Wreckage found 1,000 feet below warning beacon DIE IN GOING PLANE CRASH

U.S. transport crashes into hillside

FOURTEEN American airmen were killed when their four-engined Hercules transport aircraft crashed into a ravine on the side of the Ngong Hills in dense cloud yesterday morning.

The pilot made no emergency signal before the plane crashed 1,000ft. below a warning radar beacon on top of the hills.

Last night rescue teams were still unable to recover the charred bodies from the smouldering mass of metal. Only six bodies have been found and rescuers have given up hope of finding any survivor. Only one man has been identified — by a name tag on his uniform.

RADIO CONTACT LOST

The aircraft was one of three United States Air Force planes due to stand by for recovery duties in the second Project Mercury man-in-space attempt to be made tomorrow. It was flying from the U.S.A.F. base at Evreux in France with an aircraft maintenance crew, spare engines and other spare parts.

Embairki airport control tower officials said the aircraft was nearing the 8,047ft. high Ngong Hills on its final landing approach when radio contact was lost at 11:25. When no further contact was made R.A.F. Eastleigh was alerted and aircraft in the area were told to search for the missing plane.

An hour later a Boeing 747 and a Douglas C-124 Hercules transport aircraft, spotted smoke from the plane's engine on the western slope of the hills. There was no sign of life.

An Alouette helicopter of a Independent Reconnaissance Flight, Army Air Corps, immediately flew an American doctor to a point about 1,000ft. below the wreckage. The sides of the ravine were steep and the helicopter to get near the wreckage was of the R.A.F. Land Rescue Team and medical personnel were sent from Eastleigh with a crash ambulance. Two U.S.A.F. flight surgeons were flown to crash with two aeromedical attendants. A rescue team who had landed at Embairki only minutes before the Hercules was reported lost.

Heavy cloud

Cloud made it impossible for them to make a parachute drop and they had to go in foot. Police and trial police on the ground. Mr. Nield, Kitching, an oil from Ngong about five miles from the scene. Mr. Nield, Senior Medical Officer at Eastleigh, Lt. Robert Brown, and Private Officer Ralph Roberts, who were on the plane, were down the side of the ravine to the wreckage about three hours after the crash. The best way to isolate that they were unable to get within 100ft. of the wreckage. Room was played on the plane, but little effect, and it was not until about 2:30 that rescuers could start searching the area for the wreckage for signs of life.

Flying low

R.A.F. officers at the scene said it appeared that the Hercules had been flying low across the hill. Flying below thick cloud. Because of this, the pilot was unable to pick beacon on top of the hills. The pilot was down the straight into the ravine. The plane hit the ground on the steep side.

There was so great that little of the plane was recognizable. The wreckage was scattered in a ravine — life rafts, bread, equipment and other items were scattered about. The wreckage was twisted upside down. The wreckage lay underneath the hillside. The wreckage was twisted upside down. The wreckage lay underneath the hillside.

It is a terrible tragedy to hear of the crash and the loss of the lives of the crew. The American Service personnel were given a very hearty condolences.

The almost unrecognisable mangled wreckage of the Hercules aircraft lies smouldering in the deep ravine where it crashed, spilling out 14 on board, yesterday.

It is a member of the Project Mercury rescue team.

They were a group of 80 men of Number 224 Group, Tactical Air Force, which includes Australians and New Zealanders, the Air Ministry announced in London.

The Prime Minister, Mr. Macmillan, told the House of Commons that he had decided that in the event of such a request being received, the next few days, Britain would be required to send a contingent.

He said there was "no immediate intention" to send a force to Laos. The government was continuing to help the Government of Laos.

CASABLANCA GROUP MOVE DENIED
Standard Staff Reporter, Casablanca.
A report from Cairo that Tanganyika had applied for membership of the Casablanca Group of Powers was described by the Tanganyika Government as "baseless news".

The Permanent Secretary to the External Affairs Division at the Prime Minister's office in Dar es Salaam, Dr. Y. K. Nyerere, said there was no truth in the report. He said the Tanganyika Government had no intention to join either the Casablanca or the Moscow Group. His aim was to bring the two groups together and his Government was continuing to strive towards that end.

A little over a month ago, Nairobi City Council put its rotary traffic plan into effect. Has it succeeded?

Loudest voice of protest came from the tram-trail, but few drivers praised the new roundabout routes.

THE PROS AND CONS (Mainly Cons) OF ROAD SCHEME

OPPOSITION to Nairobi's rotary traffic scheme has been growing since the new plan was introduced.

When the new traffic system was introduced, it had, in fact, suffered a setback. Many people have complained that the system was not well thought out.

However, other people have praised the scheme. They say it has helped to reduce traffic congestion in the city.

Some of the main objections to the scheme are that it is too expensive and that it has caused a lot of inconvenience to the public.

Others, however, believe that the scheme is a long-term solution to the city's traffic problems. They say it will help to improve the city's appearance and make it a more pleasant place to live in.

The scheme has also been praised for its safety features. It has helped to reduce the number of accidents in the city and has made it easier for pedestrians to cross the roads.

