MR. BEVIN'S SPOTLIGHT ON WORLD PROBLEMS

Frank analysis of Russia's uncompromising attitude

BETTER HOPE OF SETTLEMENT IN PARIS NEXT WEEK

SOVIET VIEW ON GERMAN DISARMAMENT DEPLORED

London, June 5. Mr. Ernest Bevin, the British Foreign Secretary, rose to open the debate on foreign affairs in a crowded House of Commons yesterday afternoon with the public and other galleries filled. Mr. Bevin said: "The road of peace-making is a very hard road especially when it is complicated by varying political conceptions in different countries and the settlement of disputes is often hampered by a desire to secure the safety of a particular ideology. But I am not pessimistic on that point. I still am wedded to the famous phrase of Lattinot and others before the last war, that peace is indivisible."

It is for that reason that the basic aim of the British Government in its efforts for the settlement of the world war is not only with all international questions which arise must now be dealt with in relation to the world peace which we have sought and ultimately making effective and which will, we say, I don't know how soon, draw its power direct from the people.

At all events, I believe we have a clear view of the situation and we are determined to do our utmost to bring about a settlement which will be the basis of a new world order. It is not only in the interests of the British people but of the world as a whole that we should see to it that the world is brought to a state of peace and stability. It is not only in the interests of the British people but of the world as a whole that we should see to it that the world is brought to a state of peace and stability.

"I can speak at my own rate for the British Government. I have said that we are determined to do our utmost to bring about a settlement which will be the basis of a new world order. It is not only in the interests of the British people but of the world as a whole that we should see to it that the world is brought to a state of peace and stability. It is not only in the interests of the British people but of the world as a whole that we should see to it that the world is brought to a state of peace and stability."

Meeting with Stalin. "At this is an attempt to describe the background of the talks which have been taking place in the recent past. It is not only in the interests of the British people but of the world as a whole that we should see to it that the world is brought to a state of peace and stability. MR. CHURCHILL ON MENACE OF COMMUNISM—

They will only have themselves to blame if they can't see that the danger of the present situation is not being met by Mr. Churchill's Government.

Britain And Russia

'Deep and widespread concern has been expressed in Britain by the main stream of opinion and goodwill between our country and Russia. There was a similar feeling in the Soviet Union when the Soviet Government and the Soviet people were informed of the approval of the United States Government of the proposal which has been put forward by the British Government for the establishment of a joint Anglo-Soviet Commission to investigate the situation in the Balkans and the Middle East. This proposal has been met with a very warm and friendly response in the Soviet Union. It is the perception of Mr. Churchill that the danger of the present situation is not being met by his Government.

'I am sure that the British people will support any proposal which will give them and will give the world a better chance of peace. We have the right to be satisfied with the Soviet Government.

'Mr. Bevin's reference to the Soviet Union in his speech on the 25th of May was a very important one. It was a statement of the fact that the Soviet Union is a great power and that it has a right to be heard in the councils of Europe. It is the perception of Mr. Churchill that the danger of the present situation is not being met by his Government.

'The American people are also concerned about the situation in the Balkans and the Middle East. It is the perception of Mr. Churchill that the danger of the present situation is not being met by his Government.

GOOD NEWS FOR DAIRY FARMERS

ADEQUATE SUPPLIES OF COOPERS IMPROVED CATTLE DIP DUE TO ARRIVE EARLY IN SEASON.

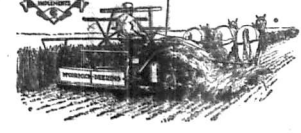

Cooper's Improved is without exception the finest and most popular cattle dip in the world. Besides its arisal content, it contains most valuable advantages which improve its wetting power, so that every inch of the beast's hide, and every tick that is exposed, is covered with a film of dip. No other cattle dip can give such wetting power, and owing to this improved coverage, it is also more effective than the cheaper types of dip. It also much less severe in its action on stock, and therefore, causes much less disturbance to the milk flow of dairy cows, and reduces the period of rest which is necessary before and after dipping.

This is without doubt the most efficient and reliable eradicator of ticks that is possible to be found, and remember, that if it were possible to produce a better dip, Coopers would make it. Owing to the importance of maintaining the milk yield, the use of Cooper's Improved is strongly recommended to all dairy farmers.

