the Department of Agriculture, the Kabete Veterinary headquarters is a man who has already shared the honours for the discovery of sulphidiazine, the anti-malaria drug...

"We needed some relaxation," he said smiling, "from the concentrated work on the anti-malaria drug and started on the tsetse problem."

It is a "dry" area for six months. It is equally effective with all domestic animals, and is easy to administer, a single dose only, given under the skin.

Experiments with the drug, also necessary preliminary work, were done in the Sudan, Uganda and at Kabete. In 1945, Dr. Davey had been working from Kabete as the laboratory, and he had a party with a single business trip to Britain. His experiments to date are of great significance.

At Nzoia, in Uganda, he had been working on the tsetse problem. He had been working on the tsetse problem. He had been working on the tsetse problem.

"Controls" died. Similar results in every respect were achieved at Kabete. The tsetse flies were not able to bite the cattle for several days after the treatment.

Potentialities. The possibilities of the drug are explained by Mr. F. H. Jones, who has been working on the tsetse problem. He has been working on the tsetse problem.

Production in New Zealand. Mr. Norman Perry, president of the New Zealand Federated Farmers' Association, has planned short-term trials with the drug.

Immediate effects. Mr. F. H. Jones described the immediate effects of the drug on the tsetse flies. He has been working on the tsetse problem.

To show their appreciation of the efforts made by Mr. F. H. Jones, the members of the New Zealand Federated Farmers' Association have decided to present him with a watch.

OVERSEAS LEAGUE
Nairobi to have an active branch

The Nairobi branch of the Overseas League held its first social meeting in the New Stanley Hotel in the form of a sundowner.

There were about 30 people present, including members and friends, who were welcomed by Mr. J. M. Dewar Jones, and Capt. R. C. Dewar. Several new members were elected.

Mr. James Maitland presided, and after announcing the resignation of Mr. Terry who had, as club secretary, given valuable service to the League for a number of years, said that Mr. G. H. Grant, his assistant, had qualified to carry on as the duly-constituted branch secretary.

Mr. J. M. Dewar Jones, presided, and said that this was the first meeting to be held in Kenya, and that the attendance was most welcome. He then asked Mrs. McMillan who has been in Perth, Western Australia, to read the report on the trials received by the League.

Committee appointed

Mr. Maitland thanked Mr. G. H. Grant and supported her by saying that he had been put to the test by the question of whether Nairobi should be an active branch, to hold regular meetings, which was duly agreed and carried by a majority.

Mr. Maitland then asked members to give suggestions, but they had no suggestions to offer, and he suggested that the committee would arrange the next social to be held in February.

NOTES FROM ZANZIBAR

"SHANAN" ZANIBAR

ONE of the many pleasant customs of Zanzibar is the annual Christmas party given to all European children by the British Club. At 4 p.m. on Christmas Day, members of the Club, including the British Club, and many others, gathered at the Club to the surprise and joy of the African boys.

When the tea was over, those on the balcony suddenly saw the figure of Father Christmas, with a large sack full of gifts, and he was remarkably like the one of the Joseph Sheridan, put them at their own, and soon the floor was covered with blocks, cars and other toys and their new owners.

Major E. A. T. Dalton, the Chief Secretary to the Government, has just returned from leave.

The Boy Scouts Association gave a farewell party to Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Grant in the A.C. Khan School. The Chief Scout, Sir Vincent Gillingham, and Lady Gillingham were present.

The President, Victor A. J. Blainey, expressed his appreciation of the work which Mr. Grant had done for Zanzibar, and his appreciation of the work which he had done for the South African and his appreciation of the work which he had done for the South African and his appreciation of the work which he had done for the South African.

New company to plant 4,000 acres of tea

A new Kenya tea company, known as the Kenya Tea Co., Ltd., has been incorporated in Kenya, as a subsidiary of the Zanzibar Tea Co., Ltd. The capital of £100,000 has been allocated to Johannesburg.

Properties consisting of 4,000 acres have been acquired by the company in the Nandi plateau about 4,000 feet above sea level, and between 1,000 and 1,500 feet above sea level. The tea has been planted by the Kenya Department of Agriculture.

About 150 acres of young tea plants are now being planted on the property as proposed to plant out on an equal basis of labour and the availability of material will permit the planting of 1,000 acres in the first year.

The chairman, Mr. W. E. Stuart-Mountford, stated that the property was selected after an extensive tour of the Coast Province and Southern Rhodesia and after a careful investigation by experts into climatic and soil conditions reports the "Tea Times of Africa".