Despite the objections, the City Council has decided to continue with the scheme. It believes that the benefits will outweigh the costs in the long run.

The Council has also announced that it will be carrying out further improvements to the scheme. This includes widening the roads and adding more roundabouts.

It is hoped that these improvements will help to make the scheme even more effective and that it will be able to cope with the increasing traffic in the city.

The Council has also been criticised for not consulting the public enough before introducing the scheme. Some people feel that they should have had a say in the decision.

However, the Council has defended its decision. It says that it had to act quickly to deal with the traffic problem and that it had no choice but to introduce the scheme.

It is clear that the scheme has caused a lot of controversy. However, it is also clear that it has helped to improve the city's traffic situation in many ways.

The Council has also been criticised for not doing enough to improve the city's public transport system. Some people feel that this is a more important issue.

The Council has responded to these criticisms by saying that it is working on a long-term plan to improve the public transport system. This includes building new roads and introducing new services.

It is hoped that these improvements will help to make the city a more attractive and convenient place to live in. It is also hoped that the Council will continue to listen to the views of the public and make the necessary changes.

The Council has also been criticised for not doing enough to improve the city's environment. Some people feel that this is a more important issue.

The Council has responded to these criticisms by saying that it is working on a long-term plan to improve the city's environment. This includes planting more trees and improving the city's drainage system.

It is hoped that these improvements will help to make the city a more pleasant and healthy place to live in. It is also hoped that the Council will continue to listen to the views of the public and make the necessary changes.

The Council has also been criticised for not doing enough to improve the city's economy. Some people feel that this is a more important issue.

The Council has responded to these criticisms by saying that it is working on a long-term plan to improve the city's economy. This includes attracting more investment and creating more jobs.

It is hoped that these improvements will help to make the city a more prosperous and successful place to live in. It is also hoped that the Council will continue to listen to the views of the public and make the necessary changes.

Nairobi now 'an unsightly mess'

It is thought that the new system of driving on the left rather than the right has caused a lot of confusion and inconvenience to the public. Many people are complaining that the roads are now an 'unsightly mess'.

The Council has responded to these criticisms by saying that it is working on a long-term plan to improve the city's appearance. This includes cleaning up the streets and improving the city's landscaping.

It is hoped that these improvements will help to make the city a more attractive and pleasant place to live in. It is also hoped that the Council will continue to listen to the views of the public and make the necessary changes.

DISBANDING EAST AFRICA'S NAVY IS NO SMALL JOB

LEWIS CLAY discusses the winding up of the Royal East African Navy, which will cease to exist on June 30, and the future of its officers and ratings.

How does one disband a navy, surely an unprecedented event in world history? To find out, I visited the Royal East African Navy base at Mombasa and talked to its commanding officer, Capt. E. A. W. Gibbs, and some of his officers and ratings.

Many people think that it is the task of the navy to defend a country's coast. In fact, the navy's primary role is to provide a secure sea route for the national economy. The Royal East African Navy, which was established in 1948, has a long and distinguished record of service to the East African States.

As the navy winds up, every item has its value to someone. The disposal of all the ships is a major task. The Royal East African Navy has a fleet of 12 ships, including the transport ship H.M.S. "Aurora", the minesweeper H.M.S. "Cerberus", and the patrol boat H.M.S. "Dolphin". The disposal of these ships will be a major task for the navy.

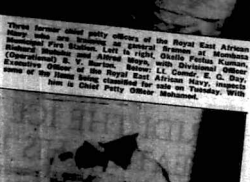

The future of the officers and ratings is also a major concern. Many officers have served in the navy for many years and have acquired valuable experience. It is essential that they be provided with alternative employment opportunities.

The winding up of the navy is a complex task that requires the co-operation of all concerned. It is a task that will be completed by June 30, 1962.

Sailors become firemen

Three former diesel petty officers of the Royal East African Navy have taken up a new career as firemen in the Kenya Fire Service.

The three former petty officers are: Mr. J. M. Mwangi, Mr. J. M. Mwangi, and Mr. J. M. Mwangi. They were trained as diesel mechanics in the navy and have now applied their skills to the fire service.

New pants will shock prim and proper

HIPSTERS' FOCUS ON MIDRIFIT

OF VIOLENT men of the fashions debauch and of the boys going to be swept around in the "bigger pants, which have been worn in Hawaii and which are supposed to be the designer for holiday wear in Europe in the coming summer.

Cropped off at hip level and finished with a belt of pleated silk, these trousers are to be worn at half mast and reveal a nicely-lapined midriff.

I have already heard several shocked reactions in Manila.

'Cover it up'

"Maybe I am old fashioned," one matron said, "but I do not think the luxury fashion part of the anatomy that should be exposed. This is one fashion my teenage daughter will not wear. I shudder."

Another mother, however, shopping with her young daughter, found that style amusing and charming and bought her a pair on the spot.

Hipster pants — also christened "the mids" or "midsieckers" by the makers — should be worn with special bloomers, cropped short at the waist. With skirts or long trousers these look like perfectly ordinary slacks on more covered-up occasions.

It goes without saying that they can be considered only for the girl with the figure for a bikini, for they spotlight any kind of a spare tire.

