UNION CHIEF

Mr. E. O'Brien, general secretary of the The Plantation Workers Union, warned members to guard against outside interference in the affairs of the union.

The union representatives of the union and growers. It has been the practice that when some Kenya Indians go away others try to undermine them by attempting to spoil their union.

Mr. O'Brien, however, we refused to accept the ruling of the K.P.W. and he again claims the K.P.W. failed to explain our leader's purpose. The consequence of this was to interfere with our union.

The union and the Kenya Tea Growers Association have worked closely — they know each other's ways and know what plantation can pay and what cannot, and related work or we have descended too much on the plantations industries the rain of part of the tea industry are not satisfied.

Most important He acknowledged the progress made in Africa from its own companies, but added growers would understand the union's claim and get on with Africa.

Mr. E. O'Brien, the Union Chief, said that the Union was in a position to take the country, so it is up to the growers to take the country.

The Commissioner stated that the Division had made a big step towards the production of coffee. It is not quantity that is needed, but quality, by the Societies must keep records of accounts so that the growers could have their right to it.

"Coffee is money" pointing to the Commissioner, the chairman of the joint Gichugu Division (which covers branch societies from Kabaru, Baragani and Nyamoni) Mr. John Sigeo, said: "Coffee is money". He paid tribute to the Administration agricultural and co-operative officers without whose assistance he said, the Division would have been unable to produce coffee in this country.

The District Commissioner, Mr. J. V. Mervin Davies, who was joined with the programme in the coffee holiday in Gichugu Division. To get good crops, he said, a period of investigations must take place first, a standard coffee crop "I am not a great believer in the coffee holiday but there are dangers in it. It is a great mistake to think that the society must have been successful to get their requirements in time. Secondly, growers must plant, and the District as a second

1962 WILL BE BRIGHT YEAR FOR COLLEGE

The Royal College, which came into existence as the second university college in East London on February 23, 1961, is expected to receive the Royal Charter of the East London University which is to be the governing body for the university.

This year will see many changes in the Royal College, Haringey. Although several have been done since the college changed its name from the Royal Technical College last year, more facilities have been formed, buildings are springing up, and plans are in hand for degrees to be made independently of London University.

ENROLLED
On February 17, 1961, the Royal College, Haringey, entered its first students with the University of London in the course of all seven university subjects.

B.A., B.Sc. and B.Ec. (Engineering) were offered by the Academic Board of the College and approved by the University of London.

The University of London made it necessary for heads of the various academic departments to be appointed and six to be given seats.

FIVE FACULTIES
The incorporation of the college also entailed physical expansion. In this respect matters have moved quickly and the year 1962 should see new library completed, as well as the new science building the new engineering building and two new halls of residence for women students.

WORK CONTINUES
The faculty of engineering, with departments of civil engineering, mechanical engineering, electrical engineering, and food engineering.

The faculty of art and architecture, with departments of art, architecture and quantity surveying.

And the faculty of special educational studies, with departments of pedagogy, health administration, public administration and domestic science.

MORE WOMEN
During 1961 students numbered 415, of whom 71 were women.

Of the 417, 247 men and 170 women students were accommodated in the halls of residence. The college changed its residential organization as since has its women and a residential tower.

There are at the moment five halls of residence, three for men and two for women.

The college expects a considerable increase in the number of women students during the next five years and is re-organizing the halls of residence accordingly.

This arbitrary drawing of the proposed extension to the Royal College shows what is to be included in the new building. The drawing is the student's hand and the new administrative offices are shown in the foreground. The new building is to be built on the site of the old building, which is to be demolished. The new building will contain the proposed departments of architecture, architecture, and architecture.

Own degrees to be introduced with respect to the complex problem of degrees of the university will have its own subjects.

CLOSE LINKS
Maitland already has its own arts and science departments and also certain professional departments.

The university will make a system of sponsorship which is well under discussion, and it will under discussion, and it will under discussion.

A treaty of great deal of work has been done, both by the University of East Africa and by the academic committee.

AINSWORTH HILL

PROBABLY no ship has ever brought a greater array of passengers to East Africa's shores than the ms. Aranzada did when she docked at Kilindi on December 8, 1959.

On board with Lugard McKenna was young C. J. John Dawson Ainsworth, a South African, who was to become one of Kenya's first businessmen, and the father of Ainsworth Hill and Mackenzie Hill.

When in 1911 the Maan was wrecked, the wreckage was the wreckage of the present South Africa.

BEHIND THE NAME
The Southern Rhodesia was the first of the three territories that were to be merged to form the present South Africa.

Students leaving the lecture rooms at the college on their way to the halls of residence. When an attention in the college is completed there will be room for a considerably larger number of students.

DARK CAVE HAS MORE THAN BATS LIVING IN IT

By NORMA WISWY

FOR at least two years Foley has been very interesting in bats. He has read about them, and he has seen them flying about just as it is getting dark.

But Foley still hoped to find a cave full of bats. He was staying on the farm with the family and thought surely now he would find one. But the farmer said "You'll never see a cave as my dear."

One day when Peter and Betty were out exploring they fell into a dry track through the bushes.

The bushes "look" whisperry Peter exclaimed. "I think that is the way into a cave!"

"They sound like that," they started opening in the rocks. "No any bats!" said Peter. "I don't see any bats!" said Betty.