The estate would be in charge of Mr. Bernard Bennett, manager of Evelyn Estate, Col. Sutherland and Mr. E. B. Sim, the company's representative, had visited the properties and reported very favourable prospects.

TRANSVAALIA
 Local Affairs: The Transvaal Provincial Council has approved a scheme for the construction of a road from Johannesburg to the border with the Orange Free State. The road will be 100 miles long and will pass through the towns of Middelburg, Pekaia, and Kameeldrift. The scheme is estimated to cost £1,000,000 and will be financed by a loan from the Government of the Union of South Africa.

MADE: Shortage of high quality wool
 The shortage of high quality wool is causing a serious problem for the textile industry in South Africa. The industry is now producing only about 50% of its requirements and is forced to import the remainder from other countries. This has led to a sharp increase in the cost of textile goods and has caused a considerable amount of unemployment in the industry.

THE SECOND TEST ENDS IN A DRAW AT JOHANNESBURG

The second Test between South Africa and the M.C.C. ended in a draw at Ellis Park, Johannesburg, yesterday, mainly by the result of an unfinished second of 183 for the third wicket by Eric Rowan, dropped for the third Test which begins at Cape Town today, and Dudley Moore.

It was Rowan's first century in Test cricket. At close of play, South Africa, with 270 2 wickets, were 25 runs behind the M.C.C.'s total.

Beginning the fourth and last day with new wickets in hand and only 25 runs behind, the first batsmen on the field were South Africa's Eric Rowan, who made a good start, and Dudley Moore, who made a good recovery. Rowan's first century was a result of a steady run of 100 runs, which he made in 215 minutes, and took 100 minutes from the time he was out. Moore made 40 runs in another 100 minutes, and added 40 runs to the ninth wicket, with Norman Manley (53).

A solid stand

But by Johannesburg yesterday, South Africa had taken their first century. Rowan and Moore, who were out for 100 and 40 respectively, had made a good start, and had made a good recovery. Rowan's first century was a result of a steady run of 100 runs, which he made in 215 minutes, and took 100 minutes from the time he was out. PLAYERS' MENTAL APPROACH TO THE GREAT THING IN CRICKET

by Don Bradman

LOOKING back over the hunched crowds of Sydney, the hundreds of Lord's, and the days of Worcester in England's sometimes chilly May, I select as first essential the importance of the player's approach to the game, the mental outlook of the man playing cricket.

If the mental outlook is right, the player will play the ball; if it is not, he plays the batsman. In the game with the bat, the batsman should be given the best of the batsman and bowler on any given day. I give as an illustration of this, the case of the batsman and bowler on any given day. I give as an illustration of this, the case of the batsman and bowler on any given day. I give as an illustration of this, the case of the batsman and bowler on any given day.

His ambition

The last tour before the war, the first test cricket, was a great success. In any event, however, the player's ambition should be to play for his country, not for a club or for a county.

The leg-spinner

In Britain the present procedure in the test series is to give the leg-spinner a large part of the bowling in the first two tests.

The l.b.c. ruling

The batsman should be given out irrespective of the position of the ball when it is in the air and is moving towards the batsman.

BEWARE OF MASTITIS

YOU must keep constant guard against mastitis. Prevention is the only cure for this terrible scourge that always threatens your dairy stock. Remember these points:

- Mastitis germs spread from the teats of infected cows to those of healthy cows during the milking operation.
- In the early stages of infection a cow may show no symptoms and there may be no visible changes in the milk. BUT THE DISEASE HAS TAKEN HOLD AND IS SPREADING ALL THE TIME.
- Unless you take care to eliminate that risk you are always in danger of finding mastitis firmly established in your herd.
- The Deans Dairy Routine provides safe sure protection against milk losses through mastitis and other infections. Ask your dealer for details.

Foot-and-mouth disease on African problem
Prospects for an institute of research

Standard Agricultural Correspondent

AMONG the most important aspects of the recent Stock-owners' Association meeting at Thomson's Falls, was the discussion on foot-and-mouth disease. This followed on Dr. White's short address, which introduced a talk by Mr. Broderick, the Kabete expert on this disease, who belongs to Dr. White's research staff.

While it is not possible to give an account of Mr. Broderick's talk—which will appear in a subsequent issue of East African Field, Farm and Garden, the address by Dr. White is of far-reaching importance to farmers—after months of anxiety in many areas over the spread of this disease, now happily ended—that I feel it ought to give the fullest publicity at the earliest possible moment.