Good news about more conventional slacks is that stretch pants are available at lower prices.

Based on the elasticated knicker idea, these are in Helanca or stretch nylon, striped under the waist, and always fit smoothly and neatly, without "bagging" and creasing.

The new ones are also suffered around the ankle, to prevent the slight wrinkling that occurred when they rested on the instep and preserved the neat crease down the front of the leg.

Try cooking with these herbs

By JEAN ROBERTSON

A FRENCHMAN wishing to be particularly striking about the contents of his British kitchen is likely to insist that there is a herb used in the cuisine of his native France. This is the herb which is used in the cuisine of his native France. This is the herb which is used in the cuisine of his native France.

chopped mint. Serve chilled, with the rest of the mint scraped into the surface.

Basically, a robust plant with a flavor to match, needs to be used with extreme caution to light meats and poultry. It is a blessing of the fashions of a midriff and a pair of the cold.

SMOOTH STYLES RETURN

AFTER YEARS of bouffant hair, pouffed shingles, with carefully placed fringes and forward tips over the ears, hair styling is at last getting back to a more fluid, less stiff, look.

The 1962 beauty, Vogue reports, means a cool, content look which chooses a curly arrangement for her style.

Hair moves, with a swing and with a swing, is one side or into a casual, loose, high wave.

The problem with the new line, which tends really professional styling, is getting the show back into your hair.

The answer lies in less bouffant hair, less bouffant, the old old rule — lots of bangs.

ALL Saints' Church, N. Newark, was the scene of the wedding of Mr. Michael John Pitt Ennor, an Elemenites farmer, and Mrs. Elizabeth Hillgar.

The bridegroom is the elder son of Mrs. Anne Hunt, of South Kinnago, and the late Lt. Comdr. Ennor, and his bride is the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hillgar, of Newark.

The bride came in a classic full-length gown of white lace, her embroidered veil was held in place by a coronet of orange blossoms and she carried a spray of red roses.

WANTED A SYSTEM FOR THE STREET IN NAIROBI

I HAVE read a good many of the urban planning columns and I would now like to say that, broadly speaking, I am in favour of considerable betterment of Nairobi's streets. It is the effect, as all concerned must be aware, that I would like to see a system of roads that would be a credit to the city.

The first and foremost consideration is the drainage of the city. Nairobi is a city of hills and the drainage system is a matter of life and death. It is the responsibility of the city authorities to ensure that the drainage system is adequate for the needs of the city. This means that the drainage system must be able to handle the rain water that falls on the city. It must be able to do this without causing any damage to the city or its inhabitants.

The second consideration is the layout of the roads. The roads must be laid out in a way that is convenient for the people of the city. This means that the roads must be wide enough to accommodate the traffic that will use them. They must also be laid out in a way that is safe for the people of the city. This means that the roads must be free of any obstacles that could cause an accident.

The third consideration is the cost of the roads. The roads must be built at a cost that is reasonable for the city. This means that the city authorities must be able to raise the money to build the roads. There are a number of ways in which this can be done. One way is to raise the money from the city's own resources. Another way is to raise the money from the government. A third way is to raise the money from the private sector.

The fourth consideration is the maintenance of the roads. The roads must be maintained in a way that is safe for the people of the city. This means that the city authorities must be able to keep the roads in good repair. This means that the city authorities must have a budget for the maintenance of the roads. They must also have a system of roads that is easy to maintain.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Good manners
VERY early on May 1, I was told that a number of people had written to the editor of the paper to complain about the behaviour of some of the people who were sitting on the benches in the park.

I always try to be a good person and I try to be a good citizen. I try to be a good neighbour and I try to be a good friend. I try to be a good parent and I try to be a good worker. John Elgon's Friday Diary AFRICAN GIRL DROVE SOLO VAN TO U.K.

THE story of how an African girl in her own right drove about 7,000 miles alone in a van from Kampanga to England to study at a college in the north of a British publisher.

It is part of the autobiography of Miss Rose Cross, who has just published her book, 'A Girl in a Van', in London.

Miss Cross, who is now in England where she is completing her third year at a college in the north of England, has written a book which is a tribute to her own initiative and courage.

She spent her childhood in Kampanga, East Africa, and she was the only girl in her school to be a member of the Girl Guides.

Breweries hit spot on local exchange

NAIROBI Stock Exchange has had a much quieter week. Apart from the brewery sector, most prices were calm. The African Breweries were a firm market, rising 12 cents to 1/7½ buyers, and there were rises of 30 cents in the two local poteries of City Breweries at 3/6, Alliance at 7/1 and Uganda Breweries at 7/1.

East African Standard remained a very active market and many shares changed hands at 17/7½ cont. cent. dividend and 15/50 ex dividend. The price eased 2½ cents yesterday to 15/7½ ex dividend and 14/50 cont. cent. dividend. In the motor section Standard was a bright spot, rising 25 cents to 4/7½ but Standard Motor 3 cents to 41/7 and Cooper Motors were offered 50 cents lower at 1/50.