He didn't like it at all. It was dark and smelly. Peter and Betty were very nervous. They were in the home of a whole family of bats.

"Suddenly Peter started down. 'Get away from here! Get away from here!'"

"Peter!" he shouted, "are they biting anybody?"

"No!" mopped Peter, "they must be bats - dozens of them! I wish they didn't hang about here!"

"After all," he said, "I came looking for bats in the first place."

INSURANCE SCHOOL ATTENDS STUDENTS FROM FAR AFIELD

NAIROBI has the distinction of being the home of the African Training School for Insurance Executives, an institution which is claimed to be the first of its type, both in regard to objectives and its composition, in the entire continent.

Heretofore the only method by which young men from Africa with reasonable prospects in the insurance industry could obtain a sound working knowledge of insurance training was to go to Europe or America for the purpose of studying the intricacies of insurance. Frequently an insurance company with a headquarters in the continent recruited the numerous requirements of its major sector of commerce.

FOR ALL RACES

To the African continent this facility, with all its shortcomings, was not available until the African Training School for Insurance Executives was established in Nairobi. The school is open to students of all races, ranging from the continent from the continent to students in order to attract the best talent in the continent. The school is a distinct feature of its own, starting from the elementary stages of the training.

An instructor of the training school, Mr. E. K. Bannister, who is in charge of the school, says that the school is not like the ordinary school in that it is not a school for the purpose of training students in the theory of insurance, but a school for the purpose of training students in the practice of insurance. The school is open to students of all races, ranging from the continent from the continent to students in order to attract the best talent in the continent. The school is a distinct feature of its own, starting from the elementary stages of the training.

Manchester J. will meet Tottenham

FULHAM, bottom of the First Division and apparently doomed for a drop into Division II, joined the clubs in the semi-finals of the F.A. Cup when they beat Blackburn, Rovers 1-0 in the quarter-final replay.

Fulham meet Burnley, the current League leaders and second favourites for the Cup, in the semi-final at Villa Park on March 21. The other semi-final, at Hillsborough, Sheffield, on the same date will be between the favourites, last year's winners, Tottenham Hotspur, and Manchester United.

Manchester United earned their semi-final berth with a 2-1 win over Preston at North End, the only Division II club left in the competition. While Fulham and Manchester United were battling in Cup, their semi-final opponents were both engaged in top-of-the-table league struggles.

Mandarin's Cup victory puts him on top

MME. K. HENNESSY'S MANDARIN battled to a game win yesterday in the £5,728 Cheltenham Gold Cup and became the highest stakes winning horse in the history of British National Hunt racing.

Total winnings of the 11-year-old are now £28,703, compared with the £26,604 won by Nicolas Silver, last year's Grand National winner, previously held the record.

Mandarin's victory completed a great Cheltenham double for his trainer, Pule Waiwun, who on Wednesday added Antio in the Champion Hurdle, the next most important race of the three-day meeting.

Shipping of both worlds for Kenya

Shipping has brought a brighter hope for Kenya, which the London conference has considered, and it is now clear that Kenya's industrial situation has improved.

A plan for Kenya's future, outlined by the Colonial Secretary, Mr. Maudslayi, at Lancaster House, makes the best of both worlds.

While advocating a strong central government, as suggested by Kees, he also thought that the country should be divided into provinces.

That he went much further than to suggest that Kenya should be divided into provinces is clear from his remarks.

If suggestions are accepted by the delegates who have been in London for the past few weeks Kenya will soon have a constitution.

Regions' powers
The new government, which is expected to be formed in the next few months, will have powers which will be shared with the provinces.

It was pointed out that the provinces will have a say in the central government, and that this will be done by means of a council of representatives.

In his proposals on Wednesday Mr. Maudslayi said that the central government should be responsible for the defence and foreign affairs of the country.

There should be a bicameral legislature and he suggested that the upper house should be elected by the provinces.

He also suggested that the provinces should have a say in the central government, and that this should be done by means of a council of representatives.

The government should be elected by the people, and he suggested that the provinces should have a say in the central government, and that this should be done by means of a council of representatives.

change the whole constitution of the country, and that the first step of the process has been made by the proposal to divide the country into provinces.

From that position of affairs it is clear that the proposal to divide the country into provinces is a step towards a more democratic form of government.

It is also clear that the proposal to divide the country into provinces is a step towards a more democratic form of government.

WORLDWIDE COLLAPSE COURSE EFFECT

JOINING COUNTRIES

The British and the Colonial Secretary, Herbert Morrison, has been invited to visit the president of the United States and Central Africa were the most important factors in the Government's recent decision to grant independence to the territories of East Africa, Mr. Morrison said today.

Must seek payment for Nairobi

The British Government must seek payment for Nairobi, the Colonial Secretary said today.

Major challenge

The major challenge to the British Government's policy of independence for the territories of East Africa is the long history of British administration in the region.

New edition of saga

A new edition of the saga of the East African territories is being published today.

More control for regions sought

More control for the regions of East Africa is being sought by the local populations.

RAILWAYS AND UNIONS AGREE ON RELATIONS

The agreement is a landmark in the history of industrial relations in East Africa. It provides for a new framework of relations between the railways and the unions.

