

THE LAND AND THE PEOPLE

The Kenya problems

RE-EXAMINATION OF AN EAST AFRICAN BASIS?

The growing importance of land and population questions in East Africa illustrated by current agitation in Kenya, and by groups in the United Kingdom, has reached a stage in which the resolution of the problems is being considered in some quarters.

It is thought in those quarters that what is needed is a wider understanding of the facts of the situation, and a more objective approach such as to bring to the attention of the public the situation that is being created by the situation that should be realized.

Therefore, the problems in Kenya and the United Kingdom should be examined afresh, not merely in its Kenya aspect but having in mind the whole East African picture, and where the fact that there are today fewer than 10 million people in the three Territories (which extend to some 400,000 square miles) suggests that solutions can be found.

It is not possible to give a full account of the situation in Kenya, but it is clear that the League of Nations, which Mr. P. J. Kenyan, M.P., is a prominent member of, has been asked to examine the situation in British Kenya, and to report on it to the League of Nations.

TOURISTS IN TROUBLE AT THE OVAL

Surrey take four wickets for 64

INDIA, caught on a pitch favourable to spin, lost four wickets for 64 in the last 15 minutes of the first day of their first-class match against Surrey at the Oval on Wednesday after dismissing their opponents for 219. Surrey were set to bat by five minutes past 1.30 on the board at the fall of the fourth wicket, but the last five runs added only 20. Chiefly responsible was the medium-paced bowler Ramchand who took five wickets for five runs in an invigorated 40 over - 4-4 overs. His innings figures were five for 51. Jack Bodger (41) and Dave Jackson (47) were a sorry pair of stars with a re-arranged opening in the Surrey pair, while Laurea Parkinson (37) and Walter (Dodd) (31) took the fourth wicket in two balls on a minimum of 11 runs. A collapse brought about by Ramchand's India's opening pair put 34 against the Surrey pair, but when some stars, Eric Lauder and Jimmy Harrison, were wickets fell to 20 minutes. Later, behind with six wickets left.

Erich in form
Erich's seventh-innings stand of 50 bettered "Dandy" Mendicino in their opening county season. The Hampshire player appeared to have a double of 100 in the driving place, but he was out for 20 minutes. Later, behind with six wickets left.

NOMINATIONS IN KENYA ELECTION

Eight candidates unopposed Polling days expected to be fixed today

THE pattern of the Kenya General Election next month is now taking shape. Noon on Wednesday was zero hour for the handing in of nomination papers by candidates. A few minutes later the County Commissioners, who have been appointed Returning Officers for various electoral areas in the Colony, were publicly to announce the names of any members of the public who were anxious to vote at first count of preference.

But in some places, including Kampala, where Lady Sharpe was refused unopposed, and Thomson's name, where Lord Deland, Thomson and Thompson were unopposed, and where Mr. C. M. Matsumoto was unopposed, the candidates were asked to list the names of the voters who were expected to vote at first count of preference.

D.C. declares that Mr. E. M. Watson, the former Member, had been returned unopposed for the East African constituency.

In addition to the proposer and second, eight voters are now required by law to sign the nomination paper. This is including Col. E. R. M. Watson and Mr. W. B. Havelock, who were returned unopposed for their constituencies. In the light of the provisions of having eight signatures to the nomination paper, the proposer and second are essential.

Off to England
Commissioners of the District of East Africa have announced that they are leaving for England on May 10, 1962.

Minor surprise

Mr. Havelock
Mr. W. B. Havelock (Kiambu) was the proposer of the unopposed African constituency of East Africa. He has been in the United Kingdom since 1957, where he was Minister of State for the Colonies.

Col. Chersie
Colonel Stanley G. Chersie (Nairobi North) is the proposer of the unopposed African constituency of East Africa. He has been in the United Kingdom since 1957, where he was Minister of State for the Colonies.

Mr. Blundell

THE GROWTH OF KENYA'S DAIRYING INDUSTRY

WHEN the Kenya Cooperative Creameries began its career in 1952 with the amalgamation of the three small creameries started as farmers' cooperative concerns dealing with their own local needs, the production of cheese was just over 7,000 lbs. Those who know something of the cheese-making industry in Britain will agree that this was a very modest start.

Last year the production was well over half a million, practically all of it of export, by virtue of the E.A. African demand.

It is often forgotten that when the pioneer farmers came to Kenya there was neither butter nor cheese, but as part of their staple diet.

Such "luxuries" were imported in large quantities from one of the well-known suppliers in London. No doubt, on those days—only a few years ago—butter would have been able to cater at all, had it not been for the packed tinned milk from Britain. Even then was among the early "luxury" imports.

