

The Chinese visitors make an extensive tour of the Faculty of Medicine. Here Prof. Thairu (far Right) explains the use of this particular equipment to the visitors.

THE DIRECTOR-GENERAL OF

UNESCO TOURS UNIVERSITY

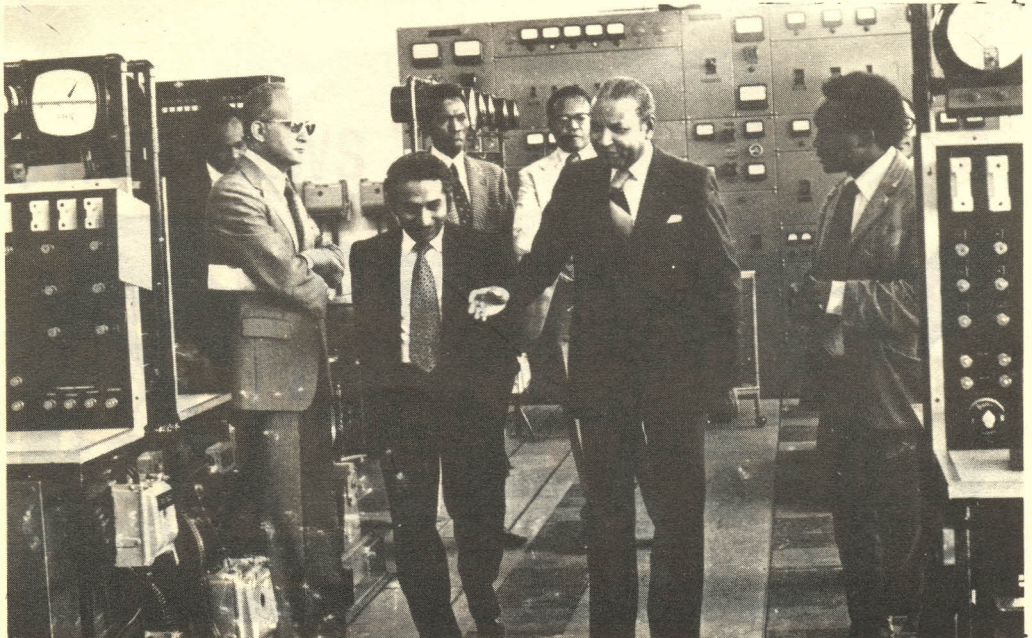

The Director-General of United Nations Educational Scientific and Cultural Organization (UNESCO) Mr Amadou Mahrar M'Bow toured the University in November, last year. His visit followed soon after he was honoured by the University with a degree of Doctor of Literature HONORIS CAUSA.

Before visiting his areas of interest, the Director-General paid a courtesy call on the Deputy Vice-Chancellor Pro. D. Odhiambo with whom he had a brief discussion. He then visited the Faculty of Engineering where he was welcomed by the Dean, Professor R.P. Patel. After a brief discussion he was taken for an extensive trip of the Faculty of Engineering.

The Director-General of UNESCO, Dr. Amadou Mahtar M'Bow, signs the visitors' book in the Deputy Vice Chancellor's office. Looking on is the Deputy Vice-Chancellor, Prof. D. Odhiambo.

Dr. Amadou Mahtar M'Bow (2nd Right) is taken round the Faculty of Engineering by the Dean, Faculty of Engineering, Prof. R.P. Patel (2nd Left).

The Visiting Ladies of distinguished delegates to the UNESCO conference in Nairobi accompanied by Mrs Macharia and Mrs M. Githinji both of the Ministry of Education are taken for an extensive tour of the Education Library. The Education Library owes its existence partly to the generosity of the UNESCO.

The visiting Ladies made an extensive tour of ICIPE. Here they are seen in a jovial mood as a demonstrator makes an interesting point.

The lady visitors settle down for a discussion inside the library of ICIPE.