African Duty To Educate Their Children

MORE STATE AID PROMISED FOR LOCAL NATIVE SCHOOLS

The Chief Native Commissioner of the Kenya Legislative Council has announced that the Government will increase its contribution to the maintenance of the Central African Native Council. They held their annual meeting in Nairobi last week, and Mr. Odoko declared that the Council will not work hard enough to provide education for the children and boys being brought up to the primary standard. He reminded members that the African Native Council was responsible for educating the boys and girls, and should not leave the burden to parents. Mr. Odoko reminded the Council that Europeans and Asians were taking thousands of pounds of their children and he urged the members to do something to help. Central Africans had not enough schools at all, and he suggested that the Secretary and the Deputy Vice-President should make other arrangements with Kenya and use the Council schools. Europeans and Indians he said were having compulsory education for the children and he was sure they Africans also should not be equally ambitious to do the same if they employed the money and permitted their sons to become teachers.

In a reference to land Mr. Odoko said that the Central African Native Council was becoming more and more interested in land. He reminded the members that the Council should not only conserve water but also land. He suggested that the Council should have a department for the supervision and the necessary staff. He urged the members of the Council.

SUFFICIENT TO BUILD FARMING MACHINERY

New Tractor For Empire Requirements

The production of a new all-British universal farm tractor was announced by Sir Miles Thomas, P. O. C. V. S., Chairman of the National Commission. This eminent new tractor, of types which are earning competition for the best in the world, is not anything else on the market. It is the most powerful tractor ever made, and is 30 per cent sturdier than the average run of the British tractor. With full mud-and-waterproofing, 5000 lbs. weight, and a 10-horsepower engine, it is a wholly new form of tractor and a complete revolution in the design of a machine of this type. It has been built first, and the experience of building the thousands of tanks and cross-country armoured cars, which are incorporated in its design. It is a machine-powered wheel or caterpillar tractor, and its main adaptability is a size smaller than all the requirements of either one or multi-tractor farms, and it is provided with a wide range of optional equipment. Being designed from the inception to be a tractor, it is not a tractor-mounted implement, operated by a tractor, and is therefore capable of easy expansion and modification. It is a machine which is adjustable to the needs of the user, and its adaptability is a feature which is convertible to the needs of the user, and its adaptability is a feature which is convertible to the needs of the user.

S.W.A. Farmers "Told Off"

Farmers were taken severely to task by the Administrator of South-West Africa, Colonel P. J. H. M. van der Merwe, when he addressed the Farmers' Congress at Otjivero yesterday. The Administrator told the Congress that the Government was doing everything in its power to assist agriculture, but farmers, by their uncooperative methods, were curtailing the Administration.

The Administrator was continually inundated with applications for granting farm licenses, and he was not granting of their own, and holding off grass. These farmers could no longer exist on the land they had been granted. He said that the Government was doing everything in its power to assist agriculture, but farmers, by their uncooperative methods, were curtailing the Administration.

Jersey Cattle Breeders Society's Notes

One hears of much dissatisfaction among breeders of pure Jersey and high-grade cattle of all breeds, at the fact of the Jersey Cattle Breeders' Society's Department and the Stock Breeding Association's work matters as the provision of absolute evidence for the registration of their cattle. For instance that transactions, care for the stock, and the fact that the Society has been ungenerous in its policy for ages. Persons who are interested in the large dose required by the larger animals. The hormone of the Society for treating horns are also available. None of these matters occupy much shipping space, and all are available in the United Kingdom. Surely if the Veterinary Department and the Stock Breeding Association showed a bit of interest in the Jersey Cattle Breeders' Society, they would be able to do so.

SUCCESS OR FAILURE?

Indian Constitutional Negotiations Are In The Balance

THE success or failure of the Indian constitutional negotiations is balanced on a knife-edge and the next 48 hours are likely to prove decisive.

The Muslim League's acceptance of the Minister's plans have not, as hoped, been followed so far by Congress concurrence and this morning unity seemed as far away as ever.

A fissiparous crisis has developed over the Congress objection to the parity of representation in the interim Government and in a lesser sense over the inclusion of Bengal and Assam Europeans in the projected Constituent Assembly.

It is understood that the Congress President, Dr. Bhanu Prasad, has written a letter to the Premier and the Minister in which he has expressed his views on the proposed parity of representation.
