WHO and what are the pygmies? They are mentioned by Herodotus, Aristotle, and in the legends that attribute both curiosity and compassion to the "little people." However, they have been "discovered" by modern hunters by chance. The word "pygmy" is a term of misnomer, very often used to describe the natives of the bush. All the pygmies that were described by modern hunters were of the same race, and they are now known as the "Hottentots" of the South African Republic. ### Registration

City campaign over dog registration

Nairobi's municipal authorities are to launch a drive against people who fail to register their dogs. It is estimated that 25 per cent of the dogs in the city have not been registered and the levy $1.50 per year.

The drive will start in earnest on July 1st. It is hoped that the majority of dog owners will register voluntarily before the levy is enforced.

The Council secretary, Mr. G. D. Duggan, said that the drive will be carried out by the dog wardens and the dog tax collector. He said that the levy will be used to pay for the dog wardens' salaries and the cost of the dog tax.

Mr. Duggan said that the drive will be carried out in a friendly spirit. He said that the dog wardens will be glad to help dog owners to register their dogs.

TEXAS CITY ENDS SCHOOL SEGREGATION

It has become the first major city to end racial segregation in public schools. The Texas City School Board has voted to desegregate the schools.

The board's decision was a landmark one. It means that the schools in Texas City will be open to children of all races.

The board's decision was met with approval by the community. It is hoped that other cities will follow its lead.

FROM THE BARBERSHOP TO HIGH FASHION

The barbershop has always been a place of style. It is a place where men go to get their hair cut and styled. It is a place where they go to get their faces shaved. It is a place where they go to get their suits cleaned and pressed. It is a place where they go to get their shoes shined. It is a place where they go to get their lives in order.

High fashion is a world of its own. It is a world of elegance and sophistication. It is a world of art and design. It is a world of beauty and grace. It is a world of power and influence. It is a world of dreams and aspirations. It is a world of hope and possibility.

Congo May Grow Itself

of natives leave the forest settle round towns and farms.

The population in the so-called metropolitan zone is expected to rise to 10,000,000 by the year 2000, and to 20,000,000 by the year 2050. The population of the Congo Basin is expected to rise to 100,000,000 by the year 2000, and to 200,000,000 by the year 2050.

The French and Belgian colonial powers have virtually monopolized the Congo Basin. The Congo Basin is expected to be a major source of raw materials for the industrialized world.

YOU'LL NEVER GUESS...

...that you're never given who wins in the Congo Basin. The Congo Basin is a vast area of land, and it is a mystery to many people. The Congo Basin is a vast area of land, and it is a mystery to many people.

THE KILLING OF KHOONI

THIS is the story of how a labour dispute killed Khooni the elephant. He was a star performer at the Heracles Circus, a clever, docile performer except for those occasions when his eyes clouded over and he became restless, because every now and then the elephant's discipline of the circus drives an elephant's thoughts to the freedom and companionship of the forest.

During those difficult periods, only his mahout (elephant boy) could handle the great beast. Other people, frightened by his behaviour, nicknamed him "Khooni the killer".

But he never killed anyone, not at every show, he behaved obligingly with his mahout, climbed over the bars, and allowed himself to be touched and dressed in the most degrading manner. Other people, frightened by his behaviour, nicknamed him "Khooni the killer".

MYSTERY DISEASE STRIKES FARMS

A MYSTERY disease has struck farms in Britain's country of Lincolnshire, and takes heavy toll of cattle. They call it the "grass sickness". It has brought sudden death to many valuable beasts.

There is no sign of a stroke or anything when the disease strikes. The beasts die within a few days of the onset of the disease. It is in fact dead before it kills the animal. Some cases have been known to occur before the animal was even born.

It is generally believed that the disease is caused by the larvae of the liver fluke, but several of the Lincolnshire farmers have been struck before being put out to grass. The disease is fatal.

TRIED, one day, his mahout

TRIED, one day, his mahout to shoot the elephant for a race. The manager refused and fired the mahout. As the show was about to begin, the elephant was immediately enraged and given charge of a woman by an attendant.

He killed her and the mahout allowed himself to be touched and dressed in the most degrading manner. Other people, frightened by his behaviour, nicknamed him "Khooni the killer".

Ray of hope

ONE promising factor for an increase in the mortality rate in the Congo Basin is that the population is expected to rise to 100,000,000 by the year 2000, and to 200,000,000 by the year 2050.

Higher living standards, particularly better health conditions, could prevent the mass exodus of the population. It is in fact dead before it kills the animal.

AFRICA MAY HAVE BEEN THE BIRTHPLACE OF MAN

SOUTHERN or Central Africa is now believed to have been the birthplace of man, the home of Adam's children.

Scientists in support of this theory have lately been uncovered proof by the discovery of the oldest stone tools known to man in the form of a 300,000-year-old spearhead found in the Orange River basin in South Africa.

These tools, which were first found in 1925, are of a type known as Oldoway, and are made of a volcanic rock called basalt. They are of a type which is found in the same area where the first fossils of man were first found in 1925.

WOMEN MAY LEAD THE WAY BACK

By Michael Holmberg

A WELFARE scheme which is in operation in the Central Province of Kenya may have a profound effect on the future of the tribe as a whole. It is a scheme which aims at getting at the "Widows" through their own efforts.

The scheme forms part of a larger programme of social reconstruction which began some years ago. It is a project which is based on the principle that the women of the African tribe are the backbone of the community. It is the women who are the ones who are the most affected by the war and the post-war situation.

On the left, women members of a village club are seen at work. The women are seen to be engaged in various activities, including the use of tools and the handling of materials. The scene is set in a rural environment, with a simple structure in the background.

Side by side
The activities are taking place in a room which has been set up for the purpose. The women are seen to be working together, with some standing and others sitting. The atmosphere appears to be one of focused activity.
