

CHS exhibits at 2015 Nairobi trade fair

College of Education and External Studies Principal Prof. Isaac Jumba being shown around the University of Nairobi stand at the 2015 Nairobi International Trade Fair.

University of Nairobi (UoN) College of Health Science (CHS) was among hundreds of exhibitors at the just concluded 2015 Nairobi International Trade Fair.

The College had an opportunity to showcase how it is effectively uses technology to teach medical students through the Telemetry System.

Through the system, students are able to follow operation procedures in theatre room, ask questions and get feedback while sitting in a lecture theatre, watching live streamed video.

UoN Chancellor Dr. Vijoo Rattansi being shown around the university stand at the 2015 Nairobi International Trade Fair.

UoN recorded excellent performance at the trade fair by taking the top positions in various categories, including being ranked position two in the best university stand.

Some of the pupils who visited UoN stand at the trade fair engaging one of the staff.

College of Education and External Studies Principal Prof. Isaac Jumba being shown around UoN stand at the 2015 Nairobi International Trade Fair.