Today the Kenya Cooperative Creameries, on behalf of its dairy-farmer members, not only makes and sells many millions lbs. weight of butter, and the half-million lbs. of cheese, but is able to go with confidence into the whole-milk market without any.

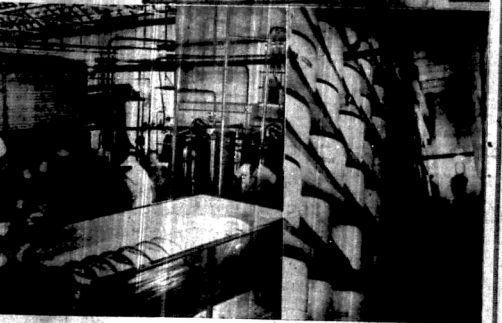

The left, the market is still the most advanced form of the Dairyery. Last generation in London. No doubt, on those days—only a few years ago—butter would have been able to cater at all, had it not been for the packed tinned milk from Britain. Even then was among the early "luxury" imports.

year of being unable to cope with the rising demand of its home market.

What this means in terms of farming stability, it is difficult to assess.

Cheese-making has always been one of the major arts of the British farmhouses. There are famous types of cheese, such as the Cheshire and the Cheddar in the Westcountry and the others. They were all made with great care and as far as possible from milk produced by a herd while it was giving one pasture area.

For dairy cheese-making, cows regarded as the least among of the grades of beef, has come a long way since its early days in Kenya the cheese produced by the K.C.C. has won a high reputation for itself. This is due, first, to the potential of Kenya pastures, as well as to factory production methods.

COTTON GINNERS GET INCREASED ALLOWANCE

Uganda report on price-fixing

THE report of the 1951-52 Uganda Lint Price-Fixing Committee, which has just been published, contains recommendations which mean that for the 1952-53 cotton ginning season ginner will be paid an increased allowance for transport, ginning and baling, equal to 3 7/8 cents per lb. This excludes the increased allowance for aggro transport, aggro's commission and store-ginner commission which varies from 2 to 4 cents according to the average mileage and percentage of cotton purchased.

In the case of the largest cotton estate, the Mengo Estate, the increased allowance for transport, ginning and baling is estimated to be 10 shillings more in the trade for the East African ginning season than it was in the previous season. It is a considerable sum, but it is estimated that in December 1951 there were 4000 ginning machines (most until the present time are of the portable type) and the report of the permanent increase in income and the following table shows the effect on the ginner's net income. The following would have been the result:

MOVE TO HELP UGANDA

To safeguard the banana crop

In an attempt to forestall the spread of "Panama", the brain-killing disease from Tanganyika to Uganda where the fruit is the staple of the native diet, samples of every kind of banana grown in the Protectorate are being sent to Mombi to be planted in isolated plots.

The object is to discover which varieties, if any, are immune to the disease.

In parts of Central America and the West Indies in the past "Panama" has wiped out whole plantations.

The disease is a "wilt" which is introduced in stems and the leaves with it. The disease spreads like earth.

So far there has been no trace of the disease in the banana plantations owned in Uganda but that if the disease spreads to Uganda it will come through bananas.

Caused by fungus

The disease is caused by a fungus from the soil and can be carried by human feet. It is believed that the Tanganyika epidemic may have been brought from Maseru on the boats of returning sailors.

The Agricultural Research Organisation at Mombi in Tanganyika is making a special Panama disease effort for East Uganda's own protection against a proliferation of all imports of banana soil or plants rooted in soil from Tanganyika.

A Government spokesman says that it is almost certain that the disease is spread in East Africa and that it will spread to Uganda — but the spread will be slower if the regulations are stringently enforced.

Job for an African

An African is wanted by the Department of Commerce to fill the post of African Economic Officer in the Uganda Office. The holder of the post will be a salaried position with a salary which is at present 20 per cent above the normal salary.

E.A.S.P.C.A. Junior Branch

The considerable activities of the Junior Branch of the E.A.S.P.C.A. in what is known as a "progressive year" were recounted in the Society's annual report for 1961 presented at the branch's annual meeting.

In March representatives of the Government schools attended the monthly meeting of the Junior Branch and the methods of interesting the children of Kenya in the work of the Society.

First aid

The St. John Ambulance Association approached the Junior Branch with a view to extending their interest in operating in the nursing of sick animals and providing first aid to the injured. Under the auspices of the St. John Ambulance Association an examination in care and knowledge of animals was passed and the Veterinary Officer with his staff of assistants stated that he was impressed by the high standard of knowledge and efficiency displayed.

