IN DIVISION II NEXT YEAR

Plymouth and Lincoln in promotion

WEDNESDAY evening's senior football matches played in England saw the promotion race from the two sections of Division III to Division II settled. In a series of goals that mean years will be written in the South and Lincoln City from the North.

Both have had Division II football experience before. Plymouth were there two seasons ago and Lincoln three seasons ago.

Lincoln were given a right to return to Division II by the County. They were a goal ahead when Stockport, who were conceding a goal from Lincoln, were given a 2-0 victory by the referee.

A 1-0 win, where Plymouth were within five minutes of a goal, Plymouth were given a 2-0 victory by the referee.

THE BRITISH RACING STORY

Little change in training methods

In the sports of British racing which I have reviewed so far in my series, evolution and change have been almost necessary recurring factors. But these elements are not much more noticeable in a study of trainers and their pupils.

The relative lack of change in method is not to be ascribed to the professional nature of the profession. Rather it is an indication of the fact that, for about a century and a half, British racing has remained amazingly constant in its present form, and has been infinitely excellent. There have always been excellent trainers who have learned to train horses to race. In fact, the British training system is the most successful in the world, and has produced the greatest number of winners at any time.

"I can never find Hott when I want him!"

What the manager said was true—Hott was never all his time standing from one department to another and the same thing went for the rest of the staff as well. The time shortage was appalling, until the production manager had a bright idea, and now our departments can contact one another in a matter of seconds.

PAINS IN THE BACK

Here's a way to relief

Do you know that a common cause of backache is the muscles? When they are healthy they help to support the weight of the body. When they are weak, they cannot do this and the weight of the body is borne by the spine. This causes the spine to curve and the muscles to become strained. This is the cause of backache.

SOMETHING OF INTEREST FOR EVERYONE

Agriculture Department's Show plans

The Department of Agriculture has been fortunate in the selection of a most attractive site for their permanent stand at Mitchell Park. It occupies a prominent position in line with the stands of the Forestry and Veterinary Departments.

For the 1952 show, three interesting displays will be on offer, between them offering something of interest to all sections of the public.

The Kenyan College of Agriculture's stand will display a number of interesting exhibits. The stand will be a display of the Department's work in the field of agriculture. It will be a display of the Department's work in the field of agriculture.

Land use

Students are prepared to take part in a display of land use. The display will be a display of the Department's work in the field of land use. It will be a display of the Department's work in the field of land use.

Third display

The third display is highly educational as it is felt that a large section of the public is unaware of the value of the land. The display will be a display of the Department's work in the field of land use. It will be a display of the Department's work in the field of land use.

NAIVASHA SUPPORT FOR COUNTY COUNCILS BILL

Settlers hear councillors' views

NAIVASHA County Council members held their annual meeting at the Second World War evacuated consideration of the Naivasha County Bill at the annual meeting of the Naivasha Association held under the leadership of Mr. A. W. Hopcraft.

Explaining that the Bill is designed to draw a picture of the Naivasha County Council, Mr. Hopcraft said that it would be a picture of the Naivasha County Council as it is today, and that it would be a picture of the Naivasha County Council as it would be in the future.

The resolution passed by the Council delegates to a D.O.C.O. reviewed the Bill in relation to financial and educational services. It stated that an overview had agreed and estimated, the proposed situation was most satisfactory. This was an objective and an achievement to be noted, and as far as possible was recommended to the Council in order to improve the Bill.

The rough plan of the Bill is that it should be a picture of the Naivasha County Council as it is today, and that it should be a picture of the Naivasha County Council as it would be in the future.

PREPARING FOR THE SHOW

MITCHELL PARK is going to be not only a showground but a show-place, as these pictures of the natural, shady beauty demonstrate. The Park is being prepared for this year's Kenya Royal Show, the first to be held in Nairobi since the war, on workmen are busy erecting the stalls and wire enclosures, while contractors are hard at work on the permanent structure of the trade section.

Moreover, and look in Mitchell Park the impression thrown by their indignance is one of a force without the undergrowth, a landscape starkly without any familiarity.

