NEW HOUSING ESTATE READY AT NAKURU

Tenant-purchase principle

WHEN Mr. Norman M. Harby, Chairman of Nakuru Municipal Board, opened the first of the 24 houses in the new housing estate at Nakuru, a new principle will be in vogue where tenants will purchase their own homes.

Already, great interest has been shown in the scheme by members and officers of the local government bodies in the vicinity. The principle is that of tenant-purchase, which is the basis of the housing scheme.

The Board's scheme consists of 24 houses which will be let on a 21-year lease with a monthly payment of 75/- and a weekly payment of 10/- for the first 12 months, and then 15/- for the next 12 months, and 20/- for the last 12 months.

A survey of the applications received for the houses indicated that applications were far in excess of the number of houses available. It is expected that the houses will be let within a few days.

The Board is also planning to build a further 24 houses in the same estate. It is expected that the houses will be let within a few days.

JAPANESE INVESTMENT NOT ALWAYS WELCOMED

By FRANK ROBERTSON

JAPAN'S great reputation for South-East Asia, India and the Philippines is a double-edged sword. It is a sword which has cut a wide path for Japanese investment in these areas.

The Japanese Government, in its desire to expand its empire, has encouraged investment in these areas. It has done this by offering various incentives to investors.

However, not all investment is welcomed. In some areas, investment is restricted. This is because of various reasons, including the need to protect local industries.

ANOTHER SPRINT GOLD MEDAL FOR U.S.

Bailey unplaced at Helsinki

Olympic success in the 16 Olympic Games of the modern era the United States of America have collected the winner's gold medal in the 200 metres men's sprint. Their latest success was on Wednesday, when the colorful Edoard Bailey finished first in Helsinki in 29.7 sec.

Americans also filled second and third places when Stanford was followed home by Walter Baker and Jim Gathers. Britain's main hope, Michael Buckley, finished fourth.

Stanford's impetuous start was the key to his success, as he led the race from the start. Gathers was best placed in a 200 metres heat, but a further 92 seconds behind.

McDonald Bailey was drawn in a middle heat but got away well. He was the only one of the heat to be unplaced, but he did not make the final. He was the only one of the heat to be unplaced, but he did not make the final.

Big crowds in the Stadium had seen the start of the women's 100 metres race when Shirley Crowley and Rosita A. Chudine each broke the women's long jump record within seconds.

In her best ever Miss Crowley jumped 19 ft 7 in, beating her previous best of 18 ft 10 in. Shirley's jump was 18 ft 10 in.

Another world record limited on Wednesday when Brazil's Ferreira Da Silva topped the list with a jump of 18 ft 10 in.

The 19th Olympic Games of the modern era the United States of America have collected the winner's gold medal in the 200 metres men's sprint.

NONDESCRIPTS MADE TO FIGHT FOR VICTORY

Dangerous Army side could not score points to win. Non-descripts gained two points from an Army at Parklands on Wednesday when they won by a margin of 12 points.

It was a hard game, and Non-descripts were fortunate to make both points from an Army side which was almost just as good as they were.

Nairobi's 'School with a Difference'

NOT far from Nairobi's centre, in that area of land which accommodates most of Kenya's large European schools, is a school with a difference. Its headmaster, Mr. Brian Parkes, and its staff, who are mostly English, are called Father P. Barrett, the first to admit that the school is Saint Mary's, the school of the Holy Ghost Fathers, whose mission work here at the end of the world's second millennium is getting on.

When the work is done, the two wings open for teaching in the school. The school will have a large number of students, the old boys' school, the Holy Ghost Fathers into Kenya but in white uniform, the school at the end of the world's second millennium is getting on.

ODDLY ENOUGH

By PAUL JENNINGS

There is something curiously under-estimated about the sound of Afghanistan.

The very name, with its blurring, almost blown away by the rushing winds of the high, white peaks of dry dust that that suspended in the air, bright air of a desert, where huge mountains rise with ice and snow, and India's holy rivers before giving way to the west in a swirl of rocky hills.

