

Abstract:

The East African Journal of Ophthalmology (EAJO) is the official Journal of the Ophthalmological Society of East Africa (OSEA). It was established in 1976 and aims to improve all aspects of ophthalmology and community eye health. To achieve these objectives, the journal publishes original scientific articles, reviews, clinical case reports and letters dealing with any factor impacting eye health. From 2007, the EAJO will be published quarterly on line.