

CASELAP Faculty Dr. Collins Odote and Mr. Benson Ochieng recently participated in the Symposium “Searching for Balance: Reflections on Kenya’s Presidential Election of 2013.” This Symposium was organized by the School of Law in context of the just concluded University of Nairobi Rapid Results Initiative (RRI) on Constitutional Implementation. It was a forum that sought to provide a better understanding of the case, not only for legal and intellectual reasons but also for public interest, and attracted over 200 students, lawyers, communication experts and civil rights activists. The proceedings of the symposium will be developed into a print and electronic publication titled Searching for Balance: Reflections on Kenya’s Presidential Election of 2013, that will be available to the public.
