French Note Causing Disappointment?

NOT LIKELY TO ADVANCE DISARMAMENT.

Italy's Attitude.

Already doubts of the successful outcome of the Franco-German negotiations regarding disarmament are beginning to be felt and it is suggested that an examination of the aide-memoire reveals that the statement of the French attitude to Herr Hitler's proposals is not likely to advance matters in the right direction.

Meanwhile Italy is taking up a cautious attitude and there is evidence that Signor Mussolini will continue to advise Germany to go slowly regarding re-armament.

Importance is to be attached to the present visit of the British Foreign Secretary to Italy and to the talks he will have with the head of the Italian Government.

Anglo-Italian Conversations.

It is reported that the British Foreign Secretary will be in Rome on Thursday.

The French side minister was in London yesterday. A review of the contents of the aide-memoire has been made and it is expected that the full text will be received shortly. It is understood that it reveals an extremely optimistic attitude on the part of France and it is expected that the British side minister will be in Rome on Thursday.

Wireless Notes.

Practical Hints Aerials and Accumulators.

This page, devoted to the interests of Wireless, is conducted by T. Aerial, a licensed experimenter with wide knowledge of East African conditions.

The receiving aerial used on short waves is a very important consideration—almost any kind of wire strung up and reasonably well insulated will do. The most improved results may be obtained with a fine wire and thought-provokingly the most popular type of receiving aerial is the inverted L, type and this dipole directed in the direction in which the wave of the top radiates, as possibly if the top is long, as short waves are affected, however, by nearby objects such as buildings, masts, trees etc., it is difficult to determine exactly from where they do arrive, even in open ground. Also, in most cases the indirect ray only is received—whilst others from the upper layers of the atmosphere.

A High Aerial.
The best aerial, therefore, seems to be to string up a wire as high and as clear of surrounding objects as possible, and a vertical aerial is a sound one. In the matter of length, up to a certain point the longer the aerial the stronger the signal but great length causes the aerial to be a lot of unnecessary noise. It is, therefore, to be preferred to have a lot of extra wire, but not to have a long aerial. It is, therefore, to be preferred to have a lot of extra wire, but not to have a long aerial. It is, therefore, to be preferred to have a lot of extra wire, but not to have a long aerial.

Reduced Licence Fees?
A Happy augur for this year is that there is a movement on foot to reduce the licence fees from 25 and 50 notes (approx.), and from 15 to 20 notes on 50 and 40 notes (approx.). While wishing the proposed reduction could have been more substantial, it would be a definite step in the right direction. If it is a result of more people taking up listening and wireless, the licence fees will be reduced. It is, therefore, to be preferred to have a lot of extra wire, but not to have a long aerial.

More Queries.
I AM very glad to be able to read an account recently there has been an increase in the number of people who have written in to me for references to the various stations appear from those we regularly receive. Although I do not have a good deal of listening it is impossible for me to keep track of all the stations that are being received from time to time are well received. I therefore appreciate all the more the assistance given by people in this matter.

The Week's Features.
On Friday at 9.30 there is an orchestra followed by a radio-grammatic programme of a type which is popular with our listeners. The orchestra broadcasting between 9.00 and 11.30 on Saturdays there is a condensed selection of items which I recommend to readers.

Listeners' Queries.
"Aerial," Nairobi, being particularly interested in charging accumulators writes that he has been told that it is better to charge an accumulator of two cells with 120 volts as long as the amperage was correct. In his case four cells. This he cannot get even with all the lamps switched on. He finds however that by "giving two wireless accumulators (of two cells each) and a six volt car battery all connected in series, 24 volts he gets this amperage."

He uses a well known receiving set about four years old which apart from batteries, has not required any replacements and finds it compares favourably with more modern outfits. He had some difficulty in getting it to work in his locality until after considerable experiment with the length and height and the gauge of wire used in the aerial. He now gets reasonably good results but believes that he has too great a length out (total in inverted L, four 120 feet). He believes he might get better results with the length of aerial out and able me to comment.

