STOPPING STOCK THEFTS. Threat of Return to the Reserve. A Hand Example.

GEREY DELIVERED OVER SUSPECTS INFLUENCE OVER THE RESERVE.

As an instance of what can be done towards making the natives their own policemen, it is of interest to examine the evidence of stock theft in the Eldoret district since the beginning of the year.

It is estimated that in the first six months of the year there were over 50 cases of stock theft in the district and in nearly every case brought to conviction the delinquents were Nandi of the Kapchepko tribe.

A proposal was therefore made to return all the Kapchepko to the reserve as a means of stopping the stock thefts and giving effect to the proposal.

The Kapchepko chief lodged their claim that they were not allowed to remain where they were and that they were not satisfied with their claim.

RABIES IN KENYA.
Case Reported from Kakamega.

Equalizing Position with Europe.
 [STANDARD CORRESPONDENT] Durban, Sept. 13, (By Air Mail).
 The Italian shipping subsidy, apparently a pre-condition of the Hertzsog deal, is causing a lively controversy in South Africa.

One case of rabies has been reported from Kakamega since the outbreak of a last and necessary quarantine regulations have been enforced in the said district, dated September 14, issued by the Kenya Department of Agriculture.
 The report is as follows:
 Since the last report dated August 26, a case of rabies in a dog was confirmed by the Veterinary Research Laboratory, Nairobi, occurred at Kakamega in the North Kavirondo Reserve. The necessary quarantine restrictions have been imposed and the in-contact animals destroyed.

Under a special contract, the South African Government has undertaken to pay to certain Italian shipping companies an amount of £150,000 which will provide a regular service to East and West African ports.
 The service, if seen from the "Daily Mail" is to begin on March 1, 1934 and will be financed by the Italian Government. After the Ottawa Conference the Minister of Mines and Industries, Mr. A. P. J. Forde, visited various European countries including Italy. It is understood that negotiations had by then reached a considerable stage, and that Mr. Forde, who has always been anxious to have a regular ship service that exists at present between United and European ports, went fully into the question in connection with the Italian lines.

Results of a Successful Tournament.

Nairobi, Sept. 12.

Owing to rain every afternoon, the last match was not completed until Wednesday morning. As will be seen, the entries were extremely good, people coming from Gilgil, Nyeri, Thimbaru's, Thorpe, Chertin, and Roben, best from Falls, Bururuti, Nyeri, and Nainibale.

The outstanding competitor was Miss Dorothy Keeling, who won all her events easily, though at a higher class altogether. Perhaps the most exciting matches were those between Stanford and E. Cunningham. On Sunday they reached the 2nd set and five all in the third set. Play was begun again on Monday and went as far as the 3rd set, once more, when Stanford won by the last stroke.

The Ladies' Singles of this tournament has not the number of strokes of other Southern or Cumingham, but he makes up for this handicap by his extraordinary attendance, and is to be congratulated on his success over such formidable opponents. Colonel Cunningham lost the Men's Doubles fairly easily, and the latter had some difficulty in winning the Mixed Doubles with Miss Keeling as his partner. Miss Keeling and Miss Campbell, who had played herself to a standstill in the Ladies' Singles, proved a formidable couple for their opponents in the Ladies Doubles.

The Tournament has been a striking success, and augurs well for future years. The arrangements for the Tournament were in the hands of Colonel (Infantry) and went absolutely without hitch.

The results were as follows—

Men's Singles.

Cunningham best Hammond; De Souza best Basball; Grymer best Gossam; Allan best Vincent; Gough-Long best Lehmann; Bingley best Borewing; Stanford best Angus.

Second Round: Cunningham beat Ross; Campbell best Khan-ud-Dow; Soloko best Charles; Quaver best Pratt; E. W. Cunningham best Macken; De Souza best Grymer; Gough-Long best Allan; Stanford best Bingley; Gossam best Ross; Campbell best Quaver; E. W. Cunningham best De Souza; Stanford best Angus.

Singher Defeat Kinross Goals.

From a Correspondent's Column, Sept. 13.

Singher won at home last Saturday to the Kinross Goals and to the Nyeri Goals, but only the latter field not been so heavy from recent rains. Cairns was responsible for both his defeat.