Difficulties for central land board

The central land board is facing difficulties in its operations. It is struggling to manage the land resources of the territories.

STORY OF SHOT IN THICKET

The story of a man who was shot in the thickets of East Africa is a tale of adventure and danger.

AN African who stole a sheep from his employer was occupying when he was killed him. It was stated at the inquest at Nakuru yesterday.

The inquest heard that the man was a member of the local community and was known to the employer.

The man was found dead in the thickets, and his death was a mystery.

of both worlds for Kenya

The week brought a brighter hope of a constitutional conference. But in Kenya the industrial situation has worsened.

A plan for Kenya's future, outlined by the Colonial Secretary, Mr. Maudling, at Lancaster House, makes the best of both worlds possible.

While advocating a strong central government, in a report by Kanan, he suggested that the country should be divided into six regions.

His suggestions are accepted by the delegates who have been working for some time now on a coalition government.

The government, possibly together with one or more of the regions, will be left with matters left unsettled by the plan.

Way suggested to guard new Constitution

It is not overdone, I think that a good way of guarding the Constitution is to have a body of men who will be entrusted with the task of watching over the Constitution in the event of any change in the Constitution being proposed by a majority of 75 per cent in the Legislative Council.

REAL SAFEGUARDS

It seems to me that it is the best way of ensuring the Constitution, and the safeguarding of the essential parts of the Constitution.

Minor social revolution

A minor social revolution is taking place among the people of the Federation. An increasing number of them are beginning to demand for a change in the status of the Federation.

Arms retained

The United Arab Republic in formation Ministry reported in a statement to the Speaker of the House of Representatives that the Government has decided to retain its arms and armoury.

fringed opportunity to be given to the public. I believe that the Constitution is a living document and it is essential that it should be kept up to date by periodic revision.

I believe that a committee should be set up to study the Constitution and to recommend ways and means of guarding it.

BIG ADS INTAKES

Therefore, gentlemen, both because of the need for people to work together and because of the need for a social and political revolution, I want to record my appreciation for the support and encouragement of this stage of the Federation's development.

Arms retained

The United Arab Republic in formation Ministry reported in a statement to the Speaker of the House of Representatives that the Government has decided to retain its arms and armoury.

It is my hope that the Federation will continue to develop and progress, and that the people will continue to support and encourage the Government in its efforts to build a better future for the Federation.

Kodak Announces A Greatly Improved Kodachrome Film: Kodachrome II Colour Film

Since 1936, when Kodachrome Film was first made available for 35mm colour slides and 8mm colour movies, it has been the standard of excellence for colour photography all over the world.

Over the years, Kodachrome has been improved to yield better and better results. Now Kodak announces a whole array of new improvements. The result is a new film that widens the scope of your picture-taking and delivers vastly superior results.

Greater depth-of-field

Now you will be able to get more detail in your backgrounds, because you'll be taking a picture at f/11 instead of f/8.5. More of the picture will be in sharp focus, too.

Greater exposure latitude

Kodachrome II is a forgiving film. It gives you more leeway when you're taking pictures. This means more pictures per roll or reel—fewer wasted frames.

Clearer detail in shadows

You'll take much better pictures in direct sunlight with Kodachrome II because it gives you much clearer detail in deep shadows. Its contrasts are more gentle... give you much more reality what your own eyes see.

Improved Kodachrome II is available in 135mm and 35mm film (Daylight type only), and in 8mm and 16mm movie film (Daylight and Type A).

SAVE SHOWS HIPPO MEAT America to cover cost of new college

COULD DO MUCH FOR UGANDA

By Mrs. J. M. O'Brien, Editor, Uganda Standard

These plans devised by a Kenya expert to convert a hippo into a meat crop, aims at providing a protein food and a fresh source of employment for the masses.

The scheme is the result of an investigation by Dr. L. E. L. L. of the Animal Industry Project, Kenya Department of Veterinary Services, who has conducted a series of surveys on preservation and utilization of hippo meat at the request of the Uganda Game Department and the Uganda National Development Corporation Ltd.

Premier appoints West African

Standard Staff Reporter, Kampala.

The Premier has appointed Mr. C. L. L. as a member of the Government of the Federation. Mr. L. L. is a West African who has been appointed to take up his duties as a member of the Government of the Federation on March 21, 1963. Mr. L. L. is a member of the Government of the Federation and will be working in the office of the Premier.

to a paper published in London by the Commission for Co-operation in Africa South of the Sahara, Dr. L. L. explains that the aim of the scheme was to evaluate the possibilities of converting the surplus population of hippos in the Queen Elizabeth National Park into cheap, non-perishable, high-protein food which would not rot and which could be shipped without refrigeration.

The report says that not all hippos are killed for their tusks and that some of the surplus population could be used for meat. It is estimated that the surplus population of hippos in the Queen Elizabeth National Park is about 1,200. At the same time, the surplus population of hippos in the Queen Elizabeth National Park is about 1,200.

WEEK END STANDARD WIND OF CHANGE

THE CARBETTER, who reported the recent Kanga Panga news against conventional wisdom in the Northern Frontier Province, writes of the white man who writes a bare living from the scattered 250,000 miles of desolate East Kenya.

