

UNGSS joins the public in environmental awareness campaigns and activities

The University of Nairobi Geography Students Society (UNGSS) have, in 2014, joined the public in a number of environmental awareness campaigns and activities. For example, they have participated in the “march for elephants and rhinos” (3rd & 4th October) and the monthly clean-ups in conjunction with Mazingira Safi Initiative. Come and join the students and staff of the Department of Geography and Environmental Studies for a clean environment. For more information, contact the Chairperson of UNGSS.