The Goals started badly and had 4 wickets down for only a run, when rain came to stop play. After retirement of each two hours' play was resumed on a sodden ground though the actual wicket was playable. It had now very little chance of dismissing their opponents. Tests which was necessary in order to obtain the full points as the bowlers were at a disadvantage with a wet ball and slippery footholds. The Goals, mainly due to a painstaking batting by Gomez, made a pennyworth of ground in the first over, but only failed when the last man was bowled in the final over of the day. NAIVASHA YACHT CLUB.

Exciting Racing in the Autumn Handicap.

[FROM A CORRESPONDENT.]

Naivasha, Sept. 11. A well-attended Committee meeting on September 10th it was decided that the club month races should be settled by a match between Ogrey (Dyer) and Kingfisher (Hemsted). These two races had been all sines throughout the year and tie for the lead with a score of 26 all. The match will probably be sailed about Kinross. A sub-committee of 3 sailing members was elected to try to clear the three "Stagers" and report on them to the next Committee meeting on October 8.

A New Cup.

In lieu of the monthly races the Club decided to offer a Cup for an "Autumn Handicap" event comprising 4 monthly races. The first of these was sailed on Sunday afternoon and a new starting system was tried out. Handicaps were allowed and sailed on the estimated basis of 1 hour per lap of the club course. Competing yachts started on individual guns and this method provided an interesting close finish—the first four boats crossing the line within 21 minutes.

GRASS FIRE HAZARD IN BRITAIN.

ONE OF MOST SERIOUS EFFECTS OF PROLONGED DROUGHT.

Widespread Destruction.

TROOPS IN GAS HELMETS CALLED OUT TO FIGHT THE FLAMES.

One effect of the continued drought in Britain has been the outbreak of grass and moorland fires in many parts of England, particularly the South.

Troops, wearing gas helmets, have had to fight the flames for hours, their efforts being directed chiefly at preventing the fire spreading to valuable properties in the neighbourhood.

Traffic on the main roads has been held up by flames and one motorist, in order to save his life, had to abandon his car which was quickly engulfed.

One of the British Broadcasting Company's wireless programmes had to be interrupted for half an hour while the engineers were employed in saving Brookland Park station from a fire which swept the fields surrounding the building.

Main Road Traffic Held Up.

London, September 17. (By Mail.)

Alford is now a "G.H.C." Fire Fighting Force all military duties have been suspended. On the way to the dry districts have been reported to be the worst of the south of England, and thousands of troops have been called out to help put them down. Especially has this been so near Worcester, where the Cedric Factory was in real danger, and in the vicinity of Aldenham, stretching away to Ayrsham. Nearly 1,000 acres of heath, including the famous heath of Tiffind and Freshwater in the Island of Brydey were involved. The Cedric Factory, Alton, and Grosby's big bridges were engaged in fighting the fire, and a number of troops and their families acted as beaters. There was an incendiary of water and hand to hand from cottages by the main road.

The fire originated by the roadside near Tiffind Church, and spread by a strong breeze, spread with great rapidity. This was the area over which the 11th London Command manoeuvre, and blank cartridge dropped. The fire was being extinguished in large numbers. It is stated that the last work done was for a few hours, and the fire was extinguished.

Mr. Lloyd George helped himself to his estate at Court, Surrey. As soon as he heard of the danger to cottages near Broomfield Hill, Mr. Lloyd George made his way through the streets to the cottages. The cottages were saved.

was burnt out together with a fire of about 50 acres. Workmen from the estate ploughed up adjacent land in order to keep the fire in check.

Alarm's Warning. Lights of the anti-aircraft searchmen have been in operation, in the case of a message that the fire had been taken in order to Woodland, near Guildford. The fire was extinguished by the fire engine.

The driver of an express train from Southampton to Waterloo gave an alarm when a fire broke out on the main line at West Farm, near Winchester. The train was stopped and the fire was extinguished by the fire engine.

Fire Scouts Help. Fifty firemen and Boy Scouts took a fire which swept across the main road between London and Epsom, near Epsom. The fire was extinguished by the fire engine.

The Government Committee appointed to review the workings of the Resident Native Labourers Office of 1925 has just reported.

The decision to inform was made to enable members of the committee to have a full view of the situation, for they have to report what amendments are necessary to the committee.

At the October sitting it is probable that the committee will be asked to consider the question of the preparation of the drafts for local government.

Wishes of the committee are likely to refer mainly to improvements in the local government itself with a view to the preparation of the drafts for local government.

USES OF THE DOG. Helping to Curb Styish Women. (By Air Mail.)

