The Crisis And Ourselves

The only side we have as well as to the way in which East Africa, as part of the Colonial Empire, will be expected to play its part in the "sterling crisis" in Britain is what is referred to in the Dominions. Many are of the opinion, it gives an erroneous impression of thought. Our circumstances naturally differ from those of the Dominions in sufficient degree for our problems to be considered separately. We trust, therefore, that in due course when the time comes for statements by our East African Governments will be sufficiently enlightening to resolve some of these questions.

What London Had To Say In 'Sterling Order Is First Fruit Of Washington Talks'

THE ANNOUNCEMENT from the Treasury in the Chamber of the Exchange, Mr. Hugh Cator, that the first fruit of the Washington talks has been suspended, is a sign that it is not an act of policy, but a recognition of overblown confidence.

Genuine Sympathy
The truly sincere of America in the Sterling crisis is that for America's "Genuine Sympathy" for the British Empire.

Threat To U.S.
The threat to the U.S. is that the world is being divided into two camps, the one led by the U.S. and the other by the British Empire.

Not Hopeless
It is not hopeless, but the U.S. must take steps to stabilize the situation.

Lasting Cure
The dependence of Britain on the U.S. is a lasting cure for the Sterling crisis.

How It Happened
The Sterling crisis happened because of the overvalued pound and the loss of confidence in the British government.

East Africa Celebrated India's Day Fittingly

INDIAN Independence Day last Friday was celebrated fittingly and with much good feeling throughout East Africa, as is reflected by reports from Standard correspondents:

NAKURU: An atmosphere of dignity marked the celebration in Nakuru. Decorations had been erected in the main street on Thursday night, and all Indian business premises were draped with large flags of India, and the streets were illuminated with Indian lamps. Greetings and congratulations were exchanged in the main street, as well as in private houses, at 8.30 p.m., when the midnight was striking in India.

As at 8.30 a.m. on Friday a procession of about 1,200 people started from the main street and proceeded along Levee Road and through the Indian Bazaar to Donald Avenue. The parade was led by the Indian Band playing "Patriotic airs." The parade was followed by men, women, and children of all ages. The parade was a grand success and the Indian spirit was everywhere.

THIKA: The ceremony started with Parades at 8.30 a.m. with a very good attendance. The parade was led by the Indian Band playing "Patriotic airs." The parade was a grand success and the Indian spirit was everywhere.

KENYA

To the Editor, "A Standard."
 I am a Kenyan and I am very sorry to see in your issue of the 10th August the following line of the article which is headed "The Kenyan Government and the British Government."
 "I am sure that the Kenyan Government will be glad to accept the proposal for the formation of a Kenya Federation with the British Empire."

It is a pity that the Kenyan Government has not yet accepted the proposal for the formation of a Kenya Federation with the British Empire. I am sure that the Kenyan Government will be glad to accept the proposal for the formation of a Kenya Federation with the British Empire.

Outposts Set In The Desert

The Union of South Africa produces large quantities of gold, wool and diamonds and it is with these commodities that the prosperity of the country is generally associated. There are, however, many other valuable industries, although in some instances their relative importance in the economy of the Union undergoes considerable fluctuations from year to year. The export of sugar, for example—declining steadily until 1942 when an upward trend developed. Good exports also continue to be obtained from the Union of South Africa. As a result of the marked decrease in comparison with the 1939 figure, wool exports are expected to be normal throughout the world from December onwards. Full and up-to-date information from the Director of the Department of Agriculture, available to merchants and manufacturers interested in trade with the Union of South Africa.

Soothed—Purified—Healed:
SELECTED wounds can quickly spread poison through the body, perhaps with fatal results. For safe, quick relief you should treat the affected part with Zam-Buk, the most efficient antiseptic healer, and cover with a clean bandage. The powerful herbal oils in Zam-Buk are wonderfully soothing. They soothe and soothe, soothing the wounds of pain and germ. This is the first step to safe healing. Quickly the inflamed and damaged skin tissues are restored to health, and the wound becomes strong and sound again.

CHESS NOTES

Elegant End After A Vienna Opening

ONE of the subtlest results of the move to Janssen's move, the Queen's gambit, was the discovery in Queen's Gambit. The first appearance in the international arena was in 1842 and had in the subsequent years of the century (the year of 1882) the last appearance in a big, important tournament was at Hastings in 1862, exactly 100 years after its invention. It was thought to have been discovered by the late Count de Sarrasin.

At all the chess clubs, the move in the last century (1800) generally led to the Queen's Gambit, and a move which was the first to be played in the 19th century. It was the first to be played in the 19th century. It was the first to be played in the 19th century. It was the first to be played in the 19th century.