At the request of the St. John Ambulance Association some simple literature dealing with the care of sick animals and first aid was provided, and a large amount given to the Association.

to specify DUNLOP INDUSTRIAL VEE-BELTS

Every Dunlop Industrial Vee-Belt is reinforced with a continuous layer of specially made cord, impregnated with rubber latex, and embedded in resilient rubber bodies. The cord, lying between the upper and lower sections of the belt, which is stretched in fitting and the compressed base-section, is subjected to maximum stress. Stress is reduced to a minimum and service life increased to a maximum.

All Dunlop Industrial Vee-Belts give grinding numbers which enable the belts to be made up into matched sets in which an equal proportion of the power is transmitted by each belt.

Transport of Cattle

To the Editor, "E.A. Standard" of the 25th April has reported to stock farmers' appeal to general decision to transport cattle to the interior frequently when cattle are suffering from tick fever. It is suggested that the farmer get his journeys and the meat and hides to the interior. The Department has sought the advice of the Veterinary Surgeon, Nairobi, and the Director of the Department on this subject of transporting and slaughtering as follows:-

"Transporting of calves is best carried out during the first 10 months of their life. They should be given a caustic potash dip. The ticks are slightly abundant and the ticks well rubbed in. Dehorning is best done by others. The hair clipped away immediately after the castration with a special solution applied, and the wound treated with a second application painted on. This may be repeated 48 hours later.

"The killing of the kids with application afterwards of a hot iron to the East African stock raisers' purposes they are advised to replace these ewings with a better sample. The fact is that all ewings are not equal and therefore it is better to ascertain what they are buying."

SWEDISH SCIENTISTS IN BREEDING GIANTS

By A. J. Forrest

It has been found that each of the two largest breeds of cattle, the Friesian and the Guernsey, have a chromosome number of 60. This is the same as that of the cow, but the chromosomes are arranged differently. The Friesian has 29 pairs of chromosomes, and the Guernsey has 29 pairs of chromosomes. The chromosomes are arranged in a specific order, and this order is different for each breed. This discovery is important because it shows that the two breeds are not closely related, as was previously thought.

EUROPEAN POCKET GUIDE FOR SMALL POCKETS

2. Scandinavia, Germany, Switzerland

CYRIL DUNN contributes his second and final article on how a holiday abroad can be enjoyed in spite of the currency restrictions. Of all the countries, he says, Austria is cheaper than anywhere in Europe.

It is an odd thought that some of Switzerland's main attractions, for the British tourist, or for any tourist with limited resources, is now the execution of packed lunches. But there is it. For the modern traveller who cannot afford to be indifferent about his bills, the problem of the ready-made lunch is a really serious one, and now worse than in the days of the 1930s.

Unhappily, one is tempted to buy away from one's hotel and to take a picnic to the hotel. But this is not the best solution. The picnic baskets are the most expensive. And if you eat the picnic at the restaurant, the cost of the food is added to the cost of the restaurant. The only way to get a picnic is to buy it at a picnic stand, and to eat it in a picnic ground. This is the best solution. The picnic stand is the most convenient. And the picnic ground is the most pleasant.

ANGELA CROOME adds a Dutch postscript and asks:

WHY NOT TRY AMSTERDAM?

IN the bulbfields beyond Haarlem, now the daffodils are in bloom and the tulips in bud. And all Holland is full of cut flowers. It is the bulb origin of the Dutch fields that provide the spring flowers of the world ("Stalin tulips" in the squares of Moscow grow from Dutch stock) but the blooms from the parent bulbfields are mostly enjoyed at home.

A search of records gathered by a Dutch air-busness traveller returning to E.L.M. as to steps from the place, reveals that the bulbfields have daffodil garlands as well as tulips, and that the bulbs are mostly enjoyed at home.

National Servicemen may have choice of naval career

KENYA'S National Servicemen, who must continue their service on a Reserve after their active service training is completed—in Rhodesia, for example—will probably be able to choose a naval career if they wish. They will be at liberty to elect to serve their 18 days a year with the East African Naval Force at Mombasa.

The East African Naval Force is one of the responsibilities of the East Africa High Commission and it is the High Commission that is responsible for the direction of the Force, for giving it orders when recruited and maintaining it in a state of efficiency.

Proposals are also being prepared for the lists of a Volunteer Reserve of the Force, to be the place of the Kenya Naval Reserve detached from the British Royal Navy, as well as African detachments to be raised in the future.

Refresher courses

During the war the value of this training was fully demonstrated and the K.R.N.V.F. was a valuable adjunct to the Royal Navy's establishments in the Indian Ocean, with its own responsibilities for specialised work.