The dog is now a very fashionable pet, and is being used in many ways. One of the most interesting uses of the dog is as a watchdog.

Elephants trampled with fear before their cages, and more than 100 were rushed across the road to safety when a building near a circus at Gloucester caught fire on Saturday. The building was destroyed.

Craven's

"A teacher of singing writes"

"I have smoked Craven's for many years and have found it to be the best cigarette I have ever smoked. It is a very delicate throat."

Table with 2 columns: Club Name and Score. Includes teams like Aston Villa, Arsenal, and Tottenham.

They never make me cough & I happen to have a very delicate throat.

Craven's are very firm in their original, fine condition of manufacture. The only way you can get them fresh, with all their goodness, is to buy them in a world of difference from a cheap Craven's and any cigarette which has gone through the hands of a cheap press wrapper.

GALVANISED FENCING . . . WIRE

Johnson's Special Light No. 8

"This light and remarkably efficient wire is very much stronger than ordinary No. 8, yet only about half the stretch or elongation of the latter. Hence it makes an extremely durable fence, capable of resisting the ordinary 'chomp' No. 6 is usually so soft that when, in making a fence, tightening up commences, the wire will stretch and will stretch or elongation continues until the fence is greatly weakened, or even broken."

If your usual No. 6 wire has pulled out to No. 9 in stretching up, or has stretched in an odd way, you can so render the fence tauter, try Johnson's Special (Light No. 8).

WHAT IS EAST AFRICA DOING ABOUT THE SOY BEAN?

A Genuine Chinese Antique.

RAW MATERIAL FOR FACTORY AND FOOD SUPPLY.

East Africa should take an interest in that genuine Chinese antique—the Soy Bean.

- Here are some of the uses of the vegetable—
- Oil for soap making.
- Oil for varnish and paint.
- Food for human consumption.
- Substitute for meat, eggs, and milk.

The Kenya Department of Agriculture has issued the following extract from an article entitled "The Soy Bean Industry in the United States."

An American View.

Although China has long appreciated the oil in being used in steadily increasing quantities.

For Food.

The average Chinese lives on but few days a day. This is not a myth, nor is it merely a sign of abject poverty; it is a simple statement of fact. In the United States, the average American consumes about 100 lbs. of food a day. The Chinese consumes only about 25 lbs. of food a day. The difference is due to the fact that the Chinese diet is based on rice, which is a staple food. The Chinese diet is also based on soy beans, which are a staple food. Soy beans are a rich source of protein and other nutrients. They are also a good source of oil. The oil from soy beans is used for cooking and for making soap and varnish. The protein from soy beans is used for making food products. Soy beans are also used for making ink and paper. The Chinese diet is a healthy diet. It is based on natural, unprocessed foods. It is also a diet that is easy to digest. The Chinese people are healthy and long-lived. This is due to their diet and their way of life.

Oil Making.

The richness of the soy bean has been known to the West since the 18th century. It has been used for making soap and varnish. The oil from soy beans is also used for making ink and paper. The protein from soy beans is used for making food products. Soy beans are also used for making medicine. The Chinese people use soy beans for many purposes. They are a versatile crop. They are easy to grow and they yield a lot of food. Soy beans are a good crop for East Africa. They can be grown in a variety of climates. They are also a good source of income for the farmer. Soy beans are a crop that the farmer should consider growing.

The Western technique has developed three processes: (1) solvent or wet process. In this method chemicals are used to extract the oil from the beans. (2) hot air process. In this method the beans are heated and the oil is pressed out. (3) cold air process. In this method the beans are heated and the oil is pressed out. The cold air process is the best. It produces the highest quality oil. It also produces a high quality meal. The meal is used for making food products. Soy beans are a crop that the farmer should consider growing.

Fuel of Protein.

It was mentioned that the soy bean contains about 40 per cent of protein. This is a high percentage. Protein is an essential nutrient. It is needed for the growth and development of the body. Protein is also needed for the repair and replacement of worn-out tissues. Soy beans are a good source of protein. They are also a good source of other nutrients. Soy beans are a crop that the farmer should consider growing. They are a crop that can help the farmer improve the health and productivity of his farm. Soy beans are a crop that the farmer should consider growing.

It appears that there should be a new view as to a full measure of the soy-bean oil produced in the country as has as a more diversified and more profitable and more competitive. Soy beans are a crop that the farmer should consider growing. They are a crop that can help the farmer improve the health and productivity of his farm. Soy beans are a crop that the farmer should consider growing.