Answer. The voltage is immaterial so long as the amperage is correct. I do not quite understand the second part of your reference to accumulators. I presume the 24 volt reading is across your accumulators when charging. Such a high reading for only five cells indicates a high resistance in one or several and I would suggest very weak sets in the same. Yes, I think you would probably get better results with a shorter aerial but I comment on the matter in my Notes. The wave-lengths of the various B.R.C. transmissions change from time to time but the actual wave-lengths G.S.A. (G.N.I. etc.) do not change.

J.T.W. reporting on reception of London and T.L.O. from December 9 to 14 found London good on four nights, fair on one and poor on one. He seems to have experienced some erratic reception from T.L.O. as in addition to being poor on the same night as London when the trouble appears to have been severe fading, it is reported on another night as being very good for the first quarter of an hour, then very bad indeed and very good again from 8 p.m. onwards. Altogether he seems to have experienced a good deal of trouble from fading during the period reviewed.

Very many thanks for your report which is summarized above.

Underground Water Resources of Kenya.

INFORMATIVE LECTURE BY THE DIRECTOR OF PUBLIC WORKS.

174 Boreholes.

INTERESTING DEDUCTIONS FROM STUDY OF STRATA.

The effect of prehistoric upheavals on the present day underground water resources of Kenya was described by the Director of Public Works in a lecture which formed one of the series given in connection with last month's scientific meeting in Nairobi.

In the Rift Valley.

A lecture on the "Underground Water Resources of the Colony in Relation to the Topography," illustrated by lantern slides, was given by Mr. H. N. Sikua, Director of Public Works, during the scientific meeting held at the Grosvenor Hotel, Nairobi, on Tuesday, December 17, 1923. The lecture was held in the presence of a large number of interested persons, including members of the Legislative Council, the Government Engineers, and other officials.

It was stated that 174 boreholes had been drilled by his Department since the last few years, and that thousands of samples of the strata had been taken from these boreholes. The results of these investigations, which yielded results of considerable scientific and economic value, were described in detail. It was pointed out that the geological structure of the country is characterized by a series of parallel ridges and valleys, the most prominent of which is the East African Rift Valley.

The Rift Valley.

Dealing with the hydrographic features of the Rift Valley, the Director pointed out that the water which is precipitated on the slopes of the hills and mountains is carried down to the Rift Valley, where it is collected in a series of lakes and swamps. It was stated that the Rift Valley is an area of intense geological activity, and that the water resources of the area are affected by the upheavals of the strata.

Drainage Systems.

It was necessary, therefore, that the drainage system of the Rift Valley be studied in detail. The Director pointed out that the drainage system of the Rift Valley is characterized by a series of parallel ridges and valleys, the most prominent of which is the East African Rift Valley. It was stated that the water resources of the area are affected by the upheavals of the strata, and that the drainage system must be designed to take account of these factors.

Drinking Water.

Dealing with the more important aspects of the water resources of the Rift Valley, the Director pointed out that the water resources of the area are affected by the upheavals of the strata, and that the drinking water supply must be designed to take account of these factors.

RIFT VALLEY GOLF CHAMPIONSHIP.

GILGIL, 1935.

The Christmas and New Year holidays in Nairobi were successfully wound up on Tuesday afternoon, so far as the public were concerned, with a demonstration of the new sport that has been introduced. It came by way of the desert regions of Africa, and so far as can be seen it achieves several objects. One, and the primary, is that it is a healthy, and a revival of the ancient custom of golfing round the countryside by the hardest possible means. In at the same time enjoying healthy exercise, for a ruler has, of course, to knock a ball along at the same time, if he, or she, does not miss it. Secondly, but not unimportant, is the strength of the ball, which is the capital, for not only have so many "log-rollers" which appear to be the technical term for the push-balls used to be chartered for matches, or games, of golf, but there are reports to be effect during the past few days. On Tuesday, for example, forty-three long holes were collected from the field of battle, which is still progressing for nuts, and at least the number of holes, which are less rendered long-lead-combat. Thirdly, a game of golf is in evidence, and the ball is not only a revival of the ancient custom of golfing round the countryside by the hardest possible means, but it is a revival of the ancient custom of golfing round the countryside by the hardest possible means.