The buildings have been set as carefully placed and constructed, so that they do not outrage the natural

These pictures, by a staff photographer, illustrate the delightful surroundings at Mitchell Park, which will house the Kenya Show on June 14, 15, 16 and 17 this year. Above was Royal Show on June 14, 15, 16 and 17 this year. Above is a view of the tree-shaded paths of the new show-ground and (left) the main arena. surroundings. Some of the trade stands will be very fine indeed, as will the Government stands such as the Department of Agriculture's show headquarters.

The arena is a third bigger than Nairobi's and is flanked by stands capable of holding many thousands of spectators. Fine new buildings made will ensure that this arena is fully occupied throughout the four days of the Royal Show in June, with events of every kind to provide ample interest for the crowds.

There is a special railway siding for Mitchell Park, at Nairobi, which bounds the Park itself. This siding is ready for the busy period when cattle, horses, pigs, poultry, and farm produce are offloaded there.

Arrangements have been made so that there will be ample fair and restaurant space and the catering facilities are well in hand. In the case of Mitchell Park, they embrace provision for thousands of Africans, and attendants as well as spectators.

Flower beds have started on their decorative career, intended to bring a touch of color into the park. Spectators will for the most part be able to see what they want by strolling along grassy rides, between the trade stands and other exhibits.

ELIZABETHAN LINE IS NEW FOR HATS

AFTER the Elizabethan look for most comes the Elizabethan look for hats.
 Debutant hats have a new line in women, says Dorothy Bernice, and illustrated on this page are four of them.
 One that left us a lingering white impression with a frilling of stiff white organza and a touching ruff. A repeat-helm effect, reminiscent of a letter is seen on the right. It is carried out in muted areas paired with a ruff of white and red flowers.
 Decorative in the extreme is the Pink Hat. It has a soft, flowing veil of white tulle, and is accented with a high-crowned black straw, wide-brimmed hat on the right has its trim edged with white fuzzy straw.

Mix your own fruit cups

Of course you can buy the usual orange, lemon and pineapple, but it is much more exciting to make your own soft drinks—much more economical, too. So what about trying orange and lemonade?
 Peel six oranges and lemon very finely, cutting up the whole skin. Put the strips of peel into a bowl and pour over them about 1/2 cup of water. Let them sit for 24 hours, then strain through a fine sieve. This water is used in the following recipe.

WAS AFRICA DISCOVERED TOO LATE?

By Muriel Parcoe
 NEVER look at our landscape without wishing it could have been discovered in medieval times. Africa is a medieval country—the so-called "Dark Continent."
 It should have been discovered
 "Dark Ages."
 We should have come here with colors with trolleys, with wandering friars and monks, with castles and castles. All would have been there. The world would have been a different place if we had come here in the Middle Ages.

Misfits
 The medieval builders had a way of letting Nature decide who had the right of tenure. When Nature's hand was not strong enough, she was helped by the medieval builders. They built castles and castles
 in the most beautiful places. They built castles
 in the most beautiful
 places. They built castles
 in the most beautiful places.

Perhaps it's their simple loyalty

By Nona Bonner

I HAVE been fond of animals ever since I can remember. As a child I loved them instinctively, kindly because they were soft, cuddliness and playfully, our big Alreado dog because he was good natured with my children and could be relied on to take our cart against all-comers. I loved the rabbit with its little white scuts and long delicate ears; the milkmaid's content horse with the twitching tail, the managed and tame with the red ribbon.

All through my childhood I collected all sorts of pets, which occasionally died of disease or were lost. I carried out a small animal with misery until someone came along to replace it.
 But now that children are far beyond I have certain definite reasons for being animal-lovers. For one thing, they have been proved to be good for the human mind. It has been proved that children who have animals are more cheerful and less prone to depression. They are also more intelligent and more obedient. They are also more affectionate and more loyal. They are also more helpful and more cooperative. They are also more loving and more understanding.

Why I love them
 I LOVE the kind eyes of a puppy. I love the placidly of a cat. I love the softness of a rabbit.
 I love the loyalty of a dog. I love the content of a horse. I love the twitching tail of a rabbit. I love the manly of a dog. I love the tame of a horse.