We know that Tibet, precise definition and latitude, is behind the Himalayas, but we can never remember the name of Afghanistan, if it has one. We are sure that it is the name of a country that is the most interesting of the world. We expect it to be blindingly hot, but we feel that if we went there we should see people wearing coloured blouses on a chilly day. Through the dust of hooves we see banners, and a shawl and carpet. An ancient, fertile country, half-way to Russia, a country full of equipment, including a tank, a tank, a tank, a tank.

LET us know, against the background, consider an announcement made by the British in the Board of Directors of the British Petroleum Company, that the British Petroleum Company has reported that the Afghan Government has announced that it has decided to purchase a large quantity of British Petroleum Company's products.

Now 148 hours ago, the British Petroleum Company's products were being sold in the market. The British Petroleum Company's products were being sold in the market. The British Petroleum Company's products were being sold in the market.

These photographs give a sense of the school's new wing. The new wing of the school is a two-story building with a large porch. The school is a two-story building with a large porch.

Another obvious fact is that the British business men should have considered the fact that the Afghan Government has announced that it has decided to purchase a large quantity of British Petroleum Company's products.

Borrowed money

The first new wing cost £100,000, and the second £200,000. The school is a two-story building with a large porch. The school is a two-story building with a large porch.

No houses

SAINT MARY'S has no houses. The school is a two-story building with a large porch. The school is a two-story building with a large porch.

Swimming pool

AT present Father Barrett is planning to build a swimming pool. The school is a two-story building with a large porch. The school is a two-story building with a large porch.

OPENING the debate on Colonial Affairs in the House of Commons, Mr. James Griffiths, who was Secretary of State for the Colonies in the previous Government described Kenya as "a little slice of England dropped into the middle of Africa, surrounded by African peoples."

"We have reached a stage in our Colonial Mission," he said, "where we cannot see it as important for us to realize that this is a very real situation and it is important for us to realize that this is a very real situation and it is important for us to realize that this is a very real situation."

Mr. Oliver Lyttelton, Secretary of State for the Colonies in the present Government, said the Opposition's remarks regarding the Kenya land question, with two points he brought in his speech. He suggested that the smallest and the most important of the points was that the Government desired to pursue, against all opposition, a policy and economic implications was urgently called for.

"I merely put off the evil day," he said, "but that is the fact. The Government's policy is to carry out the White Highlands Commission. It is a very real situation and it is important for us to realize that this is a very real situation."

The Times said that the Government's policy is to carry out the White Highlands Commission. It is a very real situation and it is important for us to realize that this is a very real situation."

"There certainly seems to be a case for a very real situation and it is important for us to realize that this is a very real situation."

Kenya crime figures rise by 20 per cent

CRIME in Kenya during the first six months of 1954 is 20 per cent above the corresponding figures of last year. But the increase in serious offences against persons is only 1.62 per cent over the corresponding figures of last year.

The increase in the first quarter of the year rose by 18 per cent over the corresponding figures of the same quarter of 1953. This was due to a rise in the number of motor vehicle accidents.

THREE-YEAR-OLD ON 12,000-MILE JOURNEY Jessica finds it easy to travel

THREE-YEAR-OLD Jessica Wynne captured more air miles' hearts in a brief flight from Rhodesia to England than any other child of her years. Her little trip could do in a year's travelling.

The week Jessica spent at Eastleigh Airport on the last leg of her 12,000-mile journey was now fully described by a letter from the South African Airways office. Mr. M. J. Smith, manager of the office, said that Jessica had travelled the length of the air mail of the world.

There was a big smile and a hug from Mr. Smith as he welcomed Jessica back from her trip. She had not two months previously when she was on her first flight from Rhodesia to England.

It all began when Jessica's mother, Mrs. M. J. Smith, decided to take her daughter to visit her grandmother in England. She had been born in Rhodesia and had spent her first two years there.

UGANDA COFFEE CURING PLANS

African interest proposed

THE Government of Uganda has announced plans to reorganize the coffee curing industry in the Protectorate to give Africans a share in the industry. The plans follow the lines of the reorganization already started in the coffee-growing industry.