The last letter in the Greek Alphabet is a symbol of finality. Since 1848, when the first OMEGA was projected, no effort of thought, skill or labour has been spared to make OMEGA design, finish and reliability the last word—always as near the perfect watch as a watch can be produced.

EXCUSABLE EGOTISM!

It is indeed excusable when we say that B.I. Steamers offer greater comfort, more luxurious amenities AND at a lower cost than any other line. All ships on the home line carry one category of passengers only at Special Reduced Saloon Rates. Thus the Public Rooms and ample Deck Spaces will be available to all.

Study this list of reduced fares to England—think over the great advantages of a one class ship, and then decide to travel

The President also announced that most of the banks which had re-opened in the Spring were quiet sound, while he reported to citizens which had not re-opened Government had anticipated in the restoration of 600,000,000 dollars of frozen deposits to depositors.

A Conference on the co-ordination of veterinary research programmes in East Africa is commencing in Nairobi at the Veterinary Research Laboratory at 10 Broadway, when the subjects to be discussed will be opened by a speech from the Hon. the Governor.

This Conference is being attended by:

It is hoped that the knowledge gained may be circulated and made available for other research departments in East Africa.

It is anticipated that the Conference, the results of which depend on the medical, bacteriological and parasitological diseases, as well as various general questions, including animal nutrition and the important question of co-ordination in veterinary research, will last some four or five days.

Doctors Also.

At the Medical Research Conference, held in Entebbe, which was attended by the Veterinary Research officers, it was found that the Veterinary Research officers in certain cases undertake work jointly on behalf of medical and veterinary research. It is hoped that the results of this research will be made available to the medical and veterinary departments in East Africa, and that the results of this research will be made available to the medical and veterinary departments in East Africa.

The question, "There is no change in 'parcels' rates and, in addition, certain classes of cargo produce are conveyed at half the 'parcels' rates."

news. While it is so often said in Kenya that the West African is not so much commercialized as the Kenya African, yet Mr. Waters found the African exhibitor to be in every way as high in standard as West African products. The highly efficient and well-organized exhibition which was held in the grounds of the primary products are produced by the native in transportation, but it is apparent that the country is no longer a mere market for the native population of the United East, from which the goods are sent.

Stunning up on the show, Mr. Waters said: "The show impressed me for the diversity of products ranging from primitive articles to the tropical. Every product you have seen goes to show that you have your attention of the Department of Agriculture. Although I have seen in literature before, it came to Kenya and was fully aware of the large variety of the products grown in Kenya, and consequently the large number of exhibitors requiring the attention of scientific agriculture, but the show impressed me with this much more than the written word."

Mombasa Municipality Budgets for Deficit.

CAUSED BY LOAN CHARGES FOR TOWN PLANNING.

Debt Incurred by Government.

BEFORE LOCAL BOARD BROUGHT INTO EXISTENCE.

The Mombasa Municipal Board has budgeted for a deficit of Sh. 220,585, at the end of the year. According to the Chairman of the Finance Committee when introducing the estimates, the chief cause of the deficit was the heavy interest and loan charges payable to Government for the Town Planning Loan which had been incurred by the Administration before the Municipality came into being.

It was inconceivable, said Mr. Goodfellow, that any finance corporation or even Government would have loaned to the Municipality of Mombasa, who were devoid of any tangible asset, such a sum as £150,000, but the Central Government at the time undertook the responsibility, which had been taken over by the Board.

The Board's financial position was such, added the speaker, that were he addressing an independent organization he could only recommend that the concern went into liquidation.

An Impossible Position.