Soy-bean oil has certain properties which make it more valuable to the paint and varnish industry than would be a more diluted oil for these uses. For instance, it is particularly well adapted for use as a wood preservative. These notes are given only over and they hold their original tests remarkably well in a

FARMERS' ATTACK BUTTER LEVY

TRANS NZOLA AND UASIN GISHU ALLEGE UNFAIR TREATMENT.

Paying for Other Districts.

ELDOROT MEETING FAVOURS EARLY ERECTION OF A LOCAL CREAMERY.

Dairy farmers in the Trans Nzoia and Uasin Gishu areas are critical of the Butter Levy which they suggest is operating unfairly.

As the districts are too far from the nearest Co-operative Creamery for cream to arrive in first class condition, the argument is advanced that the dairy farmers are not only compelled to sell their farm butter at unremunerative rates but are contributing a large sum to the cess fund, none of which comes back to them.

There is a strong movement on foot to establish a Creamery for the two areas and the support of Government and of the Co-operative Creamery will be sought.

Exemption Alternative.

ELDOROT, September 15.—A largely attended public meeting of Dairy Farmers held at the Pioneer Hotel, Eldorot, on Monday evening, September 15, discussed the question of the Butter Levy. The meeting was presided over by the Rev. J. G. Gillett, Minister of the Wesleyan Church, and Mr. J. O'Brien, who acted as secretary.

That these are not unjustified claims is shown by the fact that the best quality farm butters from a farmer that has regularly supplied the market for years in the last few weeks has retailed at Shs. 1/15.

He had however been round the millers and farmers collected on the 100,000 lbs. of farm butter a week in Kidero, representing Shs. 100,000 per week in the case of 2000 per acre, and this did not take into account the butter that was sold in the market.

Now she knows what clean hands mean

She used to think that washing hands before meals was such unnecessary bother. Then mother explained that hands gather germs from almost everything they touch, and that germs may cause illness unless Lifbuoy is allowed to do its work. She doesn't want to be ill, so she doesn't want to miss games and spend boring days in bed. So now she wouldn't miss her Lifbuoy wash for anything. "And," says mother, "I'm sure that's why she hasn't had a day's illness for ages."

MOMENTOUS TALKS ON DISARMAMENT

PROBLEM DISCUSSED AT PREMIER'S BREAKFAST TABLE

Important Paris Meeting.

SITUATION SAID TO BE A LITTLE EASIER THAN IN JUNE LAST.

Although the position in regard to disarmament was declared to be rather easier than in June last, the difficulties of reaching any sort of agreement acceptable to all the Powers are known to be very great.

The General Commission of the Disarmament Conference meets in a month's time at Geneva and strenuous efforts are now being made to adjust the points of view of the principal European countries.

Little Hope of Immediate Advance.

[FRANCIS BRETHER'S AGENCY.]

Paris, Sept. 19.

"Equality of the collapse of disarmament," said the New York Times, "is the only alternative." But in Paris, the situation is not so simple.

It is added that fully armed nations who were less disposed than to disarm had no right to be taken into Germany like a subordinate. Germany would not later than the Versailles spirit and would not accept the idea of disarmament which was internally applied.

London, September 18. Momentous preliminary talks comprising in the crucial differences on disarmament before the first administrative meeting of the Disarmament Conference at Geneva on October 16 were held in both London and Paris.

Mr. Norman Davis, the United States representative, is expected to take part. The talks will be resumed tomorrow. Mr. Norman Davis is expected to take part.

Baron von Neurath.

The only point on which France is likely to yield is the duration of Germany's preparatory period. It is expected to arrive in London by the train for Paris, which will confer with French statesmen.

Paris Conversations.

At 11 a.m. Lord Tyrrell, the British Ambassador, Mr. Anthony Eden, Under Secretary for Foreign Affairs, Lord Coleridge and Mr. Maurice Hankey, Secretary to the committee of Imperial Defence, met M. Paul Boncour at the Quai d'Orsay in order to wrestle with the situation. M. Boncour is expected to take part in the discussions later in the day.

President's View.

Mr. Arthur Henderson, President of the Disarmament Conference, who left London for Paris today to take a hand in the conversations, after which he will continue his journey to Geneva.

Interviewed by Reuters prior to the departure of the bus train, Mr. Henderson said he recognized that the situation had become more tense.