Castles galore

THE STORY OF THE RHINE

Europe's largest trade route

On May 21, Queen Juliana of the Netherlands will open the new Amsterdam-Rhine Canal, which will give a new mouth to the River Rhine, linking Europe with the seven seas. The new canal—from the Rhine at Tiel to the North Sea at IJmuiden—will change the whole of the European waterways system. This article on the Rhine and Rhine traffic from an economic point of view is written by Dr. H. M. van Bueren.

Pre-war fleet

THE River Rhine has been one of the main arteries of Europe since the dawn of history. It has been the main artery of the North Sea basin since the dawn of the modern era. The main part of the Rhine navigation, however, is in the Low Countries and only a small part of the Rhine is navigable in the Alps. The Rhine basin is one of the most fertile in Europe and has been the main artery of the North Sea basin since the dawn of the modern era. The main part of the Rhine navigation, however, is in the Low Countries and only a small part of the Rhine is navigable in the Alps. The Rhine basin is one of the most fertile in Europe and has been the main artery of the North Sea basin since the dawn of the modern era.

Many problems

THE NETHERLANDS—a water country—has thus the very dry remains of a canal country. Several thousand inland ships are used for transport of Dutch transportation of 2,000 miles of Dutch inland waterways. Despite the fact that a waterway from the North Sea to the North Sea takes a week, the Rhine navigation is one of the most important in the world. The Rhine navigation is one of the most important in the world. The Rhine navigation is one of the most important in the world. The Rhine navigation is one of the most important in the world.

Sold sailing

NOTICE the fact that the Rhine in West Europe's most important pre-war fleet of sailing ships. The Rhine basin is one of the most fertile in Europe and has been the main artery of the North Sea basin since the dawn of the modern era. The main part of the Rhine navigation, however, is in the Low Countries and only a small part of the Rhine is navigable in the Alps. The Rhine basin is one of the most fertile in Europe and has been the main artery of the North Sea basin since the dawn of the modern era.

THE THINGS THEY SAY...

It was in Belgium, at British Columbia, in the spring and just when the birds were starting to sing. One little one had a very fascinating whirle, but the top note was about half a tone flat and it was very wailing in the wind. It was a very wailing in the wind. It was a very wailing in the wind. It was a very wailing in the wind.

Better than ever

Austria, Switzerland, France, Germany, Luxembourg, Denmark, Greece, and the Balkans. The Rhine basin is one of the most fertile in Europe and has been the main artery of the North Sea basin since the dawn of the modern era. The main part of the Rhine navigation, however, is in the Low Countries and only a small part of the Rhine is navigable in the Alps. The Rhine basin is one of the most fertile in Europe and has been the main artery of the North Sea basin since the dawn of the modern era.

WHAT LANGUAGE?

It has been a long time since language was in Billingsgate. The Rhine basin is one of the most fertile in Europe and has been the main artery of the North Sea basin since the dawn of the modern era. The main part of the Rhine navigation, however, is in the Low Countries and only a small part of the Rhine is navigable in the Alps. The Rhine basin is one of the most fertile in Europe and has been the main artery of the North Sea basin since the dawn of the modern era.

TASTES IN TIES

There have not been any ties in the Rhine basin. The Rhine basin is one of the most fertile in Europe and has been the main artery of the North Sea basin since the dawn of the modern era. The main part of the Rhine navigation, however, is in the Low Countries and only a small part of the Rhine is navigable in the Alps. The Rhine basin is one of the most fertile in Europe and has been the main artery of the North Sea basin since the dawn of the modern era.

County Councils Bill
To the Editor, "E.A. Standard":
Sir—The aim and object of the County Councils Bill is to join rural and urban districts to form a unitary system and to associate all towns under the European control and leadership.

The first consideration county settlers must give to their localities is to preserve the security of their Highways, and particularly the jobs of rural areas with urban areas may be all very well in European countries but in a country of mixed race, an anomalous situation may arise, where non-European have no land in the Highlands and Europeans have no land in the Native Reserves. I do not see how it can work.

