DICKINSON CUP SAILING RACE

New scoring at Navisaha

For the Dickinson Cup races last Sunday the sailing committee of the Navisaha Yacht Club introduced a new method of scoring. The new method was adopted for future races and will allow skippers to drop their worst score of the first event under this new method resulted in a tie.

The underlying idea of the new scoring method is the encouragement of greater start and finish from one end of a skipper to the other. The skipper out of the warning gun will be penalized. The skipper will be allowed to drop that race from their score.

Only in the event of a tie will the results of "drop-outs" come to be taken into account.

Some compensation
This also compensates, to some extent, those skippers who have transferred their sails, and is to be put out of a race for technical infringement of the sailing rules.

The first race for the Dickinson Cup was between Dyan (Dyan) and Dyan (Dyan) which was a close race. They were both out of a race for technical infringement of the sailing rules.

The Cup is shared
Dyan got the finishing gun with Dyan second. Dyan fourth and Dyan fifth.

Struck airless patch
These last two boats had struck an airless patch on the water. Dyan had a hole in the hull and was unable to continue.

FARMERS' UNION 'CAN BE LEADING POWER'

Drive for membership urged at Mau branch meeting

WAVES in which he felt the Kenya National Farmers' Union could assist in the development of Kenya were outlined by Mr. W. E. Crosskill, Member for Mau, at a well-attended meeting of the Union's Mau branch at Mau, on Monday.

Mr. Crosskill stressed that he was not suggesting that the K.N.F.U. should enter the political arena, but felt that for so many subjects were now considered to be political. The first aim of the Union, he said, should be to extend its membership. The Union had achieved much, but it could be of greater influence if it represented the whole of the farming community.

In Southern Rhodesia, the National Farmers' Union was the leading power in the land and he saw no reason why that should not apply also in Kenya. He pointed out that the Union should have made more use of its members. The farmers had placed valuable facilities at their disposal but a farmer's "cub" it was necessary from the beginning.

Land discussions

The K.N.F.U. discussed had the proposal for the compulsory membership drive. Mr. Crosskill said he felt that it should be reconsidered.

He suggested that the Union should nominate the East Africa Farming League, which has over 4,000 members compared with the K.N.F.U.'s membership of just over 1,000, and that in the biggest industry in the country.

Machinery costs

Mr. Crosskill said the Embroidery to Government Bill would be worked by Government themselves if they were responsible if it failed to work. He stressed that it was imperative to have a European Executive Member on the post of Minister for Agriculture.

It was vital that it played its part in the development of Kenya. He stressed that it was imperative to have a European Executive Member on the post of Minister for Agriculture.

The history of East Africa before the building of the railways and harbours, and the country developed as the railroad spread.

Today, despite difficulties and uncertainties, the railways and harbours are undertaking many new and important projects. They are building for the future because they are confident that greatness and prosperity lie ahead for East Africa.

East African Railways & Harbours

Efficient port operation demands the fluid movement of cargo at all stages of its progress between ship's hold and railway wagon or road vehicle. Mechanical cargo handling equipment, properly used, plays its part in the speeding up of this operation.

An extensive programme of port mechanisation is already well under way at all East African ports. When completed, few ports in Africa will have better facilities for handling cargo.

New cranes costing over £1 million; more "mechanical horses" with their accompanying trailers; more tractors; new fork lift and platform trucks costing nearly £200,000 will all soon be speeding up the import and export of the cargoes, which go towards the building of a greater East Africa.

New vaccine may boost meat output

An anti-anthrax vaccine based on the discoveries of a South African bacteriologist may result in huge savings in world dairy and meat production.

The vaccine announced in New York by a United States pharmaceutical company is the first of a series of vaccines against anthrax which may result in huge savings in world dairy and meat production.

Safe in use

Further cases have mortality in cattle every 100 head of stock with all farm livestock and all other animals may be transmitted to human.

The vaccine was used experimentally on several groups of cattle in several areas of the United States. It showed to be effective particularly in two severe outbreaks of anthrax in Arkansas and Louisiana.