Wide Divisions.

Paris, September 18. Wide divergences of view over the present of the proposed France Commission for the control of armaments were revealed at this morning's meeting between British and French statesmen.

Mr. Arthur Henderson, the chairman of the Disarmament Conference, met M. Paul Boncour this morning and is leaving for Paris tomorrow.

More Hopeful Note.

Mr. Daladier.

London, Sept. 18. Mr. Daladier, the French Premier, is expected to arrive in London tomorrow. He is expected to arrive in London by the train for Paris, which will confer with French statesmen.

French Proposals.

It is known that the French Government strongly favour modifications designed to lighten up the proposals for disarmament in the British Draft and to make them more automatic and periodical.

They also desire that disarmament should be divided into two stages: preparatory and final. One of the main purposes of the preparatory stage is to discover in more detail the scope of the French proposals, while recognizing the necessity for the preparatory stage to be a concrete agreement on such matters as the questions of the machinery to be used, to be tackled later.

No Early Election in Irish Free State.

MR. DE VALERA REACHES AGREEMENT WITH LABOUR.

Warning to Opposition.

Prospects of an early development in the political situation in the Irish Free State have become more remote. Owing to the co-ordination of the Opposition led by Mr. Cosgrave, the balance of power was placed practically in the hands of the small Labour group.

Mr. De Valera has now announced, however, that an agreement on all major issues has been reached between the Republican and Labour parties.

Criticism of His Supporters.

Mr. De Valera, President of the National Irish Free State Executive, addressed a meeting attended by 20,000 people at Cork today when he announced that his Government would develop under the cover of party politics.

The President did not spare his own supporters. He condemned recent raids and similar "shameful incidents" warning the authors that they were not only endangering the British cause but also covering every same, patriotic Irishman.

The Foreign Secretary, Sir John Simon, has been invited to appeal to the Pope in connection with the disarmament negotiations.

 Report Expert Dismisses With Finding.
 The Fuel Research Institute recently issued with the report of the Fuel Research Institute has been expressed by Dr. J. W. FOR THE CONFERENCE OF AFRICAN GOVERNMENTS. HAD RECEIVED £15,000 IN FIVE YEARS.

CALLED ON INVITATION OF BRITISH GOVERNMENT.

Wide Range of Problems.

PRESERVATION AIMS IN LIGHT OF ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT.

An International Conference of Powers interested in Africa will be held in London to discuss questions affecting the preservation of the wild life of the continent.

The last Conference was held in 1900 and the Convention was never ratified.

Owing to the changes which have taken place in Africa and owing also to the need for defining the status of the African in regard to slaughter of game, a new Convention is required.

One of the most important questions will relate to the establishment of National Parks and their relation to native woodland and use.

The "Vested Interest" of the Native.

London, (By Standard Correspondent.) The big game problems of East Africa will be given special prominence at an important African Conference which will be held in London to discuss the preservation of wild life in Africa.

The last and only International Conference dealing with wild life was held in London in 1900. The conference was not ratified by the signatories, was generally criticised by those who attended and constituted a charter under which no restrictions were made on the main instruments of control, game laws and, in addition, the declaration of areas as sanctuaries.

It is hoped that the coming conference will, with the help of the experience which has accumulated in the last thirty-two years, be able to agree on the terms of a convention which will, with regard to the economic progress now in progress in Africa, bring the preservation of the surviving species for many years to none.

The 1900 Agreement. In an article on the London Convention of 1900 written in May 1930, the European Powers who controlled territories in Africa signed a Convention for the preservation of wild animals, birds, and fish in Africa. Article 2 defined the measures considered to be efficacious in conserving the objects of the Convention.

Article 8 laid down that within one year from the date of the Convention the contracting parties, in accordance with the provisions of Article 2 would be promulgated. Further, within six months the constitution of the reserves mentioned in Article 2 would be determined and submitted to each of the parties by all the signatories.

This Convention was unfortunately not ratified, but effect has nevertheless been given to its provisions in most territories in British Africa.

A Review. It is therefore interesting at this juncture to review in brief the extent to which the main undertakings of the Convention have been carried out in British territories in Africa.

A few years ago the reserves question was reviewed and a Game Department was also organised. The present reserves are as follows:

- approx. 2,000
- Goshi-Banyoro Reserve 2,000
- Senki Reserve 200
- John Edward Reserve 206
- Florida Reserve (Northern Mountain) 17
- Imbabura (for Site) 37 (tentative)

Credit must be accorded to the Government for most of these sanctuaries.