Dr. White, after mentioning the pleasure with which he had accepted of the Association's invitation to speak about foot-and-mouth, said: "A year ago I gave a talk at your meeting at Nakuru and I mentioned that a Research Officer who had spent some time in making a special study of foot-and-mouth disease was joining my staff shortly. This Officer, Dr. Broderick, arrived in April and he has come along here to tell you something of his experience in Britain and on the Continent of Europe.

"I shall not cover again the ground which I covered a year ago but perhaps I should just recapitulate the main points of my report and it is fully intended to do so."

- (1) The seriousness of the disease and the damage it has done to the cattle in Kenya is fully appreciated and it is fully intended to do so.
- (2) It is unlikely that vaccination would be of value here because of the protection against the disease afforded by the virus encountered in Kenya. Furthermore, it is not possible to guarantee a vaccine which would be a serious risk in introducing strains not at present in Kenya.
- (3) The view was expressed that the year ago it was suggested that a vaccine from local strains might be successful in Kenya, but this was not pursued after a preliminary study of the various strains which occur.
- (4) With the coming of Mr. Broderick, it was suggested that work might be carried out on the virus of foot-and-mouth disease produced in Kenya.

Outbreaks

First of all, there have been serious outbreaks of the disease in various areas which have designated farming practices to considerable extent.

We at Kabete, have been among the sufferers. Mr. Burns, formerly Chief Veterinary Officer, and the District Veterinary Officer at Kabete in respect of foot-and-mouth disease work on Police and other staff, met the sun of various. He last Mr. Broderick's visit to Kenya in connection to explore the position and see what can be done in the future.

In Southern Africa the severest outbreaks of foot-and-mouth disease in the world are reported. The Government of the Union in view of the fact that the United States of America has spent many millions of dollars in its own territory in the hope of spreading the disease to the Union of South Africa. It is obvious that a large well-equipped research station should be established for work on foot-and-mouth with a view to investigating the value of vaccines. Such an Institute would probably cost well over a hundred thousand pounds. Plans to establish such an Institute in the United States would serve a similar purpose as well as being more expensive.

'Alive to danger'

In view of the considerable cost of establishing and financing the operations of a Nairobi milk depot, the Board had ordered a further investigation of the milk business to know that it was fully alive to the danger of the milk trade's collapse.

BRITISH N.F.U. AND THE NEW BILL

So far as the "Farming and Stockbreeding" there has been little news of the new Bill in general. The Ministry of Agriculture has been busy with the new Bill in general. The Ministry of Agriculture has been busy with the new Bill in general.

The N.F.U. Marketing Policy Committee, representing the farmers, with the Board and discussed the various aspects of the new Bill. The Ministry of Agriculture has been busy with the new Bill in general.

It is unlikely that the Opposition will move the new Bill. The Ministry of Agriculture has been busy with the new Bill in general.

KENYA'S BUTTER OUTPUT

ALTHOUGH Kenya manufacturing turned less butter in 1946 than in 1945, the output was still a record for the country.

The Chairman stressed the necessity of improving the quality of the cream supply. The Ministry of Agriculture has been busy with the new Bill in general.

The finances

The Chairman said that the Government's financial position was not as good as it had been. The Ministry of Agriculture has been busy with the new Bill in general.

CARAVAN

LONDON SCENE BY IRIS FURLONG

ONE expects a Housing and Town Planning Exhibition to be a war, the devastated towns of Europe are beginning to stir with We in London, have seen or suburbs, if not the centre of the City, where the "kilted" areas around St. Paul's still waits for thoughtful to frame vistas of the great Cathedral.

But this exhibition revealed rather surprising fact that modern of the world may not be as far as we think. Whether whether in a brick or flat or in a modern with living rooms, kitchen bedrooms and the usual offices come to very much the same thing at Warsaw or in London. The family unit, it seems, makes the whole world kin, at least as far as housing is concerned.

Caravan homes

What one might have expected to see at a Town Planning Exhibition were caravans, beautifully arranged, some on wheels with modern conveniences. Caravans require no water, and holiday gear and camping and to be made in the most modern planning style for all those who have no permanent home. It is a housing problem by means of caravan camps and the usual "caravan" type of caravan.

As a permanent home, a caravan is a very desirable one. They have living in one room and are very attractive. They are very useful in a large city house for the routine of home and office, the fact of the matter is irremediable. Housing one's career is a car to a little short of having one's wagon to a star.

They are carried on a home in miniature so that it is most easily placed in a small room or a garden. The ingenuity with which the essential of life are packed into its small compass is proof that the best of each of the world is in its own mind. Many of the things that are in the world are in the mind of the man who has the idea.

The new short-hair cut has been a great success among fashion-conscious women. The most conservative is now convinced that a novelty for the ultra-fashionable who are the upstart of the sidewalk of the past.