Existing curing units will be closed and new curing units will be established. It is estimated that two-thirds of the present curing units will be closed and new curing units will be established. It is estimated that two-thirds of the present curing units will be closed and new curing units will be established.

One of the main reasons for the reorganization is the fact that the existing curing units are not adequate to handle the increasing production of coffee. It is estimated that the existing curing units are not adequate to handle the increasing production of coffee.

HIGHER PRICE FOR MAIZE

Troup Report implemented FLOUR AND BREAD ALSO TO BE DEARER

MAIZE farmers in Kenya will be paid 75.5c more for the 1951 crop of the 1952 crop, from today; the price of maize meal will move up 5 cents to 18s. Wheat will get 1/2- a bag more; flour and bread prices are increased by 2c a lb.

These new prices were given in a Government communique yesterday. They are the result of recommendations made recently by the visiting Commissioner, Mr. G. C. Troup.

The increase to the maize producer is made up in this way: 4/70 on the remainder of the 1951 crop and a further 1/20 on the new crop. The price of maize meal is increased forthwith from 13s. 10d. to 18s. 5d. per bag of 200 lbs. (including the bag) at wholesalers; or retailers should be paid 10s. 6d. per bushel.

As regards wheat, the increase recommended by Mr. Troup was 1/2- per bushel to the producer on the 1951 crop. Since a large part of this crop has already been milled and consumed, the increase is to be applied to the 1952 crop to recover the additional shilling on the remainder of the crop to be consumed during the last five months of this year. Hence the 2 cents increase in the price of flour and bread.

It will be recalled that Mr. Troup was invited to advise on a fair price to the producer for the 1951 maize crop and on the price to be paid for the 1952 crop. He recommended that the 1951 maize crop price should be raised from 13s. 10d. to 18s. 5d. per bushel, an increase of 4/70 per bushel. He also recommended that the 1952 maize crop price should be raised from 13s. 10d. to 18s. 5d. per bushel, an increase of 4/70 per bushel.

The maize a retrogressive step in the history of the country, including Africa, in respect of something the Africans have done for themselves.

Carry forward

A portion of the 1951 crop of maize was not sold by the 4/70 per bushel and would, on the basis of the 1951 price, be lost. It is estimated that the carry forward of 1951 maize will be approximately 100,000 bushels. This carry forward will be sold at the 1952 price of 18s. 5d. per bushel, which will be appreciated in value by 4/70 per bushel. The amount of the carry forward will be a part of the 1952 maize crop.

Policy change

In recent months the Government has been faced with the problem of how to finance its operations. The Government has decided to increase the price of maize to the producer and to reduce the price of maize meal to the consumer. This policy change is a necessary step to ensure the stability of the economy.

PEPPER THROWN BY WOULD-BE ROBBERS

African messengers attacked

Two attempted robberies, in which pepper was used by the attackers, took place in broad daylight in Nairobi yesterday.

While returning from a bank at noon an African messenger employed by a Government Road Board was pepper thrown in his eyes by a group of men who attempted to snatch a bag from his hands. The bag contained nearly 1,400 shillings.

Partially paralysed, the messenger managed to find the attackers and run at top speed to the police station.

The incident was the second in a series of attacks on African messengers in Nairobi. The contents of the bag at the time of the second attack were valued at 1,250 shillings.

RESISTANCE TO MAU MAU

Wakikuyu counter-campaign

MOVES of some significance are taking place in several districts of Kiambu County. The authorities are encouraging developments with interest, neither magnifying nor minimizing their importance. They have been active in that, actuated by real concern for the maintenance of law and order, they have been seriously engaged by the intransigent and often vicious activities of Mau Mau elements, courageous indeed, which have begun a counter-campaign.

At Limuru last week the fifth of a series of ceremonies in the Kiambu District took place with the object of "neutralising" the influence of the Mau Mau movement and of restoring public morale and respect for the law and customs and law. The next ceremony in the district is to be held at a market in the Limuru area. Similar "demonstrations" are being held elsewhere.