FEELING HEAVY IN LONDON MARKETS

WEDNESDAY'S further sharp fall on Wall Street and more disappointing company news again affected sentiment in London stock markets yesterday.

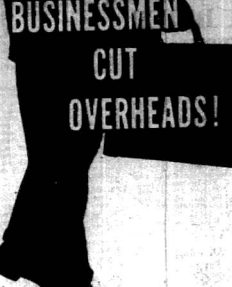

A Jubilee bazaar had a record for the day but the gain was cancelled by the main index which fell 1½ points in response to that poor result. The London index finished 1/8 down sharply in adjustment to lower Wall Street values. Gold shares failed to establish any definite trend but copper eased. Oil-related equities were

CONTRACTS IN RATES FOR FARM LOANS

THE TIMES and the fact that half the loans made by moneylenders to Ethiopian peasants ended up as court cases white only 2½ per cent of loans to farmers in British areas were made under a "constructive contract".

It is said that the "constructive contract" at Addis Ababa is present in only 10 per cent of the loans made by moneylenders to Ethiopian farmers in East and Central Africa.

"The fact that the moneylender plays no part in the bank's future is a disadvantage to the bank and cannot really be said to be a benefit to the farmer."

The other reason is that the bank has been purchased from the market and the bank is no-operative, which was a condition imposed by the Government for the bank to be a public institution.

Banks will also be co-operative with the market because they know to be competitors in the market since by European methods the market is more developed.

The market is more developed because of interest rates which are lower and the bank is more stable and the market is more stable.

14,000 idle by strike

Between 14,000 and 15,000 workers in the factories of engineering manufacturers of Britain's Ministry of Defence were yesterday because of a strike by the workers of the Ministry of Defence and the management office.

The workers of the Ministry of Defence are not to be notified of a permanent job. Expert estimates put the loss of jobs at 14,000 M.C. workers of the 74,000 M.C. workers may have been laid off.

Mauritania progresses

Mauritania President Mokhtar Ould Daddah said in Nice that the country was making considerable economic progress.

Addressing a press conference on the eve of his official visit to France he said Mauritania, after having been one of the poorest countries in Africa, was on the verge of achieving a modern economic equilibrium thanks to the discovery of rich iron deposits.

Full exploitation of the deposits he added, would give Mauritania a modern railway transport system.

Ceylon's pledge on compensation

Ceylon's Minister of Commerce, Mr. Ganguaratu, told Parliament that the Government would compensate oil companies for all facilities taken over by the State-owned Petroleum Corporation of Ceylon. He denied Foreign Press reports that the primary purpose of the acquisition was to import and distribute Soviet oil products.

KENYA'S FIRST FULLY-PLANNED TOWN

£380,000 project on the Lake

On the southern tip of Lake Victoria's Kwana-Lake, 40 miles south of Kisumu, a new town has been planned. It takes its name from the bay on which it is built—Homa Bay. It is the new administrative centre of South Nyanza which was previously centred on Kisumu. The project, which includes an administrative block, offices, and council chamber for the African Council, and housing scheme, is to be finished in July for a cost of £380,000. Presently Kisumu is approached to a garden city, Homa Bay is the only town in the country to be fully planned before construction began, in December, 1958.

The administrative block, designed by Mr. D. N. Fry, before Homa Bay trading centre.

Lower offences reported in Zanzibar Town

STANDARD CORRESPONDENT
ZANZIBAR.
Fifty fewer offences were reported in the Stone Town during the first five months of this year compared with 1961, and in the African Town the number of cases dropped 100 per cent.

The statement was made in reply to allegations that crime against property was on the increase in Zanzibar Town, and that a contributory factor was the absence of policemen from street patrols to enforce traffic duty.

The statement says that the increase in the number of offences can be attributed to an increase in petty patrol activity for the purpose of enforcing traffic regulations, and that the number of offences reported in various parts of the town has fallen.

A danger
The concentration of many of the offences in the central area of the town has led to a situation where the police are unable to patrol the whole of the town. This has led to a situation where the police are unable to patrol the whole of the town. This has led to a situation where the police are unable to patrol the whole of the town.

POLICE WINNING BATTLE WITH CRIME WAR

Fewer offences reported in Zanzibar Town

STANDARD CORRESPONDENT ZANZIBAR
Fifty fewer offences were reported in the Stone Town during the first five months of this year compared with 1961, and in the African town the number of cases dropped 20 per cent.

The statement was made in reply to allegations that crime against property was on the increase in Zanzibar Town, and that a contributory factor was the reduction of policemen from street patrols to traffic duty.

The statement says that the greater part of the crime reduction can be attributed to a decrease in petty theft and activities for which only 12 men are employed, compared with 20 in 1961. It also notes that there has been a decrease in the number of motor vehicles.

They are working in conjunction with the police patrol cars, and the police have been able to detect and arrest offenders more quickly in various parts of the town.

A danger to the concentration of mass collection of crime has been noted, and it is suggested that the police should be able to deal with the situation more effectively.

Police warn that although major traffic offences are being dealt with by warning notices, they intend to increase the number of officers patrolling the streets to deal with the situation more effectively.

