

ABSTRACT

Coupled-channel unitarity is used to relate real parts to magnitudes of weak amplitudes for nonleptonic D -meson decays. Sizable corrections to the original weak amplitudes are found.