Cotton Hybrids Give Bigger Yields

Cotton production in the United States announced in the annual report of the Empire Cotton Trust and Corporation. The company was greatly hampered by a mild acreage drought, and only a slight increase was planned, though the Barbours area, especially in the latter part of the season, was still very low compared to the previous seasons.

According to the report on cotton hybrids, which have been examined by the U.S. Bureau of Plant Industry, the best results were obtained from the crosses of the two varieties. The best cross was the one between the two varieties, which was found to be superior to either parent.

BARCLAYS OVERSEAS DEVELOPMENT CORPORATION LIMITED

(Incorporated in the U.K. with Limited Liability)

The Corporation is interested in assisting economic development in the Colonies by providing finance of a medium or long term character for approved agricultural and industrial schemes.

Applications should be made to the local Branch Manager of Barclays Bank (Dominion, Colonial and Overseas) or Agent for the Corporation.

MUCH has been written, but an examination of the subject reveals so many conflicting statements that it is difficult to get a clear picture of the correct course to follow. It is the purpose of this article to discuss the various points that are being raised and to suggest a course of action that will be of benefit to the farmer.

It is generally agreed that the cow in pasture should be fed on English. This is entirely correct, but the question of the amount of English to be fed is a matter of some controversy. It is generally agreed that the cow should be fed on English to the extent that she will maintain her weight and produce a good quantity of milk. This is the only way to ensure that she will be able to produce a good quantity of milk throughout the year.

SAFEGUARD YOUR HERD

When a farmer uses Arsenite of Soda or cheap cattle dips he is wasting money. All the strength of the arsenite is lost, sufficient to kill any ticks that it reaches it. Three times out of ten it doesn't. Does that astonish you? Here's the reason.

Cheap concentrated cattle dips and arsenite of soda dissolved in water, run off the beast's greasy hide in large globules. Oil and water simply will not mix, however hard you try. The result is that anything up to 80% of ticks escape because they are in between the rivulets of dip.

WHAT'S THE RESULT? Not only is your dip ineffective, but the concentration of the solution in the rivulets, gives an excessive dose of arsenite to patches of the hide, causing burning and distress, with interference of milk yield from dairy cows, and necessitating a period of rest before oxen can be worked.

WHAT'S THE REMEDY? Use Cooper's Improved Cattle Dip, supersaturated with emulsified casein, which attains the hide, killing ticks and avoiding all scalding.

FOR VALUABLE DAIRY CATTLE, COOPER'S IMPROVED IS INDISPENSABLE

General Anderson's Friendly Advice To East Africa

GREATER TOLERATION NEEDED IN RELATIONS BETWEEN RACES

In a broadcast speech yesterday on the eve of his departure from East Africa, Lieut-General Sir Kenneth Anderson made a moving appeal for greater tolerance between the two races. He admitted that it might be indiscreet for an African officer, nevertheless, he wished to take that opportunity in writing to be practised by all races in East Africa. "My advice for stating this is that I am an officer in the Army of the East Africa and the Army knows no colour prejudice; we are all soldiers of the King," he said.

MINING FOR GRAPHITE WAR MINISTER EXPLAINS QUASHING OF SENTENCES

An Opportunity In Kenya

London, October 21.—The War Minister, Mr. W. S. French, today explained the Government's policy regarding the mining for graphite in Kenya. He stated that the Government was not prepared to grant a licence for the mining of graphite in Kenya at the present time. He explained that the Government was concerned about the security of the country and the safety of the mines. He stated that the Government was not prepared to grant a licence for the mining of graphite in Kenya at the present time.

WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 14, 1938

The Peace of Paris.
 Through the past little months of discussion in Parliament the victors in history's greatest war have been criticised for much wandering, many crises, single full failures and many mistakes. The peace treaty, therefore, has not only been drafted with fairly general approval, but it has also been a great success. It is equally beyond dispute that the peace treaty is a masterpiece of the outcome of peace-making may be, as the world soon learns, to its cost and dignity after 1918. But at least the nations can try even of themselves with vigour to check, or make a possible case for army with no extension and, on the basis of adjustments, to hope and expect in full measure of success in their interests. The Paris Conference has not failed. That is as good as far as a matter for congratulation has looked at one thing after another. The peace treaty will prove an impossible task to carry out. The nations, united in war, would be so divided in the grave tasks of reconstruction that it would be looked at one thing after another. The peace treaty will prove an impossible task to carry out. The nations, united in war, would be so divided in the grave tasks of reconstruction that it would be looked at one thing after another.

—MEMBERSHIP OF FORCE

York, October 16.—
The British Foreign Minister declared today that he would not support a resolution which would allow the British Government to take any action which would interfere with the sovereignty of the German Government.