RAIN THREAT TO DAM

STANDARD CORRESPONDENT ZANZIBAR
During the rains of the past few months the problem of the preservation of the dam at Gales, Tanganyika, has been because of erosion of the dam's spillway. It is feared that the dam will be destroyed in some places to a depth of 20ft.

Efforts to prevent the erosion have so far, been unsuccessful. Plans have been devised to divert the water away from the dam's spillway by the construction of a dam on the spillway to a depth of 20ft.

Gales and whales

Whales are from their feeding grounds in public on the coast of Gales, Tanganyika. It is believed that the whales are being driven to the coast by the search for food. The whales are being driven to the coast by the search for food.

BOYCOTT S.A. GOODS PLEA

Standard Correspondent, Arusha.

ANYONE who did not operate in the boycott of South African goods would be regarded as an enemy, the Regional Commissioner, Mr R. E. M. Boromo, told the monthly meeting of the Arusha Chamber of Commerce.

Everyone, he said, should cooperate in the fight for human rights, there might be a time when he would have to ask the Government to take action against those who do not observe the boycott, he said.

Also on the subject of a boycott of South African goods, Mr G. S. Wanku, said that although there had been a radio advertisement that was to be sent to the members of the chamber to consider how the boycott could be increased.

He said it was the Government's policy to do so, and to "whenever possible".

The difficulties he said he realised there were such difficulties in finding suitable goods to trade with "whenever possible".

Mr Wanku said that with the Government African people with the necessary educational standards.

Mr Boromo's visit to the chamber was his first since the beginning of his office. He said it was his first visit since the three-year development plan was launched in 1960. He said that everyone should play an active part in working for Tanganyika.

He also stressed productivity and the need for more capital and encourage development. He said all areas were welcome. Everyone had a part to play in building the new Tanganyika.

Mwanza Specials find strong support

STANDARD CORRESPONDENT Mwanza.

THE most interesting feature about Mwanza's Special Constabulary is that many of its members are African, and members more than 100, of whom 70 per cent are African, and the remainder being roughly equal numbers of Asian, Indian and European.

The Mwanza Specials are divided into four divisions: two general divisions, a communications division and a marine division, as well as a headquarters division.

The two general divisions, mainly composed of the African members, are trained to take over such work as routine police station duties, boats and traffic control. The communications division is made up of women, are able to take over the radio patrol and the marine division carries out marine duties, while the marine division has various police duties, as well as marine sports on the shore, particularly with regard to the security of Mwanza's two ports.

Training normally consists of one parade or lecture a week for each division, together with various exercises and duties over the week-end, and are trained in general police duties. The use of small motor launch boats in the division has its radio training, and the marine division is able to handle small craft, to do routine navigation and simple engineering.

TWO ARRESTS AFTER SHEEP RAID

Three men armed with pangas, a gun, and a knife, were arrested at Beshu Farm in the Sofie area.

They were heading the sheep into their pen the night when they spotted them and raised the alarm. He threw his knife at the one but the gang drove off with two of the sheep. The sheep with the sheep had been abandoned in the bush. The people were later arrested with regard to the theft.

JUDGMENT ON O.A.S.
 The totally unprepared emergency showed that the African States in the Anglo-French campaign in the Congo were not prepared to defend their political independence against a surprise attack from Paris yesterday.

When the O.A.S. second-convocation, on the 27th of the month, met in the morning, the French Government's surprise attack on the Congo was a complete surprise. The O.A.S. had no time to discuss the emergency, and the French Government's surprise attack on the Congo was a complete surprise.

NEW ERA OPENS WITH REGIMENT'S 25th BIRTHDAY

As the Kenya Regiment approaches its 25th birthday next month, rich in honours. Moving with the times, the Regiment has thrown its doors to men of all races.

It has taken the initiative step and abolished compulsory military training for Europeans, so that the Regiment is a purely voluntary force.

Typical of the young men of the Kenya Regiment is Brian M. O'Connell, a well known rugby player, recently recruited by the Regiment.

persons unparalleled in the history of Commonwealth fighting forces.

The name of Leakey the big game preparator the memory of one of the bravest Leakey, the Kenya Regiment.

During the Abyssinian Campaign of 1941 he turned back an enemy tank moving single-handedly with a rifle. He wrapped over the turret and the tank.

According to Lt Col. D. E. L. Connelley, C.O. of the Regiment, there is every prospect of expansion.

CELEBRATION EVENTS

Official celebrations of the Kenya Regiment's 25th anniversary will be held in Nairobi on June 2 and 3. The programme includes a parade at 10.30 a.m. on June 2, followed by a luncheon at the Officers' Mess, 515 - Regimental Mess, Park Road, Nairobi, on June 3.

Green is the colour of Kenya, standing for the young men who form the Regiment. Africa is the colour of Africa, and in Africa, Africa is the colour of Africa.

But, oddly enough, the Regiment is possibly the only one in the Empire whose colours bear no battle honours. Kenya Regiment members of the Regiment.