As the natives have 50 per cent of the land in Kenya and are in the privileged position of being the sole security of land tenure, it is not surprising that they would not entertain giving up this privilege by forming European districts. It is not surprising that they would not entertain giving up this privilege by forming European districts.

AGRICULTURAL PRICE-FIXING Opinions of Commissioner REPORT BY MR. L. G. TROUP GOES TO GOVERNOR

RECOMMENDATIONS by the Commissioner, Mr. L. G. Troup, on the price to be paid for the 1951-52 season and wheat crops in Kenya, and on the price to be paid for price fixation, will be in the hands of the Governor this week.

Mr. Troup, having completed these two reports, has by back to the United Kingdom. He told the Governor that he had given to the latter his views on the price-fixation methods because of the fact that he is unable to do so himself.

He regards the main difficulty as being the finding of a price which will be acceptable to the Government in Britain and to the farmer in Kenya. He says that the Government in Britain will not be able to pay a price which is higher than the price paid for wheat in the United Kingdom.

AUSTRALIAN MUTTON FOR KENYA Rise in meat prices likely Supplies from Australia in Kenya from a 35-ton consignment imported by the Kenya Meat Commission.

Two and a half tons of the imported mutton were received and distributed to the various restaurants in Nairobi.

A further 30 tons of the mutton are expected to arrive in Nairobi from a 35-ton consignment imported by the Kenya Meat Commission.

There is a big difference in price between the mutton and the imported mutton. The mutton is sold at 1/6 per lb. and the imported mutton is sold at 1/3 per lb.

The price of mutton is expected to rise in the future because of the shortage of mutton in the United Kingdom.

ANOTHER FALL IN THE PRICE OF SISAL Decline from £230 to £170 in April

TOP-GRADE sisal suffered a further price fall this week to £170 Monday's price was £175, and the drop to £170 occurred on Tuesday, the figure remaining unchanged on Wednesday.

There are two main reasons for the drop in price, which at the beginning of April, stood at £230. The first is the shortage of sisal in the market.

The second reason is the increase in the price of sisal in the United Kingdom. This has led to a shortage of sisal in Kenya.

POLICE GUARD MINISTERS Extra men moved to Cape Town

A POLICE guard is now posted every night on the houses of all South Africa's Cabinet Ministers. It is estimated that about 20 extra policemen have been moved into Cape Town from various parts of South Africa.

This guard on Ministers is believed to be unprecedented in the history of the Union.

When General Smuts was Premier during the war only 10 extra policemen were posted on the houses of Ministers.

There had been a few cases of extra policemen being posted on the houses of Ministers during the war.

Co-operative store changes to cash only

The East African Co-operative Society, Ltd. has decided to change its policy and to operate as a cash-only store.

Two reasons

The first and most important reason is to conserve the Government's resources and to ensure that the Government's money is used as efficiently as possible.

Intention

The present intention was to create a new type of co-operative store which would be able to compete with the Government's stores.

Comments

Commented Mr. Campbell that the new co-operative store would be a great benefit to the community and would help to reduce the Government's expenditure.

Two-thirds credit

Until yesterday, a third of the Kenya Government's revenue was derived from the sale of land.

Nyeri meetings

Mr. Campbell's views on the Nyeri meetings were that the Government should continue to support the co-operative movement.

Under the Standard Clock

The Kenya Standard Clock is a reliable timepiece which is used by many of the Government's departments.

TOTTENHAM ARE RUNNERS-UP Arsenal pushed into third place

TOTTENHAM HOTSPUR last season's Football League champions, finished second in Manchester United's final match as a result of their away victory over their fellow Londoners, Chelsea, on Wednesday evening.

The two points they gained from victory in their final match, which enabled them to pass the final hurdle in the table.

Below the table Arsenal have finished third. They had to play their last points before their rivals, Tottenham, with a superior goal average.

As a result of their victory, Tottenham are now second in the table. Arsenal are now third.

Another feature of Tottenham's victory was that the defeated goalkeepers were kept in the squad for the second half of the match. Tottenham's victory was due to the fact that they were able to score two goals in the second half of the match.

