Customs Union not opposed

HEALTH, EDUCATION AND LABOUR CONDITIONS SUGGESTED

FOLLOWING a six-week study by its four members, the United States representatives in Tanganyika, the United States Trusteeship Council session has agreed that provision should be made for more facilities for education, better health services and improved labour conditions for the Africans of the mission considers that the plan to form a Customs Union with Tanganyika, Kenya and Uganda—a proposal that has been criticised in the Trusteeship Council—is not of interest to the interests of the three territories from the point of view of administration.

SIXTEEN F.A. CUP BATTLES The Grand Final THIS AFTERNOON

THE F.A. Cup competition will be resumed in England this afternoon with 16 matches and, once again, the fascination of this great competition will draw bumper crowds to the various grounds.

Many questions will have been answered by this evening. Can the gallant little Yeovil, the last non-league club left standing against Sunderland? Will Arsenal, gliding on their record-breaking form, continue to overthrow Derby County? Can Sheffield Wednesday & Division II side, who have won the cup three times Cup winners, account for league leaders Portsmouth?

The Derby County-Arsenal match will certainly be one of the day's great attractions and while Arsenal have shown a more realistic approach to cup-winning, Derby County have shown a more realistic attitude to cup-winning.

With any luck, at all West Ham, Huddersfield Town, Derby County will be among the last teams to play in this afternoon's fixtures.

Portsmouth should be the best team to play in the West Ham match, while despite their recent record, Huddersfield should be the best team to play in the Manchester United-Huddersfield match, if they will be one of the day's big upsets.

Today's fixtures

THE F.A. CUP (16th round)

Derby County v Arsenal (3.00 p.m.)

West Ham v Huddersfield Town (3.00 p.m.)

Sheffield Wednesday v Portsmouth (3.00 p.m.)

A hard match

STANLEY HOTEL OF BERLIN New German move by Soviets WILLINGNESS TO MEET TRUMAN FOR WORLD PEACE PACT TALKS

LONDON opinion that the Soviet Union's policy on Germany may be on the melting-point has been reinforced by Generalissimo's suggestion—voiced in answer to a series of questions by an American correspondent in Moscow—that the blockade could be lifted.

The Russian leader's replies to four questions on international news were broadcast by Moscow radio, said: "If the United States, Britain and France would like to see the German problem as a whole, the Soviet Union sees no objection to the lifting of transport restrictions in Berlin."

It was added that it would be necessary for the trade and transport restrictions introduced by the Western powers to be lifted.

It is pointed out in London that this is the first time a member of the Soviet Government has mentioned the possible lifting of Berlin blockade without imposing conditions about the lifting of the Soviet blockade in return.

It is also pointed out that Britain, the United States and France are likely to be in a position to object to the lifting of the transport restrictions in London to single out the reference to Berlin as a practical move which has been placed against the backdrop of a rhetorical appeal to world opinion.

It is pointed out that the Soviet move is seen in the light of the splitting of Germany.

DROUGHT IS KENYA A FUEL THREATENING AND BREAD A FAMINE PRICES Nyasaland Africans month's work faces cating grass

MANY of the Africans in the southern districts of Nyasaland have been reduced to eating grass, seeds, bulbs and roots by a continued drought which threatens the country's 2,500,000 natives with starvation.

The weathered shores, who have fallen, have manifested for ploughing or the planting of crops, and the drought has left the position without any and the Government has distributed famine relief, banned foreign food and ordered food to be declared in an effort to meet the situation.

More than 100 Europeans have been forced to leave the country and many of the remaining 100 have been ordered to leave the country and many of the remaining 100 have been ordered to leave the country.

Food first

European farmers are concentrating on their own food crops. The latest official communication from the British High Commission in the extreme of Blantyre, where the Central and Northern districts are still suffering from drought, is that the situation is not adequate until the next harvest.

Reply to Russia

To decide on the Norwegian reply to the Russian request for information on her attitude towards the transport of foodstuffs, the Norwegian Parliament is expected to meet in the next few days. The Norwegian Government has agreed to a joint commission which will be set up to investigate the existing conditions in the three countries on questions of foreign policy and to make recommendations.