French actor stars in 'Deep South Bootlegger'

19th Century late shows) is for adults only and is a world tale of the Deep South, suggested by William Faulkner's novel 'Fools and Horses', which even competent acting direction cannot make anything but a boring and tangled mess. The story is of a young woman who is seduced by a young man who is a bootlegger and falls into his trap. The French film is a colorful and interesting version of the novel, but the acting is poor and the story is too long.

ANIMALS MAKE A FOOL OF THE GREAT HUNTER

By ROSINA WRIGHT
"MOTHER" said M'Jinga one day, "I am a man now and finished with helping you in the field. I will go hunting and bring home a fat gazelle for you."

Presently he saw an antelope standing by an anthill. "It is a fat gazelle," he thought. "I will kill it." He ran towards it, but it was not a gazelle. It was a lion. The lion roared and M'Jinga fled. He was a fool for trusting his eyes.

There was no sound of any kind. M'Jinga, so that he could see again, he looked round. When he was able to see again, he saw a lion. He was a fool for trusting his eyes.

SNOW WHITE and the THREE STOOGES

19th Century late shows) is for adults only and is a world tale of the Deep South, suggested by William Faulkner's novel 'Fools and Horses', which even competent acting direction cannot make anything but a boring and tangled mess.

It starts Carol Hagen in the character of Snow White, the heroine of the story. The film is a colorful and interesting version of the novel, but the acting is poor and the story is too long.

Prince may open E.A. factory in October

PRINCE BERNHARD of the Netherlands will probably visit the East African continent in October to give the Dutch East India possessions the first big royal anniversary celebration.

The purpose of the Prince's proposed visit is significant for it indicates the interest Holland in the development of East Africa's resources.

Prince Bernhard is expected to open a new sugar refinery at Mombasa, which is one of the many thousands of projects which will boost the country's economy and provide much-needed employment.

DUTCH-OINED

The project has been "backed" by the Dutch Government. It is a step in the right direction. The Dutch are gradually playing an important economic role in East Africa's development. They have Dutch investments in the East African sugar industry and a sugar refinery in Mombasa.

8th IMPORTS

Netherlands imports from East Africa reached $2,720,000 in 1947. The Netherlands imports from East Africa this year are already well up to friends indeed.

Visible proof of the friendship which the people of East Africa feel for Europe will be found in the $4,500 million worth of Dutch goods which departed the Netherlands last year.

Salute to Queen of Netherlands

QUEEN JULIANA, who recently celebrated her 50th birthday, is being honored in Holland's destinies and in the hearts of the people of the Netherlands.

The four-page supplement is published to mark the silver wedding of Queen Juliana and Prince Bernhard and to illustrate the close links between E. S. I. and the Netherlands.

Princess Juliana accepted an invitation from the Government of Alberta, the wife of the Governor General of Canada, to stay in the Royal Family of the Dutch.

A happy story of the Dutch Royal Family. Queen Juliana, Princess Beatrix, Princess Margriet, Princess Margaretha, Princess Beatrix, Princess Margriet, Princess Margaretha.

After the German capitulation, Princess Juliana returned to Holland, where she resumed her social activities. The Royal couple settled down in a beautiful palace in The Hague.

Princess Margriet, who is a student of the University of Groningen, is the youngest daughter of the Queen and Prince Bernhard.

Princess Margaretha, who is a student of the University of Groningen, is the second daughter of the Queen and Prince Bernhard.

Princess Beatrix, who is a student of the University of Groningen, is the third daughter of the Queen and Prince Bernhard.

Princess Juliana, who is a student of the University of Groningen, is the fourth daughter of the Queen and Prince Bernhard.

FOUR DAUGHTERS ALL HAVE STORIES BEHIND THEIR NAMES

THERE are stories behind all the names of the four Princesses of the Dutch Royal Family. The names of the four Princesses are symbolic.

One brings happiness, another symbolizes the hopes for peace, the third is a little flower and the last is just a good old Dutch name.

Princess Margriet is named after the last Dutch Queen, Wilhelmina, who reigned in 1909.

Princess Margaretha is named after the last Dutch Queen, Wilhelmina, who reigned in 1909.

WBS MATHON WAS IN HIS DEBT

An American aviator, Commander Mathon, was shot down and killed in the Mediterranean Sea last year while flying a patrol plane over the Aegean. His body was recovered and his remains were buried in the United States. The incident is described in a book by John G. R. Jones, "The Story of the Search for the WBS Mathon" (London, 1950, 4s. 6d.).

WHY JUGOSLAVIA JAILED AUTHOR OF BOOK ON STALIN

BY ERNEST HALPERIN
WHEN the former member of the Yugoslav Politburo, Milovan Djilas, was sentenced to several years' imprisonment in 1947 for the publication of his book, 'The New Class', one could not approve of the sentence but it was quite possible to understand it from the Communist point of view.

Communist regimes simply do not recognise the principle of freedom of thought. The New Class was a devastating mental criticism of the Government and its policies. Communist regimes simply do not recognise the principle of freedom of thought.

Fair-minded. His description of the great tyrant is entirely objective and should be read by all who are interested in the history of the world.

ROBOTS TO DIG FOR BRITAIN'S COAL

BRITAIN is soon to have two fully automated mechanical coal miners, remotely controlled by a chain of radio signals from the National Coal Board, Lord Robens is disclosed in London.