Protest to League

Understandably, the League's insistence that the match should be played without being suspended, was not the only reason why Tottenham's protest was not successful.

Easy for Scotland against America

At Hamilton Park, Glasgow, on Wednesday evening Scotland easily beat the United States international side, scoring five goals without reply.

THE BRITISH RACING STORY

Tod Sloan starts a revolution

It's British racing, like the horse he rides today, that is a creature of a previous evolution which distinguishes the modern jockey sharply from his earliest predecessors.

Whereas, however, the development of today's jockey is the result of a gradual process of evolution, the changes in the jockey's position have been the result of a revolution which has taken place in the last few years.

THE GROWTH OF KENYA'S DAIRYING INDUSTRY

SEVENTY years ago three small enterprises - creameries - were set up by farmers in the Highlands at Nairobi, Naivasha and Muramba, and Kenya Co-operative Creameries Limited to form the Kenya Co-operative Creameries. Limited. In the first year the K.C.C. had 1,000 cows and produced 10,000 gallons of butter. In 1952, 100,000 gallons of butter worth £100,000 were sold to the London market after 20 years' steady development.

As with most agricultural developments of the major east of Africa, Kenya's dairy industry is a product of the white man's hand. The first creamery was set up at Nairobi in 1892. It was the first of a series of similar enterprises which were established in the Highlands and in the coastal strip. The Kenya Co-operative Creameries Limited, which was formed in 1906, is the largest of these enterprises. It has 100,000 cows and produces 100,000 gallons of butter annually. The Kenya Co-operative Creameries Limited is a public company with 10,000 shareholders. It is the largest dairy producer in Kenya and its products are sold in all parts of the world.

These pictures show the work of the Creameries. The man in the picture above is working the butter in the big revolving churn. The picture below is the packing floor at Nairobi Creamery. The butter is packed in 14lb. tins for export. Centra, butter being taken out of the tins, is packed in 100lb. casks for export. The butter is packed in a factory—the picture shows the butter before it is sent to the factory. The picture below shows the butter being packed in the modern pasteurizing plant and, bottom right, the man with the scales is about to commence butter into its export pack. The butter weighs the 14lb. import, showing it is Kenya Creameries produce.

development, there are eight enterprises at Nairobi, Molo, Naivasha, Thomson's Falls, Eldoret, Boko, Nakuru, Kisumu. They are listed in their order of seniority:

First general manager of the unincorporated Kenya Co-operative Creameries, the late Mr. J. D. C. Chadee, who remained in the job until his death in 1947. He was succeeded by Mr. J. D. Chadee, who was the first general manager of the Kenya Co-operative Creameries Limited for 11 years. He was succeeded by Mr. J. D. Chadee, who was the first general manager of the Kenya Co-operative Creameries Limited for 11 years.

Today it is widely recognized that Kenya's greatest industry is farming and that the dairy industry is a part of it. The dairy industry is a part of the farming industry and its development is dependent on the development of the farming industry. The dairy industry is a part of the farming industry and its development is dependent on the development of the farming industry.

RATES TO HELP THE HOSPITAL AT KITALE

TRANS NZOIA District Council and Kitale Municipal Council have decided to levy a rate on adult European rates in their areas to assist the Kitala European Hospital.

The District Councils were responsible for the erection of the hospital at the end of October last year and was forced to raise the rate to £1.5 a day of which £1.25 is recoverable from the European ratepayers and £0.25 from the African ratepayers.

M.P.'s question on wage boards

Mr. J. R. H. (Labour, South African) asked the Secretary of State for the Colonies in Parliament whether he was satisfied that the Government had taken any steps to assist the M.P.s in their efforts to improve the standards of living of the workers in these territories and in the development of effective machinery for the settlement of disputes.

THREE TOWNS TO PAY MORE FOR POWER

Tanganyika operating costs rise

DAF'S BALANCE. Mochi and Arusha are to pay more for power because of increased operating costs and the rapidly increasing load—states Dar es Salaam.

In other parts of Tanganyika the unit rate has been standardized.