Milder strain

Vaccines have long been used against anthrax but sometimes have caused outbreaks of the disease. The milder strain of the bacterium, the pharmaceutical company stated, enabled administration of the same dosage to British cattle, sheep and goats. It thus made mass vaccination possible at a great saving in the stock-keeper's time and money. (Hester)

Always building a greater East Africa

Efficient port operation demands the fluid movement of cargo at all stages of its progress between ship's hold and railway wagon or road vehicle. Mechanical cargo handling equipment, properly used, plays its part in the speeding up of this operation.

An extensive programme of port mechanisation is already well under way at all East African ports. When completed, few ports in Africa will have better facilities for handling cargo.

New cranes costing over £1 million; more "mechanical horses" with their accompanying trailers; more tractors; new fork lift and platform trucks costing nearly £200,000 will all soon be speeding up the import and export of the cargoes, which go towards the building of a greater East Africa.

MARRIAGE SCHOOL TO COMBAT DIVORCE

A PSYCHOLOGIST, Dr. Guido Groeger, who stresses that marriage is a science like any other has founded West Germany's first marriage school to prevent divorce.

"Love cannot be taught, but with a little effort things can be made very easy for it," Dr. Groeger says, and adds that couples should extend the practical application and theoretical instruction to the signing of the marriage certificate.

Divorce rate

Dr. Groeger, alarmed by the divorce rate in Germany, which stood at 20.8 per cent in 1932, the highest in Europe in spite of a gradual decline from the record in 1918, believes that similar schools could be set up elsewhere.

His course, started in May, has attracted a flood of applicants from people between the ages of 20 and 50. These participate in a course of 10 lectures, each with about 60 students, and then for the following two months, receive assignments and assignments respectively. The course costs five marks (5s. 6d.) and lasts two weeks, with three practical meetings once a week for discussion, lectures, and social evenings.

Dr. Groeger says that the course for the men is designed to give them a better understanding of their partner's feelings and to help them to control their own emotions. The women's course is designed to help them to understand their own feelings and to help them to control their own emotions.

'Ideal couple'

STUDENTS have to explain why they are interested in the subject. Typical answers are that they are "interested in the subject" and "I have never heard of it before." They are given a list of "ideal couples" to read and to discuss. The couples are those who have had a long and happy marriage, and who are still together.

An "ideal couple" is elected for the month of each course for the purpose of a prize. The prize is a certificate of appreciation and a small gift. The couples are those who have had a long and happy marriage, and who are still together.

The marriage made in a garden here, very important to both. It has a background of a green valley, a red brick house, and an ancient stone that caught the eye of the young man.

ADVICE TO WOMEN WHO ARE TOO THIN

MUCH has been said about the problem of being too thin. But what of the women whose figures are so thin that they are actually in danger of their health? The doctor says that these women are usually those who have had a long and happy marriage, and who are still together.

 European Minister without Portfolio, not to take any action which might damage the Kenya of the Emergency. Mr. Kinangop on Wednesday passed a resolution condemning the action of the War Council in offering new surrender terms to terrorists.

The motion, which was passed by 69 votes to two, read: "It is resolved that this meeting of the South Kenya District Association condemns any offer now offered to rebels, excepting murderers from prosecution, and shares a lack of confidence in the War Council and that its membership must be changed, and a resolution that the committee should be empowered to take the exemption of murderers from prosecution to the meeting. There was a lengthy debate on whether or not the motion should be deferred until one meeting had been held. A resolution that the motion should be put on the spot and not adjourned until a subsequent meeting was carried by 69 votes to eight."

Mr. Blundell said that anything attacking the War Council would be tantamount to a surrender of the Government. # You can CONTROL your tillage with a CATERPILLAR TOOL BAR

Draw bars are attached to the track roller frame, making the tool bar an integral part of the tractor. Implements can be lifted high when traveling from field to field or when avoiding obstacles.

Attaching, removing and spacing of implements is easily accomplished by one man. Sufficient mounting holes provide for varied spacings of implements.

A forward push on the lever forces tool implements to the ground, a pull on the lever brings them up. The tool bar has four positions, raise, lower, hold and foot. In foot position, tools seek their own depth by action.

Control your tillage unlike most of you. Ask for complete information.