Attendees are reported to have been 700 to 800. The size of the assemblies is said to have been very much larger, and although the figures may not be exact, the ceremonies are reported to have been very much larger, and although the figures may not be exact, the ceremonies are reported to have been very much larger.

African attitude criticised during debate on federation in Northern Rhodesia Legislature

URGED AS AN EXPERIMENT IN DEMOCRACY

The most historic debate in the history of the Northern Rhodesia Legislature was heard in Lusaka when the House adopted the motion introduced by Mr. Roy W. Welensky to take note of the recently published White Paper containing the draft scheme for the Federation of Southern Rhodesia, Northern Rhodesia, and Nyasaland.

The African Members dissenting from the debate, Mr. Welensky dealt with points raised by other speakers and concluded on this note - that, if federated, the whole of the continent would be one race, and the African would be a minority.

Mr. Welensky said that the African attitude in Northern Rhodesia to bear the burden of the federation was not a healthy one.

Mr. Welensky said that the African attitude in Northern Rhodesia to bear the burden of the federation was not a healthy one.

Africans refused to agree to the scheme should be introduced. African interests were not being represented, and opposition alone should not be the cause of federation, he said.

Mr. Welensky referred to the position of Southern Rhodesia, Northern Rhodesia, and Nyasaland. He said that the African attitude in Northern Rhodesia to bear the burden of the federation was not a healthy one.

Central Africa is contained in the understanding given at the last meeting of the African Council formed by the present United African Council. It is clear that the scheme of the African Council as far as federation is concerned.

Outlook bright for holiday weekend

SUNSHINE FORECAST IN CITY

PLENTY of outdoor attractions and prospect of sunny afternoons are offered to Nairobi citizens and their visitors who wish to make the most of this weekend which includes the August Bank Holiday Monday.

The weekend weather in Nairobi and East of the Rift is expected to be cloudy and dull during the mornings, but with periods of sunshine during the afternoons, says the Central Forecast Office of the Meteorological Department.

Plans were made well in advance by the city's many who wanted to get out on the roads for the bank holiday and to see the sights of the city and its surroundings. The Kenya National Parks of the Rift region reported that the 25th and 26th August will be busy days for the parks. SIR REGINALD OUTLINE'S TRANSPORT PROBLEMS

ROTARY CLUB address

DIFFICULTIES in raising additional capital to increase the capacity of the East African Railway and Harbours were outlined by the Transport Commissioner, Sir Reginald Robins, when he addressed the Rotarians yesterday.

He pointed out that the amount was insufficient to equip by 1962 means but even to meet the demands, if they continued for several years at the present rate.

What is more, it has been made clear that it is impractical to have a new line in operation by the end of 1962. The amount of money which authority was asked to raise for the railway was £20 million, but he said that some other source of borrowing would be necessary.

Rate of interest

In that case the rate of interest would be much higher than the rate experienced since the war. And equipment would impose an extremely heavy burden on the public.

He said that the amount of money which authority was asked to raise for the railway was £20 million, but he said that some other source of borrowing would be necessary.

Set upon

Law was on his after the first post-war shipping incident. The incident occurred in the Indian Ocean and had serious effects on the shipping industry.

Before the war

Before the war the method was to obtain a guarantee from the Government and the Transport Commissioner, Sir Reginald Robins, when he addressed the Rotarians yesterday.

He pointed out that the amount was insufficient to equip by 1962 means but even to meet the demands, if they continued for several years at the present rate.

TORTURE CHAMBERS IN HOLLAND

Nairobi Citizen's Experience

These four things were subjected to every known cruelty and in treatment they were ultimately put in a room filled with hot steam and in places where temperature prevailed. These rooms to be used in the majority of the people in charge of these "torture chambers" to find new and more ingenious tortures for these "unfortunate" victims. So said Mr. R. O. S. a well-known Chemist of Nairobi, who has returned from a trip to Holland where he has been working in the Philips Electric factories. He has brought back a lot of information for the torturing of these "unfortunate" victims. He has also brought back a lot of information for the torturing of these "unfortunate" victims. He has also brought back a lot of information for the torturing of these "unfortunate" victims.