Consequently, Dar es Salaam rates are increasing now at a much greater rate than savings can be effected by increased production. Operating costs have been raised by the introduction of certain extra tariffs and the introduction of new rates.

The basic domestic rate for Dar es Salaam has been increased from 10 cents to 12 cents per unit. The new standardized rate for the other two towns is 12.5 cents.

Nanyuki is proud of its hospital

The pride of the committee for the Nanyuki Cottage Hospital was expressed by the chairman, Mr. R. Boyd when he spoke at the annual meeting of the hospital in Nanyuki Sports Club.

Mr. Boyd recalled that the annual meeting a year ago had been held in the uncompleted building which had been opened on July 21, 1961.

From all the hard work extremely considerable and the hospital was opened on July 21, 1961.

The building was designed by the late Mr. Boyd and was built by the late Mr. Boyd and was built by the late Mr. Boyd.

New method

In Dar es Salaam, the northern lighting rate is being increased from 10 to 12.5 cents per unit. This is a new method of increasing the rate of power. A new method of increasing the rate of power is being used in Dar es Salaam.

Lord Chesham dies in London

LORD CHESHAM, chairman of Tanganyika Southern Highlands Estates Ltd., died in London a week ago aged 57. He had been in London a week ago for some considerable time and flew to England from Sao Hill some weeks ago for special treatment.

Lady Chesham also went to England to be with him. Lord Chesham, former vice-chancellor of the University of Africa, was far more than a mere investor in the Southern Highlands Estates. Believing that it was his duty to the people of Tanganyika, he had acquired 120,000 acres of land in the Southern Highlands for the purpose of promoting British settlement in the region. He had also acquired 100,000 acres of land in the Southern Highlands for the purpose of promoting British settlement in the region.

One of the few when in the years before the British came to Tanganyika, he had acquired 100,000 acres of land in the Southern Highlands for the purpose of promoting British settlement in the region.

O, In The Merry Month Of May

THE OLD-TIME CUSTOMS

Regretting the modern political significance of May Day, a writer recalls the centuries-old customs that welcome the return of spring.

Coming with the May Day customs is the custom of "morning" the streets of London. For centuries, the streets have been strewn with flowers and greenery, and the people have danced and sung in the streets.

These customs date a definite historical origin. For instance, the May Day customs of Kent—where the "May Day" is celebrated with a dance on the Maypole—has its origin in the old custom of "morning" the streets of London.

The County Councils Bill

To the Editor, "E. A. Standard"
 Sir—An article published in your issue of April 12, 1952, regarding the County Councils Bill, is a disgraceful misrepresentation of the Local Government Commission of Enquiry into the Local Government of Kenya. The Commission was set up to investigate the present position of local government in Kenya and to recommend a new system. It is not a body set up to investigate the merits of the Bill proposed by the Government. The Commission's report is a valuable document which should be read by all those interested in the development of local government in Kenya. It is a pity that the Commission's findings are being misrepresented in the press.

Milk to Uganda

To the Editor, "E. A. Standard"
 Sir—The expression I come away with from the meeting of the Kenya Milk Producers' Association held in Nairobi on April 24, 1952, is that the industry is in a state of confusion. The meeting was attended by representatives of the Kenya Milk Producers' Association, the Kenya Milk Board, and the Kenya Milk Commission. The main topic of discussion was the proposed export of milk to Uganda. It was agreed that the industry should be organized on a co-operative basis and that the Kenya Milk Board should be reconstituted to represent the interests of the producers.

Politics of Makereve

To the Editor, "E. A. Standard"
 Sir—Like many of a liberal education, I was surprised to read your editorial of April 12, 1952, on the politics of Makereve. I confess I cannot see how the politics of Makereve could be applied to the situation in Kenya. The politics of Makereve are the politics of a small, isolated community. The politics of Kenya are the politics of a large, diverse country. The politics of Kenya are the politics of a people who are striving for independence and self-determination. The politics of Kenya are the politics of a people who are striving for a better life for themselves and for their children. The politics of Kenya are the politics of a people who are striving for a more just and more equitable society.