The main interest in Uganda centres round the elephant question and the buffalo probably comes next. The elephant is found in large and in the course of movement in search of food is undoubtedly doing considerable damage to cultivation.

Some conflict of opinion has arisen regarding the procedure, but the matter is being dealt with by the Government has come into operation, which means that some 100,000 are being killed, especially employed for the purpose.

Kenya Colony. In accordance with the provisions of the Convention, game laws were first issued in 1900, and two large reserves were declared, viz. the Southern and the Northern. Further, a game ranger was appointed to the Southern Reserve.

Tanganyika Territory. When the Mandate for this Territory fell to Great Britain after the First World War, the Government of the German had, in accordance with the provisions of the Mandate, established the Northern and Southern Reserves, but little had been done to put these into effect.

Kenya Reserve, 1,400 sq. miles.

Langai Reserve, 2,000 sq. miles.

Tangani Reserve, 2,000 sq. miles.

Chikungu Reserve, 2,000 sq. miles.

Northern Rhodesia. When the Convention of 1900 was signed, what is now called Northern Rhodesia was administered by the B.S. Co. and the arrangement with that body, game legislation was promulgated by the administrator in November, 1900, and amended from time to time.

It is interesting to note that trapping of all kinds was specifically forbidden and no native could be employed to kill or capture game.

Approx. 2,000

about 1,000 square miles of the Game Reserve was, within the last few years, being delimitated and the Government is in the process of "Reversion".

The Game Reserve was mainly designed to protect the game which is consistently poached by natives from the B.S. Co. and the Government.

Co-operation needed. It is a fact that in the past the game laws of the Administrative Branch and the Game Department have not always been in evidence.

Arriving in the country in 1914 with £50, Mr. John Yeatley formerly of Hongai, on Friday afternoon in the Bushyprong district, with a deficit of capital of £10,000, he was nearly ruined.

The Official Receiver complained that while thousands of pounds had been advanced to Mr. Yeatley's hands, he had not kept a single book.

MR. T. J. O'SHEA'S POLITICAL POLICY.

A Three Years' Plan of Reconstruction.

Native Needs.

RELATIONSHIP OF EMBODIED MEMBERSHIP AND GOVERNMENT.

The Hon. Mr. T. J. O'Shea, the Member of the Kenya Legislative Council for Plateau South, addressed a meeting at the Norfolk Hotel, Nairobi, on Wednesday evening on a "Political Policy and Programme for Kenya."

Mr. O'Shea prepared for the meeting a statement of his views under the main headings and his speech at the meeting on Wednesday was mainly an explanation and expansion of the points in his prepared "policy and programme." He regarded it as an "initial attempt to interpret the constructive mind of the country in its efforts to work out a National Policy and Programme to which the majority or possibly all the candidates at the forthcoming General Election might subscribe." He suggested that the various constituencies would then be invited to endorse the Programme eventually approved "and to elect the Representatives best fitted to carry it into effect."

THE POLICY.

Mr. O'Shea's Statement of Policy and Programme reads: "The ultimate aim of the Government is to establish a self-governing country which will be able to take its place among the nations of the world."

The country being generally agreed upon ultimate aims and recognizing that they are not immediate facts, our duty is to deal with and solve the problems of the present and the immediate future in such a manner as will hasten the attainment of such 'ultimate aims."

Our ultimate aim should be the establishment of a self-governing nation of the Empire bound to Great Britain by the strongest ties of loyalty to the Crown arising from a common faith and devotion to a common tradition, we hold it as our right—and so as a consequence that will result in circumstances warrant the introduction of a constitution on a permanent basis, we are bound to bring about a measure of control over the Legislature and such immediate influence over the Executive as is warranted by the growth of our permanent institutions in the country and our fitness to govern.

Our constitutional progress having been seriously retarded during the past ten years in the inability of the Imperial Government to frame an East African Policy, we demand reinstatement of the policy of self-determination to the Colonists with a view to settling the Colonists with the responsibilities of Government. And the immediate introduction of a Statutory Standing Committee on Finance with a majority of elected Members, or the setting up of such other machinery as will give the Colonists representative influence over the Executive as is warranted by the growth of our permanent institutions in the country and our fitness to govern.

Legislative Council.