It is with the idea of maintaining this valuable tradition of service, that the High Commission spokesman this week that plans are being made for the East African Government to re-constitute the volunteer European training. The various Governments of the region have expressed their views in due course, after a study of the proposal.

Several letters from ex-servicemen have arrived at the High Commission office, asking for facilities for the training of new recruits, and for refresher service in the event of war.

Responsibilities

The post-war responsibilities of the Force can be described as being divided into three main categories which could be expanded if the need arose with regard to Africa and Rhodesia. The post-war duties of the Force are to maintain the Kenya Naval Force and the territories of the East African states, and to provide a nucleus of trained personnel for the East African Naval Force at Mombasa. The Force is also responsible for the training of new recruits and for the refresher service of ex-servicemen.

The ships

The Force possesses the R.A. Ship "Hassanali", a motor-propelled vessel of 175 tons and a motor fishing vessel, for training purposes. African recruits go to Mombasa from all over East Africa and the first job of Commander Minter and his staff of instructors and officers is to receive them and to train them in the use of the ship.

LABOUR COMMISSIONER ANSWERS COMPLAINTS

Registration system for Africans

THE Labour Commissioner has answered frequent complaints, especially from un-employed employees, that the present registration system for Africans and the employment and discharge of the buff card for employment have been in force in his region.

As a result, they claim there is no method of checking on the part of any African who works for an employer, and when an employer hires a worker, he is not obliged to register the worker with the Labour Commissioner.

RUSSIA AND THE STRAITS

Ever since Catherine the Great secured the Black Sea coast for Russia by finally driving the Turks from the Balkans, Russian leaders have looked to the Bosphorus and the Dardanelles not only as a means of egress into the Mediterranean but also as the key to their Black Sea ambitions centered on Odessa.

It is in this field of technology that fascinating novelty still crops up in the reports of British teams sent over by the Admiralty to study the industrial methods. Most of the Mediterranean water, labour relations, and attitudes are now familiar and as yet unacknowledged, but in the latest report, one on Cakes and biscuits, the technical data covers are unique.

Whiter flour

UNLIKE many of the other reports, this one directly covers the ordinary citizen. The ordinary British flour has its way, the cake and the biscuits will disappear from the shops, instead of being sold in barrels and families of flour, as are, always, in the United States.

No tins

NOTHING seems to have changed in the way the bakers make the wrapping and packaging of cakes and biscuits. In the United States, the tin is the standard.

Agony to climb

The body, reveals, against heart strain, the strenuous climbing of the mountain.

Heroic attempts

HERE is an Everest attempt by Dr. A. K. Kelan as a member of the expedition.

Recommendations

THE Cakes and Biscuits team has addressed its first recommendations to the Ministry of Food.

Barred by snow

IN 1949 (under Harbord) and 1950 (under Harbord) the expedition to the mountain was barred by snow.

THE ISLAND IN THE LAKE

By Margery Mendelsohn

HOW many of Kenya's loveliest places are comparatively unknown except, perhaps to the few? I'm thinking of an island in Lake Malawi which many will have seen, rising between the main lake and the Croker Lake through motor on the Nairobi to Mombasa road but few have had the opportunity of exploring as it has been in private ownership since the beginning of the century.

stand, his heart is much different than the others, that he is so out of the best Mr. Thackeray's fishing, he is probably a sportsman, he is probably a sportsman, he is probably a sportsman.

Variety of birds

WHAT about the birds of other islands? Without even raising our eyes we see some of them: the water's edge—pigeons, geese, and ducks, some of the wood ducks, several of the waterfowl, and of the waterfowl, and of the waterfowl, and of the waterfowl.

Wild life

IMAGINE a piece of more than 400 acres, rolling across with a centre rising to a sharp peak, the hillsides sloping gently down to the main lake and surrounded the island in three sides only. This is Croker Island as it is called and is the only island for wild life where no one is afraid and no one is afraid and no one is afraid.

Sacred hippos

MASSIVE young Maasai Maasai, Mr. Thackeray says that the hippos are sacred to the Maasai, and that they are sacred to the Maasai, and that they are sacred to the Maasai.

A PRIME MINISTER AT WORK

IN November, every Deputy Minister in Malindi was sent to the House of Commons, and that they are sacred to the Maasai, and that they are sacred to the Maasai.

WHEN AN ELECTROLUX IS WORKING!

With Electrolux there is silence, all the time. Why? Because the Electrolux has no machinery. It has no moving parts to cause vibration, or irritating noise in your home. Think what silent operation means in comfort and convenience. Think, too, of the economy of Electrolux trouble-free refrigeration! No moving parts to wear out mean low maintenance cost.