Why successful

To the Editor, "E. A. Standard"
 Sir—The success of the Kenya Milk Producers' Association is due to the co-operation of the producers and the support of the Government. The association has been successful because it has been able to organize the producers and to represent their interests. The association has been successful because it has been able to negotiate with the Government and to secure a fair price for the milk. The association has been successful because it has been able to improve the quality of the milk and to reduce the cost of production. The association has been successful because it has been able to provide a service to the community. The association has been successful because it has been able to create a sense of unity and a sense of purpose among the producers.

The world has such sympathy for the people of Kenya and it is left to the people of Kenya to show that they are worthy of the sympathy of the world. The people of Kenya are a brave and a noble people. They are a people who are striving for a better life for themselves and for their children. They are a people who are striving for a more just and more equitable society. They are a people who are striving for a more united and a more harmonious community. They are a people who are striving for a more peaceful and a more prosperous future. They are a people who are striving for a more glorious and a more magnificent destiny.

EUROPEAN POCKET GUIDE FOR SMALL POCKETS

1. Italy, France, Spain, Britain

In two articles, CYRIL DUNN explains how a holiday abroad can be enjoyed in spite of currency restrictions. For people in Britain the allowance is now only £25 a year. East Africans are more fortunate; they are allowed £175 to cover three years. In a week's time the writer will deal with Scandinavia, Germany and Switzerland.

smarter and by far the most enjoyable of the continent for the time being. Wherever you look, you will find a welcome and a friendly atmosphere. The hotels are clean, the food is good, and the people are friendly. In the morning, you will find the streets clean and the air fresh. In the afternoon, you will find the streets busy and the air warm. In the evening, you will find the streets quiet and the air cool. In the night, you will find the streets dark and the air still.

Hotel charges

A FIRST-CLASS though a little more expensive than the Italian hotels, the British hotels are generally better. At the smaller hotels, the charges are not so high, but they are still high. It is not surprising, therefore, that the British hotels are generally more expensive than the Italian hotels. In the morning, you will find the streets clean and the air fresh. 4. The Forest Laments... 112

GRANVILLE ROBERTS, in the fourth in his series of articles on a journey through the lands of Nyanza Province, says that though there are noble forests still, the ghosts of the once stately trees are all that remain over the tens of thousands of acres of cultivated land.

KERICHO district pro- ceeds a variety of crops, but the tendency is towards less and less maize and more potatoes, beans, wheat and wheat. This is the agricultural policy of the district, which aims to establish the smallholder as a mixed farmer, producing milk, butter and eggs, as well as meat and arable crops.

Most of the progressive smallholders have kept their own records and keep their own books in the work of tillage and also in maintaining land fertility.

The old hold-up of tribal life, which was supreme only a few years ago, has undergone many changes. The Kikuyu was once supreme, now forms a unit in a headman's locality. Anything that is not a Kikuyu and does not go to form a location and is not a Kikuyu is seen at work in Kericho as an agricultural committee.

They keep watch

There are six locations and six Chiefs and a Committee of Location Trustees. The Committee consists of a sub-committee, who are usually a sub-committee of the District Council, for although they are appointed by the Chief their appointments are controlled by the A.D.C. Their functions are to supervise and travel throughout the area to see that the land is kept in a state to keep an eye on any backsliding in the land.

It is interesting to note that the district council, which does not extend to proper farming practices, are particularly interested in the work of the local officials and to the whole the system is a good one.

These men are provided with a small stipend to enable them to stay away from home for a few days in a month on official business. Their work is supervised by the District Council and the local officials and to the whole the system is a good one.

... it is a pity that the work of the district council is not more fully appreciated. The district council is a body of men who are appointed by the Government and who are responsible for the general administration of the district. They are particularly interested in the work of the local officials and to the whole the system is a good one.

Kimlot

The Kimlot district is a very active one. It is particularly interested in the work of the local officials and to the whole the system is a good one.

Timber shortage

There is a shortage of timber in the district. This is due to the fact that the district council is not doing enough to protect the forests. They are particularly interested in the work of the local officials and to the whole the system is a good one.