A new hair style was long over-

Practicable

Raymond considers that the short hair cut is the most practical for the woman who has to be ready to a hair-dressing salon. The result cut out of a series of layers, should be done by an expert who understands the art of layering, to encourage any natural tendency to curl and prevent that dreaded study look that had cutting always to be particularly kind to the older lady.

Spunk the round face, the long and the square, the long straight, the short. Raymond, the famous London hairdresser who is considered as the new cut, recently gave this practical advice to all women who are considering the new style for the first time.

Young women look charming in a surprising variety of styles and fringes. The older woman should wear a more practical interpretation with the hair dressed quickly down to the head. The fashionable forward cut movement happens to be particularly kind to the older lady.

In profile

Square faces are better suited with a slightly longer version of the short cut and it is easier to have it cut on curved lines to flatter the jaw-line.

For the face that is all most attractive. In either case, the hair should be hand combed and kept brushed up loosely at all times. There is Raymond's book of hair-cutting set out for your guidance. Take your courage in both hands and order a short haircut. Unlike Samson, you will not lose it.

A casual observer of the architecture of the Union of South Africa would probably place more emphasis on the sky-scrapers of the Rand than on the spacious old Early Dutch houses which form such a pleasant decoration to the countryside of Cape Province.

There are, however, numerous examples of this attractive form of architecture still remaining. Many of them, as in the case of Grant Constantia near Cape Town, were designed as chatouais for the vineyards which still surround them and have served as centres for the wine industry ever since the seventeenth century. The wine industry in turn has done much to contribute to the prosperity of the Union in general and of the part of Cape Town in particular, and continues to hold its own to-day in the busy and expanding commercial life of the Union.

7,000 MILE SURVEY OF INDIAN OCEAN

THREE men—Fabrics Research Officer, a marine biologist and a chemist—have, on the night of September 26-27, sailed across the banks of Mauritius and the Seychelles in an attempt to determine their fishing potentialities.

First conclusions of their survey, which is scheduled to last two months, is that there appear to be substantial prospects of large supplies of fish being available.

The three men are Dr. J. F. G. Wheeler, Fabrics Research Officer, Dr. F. D. Conway, marine zoologist, and Mr. J. D. Jones, a chemist.

In her 7,000 mile voyage, the ship-Motor Fishery Research Vessel No. 1—covered the Indian Ocean as far west as the Aldabra Islands, and as far south as Rodrigues Island. A satisfactory start has been made in surveying the banks lying between these areas.

The 1947 Colonial Annual Report for the Seychelles says it has been estimated that, even more and deeper, it would be possible for the Seychelles to export up to 4,000 tons of frozen fillets of fish a year, value £500,000.

The report stresses the need to expand the fish industry, not only to develop another local industry as an alternative to copra and coconuts, but also to assist in making good the fourth of a million of the East African people.

COST OF LIVING: PRICE OF BUTTER.
 Sir—There is a large article which deals with the problem of the cost of living. It is a very important subject and one which should be dealt with in a more comprehensive manner than it is at present.
 It is not the Government who have caused the increase in the price of butter. It is the market forces which have caused it. The Government has only to control the market forces and the price of butter will fall.

ROYAL FOLLY WINS E. A. DERBY WITH EASE

DESPITE somewhat overcast weather, and a certain amount of rain, a bumper crowd attended the first day of the Nairobi New Year meeting yesterday and was rewarded with some excellent betting.

The course has rarely looked better, although the going was on the soft and somewhat heavy side. Racing will be resumed at 2.30 this afternoon with an eight-event card.

The first of the Royal Folly (A. J. Derry) was won by the eight-year-old colt, trained by Capt. Spence, trained by her owner, and ridden to victory by Royal Folly almost dominated the rest of the afternoon.

A big field

The biggest field at Nairobi for many a month days of the 2000 guinea started for the 2 furlongs and 3 furlongs Handicap. A bumper and Lucifer were badly left and the field was left to struggle out.

The prize, a nice one to begin with, was won by the nine-year-old colt, trained by Capt. Spence, trained by her owner, and ridden to victory by Royal Folly almost dominated the rest of the afternoon.

Effort too late

Border Chief seemed to lose the challenge somewhat late and came off on terms, while the other horses were well in the lead.

Rider's hat-trick

The rider's hat-trick was completed by the nine-year-old colt, trained by Capt. Spence, trained by her owner, and ridden to victory by Royal Folly almost dominated the rest of the afternoon.

Another favorite failed to win in the race, which was on the soft and heavy side.

The race was a very close one, and the winner was a very close one.