BRITISH PALESTINE POLICY

Aims should now be in operation with U.S. peace and the restoration of friendships.

By ANTHONY DONNET
WHAT is Britain's real intention in the Middle East, and what are the policies in Palestine? Broadly speaking there are three material factors which must govern British policy. The first is geographical. Britain's link with the Middle East is the Suez Canal. The second is economic. The third is political. The British Government should now be in operation with U.S. peace and the restoration of friendships.

THEME FOR UPPER TANANA REJECTED

Experts' report dashed hopes BUT ALTERNATIVES REMAIN TO BE INVESTIGATED

Probably Agricultural

It is hardly no stretch of Kenya which has for so long been a predominantly agricultural area, so it is not surprising that the most of the schemes for the Upper Tanana river, which has presented itself as the Nile of East Africa, will be in the agricultural industry, and to most it is the most desirable. The report on the Upper Tanana River irrigation project, now issued by the Hydrological Commission of the P.W.D. and signed by the Hydrological Engineer, Mr. A. E. Tetlow, is a really quite insignificant one, as it is suitable for a very modestly sized irrigation scheme.

The hydrological survey went on this occasion, a report of this nature is made by the Soil Commission, and a report of this nature is made by the Soil Commission, and a report of this nature is made by the Soil Commission.

TINNED FOOD PLANS IN THE UNION

PLANS for tinplate production in the Union to meet the growing industry's requirements are well advanced, and within the next two years the country is expected to be self-reliant for supplies of this essential food.

Ten years' growth

In 1926, 11 factories were engaged in tin and vegetable canning, and the next year there were 17. The value of food tinned was about £22,000.

New factories

During the war the demand for canned fish was enormous. By 1924 the output of canned fish, other than sardines, was about £20,000.

THE KEY TO PROSPERITY

Coal industry needs more and younger men and less absenteeism. AS the results of last year's coal production are announced, and the targets for 1946 are set, it is time to take stock of this industry on which Britain's industrial greatness was built, and which still holds the key to prosperity.

GODDARD'S PLAN SUCCEEDS IN MADRAS TEST

THE West Indies touring team gained an already reported well-deserved victory in the fourth Test against India at Madras on Monday by reaching 193 runs.

It was first time that a definite decision had been reached in the present Test series—all three Tests being drawn.

The fifth and last which is to be held at the Brabourne Stadium, Bombay, begins on Friday afternoon.

After establishing their batting position in the first Test, the West Indies lost India's first Test in Madras on Monday, who had always batted well in their second innings in previous Tests, continued again in the fourth Test by losing 193 runs to the West Indies captain, had a major contribution capable of making the difference.

Right combination

Vijay Merchant, former West India captain, described the batting as probably the strongest he had ever seen in a Test. He said that he had had to adjust his batting superiority to suit the conditions.

The M.C.C. at Bulawayo

REQUIRING only 148 runs to win at Bulawayo yesterday the M.C.C. with all the afternoon at their disposal, stood a good chance of beating Rhodesia.

Rain, however, had stopped play for some time before lunch and the possibility of its return left the situation somewhat uncertain.

The former South African Test M.C.C. works for 117 runs in the first innings, while Rhodesia's batsmen failed to score more than 111 runs against the M.C.C. batsmen.

A heavy pitch was used of the M.C.C. batsmen, who were generally very good. Even though it was raining, the M.C.C. batsmen were generally very good. Even though it was raining, the M.C.C. batsmen were generally very good.

The crowd was not so thick in Rhodesia as in the first Test, but it was still very good. Even though it was raining, the M.C.C. batsmen were generally very good.

Second knock

In Rhodesia's second knock, Jack Young left him spin bowler, bowled Harris in his third over and got 100 runs in the second innings. The M.C.C. batsmen were generally very good.

Minister explains why Ford Co. was excluded

OPPOSITION allegations that the British Government planned to exclude the Ford Motor Company of Great Britain from steel nationalization were denied in the House of Commons by the Supply Minister, Mr. George Strauss.