Mysterious Suicide By Poison In Prison Cell

DYING NAZIS' FAITH IN GERMANY

WITH TWO HOURS to live, Hermann Goering, arch-criminal of the Nazi war-mongers condemned to hang today for his crimes, cheated the gallows.

With what is believed to have been a glass phial of potassium cyanide he committed suicide in his cell only two hours before his execution was due to take place.

It is not known how the poison came to be in Goering's possession and how it came into his possession. An executioner testified that the cyanide was found in a small bottle in the cell.

Goering was found in his cell at eleven o'clock on the morning of October 16. He was found lying on the floor of his cell, apparently dead. He was wearing a white shirt and dark trousers. He was found with a glass phial in his hand.

Goering was taken to the prison hospital where he was found to be dead. He was found to have died of potassium cyanide poisoning.

Goering's death was a surprise to many of the other prisoners in the cell block. They had been told that Goering would be executed at eleven o'clock.

Goering's death was a blow to the morale of the other prisoners. They had been told that Goering would be executed at eleven o'clock.

E.A. Governors in Conference
Food Position
Still Causes
Anxiety

PLANS IN HAND TO IMPORT MAIZE

At a meeting of the East African Governors' Conference held in Nairobi on October 10 and 11, under the Chairmanship of the Governor of Kenya, messages of good wishes were sent to the Sir Hon. George Hill, Mr. Creagh Jones, and Lieut-General Sir Kenneth Anderson.

It was noted at the meeting that "in spite of a slightly improved outlook the food situation still gives cause for anxiety and until the general outlook improves, becomes more secure the possibility that it may be necessary for further importation of cereals cannot be ruled out."

To Mr. Creagh Jones the message was:

"East African Governors in Conference need messages of welcome and good wishes on your departure from East Africa as you have done so ably and so valiantly during your term of office as Secretary of State for the Colonies."

To Mr. Creagh Jones the message was:

LABOUR, HOUSING,
FOOD

Nairobi Chamber
Discusses These
Local Problems

Nairobi Chamber of Commerce has requested the Executive Committee of the Chamber to send a representative to the Associated Chambers of Commerce of East Africa on the long trip to London, Nov. 4 and 5, to discuss with the Association the problems of the Chamber. The Association has also indicated that the representative should be a member of the Chamber and should be able to discuss with the Executive Committee the problems of the Chamber.

The Executive Committee of the Chamber has agreed to send a representative to the Association on the long trip to London, Nov. 4 and 5, to discuss with the Association the problems of the Chamber. The Association has also indicated that the representative should be a member of the Chamber and should be able to discuss with the Executive Committee the problems of the Chamber.

WHAT TO DO FOR
Childrens COLDS?

Do the treatment mothers all over the world have tried for you!
VICKS VAPORS

Another sign of the food position, that arising in the Department of Agriculture and the Chamber of Commerce, has been a report from the Chamber that it has received a letter from the Secretary of State for the Colonies, Mr. Creagh Jones, to advise the Chamber of the problems of the Chamber. The Chamber has also indicated that the representative should be a member of the Chamber and should be able to discuss with the Executive Committee the problems of the Chamber.

"Here, Sir, is a nice quiet place."
"What is it like, Williams? Last night I mentioned my kind one, but you said 'no', under the Stars' Lane sign."
"Ah, Sir, there has been, for several considerable times, in what they call short supply. It all happened on the first of the month."
"Oh, Williams, no more. And how likely is it for a man of my rank to be a 'landfall' in Savile Row?"
"Oh, Sir, many of our gentlemen find it difficult to get a perspective to certain suitings after years on what"

The Governor also discussed the question of the transport facilities for the proposed Great Train Road. The Governor also discussed the question of the transport facilities for the proposed Great Train Road.

Point For The New Tourist Traffic
Committee

Complaints of unnecessary delays on the part of the Immigration Department in clearing visitors on arrival at Mombasa have been received by the Nairobi Chamber of Commerce. One member of this week's meeting of the Chamber, stated on a visit to London, Kenya, that he had spent six hours at Kilindiya waiting for a passport and six hours at the Immigration office in Nairobi waiting for a passport.

The Chamber was followed by a meeting of the Air Committee. The Air Committee was followed by a meeting of the Air Committee.

IMPUDENT THIEF, CUNNINGLY PLANNED

The thief who described as a "very clever and crafty" man, who had planned a robbery of the Nairobi Police Station on the night of the 20th, was arrested on the morning of the 21st. He was a member of the Nairobi Police Force and was known to the officers on duty.

