Union Prepares To Receive Immigrants

(STANDARD CORRESPONDENT)

For the first time in its history South Africa is formulating a coordinated immigration policy. At present the Union Government is building up machinery to cope with the flow of immigrants expected as a result of the recent announcement by General Smuts, the Prime Minister, that large-scale immigration to the Union had become a matter of high priority.

In the last few weeks, Mr. J. F. de Villiers, acting administrator, former Chief of Police and a well-known food controller, has been at work as chairman of the re-constituted Immigration Selection Board in Pretoria. Working closely with him through an advisory committee are five Government Departments—immigration, consular, agriculture, labour, education and health. Some 600 people have been interviewed since the committee was set up, and it is expected that they will be able to clear some 2000 immigrants in the next few months.

At present, immigration is being handled on an ad hoc basis, and it is expected that the new machinery will be able to handle a much larger number of immigrants.

The Immigration Selection Board is expected to be able to handle a much larger number of immigrants.

COMMISSIONER EXPLAINS SOME POINTS TO ABERDEEN COUNCIL

(STANDARD CORRESPONDENT)

At a full meeting of the Aberdeen District Council held at 11 o'clock on September 25, the Commissioner of Lands and Survey, Mr. J. H. de Villiers, explained some points to the Council regarding the residential settlement of immigrants in the district.

The Commissioner stated that the Government is anxious to see that the settlement of immigrants is carried out in a manner which will be of benefit to the community as a whole. He pointed out that the Government is not only interested in the physical aspects of the settlement, but also in the social and economic aspects.

He explained that the Government is planning to build a residential settlement for immigrants in the district, and that the Council should be prepared to assist in this work. He also pointed out that the Government is planning to build a residential settlement for immigrants in the district, and that the Council should be prepared to assist in this work.

of revenue to be met from accumulated balances. The fact that the Government is not able to meet its obligations is a serious matter, and it is expected that the Government will have to take steps to reduce its expenditure.

The Government is also faced with the problem of financing its operations. It is expected that the Government will have to raise money in some way, and that it will have to increase its taxes.

The Governor began the address by saying that the season was of peculiar interest because of the drought which the East had just undergone. He said that the Government had been very busy in the past few months in dealing with the various aspects of the drought, and that the Government was now in a position to report on the progress made in this regard.

The Governor then turned to the subject of the Government's financial position. He said that the Government had been able to maintain a balanced budget throughout the year, and that the Government was now in a position to report on the progress made in this regard.

Ethiopia From The Inside PARADISE OF THE MINOR OFFICIAL

[It is amusing to take a trip to Kenya from Addis Ababa and find that people here have just made your escape from a dangerous land of Thargarist.]

In actual fact, you will probably find down in an extremely comfortable aeroplane, provided by the Ethiopian Air Lines, and piloted by Americans.

About seven o'clock the morning you will have breakfast in the airport in Addis to conclude that the plane is not a very modern one.

It is amusing to take a trip to Kenya from Addis Ababa and find that people here have just made your escape from a dangerous land of Thargarist.

KENYA AND UGANDA 50 YEARS AGO

A FAMOUS SAFARI SETS OUT FROM MOMBASA

Sir Albert Cook's Reminiscences

(This is the first of a series of five articles, set in the 50th Anniversary of the East African Standard...)

Well, it has pleased God to spare me for fifty years, though I have not seldom, brooded death in the face...

Almond, under the name of Sir Albert Cook, had a long and varied career...

My first person advanced in years... I had to be in the habit of looking after my feet...

Among the little group of lady missionaries, looking forward to their departure...

Two years later, in 1892, we were ordered to leave the station at Mombasa...

But to hasten on with my story... I had to be in the habit of looking after my feet...

Not at Kilindiini, for the general opinion was that the station was not a good one...

Germany perceived that the station was not a good one...

It seemed a pity that the station was not a good one...

At that time the currency of the East African Standard was the East African Shilling...

The Old Fort and the First Railway... The first railway was built from Mombasa to Kilindiini...

Malin Describes Churchill As An "Incendiary"

RUSSIAN TROOPS IN EASTERN EUROPE

No More Than Sixty Divisions

DELEGATES to the United Nations Assembly have strongly commented on statements made by Generalissimo Stalin which he declared that the strength of Russian troops in Eastern Europe is no more than 20 divisions.

The Soviet leader referred to Mr. Winston Churchill as an "incendiary of a new war" in reply to Sir Hartley Shawcross, in New York, but declared it was sure he is quite wrong in referring to anyone in Britain as desiring or even contemplating war.

Mr. Stalin made his statements in reply to a question put to him by the President of the American News Agency—the United Press.

Of the 20 divisions he said were not at full strength and in two months time the figure would be reduced to 10 divisions. They were in Germany, Austria, Hungary, Bulgaria, and Czechoslovakia.

He said that the House of Commons Foreign Affairs Committee had been told that the Russian had said that the Russian had been working in the occupied territories of Europe.

Mr. Stalin said the most serious threat to world peace came from what he called "incendiaries of a new war" who were in Britain and those who thought like him in Britain and the United States.

On the question of atomic power Mr. Stalin said it was a matter of control was what he meant. He said that the United States was developing atomic power in a form which was different from that of any other country.

Mr. Stalin said with a number of questions about Germany he thought it was possible to set up some sort of German government in the reconstruction under American supervision. He said that the level of industry in Germany should be raised to the level of the United States.

Mr. Stalin said that the United States was indifferent to the present Russian position in the Mediterranean. He said that the United States was interested in obtaining a loan from the United States.