He declared that the American interests in the Ford Company entered our minds as well and that the company was "not entirely out of the Bill" because it was not free will, the Supply Minister said.

Under the Steel Nationalization Bill the Government will acquire the manufacture of steel in its present quantity, but it will not take steel at the current price in the Corporation which will be set up when the Bill is passed. The company could not sell its steel elsewhere and at what price it liked.

"Justified"

Mr. Strauss said the sole reason for excluding the Ford Company from steel nationalization was that it was not a British company. He pointed out that the company's principal manufacturing plants and manufacturing of steel and steel products were in the United States. "It would be absurd and wrong to include in a measure of nationalizing an important part of the motor car industry that was not a British motor car industry."

Members of the all-party Standing Committee of the House of Commons accepted the Minister's explanation. Opposition was confined to a few remarks by Mr. Clegg, who said that steel nationalization of all companies and industries was the aim of the Bill rather than to exclude only one company.

The House has given a formal sanction to the Government's Telegraph Bill, which gives effect to the proposals for the most important services of the Commonwealth and extends the terms by which the Postmaster-General can take over the business of the Cable and Wireless Ltd. for the sharing of revenue derived from the foreign transmission of mail from planes outside Britain. AMERICA HAS TWO REASONS

Aims behind Truman's plan to provide aid for Colonial development

BY ANTHONY DORSET

The first is a genuine desire to improve conditions in underdeveloped areas and, indirectly, to help European recovery.

They believe implicitly that peace will come only if Europe is helped to get on its feet, and that the United States Government has needed to interest itself in Colonial development.

There are two reasons why it is not possible to see this in any other way. The first is a genuine desire to improve conditions in underdeveloped areas and, indirectly, to help European recovery. They believe implicitly that peace will come only if Europe is helped to get on its feet, and that the United States Government has needed to interest itself in Colonial development.

Nyasaland tea now pays export duty

As from January 1 an export duty of 20 per cent has been levied on all tea exported from Nyasaland.

The Nyasaland Government's intention to impose this duty appears in the Tea Trade of Africa formed the subject of a motion tabled by the Financial Secretary, Mr. W. F. Poodman, at the meeting of the Nyasaland Legislative Council on November 23 last year. In the ensuing debate all the Unofficial Members of the Council opposed the motion, but it was carried by seven votes to one after the Government introduced the motion, the Financial Secretary's statement being read from the tea and tobacco industries.

The Government's intention to impose the duty is stated in the Government's statement in the House of Representatives, dated February 2, 1949.

'Ploughed' back

Dealing with the Government's contention that the tea industry was able to sustain the tax, the Financial Secretary said: "I understand that of recent years the industry, very rightly encouraged by Government, has been able to plough back into the land a substantial amount of its produce and to farm of planting further tea and so on."

RUSSIA NORWAY PACT
To allay fears of aggression
NORWEGIAN ASSURANCES ARE INSUFFICIENT

Denmark has offered Norway a pact of aggression. The offer was contained in a new note to the Norwegian Government, the text of which was leaked by Moscow radio.

The new note disagrees with Soviet points in Norway's offer, which was delivered by the Soviet ambassador in Oslo, who claims that Russia asked Norway to give its attitude to the pact in a written form. It says that it does not share Norway's view of the fact that the two Atlantic Pact states are in a common front.

It also based the pact on the Atlantic Pact Charter or the United Nations Charter or other international instruments.

The note says that Norway has not given clear answer to the question whether, as a member of the North Atlantic Pact, it will accept foreign troops to be set up on its territory.

The Soviet ambassador believes that the situation of Norway could only improve if the policy of Power-sharing in the North Atlantic Pact is not applied to Norway. The note declares as insufficient Norwegian's assurance that it will not receive troops from the first Russian not joined at the possibility of a threat of aggression.

The note also says that Russia, therefore, offered Norway a pact which would put an end to all doubts of Russia's good neighbourly intention.