The position of Elected Members of Legislative Council is not satisfactory. It is a body of representatives of the people. The Government should be prepared to accept the fact that it is a body of representatives of the people. It should not be a mere rubber stamp for the Government. It should be a body which can exercise its right to amend or reject any Bill presented to it.

As determined by the extent to which Government policy is set in its capacity, we, as a party, will not only be active but will actively oppose it. The Government's policy and programme are not only a matter of principle but also a matter of fact. It is a matter of fact that the Government is not only a matter of principle but also a matter of fact. It is a matter of fact that the Government is not only a matter of principle but also a matter of fact.

This does not mean that we are not in favour of the Government's policy and programme. It means that we are in favour of a Government which is responsible to the people. It means that we are in favour of a Government which is not only a matter of principle but also a matter of fact. It is a matter of fact that the Government is not only a matter of principle but also a matter of fact.

This is a demand for an increase in the number of Elected Members of Legislative Council. It is a demand for an increase in the number of Elected Members of Legislative Council. It is a demand for an increase in the number of Elected Members of Legislative Council.

Brilliant Team Work by the Wallabies.

LESSONS OF THE TOUR. Rival Captains Interviewed.

'STANDARD' CORRESPONDENT. Western Province beat Wallabies today in the final match by 4 points to 3.

It was a thrilling one and a fitting climax to the tour.

There is no doubt that the Wallabies' Rugby XV proved themselves the most popular combination ever to visit the Union.

They were a team full of surprises and nearly every player showed himself when they should have lost.

They were and when they should have won.

Their captain, Mr. A. W. Ross, the Australian captain, was also interviewed.

He said that his team in the last Test, was not of universal satisfaction; and he himself must have left the field greatly pleased with his performance in it.

GALVANISED FENCING... WIRE

JOHNSON'S SPECIAL FENCE LIGHT N.B.

The enclosing letter on the subject of the stymie is published in the Standard.

The ordinary "chop" N. is usually so soft that when in a fence, tightening up commences, the wire begins to stretch, and the stretching or elongation continues until the fence is greatly weakened, or even ruined.

It is heavily galvanized by the Patent Hot Dip CRAPRO process which finally kills the coating of spelter to the wire, thereby ensuring long life— a feature of the utmost importance to the user.

Johnson's Special (Light No. 8) is a very good fencing without being stiff, and packs and knots well. It will stretch and resist without breaking.

It yields readily and evenly without springing or breaking, is undoubtedly the best stout fence wire in the world.

A New Industry for Tanganyika.

FAVOURABLE REPORT ON COCOA GROWN AT TANGA.

Extended Planting.

ENCOURAGING VIEW BY ACTING DIRECTOR OF AGRICULTURE.

An Assured Market.

The possibility of Tanganyika developing a cocoa industry was referred to by the Acting Director of Agriculture in a recent address to the Dar es Salaam Chamber of Commerce.

It was revealed that experts in Britain had reported it most favourably on cocoa produced in the Territory and that a market could be found for considerable quantities.

The richness of the Eastern Usambaras was emphasized and it was stated that the district was crying out for development.

["STANDARD" CORRESPONDENT.]

The dar es Salaam (By Mail). Tanganyika exports of cocoa of raw cocoa valued at £317 in 1921; and 70 cwt. valued at £124 in 1922 to the United Kingdom.

Home chocolate manufacturers has reported most favourably on Tanganyika cocoa.

It is stated the produce from a Tanga district estate among of the best in cocoa-producing estates in the world and its willingness to take considerable quantities of the Tanganyika produce.

Extension of plantings and trials are now being arranged to decide the limits of cultivation in the Eastern Usambaras and in the Tanga district.

Attention to the effect was made by Mr. Washford, the Acting Director of Agriculture and the Director of the Dar es Salaam Chamber of Commerce on the work of officers of his department.

There were three kinds of cocoa of which Forastero was the most common in the world, and the Criollo the most important to the Territory. It was one of the few high potent commodities for which there was an increasing demand with diminishing supplies due to its habits of easily growing with the more common types.

There were fortunate to not having large areas of mixed types and the control of new plantings to maintain a pure type of Criollo was under consideration.

Big Sango Estate, Tanga, has already expanded Criollo cocoa and the chocolate firm of Terry has been producing chocolate of the best type estates in the world; they had estimated that they would take considerable quantities of Tanganyika cocoa and estimated that stocks were being carried out to decide the limits of cultivation in the Eastern Usambaras and in the Tanga district.