Mr. Goodfellow, by itself, full interest and loan charges of the Town Planning Loan. These charges amount to Sh. 211,425. It need not recall the circumstances attending the Town Planning Loan beyond reminding you that this debt was incurred by the Administration before this Municipality came into being. It is in the course of his speech Mr. Goodfellow said:

"It is impossible to me that any finance corporation or even Government would have loaned to the Municipality of Mombasa, who were devoid of any tangible asset, such a formidable sum as £150,000 for town planning improvements, but the Central Government undertook the responsibility and the Municipality of Mombasa, when it was created in 1926, shouldered, very heavily I think, the responsibility of interest and loan charges, but they shouldered this responsibility in a state of optimism and progress and when it was established that the full cost required for town planning improvements, such as the of the Town Planning Loan, was such a sum as £150,000, the Board was faced with a deficit of Sh. 220,585. In the course of his speech Mr. Goodfellow said:

"The main item on which the Budget falls in the payment of the under supply, etc., would be under their control and they would be in a position to meet these charges.

The Full Burden.

Up-to-date the Municipality had met the responsibility they undertook in every direction. They had met the interest and loan charges on this loan, but they had not met the full cost of the loan. It is not surprising, you think the optimism and progress which have not been fulfilled. For the past three years we have been persistently cutting down expenditure in every direction. We have not been able to undertake the development but have had to continually increase our rates in order to meet these loan charges, and now I consider the full has been charged on an intolerable burden and one which does not even allow us to carry on the normal activities of the Municipality.

The Government have not repaid to the extent of at least one-third of the loan charges, and they have promised to consider our requests. Mombasa has been prepared to accept the full loan charge on our estimate. We have any three or four satisfactory Government's favourable decision.

The Budget is in a state of impossibility. It has been five years to build up a reserve of approximately £20,000, and now that we have that reserve, the Government will not allow us to build up a reserve of approximately £20,000, and now that we have that reserve, the Government will not allow us to build up a reserve of approximately £20,000.

Economic.

Continuing Mr. Goodfellow pointed out that the Council had adopted a policy of continued economy and that the various services of the Municipality had been carried on in a most economical manner. He pointed out that the various services of the Municipality had been carried on in a most economical manner. He pointed out that the various services of the Municipality had been carried on in a most economical manner.

No Rate Increase.

With regard to revenue, the Sub-Committee considered very carefully all the aspects but were forced to the conclusion that they could not recommend an increase in the existing rates. The rates were imposed on conditions which were most onerous, and in view of current values and were tantamount to a tax on an individual's pocket in taxation. They did not consider the services rendered by the Municipality could possibly justify any further increase in these rates.

It is hoped that Government would give careful consideration to the question of transferring the water supply to the Board. They had also considered the possibility of transferring the water supply to the Board. They had also considered the possibility of transferring the water supply to the Board.

A CONVERSION SCHEME.

Mr. Archer has a great deal of the money obligations in the country could be converted by Government, guaranteed by the State. Much of the money would be obtained without much new money, but he said that this guarantee there must be a measure of money.

In illustration, Major Gregory said, Australia there had been a compulsory scheme for the internal loan. If something of this sort were done here, very large sums, to all the people in this country, would be obtained, without a tremendous and impractical increase in the price level, and a satisfactory one. All the first money in the country would be lost and it would be very difficult for new people to take over derelict farms. It was well-known that a man would not take over a derelict farm, but preferred to start over with virgin land. Large areas had already gone out of cultivation. If it would be possible to convert the whole country, the period of recovery would be substantially deflected.

An Intolerable Wrong.

The Secretary of State during his visit would see that the country was a land of the most people, that the country's financial position was a most intolerable wrong. It was a most intolerable wrong. It was a most intolerable wrong.

So many proposals of Municipal activity were proposed but had not been approved by the Board and had not been approved by the Board and had not been approved by the Board. It was a most intolerable wrong. It was a most intolerable wrong.

EXCUSABLE EGOTISM!

It is indeed excusable when we say that B.I. Steamers offer greater comfort, more luxurious amenities AND at a lower cost than any other line. All ships on the home line carry one category of passengers only at Special Reduced Saloon Fares. Thus the Public Rooms and ample Deck Spaces will be available to all.

Study this list of reduced fares to England - think over the great advantages of a one class ship, and then decide to travel!