THE scrubland became more barren as we pressed north until it finally dissolved into a red, arid, desert country whose flat contours were broken only by the low peaks of a volcanic mountain range. No river or stream broke the monotony of the scrub, and what little grass there was lay parched and broken under the sun which rarely fell to an average drop below 55 degrees.

The Karakora, a country of a few hundred square miles, was the wind of change which swept in from the north. It was there that we saw the white man who writes a bare living from the scattered 250,000 miles of desolate East Kenya. He was a white man who writes a bare living from the scattered 250,000 miles of desolate East Kenya.

OLD BATTLE

The numbers down there in the old battle were more than 100,000 men, but there was a high altitude at which the white man who writes a bare living from the scattered 250,000 miles of desolate East Kenya.

John "Paddy" Carleton, who volunteered to climb to this district, is seen in the foreground with the Tughlaks. He is now here hunting for mining and exploring the "Lost Kingdom," says "Paddy"—the only man in a radius of 200 miles.

Man with a pocketful of sweets

With a grin and one dirty, dirt-stained pocket of happy, sugary sweets, Paddy Carleton, the only man in a radius of 200 miles, is seen in the foreground with the Tughlaks. He is now here hunting for mining and exploring the "Lost Kingdom," says "Paddy"—the only man in a radius of 200 miles.

BLACK ROCK

Others, he said, his girls are exchanged by a girl and man who still speak Swahili. The girl was very young and was being carried with her by the man's hand. The girls were taken to the "Black Rock" and were kept there until they were sold to the Arabs.

SAVAGE LAND

The Tughlaks rarely steal from each other and if it did happen the culprit would be dealt with by the law of the tribe. "Paddy" Carleton is fond of his savage northern district of Turkana and has worked there for many years.

Tigers and Terribles in training for the Great Marble Game

THE spectators of Britain are preparing for one of the year's most important sporting events—the British Marble Championship, which is held every Good Friday at Trinity Green in Sussex. This year's championship will have an international flavour about it, for the United States Throat Air Force is entering an official international team.

The U.S. team has been training in Sussex at the U.S.A.F. base at South Mablethorpe. Their team manager, Technical Sgt. Gerry Harber, expects to report to the British on the progress of his team. The British team is being trained by the British Marble Association at Trinity Green in Sussex. The British team is being trained by the British Marble Association at Trinity Green in Sussex.

It is not the only match in British marble which is being played. In fact, there are many other matches being played in various parts of the country. The British Marble Association is holding a series of matches in various parts of the country.

Supplement A DAY OF MATERIALS UNDER THE ROOF FOR FIRST TIME

A very few people know what a building centre is. I will begin by explaining in some detail its purpose.

The function of a building centre varies from country to country but, generally speaking, its primary purpose is to bring together and to display building materials and building equipment produced by local manufacturers and to have a centre where the wide variety of materials and equipment available in one place.

D. B. Mills, F.R.I.B.A., Chief Architect of the Ministry of Works, writes about the Kenya Building Centre which is to be opened officially tomorrow by the Mayor of Nairobi, Ald. Harold Travis.

Apart from the basic function of exhibiting a wide range of building materials available in Kenya, however, one of the main activities of the Building Centre is to provide a permanent display of building materials and equipment, the purpose of which is to assist the manufacturer or importer in exhibiting the materials and the issue on request of illustrations and other information available under building trade.

MODEST START

Some countries, particularly those in Europe, have a long history of building centres. In Kenya, such a building centre has only just started.

The Building Centre is a very modest start. It is a building centre in the sense that it is a place where building materials and equipment are available in one place.

It is a building centre in the sense that it is a place where building materials and equipment are available in one place.

It is a building centre in the sense that it is a place where building materials and equipment are available in one place.

The Building Centre and a centrally placed building centre connected with roads, whether by road or rail, will be a great help to the building industry in Kenya. It will be a great help to the building industry in Kenya. It will be a great help to the building industry in Kenya.

Hard work turns a three-year-old dream into reality

The following good-will message is contributed by the Temporary Ministry for Works, Mr. A. W. HORNER

It is well over three years since Mr. Nathan, the then Minister for Works, presented the President of the East Africa Institute of Architects in his speech at an annual dinner of the Institute that he would give assistance in initiating a Building Centre.

YOU must have heard of the old saying "If it ain't broke, don't fix it." But if you are in the market for a new building, you will find that the old saying is not always true. In fact, the new building is often a better investment than the old one. This is because the new building is often more efficient, more durable, and more attractive than the old one. U.K. EXPRESSES CONCERN TO ACTING GOVERNOR

U.K. Expresses Concern To Acting Governor

U.K. National Farmers' Union leaders who were by the Acting Governor, Mr. Griffith-Jones, yesterday that Government action was being taken for several months because of lack of money.

The delegation, which was led by the union's acting president, Mr. J. P. Palmer, presented a memorandum on unemployment which stated that the union was in no doubt that farm labour would become redundant in a few increasing numbers within the next six months and that the number of unemployed would increase with each greater restriction in the future.

Not only are there tens of thousands of unemployed and their dependants without means of subsistence, some of whom are fortunately receiving famine relief, but a growing number of hungry, homeless and disheartened persons are being added to the ranks of the unemployed, the memorandum stated.

This is a very grave security risk, particularly in view of the exorbitant prices for foodstuffs and hides so recently emphasized by the Minister for Defence.