A CLEAN ENGINE MEANS LONG LIFE
It also means PROTEX
Sledge and carbon are harmful deposits which shorten the life of your car engine.
Covered against this by using PROTEX - the Premium Motor Oil.
For PROTEX clean as a lubricant, cleans and prevents the formation of carbon and varnish. A clean engine will last longer, start more easily, do not put performance on an even keel.
PROTEX fights corrosion too, another enemy of engine power and life. Change over to PROTEX today - it's the best friend your car ever had.
IMPORTANT: Don't use any other oil with PROTEX.

NATIONALISATION AS POLITICAL ISSUE IS NOW OUTMODED

By PHILIP VERNON

THE initial session of the first British Parliament since the war to have a Conservative majority is drawing to its close without one measure of nationalisation being passed. The Bank of England, civil aviation, the coal mines, the railways, road transport and iron and steel of all these are still under public ownership.

To many people — particularly to observers abroad — this must appear surprising. Nationalisation is still considered by the main press on which Social and anti-Socialist parties divide yet since the return of the Conservative Government last October its proposals for denationalisation have again been postponed.

The Government's programme for denationalisation has been postponed for several reasons. The public inquiry commission has not yet reported on the economic crisis and the threat to the gold and other position will deteriorate still further. Denationalisation is an issue which has been put to one side in this light for election purposes. The Government's programme has been postponed for several reasons. The public inquiry commission has not yet reported on the economic crisis and the threat to the gold and other position will deteriorate still further. A STORY IN PICTURES OF LIFE IN A DHOW

FEW things in East Africa present a more lovely sight than the dhows which come and go to and from our coast with the monsoons. From the Persian Gulf, from the Kutchi ports of India and from Mangalore they sail in with their cargoes of dates and carpets, Mangalore tiles, chests and prayer mats and, in some cases, salt.

The crews may be Arabs, Baluchis, Somalis or Indians who, receiving no salary, are fed by the captain and share in the profit of the venture according to ability and experience.

What is life like aboard these dhows which are such a familiar sight in the harbours of Mombasa, Zanzibar, Lamu and other East African ports?

Time wasted

It is, of course, not just a matter of making the poor fellow suffer. What we cannot understand is why they should be made more profitable use of.

Good example!

TURN to someone of an entirely different class, and the Good Queen Bess, a probably, three old men, brooding over a map, with their finger pointing at the map, and their heads bowed together in a serious conversation.

Where Skill And Industry Are The Signposts To Advancement

KENNETH MEADOWS describes a visit to the Combined Training School of the East African Posts and Telecommunications Administration at Mbagathi.

IT'S surprising when you're in a hurry and the office to cancel the luncheon appointment at the other end who says your name is Fothergley want anyway? Or when you see a telegram top up all the letters jumbled up as though some lunatic had been on the job when you find yourself there some hours later at the usual breakfast table with the IV in the front of the mouth (indicating this sort of thing happens far too often).

'All for all' WELL, no doubt you will want to blame somebody and no doubt somebody is to be found in the Combined Training School at the East African Posts and Telecommunications Administration at Mbagathi.

I've just been there. I've seen a well-kept, well-organized, well-attended and well-run school. I remember having the same sort of feeling when I was working in the same school some years ago.

An official of the school says: "Our main object is to provide complete training for all ranks of all services up to everything which the East African Posts and Telecommunications Administration can require."

Our main object is to provide complete training for all ranks of all services up to everything which the East African Posts and Telecommunications Administration can require.

Completed organization, with many factors and demanding close and concerted attention to a mass of intricate details.

Here at Mbagathi the new service—about 1949—was the 7th Territorial and a complete reorganization of the Post Office was in progress. The school was then in its infancy and the staff was small.

The school was then in its infancy and the staff was small.

...the school in March 1949. The new building in the immediate vicinity which was the "headquarters" of the school had been started in 1948. It was the first building of its kind in the East African Posts and Telecommunications Administration. It was built on a site which had been acquired in 1947. The school was then in its infancy and the staff was small.