The two machines are to have some 250 ft of cable in getting coal from shafts in getting coal from narrow seams, they require no man at all.

The other country in the world can rival them is in getting coal from shafts. Since normally a guided cable is used for the development of a shaft, Lord Robens forecast that the coal industry will be "completely automated" by the end of 1960 the amount of coal produced in the country will be increased by 38 per cent, and the cost of coal will be 15 per cent, and the cost of coal will be 15 per cent.

This would mean a big increase in coal production in the labour cost.

Quiet but tense in the City

ALTHOUGH the wild fluctuations of the past few days have been over, the air in the London Stock Exchange yesterday, was still somewhat tense. The market was quiet but tense in the City.

At 10.15 a.m. the market opened with a slight advance in the price of the London Stock Exchange. The market was quiet but tense in the City.

Police Concern Over Failure to Draw Recruits

Nairobi (Special Correspondent)—Kenya Police Force is having difficulty in attracting recruits with long hours of duty and doubtful promotion prospects were the chief reasons.

Last year a British Army recruiting team visited Kenya and found it difficult to obtain recruits, including a soldier who held the School Leaving Certificate. The report says that the benefits of the police force in comparison with the Army are not as attractive as they appear to be.

The force in the past has had to attract recruits from the United Kingdom and other countries, but this has been a costly and unpopular method. The force is now trying to attract recruits from the African continent.

An American in space

SCOTT CARPENTER. Left: All eyes are on Lt. Gen. Scott Carpenter as he makes his way to his space rocket. ABOVE: He makes final adjustments to his complicated space suit.

BLAST-OFF

Wait in the ocean

AFTER three orbits of the Earth, a missalistic brought the astronaut down in the sea about 200 miles away from the planned landing area in the South Atlantic.

News was heard of Carpenter for a time 15 minutes. It was that the U.S. Navy aircraft carrier USS Thetis (SS-561) had picked up radio signals from the capsule. The picture below was taken by a member of the plane's crew as it circled low. It shows two parachutes helping the astronaut — on light and on the tips of his legs — in the sea. He is seen waiting for the rescue helicopter.

A doctor before Lt. Gen. Carpenter out of his space suit aboard the U.S. aircraft carrier (below) where he was flown by a rescue helicopter. After a quick medical check-up, Carpenter was flown to a Grand Turk Island in the Bahamas.

NEEDED STANDARD THE LAND WHERE CHILDREN ARE SENT TO JAIL...

WHAT country in what age would imprison three West Kenya girls this year, boys and youths aged from eight to 17 have been locked up pending appearance before a juvenile magistrate. They go to prison simply because there is nowhere else to put them.

This is one of a many disturbing facts that reveal the inadequate attention being given to one of Kenya's most urgent social problems—juvenile delinquency and vagrancy.

These youngsters are sent to jail because of their parents' failure to provide for them. Some are sent to jail because they are found in the streets. Some are sent to jail because they are found in the streets. Some are sent to jail because they are found in the streets.

For the whole of Kenya, the accommodation of these two Nairobi boys and girls is a problem. The Government has no money to pay for their maintenance. The Government has no money to pay for their maintenance. The Government has no money to pay for their maintenance.

NO PLACES

Last year 131 youngsters had to find work for themselves. There were no places for them in the school. There were no places for them in the school. There were no places for them in the school.

Magistrates had no choice but to find a boy on probation for life. The child or fourth child came him; or to jail him. The child or fourth child came him; or to jail him. The child or fourth child came him; or to jail him.

SMOPOLITAN NIGHT SPOT CATCHES SPIRIT OF AFRICA

Reports: Derek Watkins

In England they say that a man who stands in Piccadilly Circus long enough will see one of every kind of animal or human creature which there ever lived. This week the club went to meet prominent already high international reputation is in a... lavish setting these ever.

The Equator Club has all the atmosphere and sophistication of fashionable Mayfair or New York night spots. It imports cabaret acts to match. But the feature that continues to make the Equator Club unique is the ever-present undercurrent of Africa.

Among all the plush fittings of the Western world, it is a safety interwoven, authentic touch of the Dark Continent. It is inimitable. Even the zebra-like-covered bar follows the sinuous shape of a pygmy for its 62 1/2 length.

AWAY FROM THE SHIP

WARANA KIKO of Burma who has turned his back on the sea and led the great life of a fisherman and has become a member of the Equator Club... It was a pleasant surprise for Mr. Partridge when he met Warana Kiko... In Kampala, 1957, it was Warana Kiko who was playing in a band called 'The Kiko Kids'...

Warriors may have link with Lost Legion

ONE of Africa's original warriors, the Maasi, a warrior still arrogant, aloof and alone in a 20th-century world... The puzzle is, what is he doing in East Africa?...

TREASURE HUNT

History records that Mark Antony sent a legion marching into the interior to look the treasure of a queen to be known as the Maasi... It is more than 2,000 years ago that the Maasi were seen on the face of the earth...