LABOUR CAMPS URGED

The union estimates that at least 60,000 men, women and children in the Rift Valley alone are now without any form of relief.

The delegation told Mr. Griffith-Jones that the union agreed that the three proposals put forward by the commission should be accepted by the Government. The other committee set up under the Government Secretary's patronage, the Leader of the House, Mr. Neil, were the correct course.

These proposals were that European farms should be bought and sold, that the Government should set up on them, that public works should be granted to farmers where labour was employed for the project.

TIMELY WARNINGS

The union also suggested that the Government should think of an increase in the number of farms, and settlement on land in the scheduled area. Finance to meet these needs should be found immediately, the union stated.

The K.N.F.U. is convinced that immediate action is essential and that if nothing is done after a further few weeks, the situation may slip beyond local control in some areas. It is also convinced that the Government should take large security forces at considerable expense.

Despite timely warnings by the union and the General Agricultural Workers' Union, the situation was allowed to drift for twelve months. If the Government had acted earlier, the situation would have been beyond the resources of the Government to control.

TV SERVICE FIRM APPOINTED BY BOARD

The board of the Kenya Broadcasting Corporation has appointed Television Network (Kenya) Ltd. contractors to the Corporation.

Television Network (Kenya) is a local company comprising international television, radio and public relations. As members of the Corporation, they will have a say in the running of the service which there are already three other television stations in Kenya.

The members of the board are Mr. Robert Riddley, the members representing the Television Network (Kenya) Ltd. are Mr. J. A. Collier, managing director of the Thomson Organisation, Mr. J. A. Collier, Mr. H. High Street, Mr. J. A. Collier, and Mr. J. A. Collier, executive director of the local company.

Mr. Anwar Maitai, one of the public members of the board, said that the board is now fully constituted and that it is open to the Corporation to accept the services of some of the members of the board.

The Government will deal with any game laws which are broken, the Minister for Agriculture, Mr. M. N. Njiru, said yesterday.

He said that the Government was not interested in the game laws and that it was only doing its duty as a member of the executive committee of the party.

Patients stung

Standard Staff Reporter, Nairobi.

Four African workers of the Kenya Industrial Workers' Union (KIWU) were stung yesterday during a half-hour strike at the Kenya Industrial Workers' Union (KIWU) when they refused to work at the factory.

The workers were stung by the police when they refused to work at the factory.

U.K. REFUSES TO PUT OFF ELECTIONS IN UGANDA

Standing Staff Reporter, Kampala.

Britain has refused to agree to a postponement of the general election in Uganda as a National Assembly, Minister Mr. Kivuvu said.

Mr. Kivuvu said that the British Government was not prepared to agree to a postponement of the general election in Uganda as a National Assembly.

Government is ready for a general strike

In the event of a general strike, action will be taken by the Government and by several firms to maintain essential services.

The acting Minister for Defence, Mr. J. E. Ellerton, said yesterday that the Government was ready for a general strike.

Cash, skill needed for war on want

TANGANYIKA's ammunition for its war against ignorance, poverty and disease was money and training, the Commissioner for the Northern Region, Mr. J. A. Collier, said yesterday.

He said that the Government was not interested in the game laws and that it was only doing its duty as a member of the executive committee of the party.

No agreement

He would not comment on the K.N.F.U.'s plan for the general election, the Commissioner for the Northern Region, Mr. J. A. Collier, said yesterday.

He said that the Government was not interested in the game laws and that it was only doing its duty as a member of the executive committee of the party.

Chairman's rules

The union's local chairman, Mr. J. A. Collier, said yesterday that the union was not interested in the game laws and that it was only doing its duty as a member of the executive committee of the party.

He said that the Government was not interested in the game laws and that it was only doing its duty as a member of the executive committee of the party.

Streamlining

At Kulu all workers reported for duty through it in the morning but just a few hours' work by the Nairobi County and Tika roads in the morning.

The workers were stung by the police when they refused to work at the factory.

UNIONS URGED TO DRAW UP 'BLACK LISTS'

KANU's boss yesterday urged all unions to draw up black lists of workers who should be dismissed for being absent without leave.

He said that the Government was not interested in the game laws and that it was only doing its duty as a member of the executive committee of the party.

BRIDGE By R. A. FRIDAY

Chicago Chicanery

It was introduced in New York to a new type of rubber bridge known as Chicago. It is simple to learn, quick to play and reduces betting out to a minimum.

A rubber of Chicago consists of four hands. The first hand is dealt only one card. On the first deal the dealer deals a vulnerable suit. The dealer's suit is vulnerable only on the first hand. Both suits are vulnerable.

Handicaps. Each player's hand contains 100 points and 100 points for a vulnerable game. A pair which has an average of 100 points at the end of the fourth deal scores at the end of the fourth deal.

After the fourth deal the dealer is seated opposite the center of the table. The dealer deals the cards in four suits in the order of spades, hearts, diamonds and clubs, which suit was chosen.

Some New York clubs have introduced a variation which makes the deal-in and third hand play on the second and third hands. This is a variation which makes the game more exciting.

The great advantage of Chicago is that it is a game for four players with only one bridge board. It is a game for four players with only one bridge board. It is a game for four players with only one bridge board.

KENYA RECORDS BROKEN

RECORDS were broken in both the men's and women's 100 yards individual and 200 yards relay races at the Kenya swimming championships last night.