COMMERCIAL URGES REORGANISATION OF E.A. AIRWAYS
 Call For Resignation Of Present Board

That there was "universal indignation" throughout East Africa with the service operated by the East African Airways Corporation was expressed at this week's meeting of the Nairobi Chamber of Commerce, when the Chairman's delegates to the annual session of the Associated Chambers of Commerce and Industry, to be held next month, were instructed to propose to a slightly amended form a resolution previously adopted by the Tanganyika Chamber of Commerce.

The resolution was that this Chamber of Commerce is convinced that East African Airways is continuing to operate at a loss. The Chamber wishes to draw attention to the irregularity of the services and the commercial attention to the schedule and quality of the services, which has caused dissatisfaction on the part of passengers and freight carriers.

It is requested that the Board be instructed to consider the possibility of reorganising the Corporation, with a view to the improvement of the service and the financial position of the Corporation. It is further requested that the Board be instructed to consider the possibility of the Corporation being taken over by a more responsible body.

The Board of East African Airways is a body which has been appointed to manage the Corporation, and it is the duty of the Board to ensure that the Corporation is operated in the best interests of the public. It is the duty of the Board to ensure that the Corporation is operated in a manner which is profitable and which is consistent with the interests of the public.

of their surplus stock would be a serious handicap to the business man for his objective is not to be a "producer" of surplus stock, but to be a "consumer" of surplus stock.

Another objectionable fact is that though it is certainly true that in Africa (except perhaps the Masai) the standard of living is low, by no means all are prepared to work and toil which others will do for them. It is a fact that the standard of living is low, but it is not a fact that the standard of living is low because of the failure of the business man to work and toil.

The business man in Africa is a man who is a consumer of surplus stock, and he is a man who is a consumer of surplus stock because he is a man who is a consumer of surplus stock. He is a man who is a consumer of surplus stock because he is a man who is a consumer of surplus stock.

Terracing is Not Enough

MODERN VIEWS IN DAIRY FARMING As Applied To Kenya Conditions

With the beginning of the new terracing season it is well to bring certain points to the attention of farmers regarding the operation of an efficient soil conservation system including the legitimate function of terraces.

The Soil Conservation Service has issued a considerable amount of information, derived from the terracing experience in other countries, which serves as a guide to the operation of terracing in Kenya. This information is contained in a series of bulletins, which are available to all farmers who are interested in the subject.

Most soil erosion is caused by a combination of factors, such as the steepness of the slope, the nature of the soil, the intensity of the rainfall, and the lack of adequate vegetation. Terracing is a method of soil conservation which is designed to reduce the effect of these factors by breaking the slope into a series of smaller, more manageable terraces.

It is important to note that terracing is not a substitute for good farming practices. It is a method of soil conservation which should be used in conjunction with other methods, such as the use of cover crops, the use of mulch, and the use of contour plowing.

The experimental results indicate that terracing is a highly effective method of soil conservation. It has been found that terracing can reduce soil erosion by as much as 90 per cent. It can also increase the fertility of the soil and improve the water-holding capacity of the soil.

It is important to note that terracing is not a one-time operation. It is a continuous process which requires regular maintenance. It is essential to check the terraces regularly for signs of erosion and to repair them as soon as possible.

The most serious problem in the operation of terracing is the problem of water runoff. It is essential to provide adequate drainage for the terraces. This can be done by the use of drainage ditches or by the use of other methods of drainage.

It is important to note that terracing is not a method of soil conservation which should be used in isolation. It is a method of soil conservation which should be used in conjunction with other methods, such as the use of cover crops, the use of mulch, and the use of contour plowing.

Official records show that the number of acres of land under terracing in Kenya has increased steadily since the beginning of the terracing program. This is a clear indication of the success of the program.

SAFEGUARD YOUR HERD

When a farmer uses Arsenite of Soda or cheap cattle dips he is wasting money. All the strength of the arsenic may be thrown away, sufficient to kill any ticks IF IT REACHES IT. Three times out of ten, it doesn't. Does that astonish you? Here's the reason.

Cheap concentrated cattle dips and arsenite of soda dissolved in water, rub of the beast's greasy hide in large globules. Oil and water simply will not mix, however hard you try. The result is that anything up to 30% of the arsenic because they are in between the rivulets of dip.

WHAT'S THE REBULTY? Not only is your dip ineffective, but the concentration of the solution is reduced, giving an excessive dose of arsenic to the ticks, causing burning and distress, and interference of milk yield from dairy cows, necessitating a period of rest before cows can be worked.

WHAT'S THE REMEDY? The Cooper's Improved Cattle Dip, supercharged with emollient oils which spread the deadly arsenic in a thin effective film all over the hide, killing ticks and avoiding all scalding.
