EfD-Kenya held its first Annual Workshop on August 7, 2013 at Fairview Hotel in Nairobi. The workshop brought together researchers, policy makers, academia and other stakeholders in the environment sector including representatives from the Kenya Forest Service (KFS), Kenya Wildlife Service (KWS), Water Resource Management Authority (WRMA), Kenya Institute for Public Policy Research and Analysis (KIPPRA), Energy Regulatory Commission (ERC), International Livestock Research Institute (ILRI) and Office of the Deputy President among others. Academia was also well presented with participants from the School of Economics at the University of Nairobi and Kenyatta University.

The objective of the workshop was to discuss various research outputs generated from the studies being undertaken by the network associates. Areas covered within the research outputs include climate change, agriculture, water policy and reforms, and forestry. New research ideas on various topics were also presented at the meeting.