The note also says that the Norwegian Foreign Minister has announced last week that Norway's Moscow radio broadcast on the subject of the pact is in line with the text of the Soviet note.

The note also says that the non-aggression pact is being signed by the Polish Government, which recently decided to enter into relations with the Soviet Union.

The note also says that the Polish Government has announced last week that it will not receive troops from the first Russian not joined at the possibility of a threat of aggression.

ARAB STATES DISCUSS TWO QUESTIONS
Transjordan was only absentee

REPRESENTATIVES of 11 Arab States, except Transjordan, met in Cairo during the weekend and understood to have discussed two questions—the invitation from Dr. Ralph Bunche, the United Nations acting mediator for Palestine, to negotiate with the Jews, and the Arab attitude towards the United Nations Commission for Palestine in Jerusalem.

Decisions of the conference will be announced until the weekend. Arab Governments have continued to meet.

Middle East tour
It has been announced in Jerusalem that the three members of the United Nations Commission for Palestine are to visit the Middle East in a tour of inquiry to various Middle Eastern States. The tour will last two weeks and the members will then meet Arab and Jewish statesmen in the Middle East.

Yesterday, the United Nations members of the Commission went to Tel Aviv to meet Mr. Moshe Sharett, the Israeli Foreign Minister. The French and Turkish members went to Haifa and Beirut and returned.

Israel recognised
Meanwhile, Russia is the latest country to announce de facto recognition of Israel. In London, the British Foreign Office has announced that it will not express its opinion on the subject of Israel's recognition.

The British Government has published its note of protest against Israel's recognition, which recently decided to enter into relations with the Soviet Union.

KEEN RACING AT FEBRUARY NAIROBI MEETING

Border Chief and Ailna score a 'double'

An excellent crowd, sunny weather and a steady breeze, and going was unusually good for this season of the year, characterized by the year's meetings in Nairobi. There was some good interest in racing and some very promising young blood appeared, who are likely to do better when used to local conditions during the next few months.

Merited victory

The Civil Service Gold Cup provided a grand finale and a marvellous race for the spectators. Getting well away, the field was driven well by the leader, Border Chief, who was better than any used to local conditions during the next few months.

Bedser bowls brilliantly

One of the best bowlers in the world, Bedser, was seen in all his glory as he took 10 wickets for 100 runs in the second match against Rhodesia at Salisbury on Saturday.

Test in Bombay

In the fifth and final Test at Bombay between India and the West Indies, the tourists made a remarkable total on a morning which was all out for the Indians. The total was 122 wickets at 100 runs.

Exciting finish

They closed up at the six furlongs when Court News gave the lead from Golden Bird and Border Chief. At the distance, Court News appeared to be all over a winner but Border Chief challenged and won despite a little rain.

Remarkable record of Humber side

THERE were two changes in the leadership as a result of Saturday's football action. Scotland being occupied mainly with the trials of their F.A. Cup competition.

West Bromwich Albion (Scotland) did not play a match again until the head of Humber was being surprisingly defeated.

Hull City displaced Rotherham as goal averages, at the head of Division III (Northern) for the first time since early last season.

Partnership, despite being a goal down to Manchester City at half-time, kept up their winning momentum and by three clear points ahead of Newcastle United and Derby County now lead Manchester, but had been engaged in their Cup early this season.

President's defeat of Chelsea was the last day of the month, the goalkeepers of Hull City were 19 goals in the foot ball.

Leaders lose. Grimsby Town, who over Queen's Park Rangers at Leyton Road, took their points away from immediate danger and Northampton were defeated at Luton by the Division I side.

Both South and North Division leaders lost, but they have a sizeable margin lead and can still be safely overtaken.

North teams did badly, not even winning in Division I, one only in Division II and Division III (South) led three in the North.

Walsley's victory over Swanton Town was the sixth first win for Christmas Day.

Wolverhampton, too, won their first match since December 20.

While the whole Hull City side has the best record in England.

Their defence has only conceded 15 goals in 24 matches, 10 against Everton, their remarkable average of least over 4.20.

It was the only side to sustain one defeat only in all Britain and