Now the school is the Technical College for the East African Posts and Telecommunications Administration. It is a well-kept, well-attended and well-run school. It is a well-kept, well-attended and well-run school.

SCOTS GAMES IN RETROSPECT

By the Sports Editor

THERE can be little doubt that the Kenya Highland Games, for all that they lack of the traditional atmosphere of the glens and mountains of Scotland, have come to stay. The third annual fixture saw records go with almost unprecedented regularity and drew, on the whole, a most appreciative crowd. Many of the ranks of the Scotsmen. It is now clear that the Railway meeting was the highlight of the season, and the fact that with the revival of athletics in the Kenya, A. S. C. some meetings can be staged in the future. But for the past two years the Highland Games have been the Colony's athletic highlight.

Overstaying

Miss A. Swain, Kenyan High School, was outstanding among the girls whose performance generally attracted those of the boys. She was 50 yards, 100 yards and 200 yards and shot very precise. Price of Wales—she placed 1st in addition to many places in the open and 2nd in the 100 yards. There is much promising athletic material among these girls. A word about the organization. This, on the whole, was good, and good enough to bear a few criticisms.

Filled a want

Thus, the inauguration of the Highland Games, three years ago, filled an immediate and long-felt want among the younger members of the Kenyan community. That 22 records out of 30 events for only the veterans and the wrestling competition failed to fill were taken at the weekend was significant of the steadily improving standard of performance.

One of the most remarkable features of the Games was the success of the Macfarlane family, father, son and daughter. The year they only five trials between them; but it was this fact that is more than enough to make them the fully merited winners of the most polished athletes at the Games of 1932. F. J. A. District Officer from Nairobi, was the only one to strain his public position as up-country sportsman. The top four places were taken by the SETTLEMENT OF KING FAROUK ABDICATING EUROPEANS

En route to America

British Government policy

MR. OLIVER LYTTLETON, the Colonial Secretary, has written to the House of Commons in the British Government's settlement of the Egyptian monarchy.

A Conservative Member, Mr. C. M. Aport, had asked Mr. Lyttleton whether a further statement about the Government's policy in regard to the Egyptian monarchy would be made. Mr. Aport also wanted to know to what extent the Government was prepared to consider a proposal for the settlement of the Egyptian monarchy in the terms of reference of a proposed inquiry into the land problems of the Colony.

In his reply, Mr. Lyttleton said that the Government's policy about the Egyptian monarchy had not changed and remained as follows:

The British Government fully recognizes the Egyptian monarchy as a historical institution and the important part that it has played in the history of the country. It will continue to support the monarchy and to help to bring about a settlement of the Egyptian monarchy in the terms of reference of a proposed inquiry into the land problems of the Colony.

During the period that the Government will have to find a solution to the Egyptian monarchy, it will have to take account of the views of the Egyptian people and of the views of the British people. It will also have to take account of the views of the Egyptian Government and of the views of the British Government.

The operative word in the announcement is "settlement". It is not a "solution" or a "decision". It is a "settlement" which will be reached after a period of discussion and negotiation. It will be a settlement which will be reached after a period of discussion and negotiation.

HIGHER ELECTRICITY CHARGES PROPOSED

To apply to domestic users

Domestic users, which have increased nearly three times in the past few years, are to be met by an increase in charges to be levied on domestic consumers in Kampala and districts under the management of the East African Power and Light Corporation.

The proposed increase in charges on this particular tariff class before the war-time period is to be 20 per cent. It is expected that the amount of domestic electricity consumption will increase to 100 million kwh. per year by the end of the year.

THE COFFEE INDUSTRY IN UGANDA

Reaction to proposals for reorganisation

The Uganda coffee industry re-organisation proposals are being thought likely to find favour with the coffee growers.

This is the general impression of the industry.

The re-organisation proposals, which are being considered by the Uganda Government, are based on an annual coffee production of 77,000 tons and a monthly average of 6,417 tons.

The proposals allow for six new coffee zones to be set up in the districts of Arua, Karamoja, Kigezi, Kumi, and Soroti.