J. Adams, M. O'Keefe and J. McNeil all bettered the previous records of the Kenya swimming championships last night.

A series of boys and girls' heats were held over a 200 yards relay race in which the Kenya team was only one-fourth of a second behind the victors.

KENYA hockey will lose two outstanding players in Douglas and Pimenta Coelho when they leave for Brisbane, Australia, on Monday.

Like his father before him, Douglas Pimenta Coelho was in the Kenya national hockey team at the Olympic hockey team at Nairobi. He was a player, scorer and several times captain of teams for the Kenya hockey association.

Mr. Pimenta Coelho was also in Nairobi, selected at the Kenya High School and played hockey for the school and Kenya.

He captained the Kenya national representative side that met the England touring team last year.

Both expect to play hockey in Brisbane, for the Kenya team on the left in their own country. Mr. Pimenta Coelho was also in the Kenya national hockey team at Nairobi. He was a player, scorer and several times captain of teams for the Kenya hockey association.

Spurs beaten in first leg by Benfica

ENGLAND'S World Cup hopes took a severe knock at Birmingham when almost the full England team, representing the Football League, were beaten 4-3 by the Scottish League.

It was England's strongest available side, with the exception of Jimmy Greaves, who was on European Cup duty with Tottenham Hotspur.

The English were two goals down at one stage, and though they went ahead 2-2 after crossing over 24 minutes, they gave a thoroughly disappointing display.

England's only remaining defender was beaten by the Scottish scorers in the 13 and 18 minutes.

Eldoret forced to cancel two rugby fixtures

TWO Eldoret and East Africa rugby players are unlikely to play this season — and one of them may never play again in his life. These are just two of the blows which have caused Eldoret to cancel their fixtures against Kenya Harlequins and East Africa Harlequins at Nairobi this weekend.

Injured, a few players from Eldoret will travel to Nairobi to play for Kenya against East Africa at Nairobi on Saturday.

It was stated at Benfica that their first leg, scheduled for 2.0 at half time, was cancelled.

MASAI IN ANGRY MOOD OVER TREATY

Hands and drives them into the wilds.

"I want to make it very clear to the British Government and everybody else that we do not want to sign any agreement," he said. "We do not want to have our status settled."

Those who have settled in their former lands, however, insist, will have to sign the treaty, which will give them the same rights as the occupants of the land to which they have moved.

The Masai were opposed to the Central Land Board's proposal to give the Masai who have moved into the treaty. Kalia would have no power to give approval to the Masai. The Masai who have moved into the treaty in Kalia will be treated as tenants.

Clarification of some points in Kenya land dispute

President Frondizi arrested by Army

ARGENTINA'S service chiefs yesterday criticised President Frondizi after declaring him deposed and flew to the prison island of Martin Garcia in the River Plate estuary.

The Duke of Edinburgh is to leave Argentina today, cutting short his visit by five days in view of the political situation. It is believed in Buenos Aires that he will be flown to Uruguay.

President Frondizi left his presidential office with his family and flew to the prison island of Martin Garcia in the River Plate estuary.

from the National Government while the objective is still in London, he also insists that all of them should stay at the conference now. This he emphasized in a letter to the Masai president, Mr. Kariakoo.

Today's session on land is regarded as a satisfaction. Yesterday was spent in the nature of a clarification of confusion arising from misinterpretation of Mr. Maingui's proposals, especially the Masai demand to be given land transactions in the Masai area.

The session lasted till midnight, ending harmoniously, however, with Mr. Kariakoo and the president of Kalia, Mr. Maingui, having a drink together at Lantana House.

Coup in Uganda forecast by Minister

UGANDA'S Minister of Finance, Mr. Lawrence Sebala, yesterday accused the Uganda's Congress of planning to overthrow the Government.

He said that during his stay in London he had discovered that a plot existed to stage a military coup within the first three years of independence. It could be within a year. Plans have already been made in London. The best one can expect from these people is high-handed governmental action.

E.A.A.'s YEAR OF SUCCESS

£262,000 profit earned in face of mounting costs

DESPITE reduced fares and an increase in salaries, East Africa Airways has had an operating profit of £262,019 in 1961, the general manager says.

Col. M. C. P. Mowatt, announces today. The corporation earned £238,000 on its international operations during the year, that requiring considerable financial support for the operations of domestic services. It is the general manager's view that the financial improvements have been due to the corporation's decision to increase fares and to increase salaries.

Col. Mowatt is "very grateful" to the staff for a year which has been "very profitable". He said that the corporation's decision to increase fares and to increase salaries was a "very profitable" one. WEEK-END FORWARD JINJA FESTIVAL PAYS TRIBUTE TO BRAVE EXPLORER

MARJORIE REYNOLDS, chairman of the Nile Centenary Festival Committee, writes of the plans to celebrate the discovery of the Nile's source by Speke in 1862. She gives details of the exhibition and other entertainments connected with the festival.

WHEN John Hanning Speke discovered the source of the River Nile on July 27, 1862, he most probably never imagined that a thriving town would spring up in the banks of Lake Victoria. But a town has sprung up, and Jinja today has an approximate population of 24,000. To commemorate Speke's discovery, Jinja is holding a Centenary Festival, which will last for one week.