BEAD REGALIA

NEAR TRAGEDY

But the success and safety would not be so dramatic as it seems... The other... The other...

NO DAYS OFF

It was a temporary job that turned into a permanent one... Mr. Partridge realized that his potential and bought it... He has never, incidentally, taken a day off since.

As to the "Kiko Kids" name which was used by the Maasi... All who could be traced still remain in Burma 20 years after they came up with the Equator Club today.

Partridge after the war when he had plenty of time to devote to his hobby of painting and fishing... Partridge himself is in the Maasi, before coming to the Equator Club... CLUB ATTRACTS ENTERTAINERS scores of stage performers who have thronged the Equator Club since the opening of the new building and the "Dance Band" Williams.

INTERNATIONAL

Sandy Whelan, actress and composer of The Day Before, has entertained at the club, as has Steacy Corbett, who recently appeared in the film The Young One, with Cliff Robertson.

But the Equator Club is not the final end of the road for Super Wallflower — "Shirley" — a popular singer and "stage-door" "handover" who will be touring throughout the country in the near future.

SANDY WHELAN

Stained glass murals

Illuminated stained glass murals of Masai form part of the Equator Club's recent décor. They were designed by Mrs. Ursula Baynes, lecturer in art at the Royal College. Frosted glass work to contrast glow. The work was carried out by Mr. Ron Partridge.

"Lo Oncom" in motion at the Equator Club this week. This young local group plays several numbers, including a couple composed by their lead guitarist, Sandy Robertson.

London dancer in cabaret

There is Shepherd's and Ciro's in South Africa — and between the two, and equally famed, is the Equator Club in Nairobi. Here is a tale to prove it — still from America, attributed to someone completely unknown by the club, started to arrive early of "The Equator Club Nairobi."

MYSTERY SOLVED

The mystery was cleared up when an American on a world tour eventually arrived to claim it. He explained: "I knew I was going to pass through Nairobi to give my friends at home the Equator Club as an address. It was the only place in Nairobi we had heard of..."

Friends of the famous

A TINY blurb and white rattle — a gift from a royal prince — list at the last of Mrs. Marcella Fildes when she presides as Equator Club reception dinner.

Mrs. Fildes says she has seen them all in her seven years here. "I have seen them all in my seven years here," she says. "I have seen them all in my seven years here."

The people who stay away...

Elephants nibbling the Princess Elizabeth Way flowers and union men officially visiting the Equator Club have something in common. Neither event has been the same reason, and for much the same reason. Both would be out of their territory.

For it seems that once an Equator Club man, always one. Most of the current staff have been with Mr. Partridge, the club's proprietor, right from the start, ten years ago.

Behind-the-scenes running of the club is organized on family lines. If something needs to be done or discussed, a barata is held. Everyone attends and even the party boy expresses his opinion.

Everyone is happy. It seems a happy employer-employee relationship... one which has no need of unions to protect anybody.

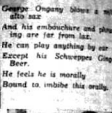

Selling one's own front door was once a profitable business in Zanzibar and at the East African particularly blue shipping home on credit. Arab-berried door — until a law was passed banning their sale. But one ever turns an imposing entrance to the new Equator Club... and it was done by quite legally. The proprietor, Mr. Ron Partridge, did not buy the door. He bought a house, at Bismarck, then removed the door from it.

Congratulations to RON PARTRIDGE on the opening of the new EQUATOR CLUB

Impulse buys

This is the attitude of the "impulse buying" and the purchase of a dress or a pair of shoes that they fancy for the first time and stop to give thought to the idea of buying it in their "own" store.

Same pattern

Monique Schwartzstein, a dressmaker who wears a French dress as an example of good design, says that she has seen the same mistake.

COULD HIT CENTRAL DEXTER, GRAVENEY STRIKE TOP FORM

WORLD CUP APPROX 100 TO GOOD START IN

England has made 386 for the loss of four wickets at the close of play on the first day of the first Test against Pakistan at Birmingham yesterday. Ted Dexter having won the toss and decided to bat.

Colin Cowdrey, England's "reliant opener", after being dropped early in his innings, went on to hammer 159.

Pakistan at one stage had captured only two wickets for over 300 runs, but then the paceman, Mahmood Hussain, and leg spinner, Intikhab Khan, each took a wicket inside 20 minutes after tea.

Cowdrey, again pressed to service as an England opener before he prefers to bat lower down the order, batted gloriously in hitting his tenth Test hundred. He had some trouble with his timing early on, however, and gave a definite chance to Mushtaq Mahmood at slip off Anwar O'Saiza when he had made only 27.

After his last, Cowdrey assessed his best form, but cracked 29 runs in a steady 115. He was out on 134, but made 104 in the next 168 minutes. Ted Dexter, the Prince of Denmark, led out the batsmen and Dexter and Cowdrey and Dexter scored 101, 123, 113 and 100 respectively. The previous test was 147 by the batsmen and 149 by the bowlers. The first day of the match was a success for both sides, but Dexter and Cowdrey were the stars.

TEB DEXTER

When he had England in their power, Dexter has never been in better form than today. He has scored 104 runs in his first Test innings, and is batting on 134 at the close of play.