A PAGE OF PICTURES RECALLS THE RECENT DOG SHOW

ENTRIES from Kenya, Uganda and Tanganyika were received for the first Dog Show organized by East Africa Breed Clubs since the Eboragezi started. There were 183 entries and a crowd of between 500 and 600 people flocked to the lovely surroundings of Garsfield Park on a day of brilliant sunshine. The occasion was especially suitable in that Lady Crawford presented the press late in the afternoon, and Mrs. Mary Garbutt, an experienced show judge, was in attendance to judge one of the classes.

She considered the standard of breeding to be quite high in view of the difficulties of the country, criticism being that a few dogs appeared to be in need of grooming. This would appear inevitable with more and more dogs appearing at the show each succeeding event should a keen interest in showing continue to be shown.

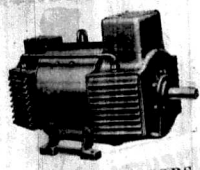

As a special as well as a competitive occasion, the show was one of the best held to date for both dog and man. It was a delightful occasion, the best of which was the display of the best field to day, football and field sports. The winning names at Garsfield Park were: C.F. Nkombe, Croquet Belinda, Vialis Polystrate, Dore's Wonder and Son of Satan were being handled about.

On this page you see a few of the proud owners with their entries, including some from Nakuru, Gilgil, Narivaha and Ol Kalou.

Boxers, fast becoming popular breeds in East Africa, were well to the fore, but the German-type Boxer—not there for competitive purposes — with its prick ears and wonderful stance almost stole the show from its more Anglicized brethren.

Do-It-Yourself Craze In Britain

By DOROTHY BARKLEY

WITH the Christmas holidays over and the children back at school, the British housewife turns her thoughts to... spring-cleaning, the home's annual ritual. This year caught up in the do-it-yourself craze, she finds the experts have come to her aid. (With labour so hard to get, more and more people are doing their own odd jobs round the home.)

A new shop has opened, which devotes itself to the home-do-it-yourself craze. Here, it will help you to spend money on new equipment, it will help you to look after your home better. It will help you to spend money on new equipment, it will help you to look after your home better. It will help you to spend money on new equipment, it will help you to look after your home better.

BRITISH television's singing team, the Tenors Sixties, Frances and Stella, have just had their first public performance at the Theatre Royal, London. They are singing in their own home.

AT HOME WITH THE CONSULS OF KENYA

WHEN I asked Mrs. Muriel, wife of the Consul-General, where she had learned her quite remarkable English she explained that she had been in an English Convent school there.

This week, in her series, JOY NICHOLL writes of the Netherlands Consul-General and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Noe.

Mr. Noe, who was born in 1910, was brought up in Java in 1910. He was educated in many different Government schools and worked up as an Assistant.

In 1934, he was sent to Europe to work with the Civil Service in the Netherlands. He was in the Netherlands from 1934 to 1942, when he was transferred to the Dutch East Indies to work as a half agent in various posts and during all years of the war.

Mr. Noe returned to Java, where he continued his work with the Civil Service in the Netherlands. He was in the Netherlands from 1942 to 1945, when he was transferred to the Dutch East Indies to work as a half agent in various posts and during all years of the war.

Mr. Noe was born in 1910, was brought up in Java in 1910. He was educated in many different Government schools and worked up as an Assistant.

Mr. Noe's husband being Secretary to Parliament.

The last most attractive, vivid colouring and a delightful smile and must be a brilliant tennis player as some years ago he won the multi-covered Colours, was the most convincing effort which was made early on morning and went on to the early hours of the next. Every call had to be heeded and eventually transmitted to the great Collection Centre from all the games going on simultaneously all over the island of Java and had an hour of gardening and had an hour of tennis and had an hour of tennis in the ball ingeniously arranged by a special service lamp.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Noe enjoy a good game of golf while in South Africa, and a slight interest in it. Mr. Noe may be a great deal better than he gives the credit of. They are most impressed with the better side of the country. They are most impressed with the better side of the country. They are most impressed with the better side of the country.

KOLYNSO Dental Cream is the family favorite for four very good reasons:
KOLYNSO Cream reaches into every corner and crevice, where decay most often starts — that's first in importance, says Father.
KOLYNSO Smiles are brightest of all as the whole family shows — regular cleaning with KOLYNSO keeps teeth whiter and brighter than any tooth.
KOLYNSO Heavy Plaque rinses so fresh as the children — and it keeps their young teeth clean and healthy.
KOLYNSO is really economical says Mother (she buys it). "Only half-a-ounce on the toothbrush thoroughly cleans your teeth!"