When one thinks of the many dangers that Speke and his band of explorers underwent one realizes that we should remember the courage of such men. For his discovery of the Nile source, Speke was awarded the Founder's Medal of the Royal Geographical Society.

John Hanning Speke, who discovered the source of the Nile 120 years ago, has been planned in two parts, with a commercial and trade exhibition, and a programme of entertainment and sport.

The festival will start with a series of lectures on the history of the Nile, conducted by the British Nile Society.

An African stevedore with his back to camera from within the Nile gates through the Dams Falls Dam at Jinja with the Nile river in the background. It was one of the scenes of the Nile 120 years ago.

Children to get week's holiday who and the show will be held for a three-hour period to Spoke for his efforts of exploration.

The G.O.C., East Africa Commission, Maj. Gen. R. Goodwin, has secured us of his whole-hearted co-operation, and the Commanding Officer of the 4th Bn. K.A.S. Uganda Rifles has also been a tremendous help.

In addition to the various sports events will be held every evening from 7.30 to 9.30 p.m. including a historical pageant.

There will be displays by schools, Boy Scouts, and a band performance by the Salama Amudaya Band from the Uganda Foundation for the Blind.

On the Friday there will be traditional African venting, music and dancing. The arena events will include with the Uganda Rifles Club.

The festival Committee has a letter of support of the various clubs and associations in the town to the festival.

There is no doubt that the festival will be a success and it is hoped that it will be a most enjoyable one.

Astrologers in India still rule roost despite 'heavenly hoax'

By Gordon Martin, New Delhi

INDIA'S astrologers and soothsayers present a bright picture for themselves, in spite of the failure of their most-famous prognostic in February. Though badly hit by the recent earthquake described as 'the heavenly hoax', the star gazer's influence on the life of the average Indian is still strong.

A most difficult failure, however, may be in store for the ragged, self-appointed world savant, who floundered into the big cities during the recent planetary storm. Their unscrupulous horoscope rituals, together with the discouraging effect of the anti-bogging laws, are bringing their predicament.

These unfavourable performances of auspicious horoscopes have been the bane of the Indian since the beginning of the century.

But not even the most famous of the 'heavenly hoax' has been able to shake the faith of the Indian who still believes in the 'heavenly hoax'.

MARTIN HOPE writes about the days in Britain when railway travel was starting and even Captain Hardy of Trafalgar fame, refused to run travelling on such a dangerous invention! The writer also tells of a museum started recently by the British Transport Commission.

CLAPHAM JUNCTION, in south-west London is one of the world's busiest railway junctions. Thousands of people pass through it every day on their way to work in London's shops and offices. During the morning and evening rush hours passenger trains pass through it at the rate of three a minute. A world to go to there in the Museum of British Transport at Clapham Common, started some time ago by the British Transport Commission. There you can look back through history and see what transport was like in Britain before the days of the steam giants, diesel and electric trains.

TESTING STATION FOR TRACTOR BUYERS IN CHOICE

HEAVY RAIN BRINGS GOOD CROPS

SOME of the heaviest rain on record in inland Australia has hit northern Australia, bringing in the season, and set scores of rivers flowing.

The rain is reported to have reached the record level for Darwin in the days of 22 1/2 inches and good crops have been raised across a wide tract from the South Australian Gulf to the Gulf of Carpentaria.

In an address to the Australian Agricultural Council in Brisbane, the Minister for Primary Industry, Mr. Adamson, said that a good season was expected for the season because of good rain during the New Year.

He said that the outlook for wool, wheat and dairy products was good, and that the Government was prepared to meet any emergency arising from the drought in other parts of the Commonwealth.

In fact, heavy late spring rains in some areas, combined with a dry season in other areas had affected some crops.

Ten models put under scrutiny

Australia is one of the few countries that have established tractor testing schemes providing simulation of the work that the tractor will do in the field.

The Australian Tractor Testing Scheme was inaugurated in 1934. It was set up by the Agricultural Research Laboratories of the Australian Government Department of Supply.

The station is located in the Victoria State Research Farm at Werribee.

Each tractor tested is put through a certain number of tests of procedure in order to determine its performance and to measure the fuel consumption of the tractor.

The test procedure, including a test of the physical properties of the tractor, is carried out by the Agricultural Research Laboratories of the Victorian State Research Farm at Werribee.

USEFUL SUMMARY

The farmer, in most cases, is not a professional operator of a tractor. He is a man who has to be able to get the most out of his tractor in the most economical way possible.

Wool farmers change to subsidised wheat

Some Australian farmers are changing from wool to wheat farming now that the Government has subsidised wheat.

The average yield of wheat in the Victorian State is about 15 bushels per acre, which is about the same as the yield of wheat in the United States.

WATER FOR FRUIT

A ultra modern at Alice Springs, in Australia's Northern Territory, is used for spraying water pumped up from artesian wells by the windmill.

ANCIENT WINDMILL DOES MODERN JOB

THERE are more than 200,000 windmills operating in Australia for the sole purpose of pumping water. This represents a capital investment in windmills, which represents a capital investment in windmills, amounting to $2,000,000.

This simple and ancient form of utilizing wind power has proved an equally simple and successful device in Australia.

Some of the main uses have been pumping water for stock, the use on farms and irrigation areas and also on the sea beach.