The Tanga district is one of the best in the world and its richness of the Eastern Usambaras was emphasized and it was stated that the district was crying out for development.

Air Mail Route Across the Atlantic.

North Atlantic Air Survey.

COL. LINDBERGH'S NORTHERN SURVEY.

Interest in Europe.

The survey of the Northern Atlantic by Colonel Lindbergh with a view to the inauguration of an air mail service between Europe and America is attracting the attention of Britain, France and Germany, and it is expected that the commercial air lines of these countries will cooperate in the scheme.

The projected scheme is for a summer service across the Northern Atlantic via Iceland and Greenland, and a winter service via the Azores and Bermuda. The Northern service, it is anticipated, will use Copenhagen as its European terminus, in which case it is likely that Britain will organize a shuttle service between Croydon and the Shetlands.

The first reports of Colonel Lindbergh's survey have been very favourably received in London.

International Co-operation.

Dublin (by air mail). Greenland, Iceland, the Faroes, and the Shetland Islands, proceeding to the mainland in the neighbourhood of Copenhagen. In such an event there is no doubt that a shuttle service will be established between the Shetland Islands and Croydon air port, thus establishing practically direct communication between London and the Shetland Islands. The proposed trans-Atlantic journey would be about half that now taken by air.

The Southern Route. The southern route has got to be investigated, but it is understood that Col. Lindbergh will extend his tour to complete a circumnavigation of the world.

Acting Under Col. Lindbergh's direction, the French-German project of the southern route is being projected this autumn, but is expected to start in 1934.

It is well known that Imperial Airways are anxious to extend their activities to an Atlantic summer and winter service. Such a service must be run in complete collaboration between the companies concerned on both sides of the Atlantic.

It is also recognized that the project just below the Arctic Circle must be regarded as a summer service. Later on investigations must be made in regard to the possibility of a winter service via the Azores and Bermuda.

BLOOD DONORS.

New Form of Good Deed for Scouts.

Blood transfusion is becoming a more and more important part of the Rover Division of the B.S.A. "Sunday" Day Scouts, says the Scoutmaster.

Scoutmaster. In the beginning of this week Mr. Woods arrived at the Scout office and was met by the Scoutmaster.

It was stated in London that the first reports of Col. Lindbergh are altogether favourable to the tentative establishment of a regular air mail service in the summer months between London and Croydon via the North Atlantic route.

A MACHINE TO "SAY WHEN"

Marvels of Robot Arithmetic. British Invention.

One of the latest traditional strongholds of the Scot is under siege. It will capitulate. Nothing can save it. Machine that will "say when" in any circumstances has been produced at the National Physical Laboratory, Teddington, under the Department of Scientific and Industrial Research.

Where, in the name of goodness, is the work halting. The robot, worked by electricity, is called the "invariable ray," has almost unlimited accuracy in its work.

The control of theatre and other queries by such automata as "First five rows, full," "Last twenty seats," and "House full," the latter to be followed after a warning light by the automatic closing of the doors.

The measurement of engine loads, the highest speeds available, and the control of factory production, the output of conveyor belt supplies when any specified load or packages has been delivered.

The machine can be set in advance to count the number and then "traced" to detect whatever error is appropriate in the performance.

The First Use. Yet its original purpose was nothing more spectacular than to verify a more conventional method of measuring the output of new types of domestic electricity meters.

There was also a small room in the factory where the young of dancing was given their pleasure seriously on these occasions and full evening dress was favoured by the young ladies.

Tora Bora was at the top of its form and throughout the evening both for the specialists and the public, played a most enjoyable and carefully selected dance programme.

Keen competition was provided in all classes and the judges who undertook the task of preliminary selection, leaving the final decision largely to the public.

There was a measure of attention to step and style which suggested that the most championships which will do double duty as more widely supported—especially from the even higher standard in the art.

The winners in each event were: Walker 1 Mr. and Mrs. de Winter; 2 Mr. and Mrs. de Winter; 3 Mr. and Mrs. de Winter.

The judges were: Lady Delamere, Mr. Arnold, Miss Murray, Mrs. Maxwell and Mr. Colombo and the prizes were presented by Lady Delamere.

The whole evening was thoroughly enjoyable and the organizers, Miss Arnold and Mrs. de Winter, look forward quite confidently to the next championship programme.

It could turn out to be a very profitable one, especially if the public are as keen as they were on this occasion.