RADIO PERSONALITIES IN KENYA By Lesley Clay

PROBABLY the most best known to listeners all over East Africa is that of Alan Babbe who joined Radio Kenya in 1952 as deputy programme manager. He soon started building his own programmes and one of them soon became popular for his reputation in radio as well as in the Colony, a radio star, to be known to the public.

Having taken a strong liking in Kenya from the start, he decided to remain here and was taken on as assistant manager of the Kenya Broadcasting Corporation. He has a wide knowledge of gramophone records and his own valuable collection in the London hills; his habit of announcing dance records over the broadcasting system is well known to many of his listeners. Alan says his hobby was music and records; now, in addition to his work, he is also a keen sportsman, an avid golfer, and he has the advantage of speaking French, Spanish, Dutch and Italian.

...remember, have you seen Koko?" THE MARTIN'S Story for The Children Patch Goes To The Rescue

PATCH was asleep in the garden. Koko, the parrot, decided to have a stroll on his own. He climbed down from the back of a chair and said: "I'm going exploring, clever Koko."

He walked along the pathway through the gate and out into the road. There was a brand of motor car which had driven over Koko. Koko had fallen and it tried to pick one of the trees, then he found a chimney up beside. "What a lot of bricks," squeaked Koko, taking a look. Just at that moment the back door of the house opened and the driver jumped, but he did not see the parrot. "What a lot of bricks," squeaked Koko, swiveling from side to side as the car began to move. But the driver was not looking at the parrot. The car was now several feet away from Koko. Koko was now standing in the middle of the road. "What a lot of bricks," squeaked Koko, looking up at the chimney.

...Now for this week's competition, children, copy the picture and write it on a separate sheet of paper. The picture is of a parrot, Koko, who has been taken to the hospital. The picture is of a parrot, Koko, who has been taken to the hospital. The picture is of a parrot, Koko, who has been taken to the hospital.

THEATRE ROYAL

IT IS WORTHY mention, yet somewhat surprising, that the life of William Shakespeare is the subject of the early piece. It deftly employs the dramatic, if slight, story of the man himself as a sort of background for the main plot which is in fact in originality it gains in sincerity and verity.

Future of the Electors' Union

MONDAY JANUARY 18 1963

To some time there have been a number of articles in the African press which have associated the Kenya Electors' Union movement with some of them. In fact, it is not of this political organisation which would support selected candidates as a general election. The fact is that, as the party system is introduced in Kenya, the Electors' Union will be the Much will depend on course, on the extent of the "policy" trace which will be used in an end in a fortnight. It may be an uneasy truce, but within the whole country has been gradually reassured by the period of peace from strife at public meetings which it was allowed to enjoy. Unfortunately it is the dispute about the surrender of the ends of the peaceful quiet, and there is more dispute about to break the tie.

The principal functions of the Electors' Union have been to establish a common front throughout the Colony for the defence of the interests of public affairs especially in the areas of education, health and welfare. The main policy is to organise opportunities for the consideration of controversial issues, to keep elected representatives in touch with the opinions of the electors and to arrange for regular meetings of the Convention of Associations, which will be freely expressed and recommended to the Government by all are functions which are essential to the development of a colonial territory which is to be a free, active, informed and critical public opinion.

But there is no question of the Electors' Union as a political party or as an organisation which is to be a political party or as an organisation which is to be a political party. It is a political party or as an organisation which is to be a political party.

Kenya Tribe's Lesson In Self-Help

By ANTHONY LAVERS

BTWEEN the high hills over Kangundo and the mountains called Othman Sabak there is a pleasant landscape of brick houses, schools and terraced farmlands that would rival Spain. But this is Africa, not Europe, and parts of this valley were, a few years ago, places of desolation. Thanks to a few years of the Ashanti tribe of Kenya, who were driven from their lands by drought, soil erosion and over-cultivation, each year the soil would be washed away and the stunted cattle thinner.

Erosion

The hills then were devoid of vegetation that would have held the soil. There were no trees, no shrubs, no grass. The soil was washed away by heavy rain. The hillsides were eroded in gullies.