Windmills have also been used for pumping water for sheep-dipping, for irrigation, for the use of water in the arid areas of Australia.

SMALLER AT COST

Direct-operating windmills with wind-wheels measuring 17 to 20 ft. in diameter are popular in dry areas where large areas of Australia.

Smaller geared windmills, 12 to 14 ft. in diameter, are used in coastal areas.

The smaller geared type of windmill usually follows the traditional pattern, but the direct-action windmill is regarded as an Australian development.

SAME RATIO

In this direct action type of windmill the stroke of the pump coincides with each revolution of the wind-wheel. The wind-wheel of the gear type, with each stroke, is confined to one revolution of the wind-wheel, and the pump is operated by a gear train.

A gear train is used in the gear type, and the average life of the gear train is 10 years, although many have been operating for considerably longer periods than this.

The demand for windmills is

THEY MEAN IT

Each label says "do not wring" - probably is caution. Remember that "drip dry" means just that, though it may go against the grain to take a garment out of the water dripping it up, not to much wringing as stretching.

Just a gentle squeeze, a tiny wring - that is, ignore the label. It is asking for a dress that looks like a well-worn, used cardigan from an old maid for the rest of its life.

CHILDREN AND THE TRUTH IN H-BOMB AGE

By ANN DALLY

I WAS INTERESTED to hear a very modern father discussing truth. He believed that right from the start you should tell children the truth about everything - including sex and babies and Father Christmas. It did not matter whether they asked or not. They should be told the truth.

The man said that with truth he had found a better world to live in. He would never forget the day when he told his child the truth.

"I thought of the materialized question I have always pondered in our family - 'Why do I have a headache?' He would never forget the day when he told his child the truth.

"What about H-bombs?" a young girl asked. "They would probably go something like this."

"Will we all be killed in an H-bomb?" "Probably." "Probably." "Probably." "Probably."

Preparing casing soil for mushroom beds

IN THE GARDEN with L. H. BUSSELL

AFTER insertion of the mushroom spawn, the beds should be left undisturbed for two weeks. If the top surface becomes dry, it may be sprayed with a fine spray but too much moisture should not be given. The spawn should not be watered by water running through the compost.

After two weeks, the compost should be given a light cover one or two of the spawn fragments must be left in place, distinct while threads emanating from the spores and travelling through the compost will be seen.

If the stage is too wet or too dry, a longer period will be needed to effect the desired growth.

At this stage the bed is ready for casing soil. This is an open layer and must be carefully chosen soil which must be put on top of the spawn. The casing soil must be carefully chosen and it is wise to prepare it well in advance. The soil of a fairly heavy nature which will be suitable for use to lift below the surface.

It should be free from top soil bacteria and insect life. The soil of the bed should be moist with it and should be able to retain its moisture for best results.

The bed the subject and turn it in a 24 in. bed, adding more soil every six layers. About 14 in. of lime to suit. About soil in 80 lb. of heavy straw compost. A good mixture. Turn the earth slack

Anyone would think I was just a machine!

If you're anything like a typical business man, you are likely to find at least one young lady in the office who's rapidly losing her good looks because of all the copy typing she has to do. She says she might just as well be a machine—but she's wrong! When it comes to copying, the "Thermo-Fax" All-dry Copier costs far, far, less than a typist and produces its copies in much shorter time than it takes her to put in her type. As far as he's concerned, she's usually used a great deal of money waste. May we demonstrate?

Kakuru G.C. loses skipper

K.G.U. CANNOT AFFORD TOUR, HE SAYS

ONE of Kenya's top golfers and the Kenyan Club captain, Gordon G. Kibuka (left), is leaving the Colony in April on transfer to Dar es Salaam.

with from the publisher's comment on the Kenya golfing tour of Rhodesia in May.

"We can't afford it," he said. "That is obvious by the fact that we were disappointed the tour of Kenya golfers a lot more good if the money was used to bring two top professionals on a tour."

Gibbs is a golfing writer for the Kenya Times. He was in Nairobi from November, 1959, to October, 1960, and was a member of the Royal Nairobi, Kenya and Sigma Clubs.

Before moving to Dar es Salaam he had a spell in Dar as Sales and Public Affairs Officer. He was later runner-up in the Tanganyika championship. He served in the Kenya Air Force, and in March last year was reported club captain.

In Nairobi, as in his other stations, the best volleyball coaching ever was given, and was laudable as catering for the formation of a team.

Thin on ground
Gordon began his golf life in Kenya and was for some time secretary and treasurer of the Kenya Golf Club, Edinburgh. He is a member of both the Kenya and Kenya Golf Societies.

"The standard of golf in Kenya is not high," he said. "There are no tournaments, no competitions are interesting. But even so, the ground - there are not many courses, but they are coming along."

Gordon's place as the team captain to play the Kenya Cup (Rhodesia) in April 1961 and 1962 will be to help the Kenya team to win the A.B.C. title in 1961.

Mr. P. R. K. Howard (18), the Kenya Club secretary, said:

MISSING CUP MYSTERY

JUST one polo tip is the problem facing the Kenya and Rhodesia clubs as they prepare for their match at Nairobi on Sunday. For they would compete for the Rhodesia Cup and Mr. P. R. K. Howard (18), the Kenya Club secretary, said:
